On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

The SPEAKER. I would like to have anything that I say apply generally, and I will have particular reference to two bills, two reports, rather than make special reference to the first report.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, if I break down because of grief and sorrow, forgive me. My heart is full of grief and, if I wore boots, my boots would be full of tears. I see by going over the list of Conference Committee Reports that they are going to place a great affliction, financial handicap, particularly on the doctors and the dentists. They are going to raise fees.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, this is serious business. They are going to raise fees so high that if the doctors paid them, they would have to work 30 seconds more on some days; they actually would. Now we must remember what these doctors have done for us. Back in my town they have abolished sickness on Thursday; they just say do not get sick on Thursdays, that is our day when we recreate. And they advise us not to get sick on Saturday afternoon, forenoon or evening. You just cannot expect that these poor doctors who have been fighting poverty all these years and barely scraping up a dollar for a fee—I wonder what they are going to raise them to. Steve, what are we going to raise them to?

Mr. McCANN. Five dollars.

Mr. ANDREWS. Five dollars! Five dollars, think of it! A practicing physician worried by the people who fill his office! He wants to turn his attention to matters of curing and there stands that five dollar fee facing him in the face. How do you think a man can keep a clear mind in a situation of that kind?

I feel very deeply about this. The gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Rigby, today gave me a contribution for CARE. I am going to discuss with Rigby, if you raise the fee on these positions, I am going ask Mr. Rigby whether I cannot go back to Johnstown and use that as sort of a foundation fee upon which the destitute doctors can draw if we increase these fees to this atrocious level. I will go back and raise enough money so that any doctor who says he cannot do it, he is just at the end of his financial string, we will finance them.

I agree that people like chiropodists and osteopaths and barbers and so forth are in the higher classification, and, naturally, can be expected to pay higher money than doctors and dentists and the like.

It's cowed me into a corner, I waive my sorrow, I may have to choke and swallow these bills, but I tell you, it is causing me great tribulation. This is as far as I can go with this address, when I see what is happening to these doctors.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I rise in opposition not only to this bill but to all bills of this same category beginning on page 7 and ending on page 8.

I appreciate the humor that the former speaker just used. It is a great trick. I am not going to plead that these people do not have the ability to pay. They do have the ability to pay. I am not pleading poverty for anyone on any of these bills. What I am going to say to you is that these bills started out, when Dr. Boies and I put our signature on these bills, as economy measures.

These bills were originally intended, I repeat, as economy measures. They were to register every two years at the same fee as had previously been charged. By doing this the various boards and departments were to save enough money to finance a list of other bills that are now in the Senate, to raise the per diem and traveling expenses of the various board members. This would have been adequate to have paid for it.

I signed these bills in good faith and so did Dr. Boies. Incidentally, Dr. Boies refused to sign his name to the Conference Committee Reports. These bills have now turned from economy measures into tax-raising measures. I am not pleading poverty for any of these people affected. We put a small bite on them this year. Remember the sales tax started out at one percent and no one in this House ever predicted that it would go to four percent, but it went. And what is going to stop the Legislature in the next biennium, if they want another five or ten million dollars, from putting another bite on all these people.

I tell you, Members of the House, the reason these bills are being rushed through today. They are being rushed through before all the people affected by these bills can have letters on your desk protesting the passage of this bill. I have in my possession only a few of these letters. The Conference Committee only ended yesterday. I am going to read one, just one letter. It is very short. It will take a minute.

"The Pennsylvania Hairdressers' Association Inc., and Cosmetologists, whom I represent are in favor of House Bill 1517 as originally introduced and we feel that it would be a definite economy measure by placing the issuing of licenses on a biennial basis.

"However, we are definitely opposed to any increase in the license fees that we are now paying as we are already contributing more than any other of the professions under the Bureau of Public Licensing and are getting a smaller return in regard to inspection services and other services for the money so contributed."

Mr. McCANN. I just want to ask him if he read right that it said House Bill 1517, for I though he was debating the bills that were part of this package.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAXWELL. I am very sorry, Mr. Speaker. I will stop reading this letter. I just wanted to read the one letter that would indicate how everyone who is affected feels. They do not object to paying their fair share whatever the amount is, whether it is five dollars, ten dollars, fifty dollars. They do not object as long as it is money used to operate their particular department, but when you step out of that category and make these bills a purely tax-raising measure, then they do object to it.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I do not want to be any party to this and I ask that my sponsorship be withdrawn from these bills.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I have sat here and listened with a great deal of interest to the debate on these bills, and, in view of what I have heard pro and con, I would like to send a crying towel up to the Speaker and one over to Dr. Maxwell.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman from Cameron for the towel, and I am sure that if they held these bills up until after we come back from recess every man in this House will need one.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, my purpose at this time is to clarify what the Conference Committee did. It is true, as the gentleman from Westmoreland, Dr. Maxwell, stated, that these bills when they left the House provided for biennial registration.

In the Senate they were amended so as to provide what could be considered a revenue-raising measure because they raised the biennial registration to, except in one case, $20, which definitely would have placed them in class of having raised revenue. However, the difference between the House and the Senate was the only matter which we had to discuss and which we were given the duty to adjust, so we were faced with a $20 biennial registration in all cases as placed in the bills by the Senate against the biennial registration based upon the present fees when it left the House.

Here is what we did. We secured the recommendations of a number of people, including the Department of Public Instruction, the Bureau of Professional Licensure, and we did this: we adjusted the dentists, engineers, surveyors, architects and doctors the same basis as was already being charged the osteopaths, physicians, surgeons, the optometrists, the veterinarians the real estate brokers, we adjusted them all to the five dollar fee, which on a biennial basis would be $10, so that there would be a degree of uniformity in the different professions as they existed.

In the case of the registered nurses we accepted the Senate figure. They had increased it from two dollars a biennium to four dollars, and we accepted that figure. The others were simply an adjustment to a biennial basis. In many of them no changes were made so that they are in many respects, or as near as is possible to make them, uniform. That is what we were faced with. It is true that the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Boies dissented, but all the other members of the committee agreed and signed the report.

It is true that under a Supreme Court decision licensing fees cannot be used for general revenue purposes. They must be applied at least to a degree for the purposes of policing and expenses of the different boards under which they are handed. These bills as they stand now will not be revenue raisers because we have passed them through this House and sent them to the Senate. They are on the third reading calendar today in a series of bills doubling the expense allowances, per day, plus the other expenses for these different boards. When the sum total is added up, I believe the degree of reasonableness, which the Supreme Court says must exist, will still exist as it has in the past between the licensing fees as collected and the different boards under the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the Members who are calling "roll call" will mind. They know I never speak at length. I have a few brief remarks to make on this bill.

One in defense of doctors—not that I think they need any defense and not that I was not amused by remarks of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, because his remarks were well made and well taken. In that connection I think it must also be said in all seriousness that doctors are members of a much maligned profession. They do not object, and neither do any of us, to a five-dollar annual registration fee, or even if it would be twice that much or even more. I think those of us who are representatives of the people must admit that a doctor's income, at least in my opinion, should be greatly in excess of the average member of society because of a doctor's value to society, because of his great training and the years and the expense he puts into his education and the building up of his practice.

Another thing, I think those of us who represent the people must keep in mind that too many of us expect a doctor to be on duty seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day. They have the same human machine as the rest of us do. I do not see how a man in the general practice of medicine is able to take it. He is called, and I know some of them personally who are called, almost every night in the week after they have gone to bed and after they have gone to sleep for the night. They are called out to perform a valuable medical service. How many of us would be willing to do that in connection with our employment duties? Not every night in the week. That is why the practice of medicine has evolved into a practice of specialists and that is why those in general practice are teaming up in partnerships with one or more other doctors to spell each other off.

I would like to say a word against these bills, not that I am against the dollar amounts. I think they are fair and I think the Conference Committee has done a commendable job in the limited field in which it had to operate, so my remarks are not in criticism of the Conference Committee. I just found out after caucus today the system we use in this Commonwealth in respect to licensing and appropriations to these various boards.

To those of you who do not understand it, as I did not, we license these various people at "x" dollars a year, and Dr. Maxwell is absolutely correct, it is not a license charge, it is a revenue raiser. All that money goes into the general fund and in one manner or another it filters back to the individual boards, not in the same amounts. I am not blaming the Majority Party anymore than I am blaming my own Party, but the whole system is inherently and basically wrong. A license fee should be used by the particular board to regulate that particular profession and it should be used for no other purpose whatsoever.

The license fees of the nurses, the dentists, the veterinarians, the barbers, the beauticians, the real estate people, the insurance people should go to their particular board for purposes of regulating that particular profession or trade for purposes of licensure, examination and investigation. We do not do that in this Commonwealth. In one particular field here, nurses will pay $600,000 a biennium under the bills we are about to pass under this Conference Committee Report. Approximately 25 percent of that will be used for purposes of regulating the nurses' profession. That is not right. I think that this General Assembly should give some serious thought to changing around this whole basis of what we do with the license fees collected, because, Mr. Speaker, they are not license fees in the strict sense now; they are revenue raisers. I say it is wrong and I intend to vote against these bills and I intend to vote against these bills not because I am against the amounts and I do not think any member of any of these professions involved is against the amount of the annual or biennial license fee, but I know there is serious objection among many of them as to the manner in which the license fee is handled. It is not used for the only purpose for which a license can be extracted by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from any member of these licensed groups. I suppose it is too late to do anything about it now. I am casting my vote in protest against this method that the state uses in collecting license fees.

Mr. MAXWELL. Mr. Speaker, if all the speakers are finished, I would request a slow roll call, and I do not want anyone recorded who is absent.

I want a slow roll call. I do not want anybody voted who is absent because this is going to be an important roll call for every Member here, and I am sure you want to be recorded properly. That is the only reason I am asking for it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I have read some of these bills during debate and the bills do not set forth the amount the fee is being raised from. I would like to request the Majority Leader that before we vote on these separate bills he state how much the present fee is and how much it is to be raised on a biennial basis.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 1078, Printer's No. 2021, the first one, the present fee two dollars per year. The Conference Committee report is $5 per year, $10 per biennium, for the dentist.

The dental hygienist, the present law is $2 per year, the proposed change is $2 per year, $4 per biennium. That is in House Bill 1078, Printer's No. 2021, and I ask that the Members of this House support the Conference Committee report.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. MAXWELL, GEORGE and HORST.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, under the present law an engineer pays a fee of two dollars. This bill would make it five dollars, ten dollars a biennium. A surveying engineer now pays four dollars. This will would make it five dollars a year or ten dollars for the biennium. I request that we adopt this conference report. I am satisfied to take the same roll call, if there is no objection.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is all right. If anybody desires to change, he should have the opportunity of standing.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1082

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1082.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1082, entitled: An Act amending the act of March 2, 1956 (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act relating to and defining the practice of chiropody conferring powers and imposing duties of the State Board of Chiropody Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction requiring licensure providing for the granting cancellation suspension and revocation of licenses preserving the rights of existing licenses providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations transfer of jurisdiction and records to the board regulation of schools of chiropody reciprocity and providing penalties and remedies" providing for biennial renewal of registration and changing fees in accordance therewith.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER
DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT

JO HAYS
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN
ARTHUR J. WALL

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of March 2, 1956 (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act relating to and defining the practice of chiropody conferring powers and imposing duties on the State Board of Chiropody Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction requiring licensure providing for the granting cancellation suspension and revocation of licenses preserving the rights of existing licenses providing for the promulgation of rules and regulations transfer of jurisdiction and records to the board regulation of schools of chiropody reciprocity and providing penalties and remedies" providing for biennial renewal of registration and changing fees in accordance therewith

Section 1 Section 9 act of March 2, 1956 (P. L. 1206) known as the "Chiropody Act of 1956" is amended to read:

Section 9 The board shall issue a license to practice chiropody to those qualified under the provisions of this act. All original registration shall expire on the first day of January next succeeding the issue thereof and thereafter each person shall be required to register [annually] biennially before the first day of January of each [succeeding] alternate year. The form and method of such registration shall be provided for by the board in a manner enabling it to carry into effect the purposes of this act. Each person who registers shall pay for each [annual] biennial registration a fee of [five dollars ($5) ten dollars ($10) for the amount the department may determine] The fees required by this act shall be paid into the State Treasury for the use of the Commonwealth.

Section 2 This act shall take effect in thirty days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. The chiropodist's fee is now five dollars. This bill makes it five dollars; ten dollars a biennium.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, I think there are a number who are going to vote yes on this bill since there is no increase of fees. I was just wondering if you want to take a sampling of negative votes just to save time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1084

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1084.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1084, entitled: An Act amending the act of March 30, 1917 (P. L. 21) entitled "An act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making certain exceptions and providing a Board of Optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" providing for biennial registration and changing fees in accordance therewith.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER

DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT

JO HAYS

(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN

ARTHUR J. WALL

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of March 30, 1917 (P. L. 21) entitled "An act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" providing for biennial registration and changing fees in accordance therewith.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1. The first paragraph of section 7 act of March 30, 1917 (P. L. 21) entitled "An act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making certain exceptions and providing a Board of Optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" amended May 25, 1937 (P. L. 795) is amended to read.

Section 7 The State Board of Optometrical Examiners shall charge the following fees for examination registration and renewals of certificates The sum of twenty-five dollars for a standard examination and two dollars for each branch office license Every registered optometrist who desires to continue the practice of optometry shall [annually] biennially on or before the first day of January in each biennium pay to the secretary of the board a renewal registration fee of [five] ten dollars per [annum] biennium for which he shall receive a renewal of his certificate He shall also pay a renewal license fee of [two] five dollars per [annum] biennium for each licensed branch office maintained by him.

Section 2. This act shall take effect in thirty days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, House Bill 1084, Printer's No. 2026. The optometrists now pay five dollars. The bill provides for five dollars a year, ten dollars a biennium.

The branch office fee is now two dollars a year; this bill provides for two and one-half dollars a year, five dollars a biennium.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I misunderstood you, but was not the original understanding that on bills where there was a fee raise, the initial roll call would then be taken with changes to be indicated from that initial roll call?

Now, this bill raises the fee, and therefore I thought the initial roll call would be taken, with anybody who wanted to change so listed.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. This particular bill is a mixture of the other two, and that is why the Chair asked for a change from the previous roll call.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, this bill does, nevertheless, raise a fee. I understand that in any instance where a fee was to be raised, the initial roll call would be used.

I would like to interrogate the Majority Leader and ask him if that was his understanding.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I have no objections to however they want to do it on the change on the roll call. This bill here is a mixture of the two. It changes the branch office fee which is an increase, but does not change the licensing fee of those people.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1099.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1099, entitled: An act amending the act of May 22, 1951 (P. L. 317) entitled, "An act relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the annual renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws" providing for biennial registration.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER
DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT
JO HAYS

(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN
ARTHUR J. WALL

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of May 22 1951 (P. L. 317) entitled "An act relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the annual renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws" providing for biennial registration and changing fees

Section 1 The title and section 11 act of May 22 1951 (P. L. 317) known as "The Professional Nursing Law" are amended to read

An Act

Relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the [annual] renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws

Section 11 Each person upon being licensed by the Board as a licensed registered nurse under the provisions of this act shall without additional fee therefor be given a card to evidence such license which shall be valid during the current renewal [year] biennium Licenses issued pursuant to this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of October of each [year] biennium or on such other

[annual] biennial expiration date as the Board may fix Application for renewal of a license shall [annually] biennially be forwarded to each active registrant prior to the expiration date of the current renewal [year] biennium The application form shall be completed and returned to the Board accompanied by the required fee of [one dollar ($1)] four dollars ($4) upon approval of each application the applicant shall receive a renewal of license

The form and method of licensure and renewal shall be provided for by the Board in such manner as will enable it to carry into effect the purposes of this act The Board shall maintain a record of all licenses issued under this act and of all renewals as herein provided

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the registered nurses now pay one dollar a year. This Conference Committee Report, the same as the Senate, provides two dollars per year, four dollars a biennium. The practical nurses, who are under another section of the same law, no change.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, this 100 percent increase of license fees on the professional nurses is the most offensive bill in this package. These women do not drive Cadillacs. They work because they have to work. And they are not overpaid. I ask that everybody in this House vote no on this bill.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, this House had no compunction at all in raising the fees for drivers' licenses, a license which is used by most of the citizens of this state, from one to two dollars. I have a mother who is a nurse, I have a sister who is a nurse, both of whom work at it. They receive, if my recollection is correct, $14 a day. I do not think that this amount of money, a raise of one dollar per year, is at all punitive. I think it is deserving and in keeping with the purpose of this whole package that this increase go through also.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in order that the Members of the House, as a whole, may know what happens in case this Conference Report falls, I am asking: What happens should this Conference Committee Report be rejected?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. In that particular case the question of concurring in the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate comes before the House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then we would be right back where we started from with the bill coming back to the House for concurrence in the amendments, is that right?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is the understanding of the Chair.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. WILLARD filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill No. 1099.

Mr. Speaker, my reason for voting no on House Bill 1099, Printer's No. 2043 Conference Committee Report is as follows:

The nurses are the greatest in number and lowest in remuneration so I feel compelled to vote against this report.

BILL AND AMENDMENTS LAID ON TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the bill together with the Senate amendments be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1512

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 1512.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1512, entitled: An Act amending the act of May 17, 1917 (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drugs" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" changing from annual to biennial registration.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER

DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT

JO HAYS

(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN

ARTHUR J. WALL

An Act amending the act of May 17 1917 (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" changing from annual to biennial registration and fixing fees

Section 1 Section 5 act of May 17 1917 (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" amended May 11 1949 (P. L. 1180) is amended to read

Section 5 Each applicant for examination and registration as a pharmacist shall pay to the State Board of Pharmacy an examination fee of five dollars ($5.00) In case of failure at a first examination the applicant shall have within two years the privileges of a second and third examination In case of failure in a third examination the applicant shall have the privileges of examination only after satisfactorily completing an additional year of preparation approved by the board If the said applicant passes a satisfactory examination and complies with the rules and regulations and with the terms and conditions of this act of Assembly then the said board shall grant the applicant registration and a certificate of competency and qualification as a pharmacist upon the payment of a fee of twenty dollars ($20.00) or such other sum as shall be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction under authority of law provided said fee shall be paid to the said board within thirty days of the time that the said applicant is notified that a satisfactory examination has been passed

The Department of Public Instruction shall provide for regulate and require all persons registered as pharmacists or as assistant pharmacists to register [annually] biennially with the department and shall prescribe the form of such registrations The department shall require as a condition precedent to such [annual] biennial registration the payment of [such] a [annual] biennial registration fee [as shall be fixed according to law] which shall be five dollars ($5.00) for persons registering as pharmacists and four dollars ($4.00) for persons registering as assistant pharmacists The department may suspend or revoke the registration of such persons as fail refuse or neglect to register [annually] biennially or pay such fee

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, under the present law, the license fee is two dollars per year. This bill makes it two dollars fifty cents per year, five dollars per biennium. Assistant pharmacists pay two dollars a year. The present Conference Committee Report makes it two dollars per year, four dollars per biennium. The total amount of increase, then, would be fifty cents on the pharmacists' licenses. I request that the House do adopt the Conference Committee Report on House Bill 1512.

Mr. BELL. Is it the Chair's understanding that you will count as affirmative only those of the 152 who were present at the last full roll call?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. 158.

Mr. BELL. There were 152 on the last full roll call, were there not?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has not kept track of that.

Mr. BELL. I have on my calendar 61 "Aye," and 91 "Nay".

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Clerk has been using a roll call of 158 as the basic roll call.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Section 2 This act shall take effect in thirty days

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. There are no changes in this particular bill. The real estate broker's license is now five dollars. This makes it ten dollars per biennium. The real estate salesmen pay two dollars and fifty cents now. This bill makes it two dollars and fifty cents, five dollars a biennium. A branch office license is ten dollars a year, twenty dollars per biennium, no change. This Conference Committee Report just makes it biennial a registration. This, of course, is one of the bills that would be, a great money saver. Of these bills are all money savers in providing for biennial registration.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1514

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1514.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1514, entitled: An Act amending the act of April 27 1945 (P. L. 321) entitled "An act relating to the practice of veterinary medicine defining such practice and providing for the licensing and registration of persons engaged therein and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses and registrations subject to appeal and for their reinstatement defining the powers and duties of the State Board Veterinary Medical Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction providing penalties and repealing existing laws" changing from annual to biennial registrations.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER

DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT

JO HAYS

(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN

ARTHUR J. WALL

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of April 27 1945 (P. L. 321) entitled "An act relating to the practice of veterinary medicine defining such practice and providing for the licensing and registration of persons engaged therein and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses and registrations subject to appeal and for their reinstatement defining the powers and duties of the State Board Veterinary Medical Examiners and the Department of Public Instruction providing penalties and repealing existing laws" changing from annual to biennial registrations

Section 1 Section 6 act of April 27 1945 (P. L. 321) known as "The Veterinary Law" is amended to read

Section 6 Fees The fee for an applicant for examination and licensure to practice veterinary medicine in this Commonwealth shall be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction in accordance with existing law It shall be the duty of all persons now qualified and engaged in the practice of veterinary medicine or who shall hereafter be licensed by the board to register [annually] biennially with said board and pay for each such [annual] biennial registration [such fee as may be fixed by the Department of Public Instruction] a fee of ten dollars ($10.00).

Section 2 This act shall take effect in thirty days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Veterinarians now pay $5; this bill is the same, $5 per year, $10 a biennium.

Mr. AGNEW. Mr. Speaker, there has been so much confusion on these roll call votes, I just want to say for the record that the reason I voted against all these bills, whether they increased the license fee or not, is because of the system.

I see no reason why, for instance, the nurses should pay a license fee to put barber investigators on the payroll of the Barber Board. It does not make sense to me.

Some of us are not objecting to the money. I do not think anybody is. I think we are objecting to the system. I just want to say that for the record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Section 2 This act shall take effect in thirty days.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, doctors now pay one dollar; this bill would make it five dollars, ten dollars a biennium. Physical therapists pay one dollar; this bill would make it two and a half dollars a year, five dollars a biennium. Drugless therapists pay one dollar a year now; this bill would make it two dollars and a half a year, five dollars a biennium.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

INTERROGATION

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Comer.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, many Members have been coming down to my desk here today and wanting to know the answer to the following questions:

The first question I want to ask the gentleman is, when was the last meeting of the Highway Committee?

Mr. COMER. The House Committee?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The House Highway Committee.

Mr. COMER. I would say about a month ago.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. About a month ago?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Have you had a meeting this week?

Mr. COMER. No.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The answer is obvious, you have not. Do you contemplate a meeting yet this afternoon?

Mr. COMER. No. I would say, no.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. At this moment?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The reason for the interrogation is that languishing in your Committee are House Bills 2117, 2118 and 2119, being the Highway Omnibus Bills for rural Pennsylvania, for the boroughs and for the cities. Without divulging any secrets of your Committee, I believe you can answer this: has your committee at anytime considered these bills?

Mr. COMER. I would rather not answer that, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Is the answer not no, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. COMER. I would say it is out of order.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Would you answer this question: Have the three Highway Omnibus Bills been reported out of your committee?

Mr. COMER. No, they have not.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. When do you contemplate calling a committee meeting of the Highways Committee?

Mr. COMER. It could be the next week we are back in session.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. You do not know what day it would be?

Mr. COMER. I do not.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Is there any reason why you could not call a committee meeting today to consider those bills?

Mr. COMER. Yes, there are different reasons.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. What are the reasons? Would you want to state them for the record?

Mr. COMER. One reason, it is a little late today, the time element.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. GELFAND. Is it proper interrogation to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on the conduct of the committee or pertaining to bills which the committee has not considered?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Within limitations, the interrogation would be proper.

Mr. GELFAND. Is this proper interrogation?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair has so ruled.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I will ask this question and then ask the Chair to rule on its propriety.

When the Omnibus Bills for Allegheny County and for Philadelphia County came out of committee, did you consider the other three bills? Did your committee consider them?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would rule that is not a proper question. When the questions relate to action of the committee, the questions would be out of order.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman. Thank you very much, Mr. Comer.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. This afternoon I was up marking the calendar when the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Frank, read a statement about adjournment of this House, and I did not get a chance to reply at that time and I intended to.

However, among his remarks he said the following: "It is about time that the public should know that we, the House, are in favor of adjournment but the other House is playing checkers."

Members of this House, we have been hearing a lot about final adjournment of this Session of the General Assembly. There is a strong innuendo that it is being held up by the Pennsylvania State Senate. Everybody in this House knows that you are not going to get out of here until you pass these Omnibus Bills. Why? Because in practically every county in Pennsylvania a good many boroughs and a good many cities there are roads that either have to be put on the state system, taken off the local system, or taken from the state system and put on the local system.

Personally, I do not have any road going in or out of any of these bills, but it affects every Member of this House. I want to say this, and I am not divulging any secrets of this committee because I am not on it, somebody is playing footsie with the Highway Committee in this House and when you get up here and say that the other House is holding up adjournment of this Session of the General Assembly, here is a glaring instance of a deliberate holdup of this Session until something else happens in the other House.

I am saying for the record, the other House absolutely has not been holding up this Session of the General Assembly when you consider just these three little items that are languishing in our House Committee today. If the gentleman from Philadelphia were to call a committee meeting today and release these bills to the floor, it might be pretty emblematic of the good faith of somebody that they did intend to adjourn this Session of the General Assembly.

I do not know what is taking place, what is in the wind, whose long arm is reaching into this Committee on Highways in this House. I cannot say. But be that as it may, something is taking place and I think in answer to Mr. Frank, that the other side is playing checkers, I think there is a lot of dawdling going on and somebody is causing a delay here. I do not believe that you are going to be able to adjourn this House until these three bills are reported out of committee and debated, amended with the various roads put in or taken out, and it is really a very serious matter that you are playing with. You will never adjourn until you really get on the ball on these three bills.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. COMER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I question the gentleman, Mr. Johnson, in his haste, due to the fact that there has not been an adjournment date set as yet. We still have time.

In regard to the highway bills, I sat down this morning with the Majority Leader of the Senate and the Chairman of the Senate Highway Committee, and talked about different highway bills. The point was brought up of economy. The point was brought out that the Majority Leader and the Chairman of that Committee have problems that they have to take back to their caucus. I, too, am economy minded, and I ought to be guided by what they feel should go on the system and what should be deleted. That is one of the delays.

I have been in conference, off and on, for two or three weeks with the other House, and I must be guided by decisions they make.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. DOUGHERTY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I accompanied Mr. Comer to the conference with Senator Berger and Senator Wade this morning. They are going to study different phases of this highway program while we are in recess. That is the statement they gave us today. So, you see, it is not the House that is deliberately holding up programs.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am just wondering if there is not a tremendous amount of relation between the holdup on the omnibus bill in this House for townships and boroughs on account of the position of the omnibus bills for Philadelphia and Pittsburgh which are now over in the Senate.

BIRTHDAY OF MEMBER

Mrs. KOOKER. We have on our side of the House here a very fine but modest colleague. He forgot to tell us until almost the last moment that today is his birthday and we would like to have the birthday of Representative James Willard recognized by singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes Doctor Dengler.

Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday," led by Mr. Dengler.

Mr. WILLARD. Mr. Speaker and fellow Members of the House, I feel deeply honored. I almost got away without this. I remember back in the early part of the year when they were singing "Happy Birthday," I said, "Boy, they'll never get me because my birthday is on November 20 and we will long since be home and hard at work at our own jobs."

When I first threw my hat in the political ring back in 1956 I had some good friends say to me, it will get in your blood, and it has. But it has not been for the political implications. I believe it is because of the friendships you make, I value the friendships I have made on both sides of this House and I wish to thank you for honoring me, especially the one or ones who gave me this anonymous birthday present. If I get enough ayes in the House I will show this present. If not, I will take it home with me.

What I cannot understand is their giving me this present. There is a little card in here which says, "For Emergency Use Only." I do not know what that means but what they do not know is that I have a grandson, and I think by shrinking these a little but I am going to be able to give them to him this evening.

I thank you very kindly and I really appreciate it very much.

An Act amending the act of May 23, 1956 (P. L. 1662), entitled "An act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to acquire, by gift, ninety-three acres, more or less, of land with buildings thereon in the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County, for maintenance by the Department of Health as a sanatorium or hospital for the reception and treatment of indigent persons affected with tuberculosis; and making an appropriation," extending its provisions to all persons suffering of suspected of suffering from tuberculosis.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I have been around Harrisburg for a long, long time and I felt that I knew just about all the angles and the operation of the various departments of government.

However, Mr. President, last week I had the pleasure of meeting with a group of mothers who are the mothers of severely handicapped children. I was informed by this group that due to the severity of their handicap, both mentally and physically, a number of these children were not eligible for any of the benefits of special education which is operated by the Department of Public Instruction.

In further checking on their problems, I found that these people, who are of moderate means, have endeavored to set up their own clinic to provide therapy for these handicapped children. As a matter of fact, in Charleroi, they had donated to them a building which was formerly owned by the Vesta Coal Company. They have begged the clinics and hospitals for some of the necessities which they could use in their clinic. At the present time, the medical profession is providing them with free consultation and services.

If ever there was a deserving appropriation, I believe this is it. These people are dedicated to trying to rehabilitate their own children. I had the pleasure of talking with a few of these children. I found that they are severely physically handicapped. However, I do not think they are so severely handicapped in so far as their mentality is concerned.

I do think the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Members of this Senate and the Members of the House, should take into consideration the sacrifices these people have made over the years. They are doing everything on their own initiative. They did not request me to sponsor this legislation. I told them that I would tell their story to the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I read in place and present to the Chair an appropriation bill which would appropriate the sum of $10,000 to the Foundation for the Severely Handicapped Children of the Monongahela Valley, located in Charleroi, Pennsylvania.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE presented to the Chair SB 1263, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to The Foundation for the Severely Handicapped of the Monongahela Valley, Inc., Charleroi, Pennsylvania.

Which was committed to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. WHALLEY presented to the Chair SB 1264, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1933 (P. L. 1172), entitled "Borough Rural State Highway Law," adding a certain route in Somerset County.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Appropriations, rereported as committed, SB 136, 727 and 794.

HOUSE MESSAGES

HOUSE BILLS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented bills of the House as follows:

HB 2048, 2455 and 2456, which were referred to the Committee on Rules.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

RECALLING SB 1106 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. EHRGOOD offered the following resolution, which was read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, November 30, 1959.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That Senate Bill No. 1106, Printer's No. 1316, entitled "An act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled 'An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages, amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto; regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein; defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board, providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant, prescribing penalties and forfeitures, providing for local option and repealing existing laws' changing the limit on retail licenses," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF COMBINING OR MERGING THE JURISDICTION AND/OR THE PERSONNEL OF THE COUNTY COURT OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY AND THE MUNICIPAL COURT OF PHILADELPHIA COUNTY WITH THE COURTS OF COMMON PLEAS OF SAID COUNTIES

Mr. FLEMING offered the following resolution (Serial No. 122), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, November 30, 1959.

The County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County are unique, in that these Courts were created by statute for the conduct of legal proceedings which, in other counties of our Commonwealth, are conducted by courts provided for in our Constitution.

In order to bring about a more uniform method of conducting legal proceedings and to eliminate the possibility of duplication of function and resultant additional expense in maintaining these statutory courts, it is deemed important that a thorough study be conducted to determine whether there is sufficient justification for the continued existence of such courts, or whether it would be advisable to combine or merge the County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County with the Courts of Common Pleas; therefore, be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a study of the feasibility of combining or merging the jurisdiction and/or the personnel of said County Court of Allegheny County and the Municipal Court of Philadelphia County with the Courts of Common Pleas of said counties, and of the desirability of establishing court administrators in such counties; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission make a report of its findings and recommendations, together with drafts of such legislation as may be necessary to carry its recommendations into effect, to the next regular session of the General Assembly.

ADVISING OF REQUEST FOR RULINGS BY THE CHAIR

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I desire to have this on the record and to notify the Chair of two objections I will make and ask for rulings on House Bill No. 1344, on page 19, of today's Calendar. I think, in the interest of clarification, these two rules should be clarified in this body.

The first is in regard to a bill which is reported from one of the regular standing committees and a motion has been made to recommit it. In particular, this is in reference to House Bill No. 1344 which was recommitted to Rules Committee. When the bill comes up, I will ask the Chair whether or not that is proper procedure.

Number two: In connection with the same bill, I raise the question of whether or not a bill which was a repealer, and a repealer only, can be so amended as to change the original purpose of the bill and to enlarge the statute statute rather than repeal it.

I call the Chair's attention to a decision on page 126, Section 2 (h), of the 1957-1958 Pennsylvania Manual. In the 1953-1954 edition, a similar decision appeared on page 505, No. 13. In the 1953-1954 edition, on page 524, No. 19 and No. 20, "Decisions of the House," there also appear rulings on this same matter.

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at today's Session.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON MINES AND MINERAL INDUSTRIES FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION
OF SB 213

Mr. LANE, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution which was read as follows:

In the Senate, November 30, 1959.

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 213, Printer's No. 227, entitled "An act amending the act of May 31, 1945 (P. L. 1198) entitled 'an act providing for the conservation and improvement of land affected in connection with the mining of bituminous coal by the open pit mining method, regulating such mining and providing penalties', increasing the amount of certain bonds, providing for backfilling and changing the requirements as to the covering of the exposed face of the unmined coal," having been referred to the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries on February 9, 1959 and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt this resolution.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would ask my colleagues to oppose this discharge resolution. I also wish to state certain reasons that have come up during discussion of this matter.

This bill, I understand, has been referred to a subcommittee, and has not yet been reported back to the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries. However, I want to assure the gentleman that some of us are interested in the consideration of this bill, and we hope and believe that the committee will give it further consideration. The subcommittee, I believe, spoke about this just a few days before the last recess and, I believe, the regular committee will receive the bill for consideration within the next day or two.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, this legislation was sponsored by Senator Blass and myself on February 9, last. At the time that the committee held their meeting, I had the privilege of stopping in there for a few moments, since I am not a member of the committee, and I discussed this in detail with the chairman and he did place it in the hands of a subcommittee. As a matter of fact, they were supposed to contact, I believe, the Secretary of Mines and Mineral Industries and some of the other executives in State Government.

However, I believe you can appreciate my position. I feel that this legislation is a must at this Session of the Legislature because, Mr. President, what has happened in western Pennsylvania is that the strip mine operators have gone in, bought the coal, torn up the terrain, removed the coal and then walked out, leaving huge gullies, ditches and unsightly landscape throughout western Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, they have also destroyed property values. By that statement, I mean that after they finish their stripping, the owner of the land comes to the county and asks for a decrease in the assessed valuation, due to the fact that they have terrain which is unsightly and of no value. The people who own homes in that area, who may have invested thousands of dollars, also suffer.

All we are doing under the provisions of this bill is providing that the bond be increased from $300 to $450, that they do the backfilling properly and that, in addition, they provide for the sowing of seed and replanting in order to make our land a nice place.

Mr. President, I have the support of a number of coal industries for this legislation. As a matter of fact, Mr. Hillman, one of the largest operators in western Pennsylvania, wrote me a letter sometime ago in which he stated that this was good legislation, it was needed and it should be passed by this Legislature.

I feel that we probably might adjourn not long from now. I do not know, but I imagine so. I feel that we should have some action on this bill. I have sent copies of an analysis of this legislation to every member of the committee and the subcommittee. I have heard no criticism whatsoever.

This is not going to hurt the strip mining operators. If they cannot afford to place a $450 bond per acre, then they cannot afford to be in business, and I have not yet seen one of them who has gone broke.

All we want is a fair and just break for the taxpayers living in Pennsylvania, especially in the western part of the State where we have these unsightly conditions. We are never going to encourage and get new industry if we continue to have rock piles and gullies, filled with sulphur water, where children might drown. I feel that this is only fair. I do not want to discourage industry. I am in favor of it. I am in favor of strip mines. I am in favor of bituminous coal and I am in favor of steel. However, I do say that they must assume their responsibility.

Senator Berger, I am happy to hear you make that statement. You should instruct your colleagues to vote "aye." Let us bring this bill out, because it is not going to hurt anyone.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, there is no one in this Chamber more in back of any movement to control strip mining operations in Pennsylvania than I am. I have been an ardent advocate of it for many, many years, both in the Senate of Pennsylvania and in the House of Representatives.

However, I would suggest to Senator Lane—and I would be one of the first to admit that he, also, is an ardent supporter of some necessary regulatory measures that must go into effect—that mentioned only the bond. I would mention that if we get a definition of "abandonment and completion," we will have gone a long way in controlling the strip mining operations.

I thoroughly agree with Senator Lane that there are some operators who do a splendid job of restoration, such as Mr. Hillman in Allegheny County, who mines in Senator Lane's county of Washington and in Greene County. I am happy to say we have an operator in our own Senate who does an equally fine job of restoration, Senator Whalley.

I am sure there are many Members on this side of the Senate who want to control that. We are anxiously awaiting the report of that subcommittee, which is studying not only Senate Bill No. 213 but House Bill No. 1457. This bill possibly is not quite as severe as your Senate Bill No. 213, but which has passed the House.

I know that Senator Koprivier has been after the subcommittee to make a report to the full committee. Unfortunately, the chair of that subcommittee, Senator Kromer, is ill today at his home. It is our hope that he comes back soon. Certainly, we should wait until that subcommittee does report back on those two bills to the general committee, and let them have an opportunity to again consider them. I join with as much fervor as you, Senator Lane, in hoping that the committee will report one of those two bills to the floor of this Senate for appropriate action.

However, I do not feel that this is the right time to offer a discharge resolution on a bill that is in the hands of a subcommittee. Certainly, I could not support such a resolution at this time. I would respectfully suggest to Senator Lane that he withdraw his discharge resolution, pending the arrival of Senator Kromer in the Senate Chamber.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am very sorry to hear that Senator Kromer is ill at home. However, it seems to me that this legislation will never see the light of day at this Session, because I believe that the subcommittee was appointed in March or April. I took the trouble to then have an analysis made so there would be no misunderstanding. Now, here it is December. I feel that we probably may adjourn to go into Session in January, and that will end this Regular Session. Unless I insist upon the passage of this resolution today, I know, you know, every Member of this Senate knows, and every newsman knows also, that this legislation will not see the light of day. I do not suppose that this resolution will pass either, because the other side feels that we should not discharge a committee.

However, it is the only alternative I have, and I must insist that we have a vote on this matter. Let us stand up and be counted because they have plenty of time. If the subcommittee was appointed in March or April, you know very well that they have had a long time to consider Senate Bill No. 213. I know they have received a favorable report from the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries because the department is in support of the legislation.

Therefore, let us have the vote.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I, as a cosponsor of this bill, must join with Senator Fleming in his remarks, and vigorously oppose discharge of the committee on the absence of Senator Kromer.

I think the resolution is ill-timed. Therefore, I would respectfully ask, as a cosponsor of the bill, all of my colleagues to vote against the discharge of this committee.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, it is true that some months ago I appointed Senator Kromer as chairman of the subcommittee to look into Senate Bill No. 213 and House Bill No. 1457.

I have traveled probably over half of Pennsylvania, as Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mineral Industries, to see both sides of this problem.

I also want to say that I am in favor of strip mining control and I think we should give consideration to the bill at this time, if possible. During the investigations of the committee, as its chairman, I found places in the Commonwealth where they had, by local ordinance, a $5,000 bond to put up per acre so that the land would be restored to its original contour. If it can be done in a township, in Penn Hills, Allegheny County, it can be done any place in Pennsylvania.

I think it is high time that the township commissioners and supervisors take advantage of home rule and stop this unnecessary plundering of strip mining.

This bill, itself, would not correct the problem before us, because it is the strip mining which occurred during the war that we see along the highways of our Commonwealth. I understand, from the Secretary of Forests and Waters, that under the present law they are doing a good job. They have planted 20,000,000 trees in the last four years.

Certainly, I am not favor of voting for this discharge resolution, and I ask my colleagues to vote against it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, may I just make a few brief remarks and then I will sit down?

It is true that over 20,000,000 trees have been planted in Pennsylvania. They have been planted by the responsible strip mine operators, such as Mr. Hillman and others. This legislation is aimed at the fly-by-night operators who are still in business here in Pennsylvania. The responsible operators do not oppose this legislation. I want that to be made distinctly clear. We are not hitting at the responsible operators, because they are in favor of this type of legislation. We are looking for the fly-by-night operators who are doing a terrible job so far as strip mining is concerned. They are the ones who are not replanting, who are not refilling and who are not fulfilling their responsibilities.

I repeat, Mr. President, and ask for a roll call on this resolution.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I also request a roll call.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before proceeding with the roll call, I want to say that I believe all of us, certainly on this side and I am sure on the other side, are heartily in favor of the restoration of the terrain after strip mining operations are conducted on it. However, I do want to just mention to Senator Lane that I think he inadvertently made a request which he knew I could not fulfill and that was for me to instruct my colleague to report this bill out of committee and vote for it. Mr. President, I simply want to go on record as saying that is a little beyond my power. We do not instruct the Members over here; we ask them.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. MAHADY, and were as follows, viz:

SENATE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON RULES FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1941

Mr. MAHADY, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, November 30, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1941, Printer's No. 1058, entitled "An act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177), entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments, boards, commissions, and officers thereof, including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools, or Teachers Colleges; abolishing, creating, reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments, boards, and commissions; defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers, and of the several administrative departments, boards, commissions, and certain other executive and administrative officers; providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers, and of all deputies and other assistants and employees in certain departments, boards, and commissions; and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employees of certain departments, boards and commissions shall be determined,' creating the State Council of Higher Education as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction; defining its powers and duties; transferring certain duties to the State Council of Higher Education of the State Council of Education; and defining and coordinating functions of the two councils," having been referred to the Committee on Rules on September 9, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the resolution just read by the Clerk.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would oppose this discharge resolution. The bill presently is in the Rules Committee, and I will say that there has been exerted a great deal of pressure to have it reported out of committee and a great deal of pressure to have it remain in committee.

Mr. President, at the moment, it seems to be a controversial subject and one which I believe should receive a little more deliberation before we adopt the legislation.

Consequently, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to oppose this resolution.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, the other day, Senator

Elliott outlined, in a very brilliant and detailed manner, many of the problems which arise in colleges and which we will be confronted with in the next decade.

Mr. President, the full purpose of this bill is to create a State Council of Higher Education, as a departmental administrative board in the Department of Public Instruction. It is to be composed of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, as an ex officio member, and nine members to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate.

It seems that the only sole objection which I can determine, when we remove all the frills, is the fact that the Governor will appoint the nine members of the board. There is no question about the fact that education, in my mind, is not a partisan matter. I am sure that on the question of education, the present Governor certainly considers it a nonpartisan matter.

As to the need for this board, the great majority of the Council of Education is constituted of members who are engaged primarily in high school work and below. There is no place where the colleges can go with their problems in order to be treated, as we say in the law, by the judgment of their peers. There is no question about the fact that college problems should be considered by people who have dedicated their entire lives to the problems of colleges; namely, the problem of scholarships, the problem of the quality and quantity of work and all other problems involving colleges should be as to a separate committee.

The question of co-ordination is adequately taken care of in the bill, between the present board and the newly created board. The Secretary of Education is explicitly charged with the co-ordination of these two boards.

On its merits, this bill deserves consideration above and beyond political consideration. There is no one in this room who would deny—if they will take the time to study the problem—even the basic concept which is involved in it; that the colleges shall be run by colleges and that we shall not keep the board that we had back in the 1870's when we had very few problems and very little demand for a college education, and when high schools were a must for everyone. Today, colleges are a must for everyone. They should be given the consideration, the attention and, I would say, your vote in order for them to be able to run and co-ordinate and advance with the advancement of this century.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

REQUEST FOR RULING BY THE CHAIR

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, this is probably an old issue, but again I would like to know and I would like a ruling on whether a vote for or against this resolution constitutes a vote for or against the bill.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has already ruled on that question. I think the interpretation of a Member's vote must necessarily be left to his own conscience. The Member's own conscience must be interpreted by his constituents as they see fit.

It would be impossible for the Chair, on any ruling, to clarify that subject to any extent.

Mr. VAN SANT. I thank the Chair.
And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MAHADY and Mr. McCREESH, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RIPP asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I would like to say a few words in regard to the vote on the Report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 505.

You will note that the bill passed the Senate with a vote of forty-six in favor of the bill and four votes against the bill. You will also note that the four Democratic Senators, from Allegheny County, voted against this bill. We have had a good, workable county health unit in Allegheny County for a few years now. The Allegheny County health officials are doing an admirable job of protecting the health of its citizens.

The amendments set forth in the Conference Committee Report cannot be helpful to the health of the majority of our citizens. A small minority of one per cent of the highest total vote of the people who voted at the last municipal election, which can be as low as one-half per cent of the electorate, can petition to eliminate and work for the abolition of this fine agency so that selfish groups can lobby, by way of misinformation, to bring up the old bugaboo of socialized medicine.

We four Democratic Senators are for the average man and for proper health protection. In the short, few years of its existence, the Allegheny County Health Department gave all the people modern medical facilities and the latest laboratory equipment and technicians, which were not available in the past. The people are just now beginning to appreciate and to take advantage of this modern Health Department, staffed with experts and trained medical personnel. The present effective Health Department of Allegheny County must not be allowed to be stymied by the proposed legislation just voted on. We must remember the old, inefficient, ineffective, haphazard local health departments, manned by inexperienced personnel, many times with no more than a high school education. In Allegheny County, in the past, we could not even get a water analysis before the new Health Department was set up with its modern facilities.

For that, and for many other reasons, we in Allegheny County are opposed to any legislation, such as is inherent in the referendum provision in House Bill No. 505, which would amount to even a possible threat to the continued growth and advancement of its fine Health Department. We Democratic Senators from Allegheny County, therefore, voted against the Report of the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 505.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, regarding the Report of the Conference Committee on House Bill No. 505, on which we just voted and there was a vote of forty-six to four in favor of its adoption, I listened with a great deal of interest to my colleague's reasons for the four Democratic Senators from Allegheny County voting against it.

I would draw to the attention of the Chamber and to the Senators that on November 17, 1959, by a vote of fifty to nothing, House Bill No. 505 passed the Senate of Pennsylvania. At that time, a provision was in the bill which was inserted by the Senate, but was inserted, as the Senator says, to provide for a referendum vote at any time by a one per cent petition of the electorate. The House refused to concur in that amendment. A Conference Committee was appointed and I was one of the three conferees on the part of the Senate.

Certainly, it was deemed advisable to get this bill passed by the Legislature at this Session. The conferees came to an agreement that after any health unit—regardless of in which county it was located—was in operation for a period of five years, then by a petition of one per cent of the registered voters, a referendum could be placed on the ballot for acceptance or rejection by the citizens of that particular county.

I would draw to the Senator's attention, and to his colleagues from Allegheny County, that our county health unit has been in effect since 1957. A five year period added onto that would bring it to 1962 before this could possibly be submitted to the voters for their acceptance or rejection. I think it is a pretty fine compromise on a most important bill that did have as its primary intent to include Philadelphia County in the county health unit reimbursement feature. Certainly, a five year period does make the bill far more palatable.

I would suggest to Senator Ripp, and to his three colleagues from Allegheny County, that if the bill is wrong now, as the Conference Committee has reported it, it was certainly ten times worse on November 17, 1959, when all four of them voted for the measure. Where was that voice of protest then when they did not draw to the attention of the Senate of Pennsylvania that there was something wrong with the bill?

I believe that the bill possibly could be further amended. However, I would draw to the attention of Senator Ripp, and to all of the Members of the Senate, that in 1961, one year before it is possible for the question to be placed before the voters of Allegheny County particularly, an amendment can be offered, if that one per cent of the electorate is not enough, to raise the percentage.

This report of the Conference Committee, on the part of the Senate, was the best that we could put forward in order to get the bill passed, and in order to have other Senators from all parts of Pennsylvania vote for it. It was the best compromise available. I certainly feel that the Senator's remarks are ill-advised when he would attempt to place in the minds of the people the idea that Senator Koprivier and myself were the only other two Senators from the county of Allegheny who did not have at heart the health and welfare of the citizens of that great county.

I assure him, and everyone within the reach of my voice, that Senator Koprivier and myself are as much concerned with the health of Allegheny County and the citizens all over the State of Pennsylvania as they are, and I certainly think objections at this late date come in bad grace.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, House Bill No. 505 was reported from my committee. The bill was reported from my committee and not as it was reported in the Pittsburgh Press sometime ago, to the effect that it came out of the Conference Committee. This bill was reported, as amended, on November 10, 1959. It was on the Calendar for the two weeks that we were in Session. As Senator Fleming brought out, the bill passed by a vote of fifty to nothing.

After the bill had passed, one of the Allegheny County health officials—I believe his name was Doctor Broughton—called me on the telephone and said: "Senator, I think that House Bill No. 505 has a bad feature. We do not necessarily object to a referendum, but we do feel that there are many people who are opposed to county health units and they could, immediately upon the adoption of a health unit, turn around and ask the courts to place on the ballot a referendum to repeal that legislation."

I agreed with him, and I asked him: "Now, what do you think is a fair time to do this?" He said: "I believe a period of five years."

I said: "I am awfully busy today. Will you check it with Doctor Wilbar, the Secretary of Health, and if that is agreeable, will you get me those amendments so that I can put them in the Conference Committee Report?"

Instead of just the one per cent, as the bill passed by a vote of fifty to nothing, at the suggestion of Allegheny County's own Assistant Health Director, a Doctor Broughton,—I believe that is his name—I offered an amendment making it five years before action could be taken by the electorate of that area or any area. The bill does not refer only to Allegheny County, but any area that has a county health unit.

That very afternoon, the Legislative Reference Bureau delivered to me the amendment which was evidently telephoned to the bureau either by Doctor Broughton or the Secretary of Health, Doctor Wilbar.

I cannot see why the four Democratic Senators from Allegheny would object to that feature. I, in my own area of Butler County, have a health unit just as they do in Allegheny County, and we are just as proud of it in Butler County as they are of theirs. I have never heard one word of opposition from Butler County.

Senator Weiner, who was also a Member of the Conference Committee, did not object to it. I do not know whether he was that happy to get the three million three or not but, nevertheless, we had no objection from Philadelphia County, from Erie County or any of the other counties which have this health unit.

I want to say that you can run for United States Senator or you can run for the Presidency of the United States with only 200 names—I think I am correct when I say that—on the petition. This, at least, requires one per cent. I think this is a much greater requisite than is required for a man to run for the Presidency of the United States or United States Senator. The thing is this: That if some of these counties do want to get out of the health unit, we must have some kind of legislation which will allow them to do it.

For that reason, this amendment was offered, even though the Pittsburgh Press said that Senator Pechan co-sponsored antihealth bills. I want all the Pittsburgh Press, or anyone else in Pittsburgh, to show where Al Pechan ever once supported an antihealth bill.

I want to say one more thing. I did cosponsor Senate Bill No. 116. Again, as you know, the Pittsburgh Press loves to call Senate Bill No. 116 the "Dirty Milk Bill."

Senator Ripp brought out that we have many health secretaries who do not have a high school education. I want, for Senator Ripp's edification, to tell him that in my home community of Ford City we have such a person who never had a high school education. The secretary of health there is a former street commissioner. For that reason, Senate Bill No. 116 provided for milk control legislation. The only thing that bill was to do was to see that one body controlled how, where and under what conditions milk shall be sold in various communities. We have some 900 various political subdivisions in the Commonwealth, and if 900 different secretaries of health tell you how you shall sell milk, everyone would have to go into one of our institutions. I am about ready to be committed after hearing some of this stuff that has been going on.

I want to say further that I was burned up when I read an editorial from the Pittsburgh Press. I realize that I am giving them some free advertising. However, when Senate Bill No. 116 was before us, and that particular paper carried the story, I offered to amend out any of those counties which already had a good health unit or else remove it from the Department of Agriculture and put it into the Department of Health. I just wanted to give it some rhyme or reason by putting it into some one particular department. The paper carried the story, but evidently they were shortsighted and forgot about that.

When I found that my colleagues, not only on this side of the aisle but on both sides of the aisle, could not support this legislation, it was Al Pechan who made the motion to recommit that bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the two gentlemen who just spoke are certainly entitled to an answer to the question they have raised here. I do not want to belabor this matter to an undue length. However, last week or the week previous thereto, the members of the press either did not know or chose to ignore the fact that once this bill passed in the Senate, it would have to go back to the House, and the amendments either concurred in or nonconcurred in and then some action would be taken from that point. Ignoring that basic fact, they proceeded to exert pillory upon me and anyone else who probably came to hand in the Pittsburgh Press. It not only was unfair, but it certainly was not commensurate with the facts as they appeared.

I think we should state what House Bill No. 505 really is so that everyone understands it. This bill, for the first time, took the one county of the sixty-seven which was excluded out of the county health code,—namely, Philadelphia County—and put it back in so that it now participates under the county health code. The money that was given to Philadelphia amounted to a nullity and would be absolutely nothing as far as the sum they received without this legislation is concerned. There had to be three corrections; one made in the large bill putting the money back, another one correcting the verbiage in the bill, and this bill enabling us to actually participate in this fund.

After this bill came from the House and was reported from committee with this amendment, which might have been very well put in—I do not know; I am merely guessing at it—by people who were not very happy with the county health programs, it might have seemed to be a way to help do away with them in some areas where they were unhappy with the county health programs. I was unhappy with the small percentage needed because, unlike Senator Pechan, I feel that maybe you need a small number of people to run for the United States Senate, which may or may not be important. However, I do think it is important when you have expended a great deal of money to establish a county health program, both by the county and the State, and then you suddenly do away with it by placing it on the ballot with same other important issues. I think you put this type of a situation into deep jeopardy by using a small number of people. I am not so sure that that is a real problem because you can probably get names for any kind of a petition if you are just persistent enough in doing it.

However, the position taken here by the members of the Allegheny County delegation was that they realized this matter had to go back to the House where they have some influence, and they felt in that area they could make themselves heard and make themselves felt. It was then that we had the amendments prepared to make the five year limitation, and we put them in at that point. To pursue all of the other areas might have jeopardized the entire measure and put Philadelphia completely out of the pale of receiving the money that had already been given to them.

I do feel that the newspapers were a little bit unfair in their reporting if they felt that someone here had some sinister purpose in perpetrating this type of measure or was trying to hurt anyone. That was not anyone's purpose. It certainly would not have been my purpose, despite what they might have heard or people might have said in connection with my name. It was not my purpose to try to hurt Allegheny County or anybody else.

This may be something that should be thought about. If you want to have a referendum, I think you should allow people to petition to have this put on the ballot. If you are against the referendum and want to make it more difficult, then you should raise the percentage.

The important fact is that you cannot put a county in jeopardy after they have expended the money and hired the personnel to do the job. It may have been a great expense to them. It may have been a great deal of trouble to go out and get the personnel to man these types of activities. I think the five year limitation, although that might not be the answer, in a sense, insulates it from happening very often.

Also, possibly in future Sessions of the Legislature, this whole matter might be reviewed, and perhaps this will be subject to further change. I do not know the answer to that. I presume it might be changed. For that reason, I feel that the Members from Allegheny County were anxious to give this bill a fair run, a fair trial, and that is why they voted on it so it would go over to the House where they would have another opportunity to have a look at it and possibly a second bite at the same apple.

That was the reason, Senator Pechan, they did vote for it and they did send it back to the House. They felt that they had not gotten everything they could possibly get out of the Conference Committee. This is a large body. There are fifty Members here who represent many segments of the population and many segments of this State. That being the case, they felt they wanted to, at least, go along with some of the other segments and not jeopardize their positions.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this matter any longer, but I think it is a little late for Senator Ripp to inform the Senate why the four Democratic Senators from Allegheny County voted against this bill.

I want to remind the Members of the Senate that Senator Barr, Senator McGinnis, Senator Saraff and Senator Ripp live in Pittsburgh. Senator Fleming and I live in the suburbs of Pittsburgh in Allegheny County.

Senator Pechan assured me that the Allegheny County

Health Department was perfectly satisfied with the five year limitation amendment. I have been a whipping boy to the County Health Unit in Allegheny County for a long time. I have broad shoulders and I shall continue to take it. Maybe I understand better because I am the Mayor of Duquesne, along with being a Senator. However, no one had better tell me that we have better health services in Duquesne today than we had when we had our own, because we do not. I will tell you what Doctor Broughton is doing about our section of Allegheny County. He takes reports from the district leaders. I know we have a wonderful Public Health School at the University of Pittsburgh. However, what gripes we above all is that the County Commissioners had a right to give the people of Allegheny County a chance to vote, whether they wanted to or not, either by referendum or by resolution.

I fought for the mass transit bill the same way. That is why I feel as I do toward the county health unit system in Allegheny County. I know for a fact that Senator Ripp has in his District one township that is trying to get out of the County Health Department. I have two in my District that want to get out. I did not ask for it any more than he asked for it, but if the people want it, they should have the right to say whether they want it or not. I believe in home rule. You can talk about home rule and you can call it all kinds of names, but it is still home rule. Let the people at home know what is going on. Let them make the decision as to whether they want it or not.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. ROONEY, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. ROONEY.

HB 871—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I certainly hope that this is the last bill for amber, green, red or purple lights for this Session. I think this is about the tenth bill on amber or green lights that we have had. However, I will admit that these are flashing lights and the others were not.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to explain that this bill is a safety measure, as the sponsors of it have instructed me. However, I was informed, from information received regarding the very, very, tragic accident which occurred in Schuylkill County, that had this school bus carried two flashing lights in the rear, instead of one which was invisible because of the intervention of the truck, it is quite possible that this accident would not have occurred.

This bill does not require, Mr. President, the existing buses to be so equipped. However, as they come along, they will have to have two lights. I understand they are being delivered in that way.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

HB 900—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

SB 976—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think this is a bad piece of legislation. I think we are making a mistake by passing this type of bill, dealing with unexpended funds. I think this could very well be the vehicle for paving the way for other institution, in other areas, to come back for the same thing.

This would allow a lapsing of fifty per cent of the unexpended funds which are appropriated to the schools for repair and maintenance of buildings. If they do not use these funds, they get fifty per cent of them back to use in further maintenance or whatever else may be needed. This is done under the guise or the alleged explanation that many jobs are not finished and many contracts are not done and they still need this money.

I would suggest to the schools that if they are going to take State money, they should be very careful how they handle it. Once they have contracted for whatever job there is, they should set aside this money, much the same as a reserve fund or, as most people who handle their money judiciously, by putting the money aside for work already contracted. I think, in effect, this would usurp budgetary control of the Administration. You would have to now take each school as it came forward and to find out how much money it is holding, in order to determine how much you are going to give it the next time around. You would also find that the schools would have to keep a rather complex system of bookkeeping in order to find out how much money is unexpended, how much they are going to expend or what their problem is. If they did not finish out a contract and have enough money, would they then come back to the Commonwealth and ask it to make up the deficit? I think this is bad and I also think this is creating special little funds for each of the schools. I do not think that fits in with good accounting practices.

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I am sure that the Minority Leader recognizes the fact that about fifty per cent of the total funds for operating the State Teachers' Colleges, is supplied by the students. Many a superintendent of a State Teachers' College, who tried to conserve his resources in order to make some necessary repairs, and delayed those perhaps toward the end of the biennium to make sure that he had the funds to do so, found that the Administration required his funds to be lapsed. They do not lapse fifty per cent of them; they lapse the entire amount. It seems to me that we are asking the students of the State Teachers' Colleges, by that action, to help support State Government. It seems to me that it is only fair that fifty per cent of the Money or lapsed funds, at the end of the biennium, be retained by the State Teachers' College because those funds were supplied by the students themselves.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would have no objection on that basis. However, I have checked this out with the Secretary of the Budget who has written to me about it. His statement is that repairs and maintenance are not a specific appropriation, but are incorporated within the general operation and maintenance. Therefore, the amount of unexpended balance for this specific purpose would be indeterminable. It would also put them in the position where they would not know exactly how much money is in the fund or available for that specific purpose.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to these bills going back to committee unless there is some compelling reason for them to do so. I believe that we had a Conference Report whereby we raised all the fees some time ago and it was to be charged to the different persons operating under these different boards.

I think it is only fair, in keeping with the other cost of living raises which we have given along the line to the counties and the rest of the areas, that we also give these people, serving on these boards and commissions, an increase. It is not substantial, but I think they are increases which merit us getting good people to serve on these boards.

Unless there is some reason which is not apparent to me or to the Members of the Senate who are sitting on this side, I would like to know why. If there is no good reason, I would like to object to the bills going back to committee.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, primarily, the reason for these bills going back to committee is that most of these boards and commissions are composed of people who consider it an honor to serve on them by doing some service for their professions or occupations. The financial remuneration is not a consideration in almost every such case. However, the Chairman of the Committee on Education has indicated that possibly some of them will reappear.

I certainly have no animus, in any respect, for any board or commission. However, at the same time, Mr. President, from the sheer weight of the number of bills that we are dealing with here, I hope that he will be selective.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the bills were recommitted.

SB 1189—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, there is a problem connected with this piece of legislation which I would like to call to the attention of the Senate. There is some General State Authority money which has been expended in this hospital, on which there bonds still outstanding. I do not see how we can enter into any kind of negotiation with this State facility unless we take some action in regard to these bonds.

I would, therefore, ask that the bill go over in its order until such time as we receive an expression of opinion from the General State Authority as to the exact status of this matter.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 1195 and SB 1204—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

SB 1241—Read at length the third time and agreed to, On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 1241 is an amendment to the Constitution under which the length of Sessions are limited, in the even years, to three months and in the odd years to four months.

I am not rising to object to this bill. We did intent, however, to offer an amendment to the provision which prohibits the Governor from calling a Special Session. We realize that emergencies may arise when the Governor, in the exercise of his functions and duties as Governor, is compelled, for the good of the State, to call a Special Session. I had intended to offer an amendment to remove the prohibition of calling a Special Session. However, I am advised that this amendment can be more conveniently offered in the House. I, therefore, ask that we proceed with this bill without offering the amendment at this time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, that amendment was discussed with me and with Senator Weiner, and there are other amendments which I feel should go into this bill before it is actually in the form that we want it. However, it is a Senate Bill and, to expedite matters, I think it would be better if we would pass it over to the House, have it considered in committee, and try to work out all amendments there. The Senate then can consider it in its final form when it is returned from the House.

For instance, the period of limitation is in question, and I am certainly willing to accept amendments on that score. There is a question in my mind whether it is necessary to repeat certain language in this amendment which was included in the referendum amendment which was acted upon by the voters in November.

There are a number of things necessary to get the bill in an actually proper condition, and I think the method that has been suggested is the best method. Therefore, I will ask my colleagues to vote on the bill in its present form.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it is my intention to vote "no" on this proposed amendment.

It seems to me that anyone who has any experience at all with the complexity of State Government, and with the magnitude of the problems which confront State Government, would be very foolish to make the assumption that for some reason now it is going to be possible to transact the business of the Commonwealth in three or, as the case may be in every fourth year, four months. The whole record of recent State Government indicates that this is a dream. It seems to me that it is entirely impractical to expect that we can conduct the business of the Commonwealth with that kind of a limitation.

Furthermore, it seems to me that the fact that such limitation would be imposed would have an effect on the consideration of problems and pending legislation by the General Assembly which would tend to make it less careful and tend to give less study to the problems than they require.

For these reasons, Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on this proposal.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman will be so recorded.

HB 1981—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WADE, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 4, by striking out "a" and inserting: "the"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 5, by inserting after "machine": "or voting machines of an election district"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 7, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 9, by striking out "ten ($10)" and inserting: "one hundred ($100)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 11, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 3, line 12, by inserting after "machine": "or voting machines"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 4, line 7, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 4, line 15, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 5, line 2, by striking out "ten ($10)" and inserting: "one hundred ($100)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 5, line 4, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1702), page 5, line 7, by striking out "five ($5)" and inserting: "fifty ($50)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am objecting to these amendments as I think they make it more difficult for anybody to check on elections. They are raising the sums here from five dollars to fifty dollars and from ten dollars to $100. Take for example a city the size of Philadelphia where we have almost 1,600 subdivisions, many of which have two machines. You can see that this would certainly deter a candidate from looking into the matter at any length. I am sure the same would be true in the city of Pittsburgh or any large city.

I think if you are going to have elections where people can object and look into the situation, this certainly will make it more difficult for them. If a person is doing this to delay it, he will lose his money under this bill.

If you want to keep elections honest and you want people to have an opportunity to check on the matter, I do not think you should make it more difficult for them to do so. That is what this does. It prevents people from actually looking into the situation by raising that amount.

I, therefore, object to the amendments and ask my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WADE.

HB 2150—Read at length the third time,

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by striking out "anthracite"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1770.1), page 2, line 10, by inserting after "anthracite": "or bituminous."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. LANE.

HB 2192 and 2193—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 2291—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

HB 2338—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, I want to vote against House Bill No. 2338, and I would like to make a statement setting forth my position.

Mr. President, any Senator who has plowed his way through the graphs, charts, statistics, formulae, and the other complicated but unavoidable trappings of the vast insurance system which our unemployment compensation program is, may well be justified in wondering just what, in the final analysis, this unemployment compensation business is all about, what it is intended to do, who it is intended to benefit, and why.

Fortunately, there is a brief, clear, and definite statement available to all of us which very well answers these questions. And here it is:

"Unemployment insurance is a program of short-term insurance for the payment of benefits to workers as a matter of right during unemployment which is beyond their control. The program is designed to provide protection only to workers who are ordinarily employed, who are currently unemployed due to lack of suitable work, and who are ready, willing and able to accept such work. The primary objective of benefit payments is to replace enough of the current wage loss of unemployed workers who meet the program's requirement so that most such workers need not turn to other programs for aid under normal and recession conditions."

This is as good a summary as I have ever read as to what unemployment compensation is. More than that, it is an excellent "yardstick" with which we can measure the extent to which various groups of individuals are entitled to unemployment compensation benefits.

Now I would like to tell you where this definition came from. Early this year, a very careful survey revealed that from $40 to $60 million is being siphoned from the Unemployment Compensation Fund every year through a series of "loopholes" in the law which permit millions of dollars in benefits to find their way to people who should not, under any reasonable definition of unemployment compensation, be entitled to receive them.

This survey prompted the Lancaster New Era, down in my home town—an area of very high employment, by the way—to request the Bureau of Employment Security to make a survey there. They found, as you can see in the headlines which I now show you, that actually the drain on the money which employers contribute to the Unemployment Compensation Fund may be even greater than the original survey had disclosed. However, let us not deceive ourselves. Unemployment compensation taxes, like all taxes, are paid in the end by Mr. John Q. Public—the consumer.

Since the original survey, a great deal of attention has been focused on "plugging the loopholes."

We are all familiar with what these "loopholes" are, Mr. President. They have been discussed in meetings, thrashed out in newspapers, talked about in caucuses, until they are familiar to most well-informed people, even by the short designations I shall use here for the sake of placing them before you once again.

Uniform duration accounts for a yearly drain of $20 million. "Double Dippers" drain off $18 million; pensioners, $11 million; people who quit for personal reasons, $2.5 million; and pregnancy, $5 million.

Newspapers all over the State have called upon the Legislature to do something about it. Quite wisely, the newspapers point out that Pennsylvania cannot afford such waste and extravagance, particularly with the Unemployment Compensation Fund nearly exhausted, and with high taxes already placing Pennsylvania business at a disadvantage with business in other States.

This spring, Senator James S. Berger and I sponsored a bill which we felt would sharply reduce the tremendous drain on the fund. Unfortunately, this bill was bypassed, and the General Assembly, instead, passed a resolution calling on the Governor to name an Unemployment Compensation Study Committee.

A committee, composed of citizens with varying backgrounds, was named and as one of its first acts, it sought a basic statement, or a yardstick, which could be used in evaluating plans for improving the structure of Pennsylvania's Unemployment Compensation Law.

The Federal Bureau of Employment Security prepared the statement which I have just read to you, and it was adopted and agreed upon by the committee. That statement came, by the way, from a pamphlet entitled, "Unemployment Insurance: Purpose and Principles; A Guide for Evaluating the Main Principles of Unemployment Insurance Laws," released December 1950 by the Bureau of Employment Security, U. S. Department of Labor.

Unfortunately, however, the Governor's Committee could reach no agreement to apply the "yardstick." To have done so would have resulted in recommendations for the closing of the legal but wasteful loopholes.

Mr. President, I feel that this failure to use fully the principles earlier agreed upon is deplorable, to say the least. A minority report to the Governor did carefully and honestly use them in considering the eligibility of each group of loophole claimants, and it became crystal clear that none of these groups was entitled to the protection of the unemployment compensation program.

It is incomprehensible to me how any one who has read that minority report—and I assume that all of my colleagues have done so—can fail to see and understand the extreme need for a complete closing of all the loopholes.

In view of the principles enumerated by the Federal Bureau of Employment Security,—in logic, in sense, in common prudence—why should unemployment compensation be paid to people who are not ready, willing and able to work?

Why jeopardize the position of the wage earner by massive withdrawals on his funds for payments to people who may be entitled to public assistance but not to unemployment compensation?

I am bitterly opposed to the continued payment of benefits to large groups of individuals whose eligibility to receive them is so questionable.

These payments are having a disastrous effect on Pennsylvania's unemployment compensation program. They have played, and will continue to play, a vital part in depleting the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund, thereby placing in jeopardy the payment of claims to the regularly employed—those the law was designed to protect.

These loophole payments are imposing a heavy handicap on another important segment of the state's economy—our tax-burdened employers. All Pennsylvania employers are now paying at the maximum tax rate of 2.7%. The bill which this body is about to pass will increase the average tax rate to 3.3% and impose a new maximum tax of 4% on many employers. Thus, at a time when Pennsylvania's unemployment compensation taxes are already about the highest in the nation, they now will go even higher.

This fact will have serious consequences on the economic life of the Commonwealth which is already beset with crushing ills. There are areas in our State where business conditions are alarmingly poor and where unemployment is all too common and too deep. The Legislature has attempted to remedy this condition in many ways. It has passed laws designed to bring about plant expansion and new industries, and for training the unemployed for new skills in such localities, so that the unemployed may again become gainfully employed workers. Therefore, we have, with some success, improved the business climate in the Commonwealth. Even with these attractions, industry is certainly not going to expand in Pennsylvania if the cost of doing business here is greater than it is in Ohio or other competitive industrial States.

All this improvement can be offset by permitting the unemployment compensation tax to soar above that of our competitors, for the unemployment compensation tax becomes a part of the cost of the product. It is a tragic thing that we have permitted the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law, which was designed to alleviate unemployment, to become the very instrument to create more unemployment.

Let us see how Pennsylvania now compares with competitive States as to its unemployment compensation taxes and costs.

Our average unemployment compensation tax rate in 1958 was 1.91%. In 1959, it went to 2.70%, and the ratio of benefits to wages in 1958 here in Pennsylvania—actually, our cost rate—was 4.69%.

Now let's look at some other States, which compete with us for business and industry:

In Illinois, for example, in 1958, their average tax rate was 0.8% and for 1959, it is estimated to be 1%. In New York, the average in 1958 was 1.6%, and in 1959, the average will be 2.02%. In Ohio, in 1958, the tax was .75%. In 1959, it is estimated to be 1.4%, as against Pennsylvania's 1.91% in 1958, and 2.7% in 1959.

It is my understanding, Mr. President, that the bill now before the Senate will boost Pennsylvania's average tax rate to 3.3%, the highest of all our competitor States.

Our dilemma can be described in a few words. Failure to close the loopholes means more costs, more costs mean more unemployment compensation taxes, more unemployment compensation taxes means less business in Pennsylvania, and less business means more unemployment.

In every sense of the phrase, the Unemployment Compensation Fund is a trust fund. To it we hold responsibility as guardians of its integrity—a responsibility that stands above and beyond the realm of "politics as usual."

Failure to take decisive steps in the improvement of the Unemployment Compensation Law at this time, because of political expediency or any other reason, is a prievous mistake which will produce problems more and more acute as time progresses. It is regrettable that, by our action, we are needlessly injuring the workers and employers of Pennsylvania.

To put it another way, in matters of unemployment compensation, Mr. President, the best politics for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is no politics.

Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on House Bill No. 2338.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this is a mere attempt by our society to take care of people who find themselves in a rather unfortunate position.

I have great regard for the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler, who just spoke. I would also like to bring to his attention the fact that Pennsylvania is thirtieth in the nation in this area of unemployment compensation. I agree with him that we would be in a much better position had we had the same tax rate that New York has had over the past ten years. However, unfortunately, we have reduced our rate from time to time to the point where we find we have practically no money in the fund, and this has sort of brought us down to a point where we now have to pay—possibly it was a folly at that time—for it none the less.

As great an industrialized State as we are, we also suffer from having a sick industry in our midst and that has been with us for some time; namely, the coal industry and the people who work therein. You just cannot shunt them aside or forget about them.

One of the other things which has occurred, I believe very recently, is that the Chamber of Commerce in Philadelphia came out just yesterday I believe, or the day before, and said that this was an excellent bill. The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin felt this was a rather good measure and felt it was the type of measure that we should enact and both parties should vote for it.

Along with that, I think we should also refer back to the early days of this Session when we got into this entire problem, and the Governor appointed a committee that was made up of public members, members of industry and members representing the laboring man. This bill represents the compromise at which they had arrived, plus some other compromising features that were put in here by the Members serving in the House and the Senate.

It is true that we cannot have a perfect measure because I feel that the amount of money to be received by the workman is just merely trying to keep abreast of the cost of living. It is not a great sum that he is going to get while he is out of work, and I doubt if any man who has a family could live on that amount of money. It is merely a helping hand, as it were, to get him started or to keep him going until conditions either better themselves or some other condition changes.

We have also lived through a recession. This may or may not be political, but it has occurred over these last few years. This was true of the entire economy across the nation. Our Government also suffered from this same recession. This also further hurt the fund.

We have had industrial trouble, which only comes in periods of economic stress, which has caused further difficulty and also further weakened the fund.

I do not know how Senator Kessler will suggest that it be done or how else we can address ourselves to this problem, but it is a bit difficult to try to help a man who is working and suddenly cut off from that income, all of which has probably already been budgeted out, and when that money is not there, he finds himself hard pressed.

I feel this is just a mere attempt, a weak attempt, on our part to help people who are unable to help themselves.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, although I am going to vote for this bill because it is a compromise bill, I want to draw everyone's attention to the fact that on page 39, line 18, the Act heretofore read: "... whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without good cause" We have changed that to read: "... whether or not an employe has left his work voluntarily without cause of a necessitous and compelling nature"

I must confess and admit that I do not know the limit of this blank check, or how restricting it is in its effect, and I doubt whether many in this room do. I say to you that although I am voting for it because it is the compromise reached, and it is the best we can get, I have grave misgivings in connection with this sentence.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I would like to just make a remark or two, perhaps from a different point of view than we have already heard from the Senate floor. I endorse the remarks just made by the gentleman from Lancaster, Senator Kessler. I feel, as he does, that the original intent of unemployment compensation—namely, to provide cash benefits during involuntary unemployment of short duration—is not being carried out when certain inequitable and improvident loophole benefits have not yet been eliminated.

I am in full accord with the principles involved in providing emergency benefits for those family providers who become unemployed through no fault of their own. However, I do feel strongly that these principles must be carried forth on a morally fair and financially sound basis.

Yet, while I agree wholeheartedly with Senator Kessler's statement, I also recognize that we, in this Senate, have a real responsibility to maintain the Unemployment Compensation Fund's fiscal soundness and integrity. We cannot allow our fund to become depleted, thus creating a disgraceful Michigan—like situation in Pennsylvania.

It might be apparent to some that it would be far more sensible to plug the loopholes, thereby relieving somewhat the adverse tax impact of the bill so as to preserve, if possible, the competitive position of Pennsylvania's industry.

Nevertheless, the present unsatisfactory condition of the fund makes it urgent for us to restore it to an adequate reserve level. For this reason, I will support this bill and will vote in favor of its passage.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this bill, as it was reported to the floor of the Senate, and in my opinion, offered a fair solution to some problems which have arisen under the so-called Blue Laws. However, the amendments that have been placed in it by the Senate would seem to complicate it as far as receiving approval is concerned. I originally had intended to support and vote for this bill.

Mr. President, the type of amendment that has been placed in the bill is the kind of provision for which usually provide a referendum to be voted upon by the people in the community affected, where the activities are to be conducted, For that reason, Mr. President, I am going to vote against it, although I agree with the general tenor of the bill.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that HB 2417 be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for further study.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 2417 serves a very real and, in my opinion, a very laudable purpose. It provides that Housing Authorities may not charge to persons on public assistance or relief a greater rental than they charge to people who have comparable incomes.

I see no reason, Mr. President, why a Housing Authority or anyone else, for that matter, should charge a person more rent when he is on public assistance than they charge someone else who is not on public assistance, but has a similar amount of income.

For that reason, Mr. President, I feel that this bill is desirable, and ask my colleagues to vote against the motion to recommit.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. MAHADY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—22

So the question was determined in the negative and the bill failed of recommitment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR BERNARD B. MCGINNIS

Mr. VAN SANT. Under Petitions and Remonstrances, Mr. President, although this is not the proper order of business, I think we would be amiss in our responsibility here in the Senate, in view of the fact that there is a possibility the gentleman will not be with us tomorrow, to not mention that we have an octogenarian who will celebrate his eighty-first birthday tomorrow. There is a good possibility he may be in Galway Bay tomorrow and not here on the floor of the Senate. I think that we, as Members of the Senate, should acknowledge the fact that the Honorable "Barney" McGinnis celebrates his eighty-first birthday tomorrow.

The PRESIDENT. We are very grateful. A very happy birthday to you, Senator McGinnis.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would suggest that the Chair request the young gentleman from Allegheny to sing one verse of "Galway Bay."

The PRESIDENT. The President of the Senate is very happy to make that request. Will you please oblige us, Senator? Come up and use the microphone right here. (Rendition of "Galway Bay" by Senator McGinnis.)

The PRESIDENT. I am sure that I speak for every Senator here present when I say that we are very proud of our gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator McGinnis.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, Senator McGinnis deprived us of two passages of that song. He shortened it and omitted two passages.

The PRESIDENT. I am sure we can call upon him next year for those two passages.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. SHAFER submitted the Report of Committee of Conference on HB 1881, which was laid over for printing under the rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in our society today and in our complex industrialization, there is a disease or injury that people receive who work in these industries. I think it is not very well known, except in cases which come to the attention of people who are in public life. These cases deal with workers who are exposed to a great deal of noise which, after a period of years, causes a partial or complete loss of hearing.

Under existing law, such people can receive no form of compensation unless they suffer a direct injury to the ear, such as a blow, impact or some accident to the head, in which event they would be covered by workmen's compensation.

I submit to you, Mr. President, that this is as much of an occupational hazard as silicosis is to those workers who work in mines or tuberculosis or any other kind of communicable diseases are to those persons who work in sanatoria and are exposed to such diseases.

The reason for introducing this bill so late in the Session is because I had to gather sufficient material. There is a law in Missouri which covers this very area, and, this bill is patterned after the Missouri law.

I also would like to bring to the public's attention that we are considering this type of injury, which is not a direct injury but rather one which occurs as a result of a person working in a certain area in which he may be originally equipped and for which industry does nothing to avert his being prevented from suffering this partial or complete loss of hearing.

I would also like to suggest that if this bill cannot receive consideration during this Session, because of the complexity of it, perhaps we should introduce a bill directing the Joint State Government Commission to look into this matter.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WEINER presented to the Chair SB 1267, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 21, 1939 (P. L. 556), entitled "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act," including partial or complete loss of hearing within the meaning of the term occupational disease, and providing for the liability of employers and the benefits and persons entitled thereto.

Which was committee to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am about to introduce a bill which may be of considerable interest to the Members of the Senate.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. LANE and STIEFEL presented to the Chair SB 1268, entitled:

An Act conferring the rank of Brigadier General Retired in the Pennsylvania National Guard upon John M. Walker.

Which was committed to the Committee on Rules.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. FLEMING, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported, as committed, SB 1266.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SB 297 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. SILVERT offered the following resolution, which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, December 1, 1959.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concurs), That Senate Bill No. 297, Printer's No. 321, entitled "An act repealing Section 650, Act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 672), entitled 'An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth' relating to pawn-brokers dealing with minors," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

SENATE RESOLUTION

SENATE COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS AND THE PENNSYLVANIA TURNPIKE COMMISSION CONCERNING RECENT "TRAFFIC JAM" ON THE TURNPIKE

Messrs. WHALLEY, KOPRIVER, Jr., KALMAN and WALKER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 86), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 1, 1959.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike, world known and renowned as a model in express and safe travel for motor vehicular traffic has an "Achilles' Heel".

Built as a four lane highway, through mountainous terrain, the four sixty-five miles per hour traffic lanes narrow down to two thirty-five miles per hour traffic lanes through the existing tunnels.

As a result, over the Thanksgiving Holiday the home-bound holiday travelers using the turnpike ran into the worst traffic jams in the history of the toll road.

Traffic was stalled as much as 10 miles on the western entrance of Laurel Tunnel and on the eastern end of Allegheny Tunnel near Somerset and was not moving more than 1 mile an hour at these tunnel jams. It was several hours before a vehicle could pass one of these points.

This is not the first occurrence of such a serious situation, but each occasion has become progressively more severe.

In 1957, this Legislature attempted some remedial legislation by providing for the repair, improved lighting and painting of these tunnels.

During the present session of this Legislature we have passed, and the Governor has approved, legislation authorizing the construction of additional tunnels or lanes on the turnpike between the Irwin and Middlesex Interchanges.

As evidenced by this most recent "traffic jam" on the turnpike positive and immediate action must be taken to prevent the reoccurrence of these traffic "tie-ups," therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of three members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President Pro Tempore, meet with the Department of Highways and the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission to determine what immediate action can be taken to avoid a reoccurrence of this situation; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee make a report of its findings and determinations to the Senate as soon as possible.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have no objection to this resolution if the purpose of the members meeting with the Turnpike Commission is in an advisory capacity. I think that the Turnpike Commission is a separate entity in the sense that it has its own bonds, its own financing and its own jurisdiction. I notice the Department of Highways has been invited to sit in on this problem. However, I think one of the things which we should be prepared to discuss, if we go over there with them, is how we would finance the further widening or opening up of the tunnel areas so that this jam-up will not occur. I am not so sure that this is a regular problem. Probably it only happens when they have this heavy holiday traffic.

If this committee is to function in an advisory capacity, which I think the resolution calls for, I have no objection as such.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILLS ON CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS

SB 118—Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do concur in the amendments made by the House to SB 118.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, knowing how efficient this Body is in not wanting to do needless acts, Senate Bill No. 118, Printer's No. 1615, is not necessary. This has already been done by Executive Order of the Governor; namely, the granting of the increase and subsistence allowances to the men on the State Police force. I would say that we need not take any action on this bill at all.

In this bill, there was a provision for a board which has been stricken out by the House. If it is the desire of the Majority Party to concur in this, without putting the board back or taking this under consideration, I believe then that we do not need this bill at all because it has already been accomplished.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I understand that about a week ago this was done by Executive Order; true enough. It might have been done before that time by Executive Order and it might also have been done later had this bill not been passed by the Legislature. However, that is neither here nor there. We can make the assurance doubly sure, however, because what can be done by Executive Order can also be undone by Executive Order. This legislation will assure the increments and the subsistence increases to the State Police along the same lines as the Executive Order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—50

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, these amendments were given for the very good reason that it is our feeling that we ought not to obligate ourselves for more than the term of our office. These are limiting amendments, and for that purpose only.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us why we are limiting this amount of money and which term of office are we limiting, the people who teach at the schools or is this for the Members of the Legislature?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman who introduced these amendments, Senator Blass, although I do see Senator Walker's name on the amendments, as well.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blass, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us why he is amending this bill to remove the safe deposit boxes?

Mr. BLASS. I will, Mr. President, for the reason that I think it is a serious invasion of the privacy and private rights of the individual. I think it is a further encroachment, by governmental interference, upon the conduct of individual affairs.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, does the gentleman realize that this is an Estates' Act that deals with the State collecting money after a person is deceased?

Mr. BLASS. I do, Mr. President, and I say that, at the present time, the tax is collected by reason of the fact that there is a sufficient provision for entry into private boxes by the fiduciary of the estate, either the executor or the administrator, when accompanied by an officer of the bank. I consider that a sufficient means of entry for the purpose of investigating the contents of any private box.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman explain to us, after that very fine explanation he just gave us, how this bill abrogates that right or in any way interferes with it?

Mr. BLASS. Because it interferes by enlarging the right of entry to cover revenue agents all over the State of Pennsylvania in every county. It might interfere a great deal when it comes to the examination of private papers—not as subjects of taxation—that are contained in that box, which should be private from the view of everybody, and which should not be interfered with by having that right invaded by any representative of the State or otherwise.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us how he can prevent a revenue agent going in after a person is deceased and looking at any of these boxes or any of these papers when a fiduciary goes there, or anyone else who is interested and obtains a court order to look in a safe deposit box?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, they can by a court order or they can by entry by a fiduciary, accompanied by an officer of the bank, and, in my opinion, that is personal.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please tell us then what his amendments do?

Mr. BLASS. The amendments strike out all of the other means of entry so that the bill does not require any other provision for entry, because that provision is already available and has been available over the course of 100 years in the State of Pennsylvania. When a person dies, the first thing the fiduciary does, whether he is an administrator or executor, is go to the box. Usually, in most jurisdictions in the State, that fiduciary is accompanied by a representative or officer of the bank. The contents of the box are noted and the tax is then paid.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please tell us how this is interfered with under this present bill?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, because it enlarges the right of entry to cover a lot of other means of entry which, in my opinion, are not necessary.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please tell us what other entries he is speaking about so that we can specifically look at them?

Mr. BLASS. The bill provides for entry by a representative of the Department of Revenue, and an office created for that purpose in every one of the sixty-seven counties of the State.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, is the gentleman suggesting that the revenue officer does not now have the right to look into a safe deposit box after a will has been probated or a fiduciary has been appointed?

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, that is why I say these provisions in the act are not necessary. If such a situation arises, a petition could be presented to the court and then, if permission is given by a court order, of course, any person could have the right of entry. The court would be the proper tribunal to hear objections, if there were any, to something that might be in that box which they were seeking to have taxed.

It is too large a privilege to give to the representatives of the Department of Revenue or to any other officer of the State. It is a privilege which will invade the privacy and which will probably interfere a great deal with other documents that are of a secret nature that are contained in that particular box, and which should not be viewed by anyone except the parties interested therein.

I want to say further that I do not think that any of these provisions, if they were incorporated, would increase the tax received in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

If these entry provisions were passed, and they probably will be, then, in my opinion, it would be an invitation to commit burglary all over the State of Pennsylvania and there would be no further use for any private boxes because no one would maintain a box that would be susceptible to inspection by people whom they did not want to inspect it.

Mr. WEINER. Might I direct your attention to the bill, Senator, on pages 80 and 81, please?

Mr. BLASS. I have it. Those are the different means of entry.

Mr. WEINER. Yes sir. Would you look on page 84, please, sir? I am referring to line 3, and the words: "Section 1141 . . ."

Mr. BLASS. That may be true. It relates to confidential information gained, but it does not mean this would be carried out. It could be given from one person to another surreptitiously and quietly, and cause irreparable harm to the person who is the owner of the particular paper or property in that box, and who did not want anybody provided with inspection privileges or to see it when it was of a private and individual nature.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you then look under the next Section? You are sort of jumping ahead of the questions I am going to ask you. Would you look under the Section Marked "Penalties," right underneath that? What does that say, sir?

Mr. BLASS. That probably implies penalties. However, nevertheless, many of these things go on without the penalty ever being inflicted, or the party ever being punished.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman.

Mr. President, if we follow that line of reasoning, none of the laws that have been enacted to prevent people from committing crimes are worth anything just because people break those laws. That is why we have courts, juries and, fortunately for the Senator, lawyers. It is on that basis that we operate all of our laws. If you are going to say that people are going to violate this or that then it is going to be kept more on the breach than in the keeping. This would certainly be a rather hard way to look at any of this legislation that we are trying to pass.

Senator, I would suggest to you that if you will look through these pages that you are objecting to, beginning with Article XI on page 79 and go through this, you will see that there are sufficient safeguards to prevent anyone from being hurt.

Also, this committee was headed by a very prominent jurist from the city of Philadelphia and other jurists throughout the State, as well as Members of the Legislature who sat on this committee of the Joint Government Commission. There were safeguards put in here, and this section was put in for a specific reason; namely, so that the Commonwealth could obtain the money that is due it under these different provisions. It was not with any regard or any purpose of looking into anyone's confidential papers, but merely to obtain that which belonged to the Commonwealth.

If you want to take the view that no matter what you say to people, they are going to break the law, we might just as well do away with the Penal Code completely.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I feel that the entry provisions are not necessary. We have gotten along very well for 150 years in this Commonwealth. We have been able to maintain things and have tried to maintain a semblance of liberty. We should be interested in the principles which were promulgated in the establishment of our government. We should not lose sight of them. We should not take steps which are socialistic or communistic in their nature. We should not adopt a system which might become close to fascism, with Gestapo tactics, by providing other means of access which would prevent the enjoyment of happiness which was guaranteed to us under the Declaration of Independence.

I feel that this is a very important step. If we take this step, there is no reason why we should not take other steps along the same line. I am very much an advocate against further infringement or encroachment upon the rights, privileges and immunities of the people of this Commonwealth.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am certain that the gentleman from Erie did not mean to impugn the integrity of the jurists who served on this committee. I think some of those remarks certainly impugn their integrity and certainly impugn their reputation. I am sure certain of these people are good Americans and are interested in the American way of life.

However, to follow the Senator's reasoning, I guess the St. Lawrence Seaway might be considered a socialistic project because it was just built in one section of the Country to help that section of the Country to expand further.

Also, Senator, I might point out, under that same reasoning you used in this argument here, we could say that we never had a sales tax in this Commonwealth. However, we have one now.

Certain measures are necessary as the community in which we live becomes more complex. As we have more and more people using safe deposit boxes, for reasons best known to themselves, it is of some interest to the Commonwealth that it obtain the money that is due it, and not have people try to evade the collection of taxes, or else we will not be able to run this Commonwealth or the United States in a very orderly fashion.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, in closing, I want to say that if this means were adopted, there is nothing that would prevent the entry into a decedent's private home for the same purpose of inspection. That would be along the same line. If you can take this step, you can take the further step, and continually inspect every person's property and every part of his property for the purpose of trying to ascertain something that will not be a bit beneficial.

Therefore, I am very vigorously opposed to the inclusion of these entry clauses. I say we have gotten along very well as it is. We have collected the tax. The little tax that would be collected would not measure up to the danger in which everyone in the Commonwealth would be placed because of the fact that it would be an invitation on the part of anyone to commit burglary throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in the hope of finding assets or valuables of some nature, kind or description.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, the amendments offered by Senator Blass find considerable sympathy with many of the Members of this Senate. I intend to oppose the amendments, Mr. President, but I certainly respect the reasoning which Senator Blass has advanced for offering them.

The intent of these amendments is not as has been implied, to permit taxable assets to be removed from a safe deposit box so as to escape the scrutiny of the taxing officer. I believe that Senator Blass did mention, or might have mentioned, the fact that there have been any number of cases, Mr. President, where safe deposit boxes have contained papers which might have some reflection upon the paternity of certain people, or have contained certain very, very private information which should not be for the scrutiny of strangers.

If the executor or administrator enters the box, in company with a bank officer, which is the present practice and undoubtedly will be followed in practically all cases, then under this bill, a revenue officer also has that right to go along with them. Those papers are obviously not assets which are taxable, but which might be given into the custody of the executor for such disposition as he or she might make of them. However, Mr. President, there is no reason in the world why a stranger should have any access to such papers. I know this is the reason that Senator Blass has advanced these amendments.

I must agree also, however, with the Minority Leader that this is the result of a long study made by a task force under the Joint State Government Commission. One of the members of that task force, who is an eminent judge from Philadelphia and whom we all know, said that it was not probably a perfect bill, but they had labored on it a long time and the provisions in it were about the best which they could come up with after all this work.

Therefore, Mr. President, while, as I said, I respect the reason for the amendments offered by Senator Blass, I must oppose them for the reasons which I have stated.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman from Erie for his direct answers. However, I also would like to point out to him that this is probably a good bill. One of the reasons for it being a good bill is that nobody is happy with it. That usually means there is a pretty fair solution to many difficult and complex problems. I am certain there will probably be other amendments to this measure. I am also certain that the sum obtained from some of these safe deposit boxes will be no small amount of money. This is one of the reasons why it was put in, and it was considered very carefully.

The committee worked on this rather lengthily. I think the gentleman will find there is never a situation, as the Majority Leader said, in which the banking officer does not go along with the revenue officer, the fiduciary or whoever happens to be designated by the courts, if that be the case, to look at the material contained within the box. That was one of the reasons why this penal provision was put in here and added as a part of the Penal Code, in case anyone did go beyond the realm of his jurisdiction in revealing what he had seen.

Mr. President, I would like to ask my colleagues to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I think one thing which Senator Blass said should not be overlooked, and that is the fact that it has been the tendency of bureaucracy to make rules which are most advantageous to themselves, on the presumption that everyone is dishonest. Under the present system, we are depending upon the integrity of the fiduciary to produce the tax and to pay it.

This being a bill that, shall be say, smacks of the lamp and not smacking of the man who is dealing with it as an attorney or as a fiduciary every day, one likes to think of what they would like to have. This brings up the main point. What is the cost of the bill? I say to you it will be costly to have a man in every county. I would like to know from the proponents of the bill, if any of them are represented here, what the cost will be if Senator Blass's amendments are not adopted.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I would have to agree with the sentiments expressed by both Senator Mahady and Senator Blass. I think this is another step into an invasion of an individual's right of privacy and a tendency, or another step, toward a police State.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

HB 1981—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, under the present form of this bill, with the amendments which have been placed in it, I am constrained to vote against the bill. I realize that we need legislation to regulate the opening of voting machines. It may be argued that the previous form of this bill, which required only a five dollar bond or deposit, was inadequate because it would have been below the cost of opening ballot boxes which require, certainly, a similar complement of people to open them.

However, Mr. President, the present form of the bill goes too far in the opposite direction. It now raises the cost of going back over the results of the machines. It would charge fifty dollars per machine. The average—there are voices saying I am wrong. I will be glad to have somebody enlighten me if I am wrong. As I read the bill this morning, it seemed to me to say, "fifty dollars per machine."

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman standing at the Majority Leader's desk.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. The name is Pechan. I will, Mr. President.

While the gentleman is looking for the bill, I would like to say that I know his name, but I do not want to mention it either. Will somebody introduce us?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, having had the advice of counsel on this side, I no longer need to interrogate Senator Pechan, whose name I know very well, the gentleman from Armstrong, because I have now read the bill properly and find that the voices which were shouting at me were correct. Therefore, I approve of the bill and intend to vote for it.

Ehrgood,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

HB 2394—Read at length the third time and agreed to.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I realize that to oppose a bill such as House Bill No. 2394 is treading on rather dangerous ground. I would want to preface my reasons for voting in opposition to this bill by the fact that I heartily approve and have approved of the existing law on Bible reading in the public schools of the Commonwealth.

I think that one of the things which has made America and Pennsylvania great is the role which the Holy Bible has played in the building of this Commonwealth and Nation. However, because of the fact that there is an existing law which requires the reading of ten verses of the Holy Bible each day in the public schools—and this law, of course, is now in controversy—it seems to me that we are on much firmer ground if we do not disturb that law until the final decision is made by the highest court of the land. The chances are I think better than even that when that time comes, we will be in Session and we can then pass the legislation which we deem to be necessary.

In addition to that reason, Mr. President, I fear there will be real problems involved in carrying out the amendment to this bill which reads as follows:

"Any child shall be excused from such Bible reading or attending such Bible reading upon the written request of his parent or guardian . . ."

I submit that men such as our colleagues, Senator Seyler, who has the responsibility for perhaps 600, 700, 800 or 900 pupils, may discover some very difficult problems. For example, one of his home room teachers, with thirty pupils, might come to him and tell him that sixteen of her pupils have excuses and do not wish to hear the Bible read, and fourteen do not have excuses. She could well say to him: "Now, Mr. Principal, what am I supposed to do? Do I go out in the hall with my fourteen pupils and read the Bible to them, or do I send my sixteen pupils out in the hall?" This, I realize, is a hypothetical case. However, if in each home room there are two or three or even one pupil who wishes to be excused, he will have in his halls thirty, forty or fifty pupils. Will he then have to assign a special teacher to those pupils?

It seems to me that until the final decision is made, we are tending to create controversy in a matter on which the law is now clear and on which our present Attorney General has ruled.

I do not mean to be facetious because this is a serious matter. However, isolation booths are in ill repute. It seems to me that this is going to form kind of an isolation booth situation with some of our boys and girls. The sociological implications of this are another matter which, if we had time, we might discuss.

For these reasons, it seems to me that we are in a much better position—those of us who believe in Bible reading in the schools, as I do—if we do not tinker with this law at this time, but wait until such time as the Supreme Court of the United States has ruled finally.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, although the case which the Senator has referred to may be hypothetical, it reflects the type of thinking which I believe is not in the majority in this Senate. I do not believe there is a possibility that sixteen out of thirty pupils in any school in Pennsylvania will be the children of parents who do not want them to hear the Bible read in the public schools.

Mr. President, I think the intent of this bill is obvious. It is intended to make a law which will pass the scrutiny of the Court and which may result in the reversal of the decision which has held that the Bible may not be read in the public schools of Pennsylvania.

This bill, Mr. President, is the result of considerable work and study by not only the attorneys representing the appellant in that particular action, but also it has been gone over very thoroughly by the Attorney General. This afternoon, I received word that the bill is in about as good shape as it can possibly be put so that it will result in a favorable decision by the courts on the subject of Bible reading in our public schools.

Mr. President, I do not need to urge all of my colleagues in the Senate to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I want to join Senator Hays in everything he said. I heartily endorse all that he said. Whether the exception be fourteen out of a room of thirty, or whether it be two or three out of a room of thirty, the problem is just as acute from the standpoint of the teacher's problem with the situation. Furthermore, Mr. President, the status of the situation is that until the court has finally adjudicated it, we are under the decision of the Attorney General of the Commonwealth and we are in the position of enforcing the present law, which says that the Bible shall be read, period. If we pass this amendment, we only change that law by saying that upon the parent's request, the child may be excused.

There are many people in our Commonwealth who are of different faiths or who believe in a different Bible than is commonly used. Up to now, these people, under the law, have gone along because there was no option. Giving the option raises a question of conscience among some people and among a relatively large number of people in many areas, who heretofore have not had that problem raised because there was no option. In many cases, such parents are likely to respond to the option by following the dictates of their conscience regarding their religion.

In other words, this provision in the final part of the bill, which allows this option, raises a question which, to my mind, is likely to be a very divisive one. It is likely to mark off certain peoples and, in young minds, will create a divisiveness and a recognition of significant difference which, it seems to me, will have a bad effect. It seems to me it will raise problems of difference of religion which have never before been raised to any appreciable extent in the Commonwealth. It would fortify the position of people who took the initial action which initiated the appeal to the courts. It will create, in other people's minds, a consciousness of this problem where heretofore it did not exist. The net effect of this bill, in my opinion, is to further create this type of division among pupils.

For that reason, Mr. President, I am constrained to join Senator Hays in opposing this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to belabor this any further, but I do think that one of the things which has been written into our Constitution by our forefathers—and very wisely—was the separateness of the Church and the State. I think that we are somewhat abrogating this right. I know this is a difficult problem, because it is not one about which people can be very objective. It is completely filled with emotion. However, if some of us were to think clearly for just a moment and sort of remove ourselves from being in this stream and stand aside and look at this problem coldly, I think we would find that what we are doing here is forcing people to be delineated or demarcated, which is certainly un-American. I think that we have guaranteed to our citizens the right of worship. That includes also the right of privacy. Nobody has to state whether they are or are not religious, nor state what their religious convictions are. By this means, you are forcing a parent, who may feel strongly in one direction or another, to mark his child. If he does not want to do that, he may be going along in the stream because he does not want to hurt his child, against his belief or against what his better judgment might be. I think this is creating problems where there is no need for any. Unfortunately, in this matter, many of the people in this room who will have to vote may even feel like voting against this bill. However, it is the type of a bill which is difficult to explain. If you must be on the defensive and explain your vote, you are in a bad situation.

Therefore, Mr. President, the easiest course is for us to vote "aye" on this matter and hope somebody else will take up the problem.

This bill, I think, was written and proceeded to the Legislature as a result of a case which arose in Montgomery County; namely, Abington. This is a measure to sort of get around the court decision and the entire problem. I think it is rather evading the issue or begging the question, as it were, because if we have to enforce this type of legislation or put it on the books strongly, when this should stand on its own two feet and have its own force, then I think it is sort of weakening to the entire process.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I want to differ very vigorously with the remarks of the gentleman, the Minority Leader.

I want to recall to the Members of this Senate that this is a Nation under God. The reading of the Bible in the public schools is simply an acknowledgment of that. There is no reason in the world why anybody should be offended by reading the Bible, which is the word of God, in the public schools.

Certainly, we are tolerant and open-minded and we permit everybody to follow his own course of worship or none at all. However, it is also a Nation in which the majority rules. The majority of this Nation, I believe, feel that the Bible should be read and—in many of our colleges it is required—studied in our public schools.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that no one in this room can, with any justification, vote contrary to this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman has sort of put his finger on the problem. Whose God are we talking about? Is it the God in which the Chinese people in our population believe, the Japanese, the Moslems, the Kalmucks and people of this groupings? Is it the Old Testament? Is it the New Testament? It is a hard problem. It is one that has never been answered since time immemorial. People have been fighting over this problem for many, many years, and it has caused many differences of opinion.

Is it the St. James version of the Bible that people will read? There are some people who object to that version of the Bible, and that is the reason why we have so many different groupings, so many different churches and so many different sects, because the people cannot universally agree upon which God, how they will obey this God or who this God shall be.

I think that is one of the keys to the problem. I think it is pretty hard to lay down a majority opinion, because once you leave the Anglo-Saxon nations, you find that there are differences in custom and they may not believe as the majority here believes.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this discussion at all. Certainly, I would be the first to say that there are many passages of the Koran or the writings of Zoroastrianism or anything else which are very moral and very fine. No one could object to listen to them, and they are available reading.

However, the Bible is the word in which the majority of the people in this Country believe. Whether or not it is the New Testament or the Old Testament does not matter. It still is considered to be the Word.

Mr. President, it has long been the custom—at least, when I went to school certainly—to open with the reading of a passage of the Bible and, I presume, in most of our school districts it still is the custom. As far as I know, no one has ever had any rights invaded, or parents have never been particularly offended by having their children listen to those passages.

However, this bill, Mr. President, does permit them to be excused if they have some violent objection to it. If the halls of the public schools are crowded with pupils who are excused from listening to the reading of the Bible, I shall be very, very much surprised.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, it is very easy for me to vote on this bill. I do not know of anyone in Lackawanna County who does not want the Bible read in our schools. I think perhaps we are getting a little too far afield and a little too serious on this discussion.

I think we can sum it all up by saying, as Reverend Ruth just remarked to me, "I wonder if anyone would refuse to take our money whereupon it is written, 'In God we trust'".

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I listened very closely to all of this debate. Frankly, I do believe that we are bringing up monstrosities that really do not exist.

As I understand the statement of the Majority Leader, he said that he received information from the Attorney General that this legislation was in proper form and that he thought it would pass the scrutiny of the Supreme Court.

I do not believe there is anyone here who would not want the Bible read in our schools. I know when I was a child, I heard the Bible read from the time I was in the first grade. We never found any objections.

Hearing the discussion here today reminded me of what my father always said about religions. He said that religions all mean the same thing, only they plan on going by different routes.

I do believe that this is a good piece of legislation because in the event the Supreme Court would rule against us, we would have something with which to work, and I, like the others here today, feel that the word of God is very important to all of us in these trying times and it would be a catastrophe not to have it read in our public schools.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, the circle is probably complete. I said it was a dangerous thing to oppose this, and now I see that I am in the situation of being euchred into the position that if you vote "no" on this bill, you oppose Bible reading in the schools.

I am voting "no" on this bill because I highly endorse Bible reading in the schools, and I think the law should not be tinkered with at this time.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitutions, and were as follows, viz:

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS ON SECOND READING

HB 117 and 203—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

SB 364—The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SHAFER. Mr. President, as a word of explanation to the Senate, the amendments I am about to offer merely bring Senate Bill No. 364 in line with House Bill No. 626, which we unanimously adopted at our last session.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 4, line 8, by striking out "sixty dollars ($60)" and inserting: "seventy dollars ($70)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 4, line 10, by striking out "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500)" and inserting: "two thousand eight hundred eighty dollars ($2880)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 4, line 20 and page 5, line 1, by striking out "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500)" and inserting: "two thousand eight hundred eighty dollars ($2880)"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 2), page 5, lines 2 and 3, by striking out "two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500)" and inserting: "two thousand eight hundred eighty dollars ($2880)."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second, third, fourth and fifth sections and title were read and agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. SHAFER.

HB 432 and 446—Read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 506—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 594, 647, 652, 1161, 1172, 1261 and 1322—Read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1344—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1380—Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I request that HB 1380 go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I ask of the Acting Majority Floor Leader when we might expect some action on this bill.

Mr. PECHAN. I agree, Mr. President, that this bill has been on the Calendar for some time. However, because of its complicated nature, I think that next week—perhaps on Monday—we can dispose of this measure. It is getting a little late and we do not want to get into any debate. Let us put it over until we have a full house.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I assure the gentleman that if he disposes of it favorably, there will be no debate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, that will be a switch.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 1473—Read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1474—Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I request that HB 1474 go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to House Bill No. 1474 going over in its order. I would like to suggest that this bill be referred to the Committee on Rules for the following reasons:

First of all, these are trust funds that are put in the hands of public officers to be handled for the teachers and State employees. This bill would allow these boards or commissions to invest this money in common stock in most corporations which have paid a dividend for eight out of ten years. I do not think that we want to put the people who administer these funds in the same capacity as fiduciaries, because we do not give the same rights to these people as we give to public officers.

Secondly, I think these are rather sacred funds in the sense that people are looking to them in their retirement years, and I do not think they should be invested in any kind of common stock.

For these reasons, I ask that the bill be rereferred to the Committee on Rules for further study, and possibly an amendment can be made to put the bill in working order.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, the reason that this bill is going over is that several of my colleagues have asked that it go over in order so they can study the bill over the week end. Of course, if the bill does not do the things it should do, we will be happy to go along with Senator Weiner's request to rerefer it. However, I again request that the bill go over.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will have to announce that a motion to rerefer certainly takes precedence over a request for a bill to go over in its order. Senator Weiner did not make such a motion, however. What is your desire, Senator Weiner?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if I made such a motion to rerefer, I will defer to Senator Pechan's request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 1830, 1927 and 1971—Without objection, the bills were passed over in their order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1977—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order temporarily at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 2063—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2108—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 2170—The first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth sections were read and agreed to.

The thirteenth section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. KESSLER. Mr. President, the amendment I am about to offer simply reduces this appropriation from $100,000 to $50,000, in accordance with the agreement of the House and Senate Appropriations Committees.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 13, page 24, line 18, by striking out "One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000.00)" and inserting: "fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.00)."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourteenth and fifteenth sections and title were read and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2209—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 2273—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2277—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 2316, 2359 and 2371—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2402—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 2423—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2431—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1977 CALLED UP

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to offer amendments to this bill.

If the board is satisfied that the elector has qualified and the board has utilized the information contained in the [military] nonregistered and emergency absentee voters file and the special absentee registration file to verify his right to vote, the board shall announce the name of the elector and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge in like manner and for the same cause, except the failure of qualified electors set forth in preceding section 1301, subsections (a) to (i) inclusive, to register or enroll as the elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to vote other than by official [military] absentee ballot. If no challenges are sustained, the board shall open the envelope in such manner as not to destroy the [affidavit and jurat printed] declaration executed thereon. and inserting: "authorizing and providing procedures whereby certain qualified registered electors absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places may cast their votes; imposing additional duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, various county boards of elections, and election officers, courts, various registration commissions, chairmen of political parties or committees and officers and employes, certain political subdivisions; further regulating the procedures for the voting of qualified electors serving in the armed forces of the United States including their families or any qualified bedridden or hospitalized veterans by authorizing and providing procedures for the absentee voting by certain Federal personnel, including their families, in the event they are qualified electors; further regulating the dates for furnishing information as to offices to be filled for filing and circulating nomination petitions and nomination papers; and providing penalties."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the amendments I have offered are rather lengthy, but they restore the bill to the form it was in when it was first offered.

This is the absentee voting bill, which has been very badly emasculated by the number of amendments offered to it.

In this bill, as it now stands, even the free airmail privilege which the Federal Government provides for absentee ballots would no longer be available. As originally introduced and passed by the Democratic House of Representatives, the following categories of persons absent from their voting residence on election day would have been eligible to vote by absentee ballot: Members of the Armed Forces and Merchant Marine, their spouses and dependents; civilian Federal employees serving outside the United States, their spouses and dependents accompanying them and members of their households; and members of welfare and religious groups officially attached to and serving with Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents.

The amendments offered here in the Senate struck out all of these categories from the bill and, in substitution, offered two categories of voters. At the same time, the amendments offered here provided such an involved procedure for an individual to qualify as an absentee voter that little or no effect would result from the passage of this bill.

As you probably know, there was a great deal of fervor behind this bill. The League of Women Voters, among others, which is strictly a nonpartisan organization, offered this bill and were interested in seeing that it was passed. Both parties, in their platform pledges, guaranteed that this bill would be passed, but apparently that is not to be if these amendments are kept in the bill.

Also, the category of employees given the privilege of voting by absentee ballot, under the bill in its present form, are those qualified electors who are presently registered, but who are absent from their voting district by reason of business, duties or occupation.

The bills which we passed in the last Session dealt with veterans who were disabled and we permitted them to vote. This bill does not allow this same privilege to those civilians who might find themselves in this same position.

It seems to me that those people who are out of the Country through no fault of their own, but are in the service of their Country, should certainly not be kept from voting. If anything, we should make it easier because the right to vote is an American privilege. I think taking it away from these people is certainly not in the best form or in the best taste in a democracy.

I believe, also, that we should try to make it as broad as possible in keeping with the fraud provisions of the Penal Code to allow people to vote, and I think we should encourage them to vote. As a matter of fact, this campaign has been going on for some time and, even with that, very few people do actually take advantage of it. I think that we should do everything that we possibly can to put people in a position to cast their ballot and make their wish known, rather than make it difficult.

This bill, as emasculated by the amendments, makes it very difficult for the absentee voter to vote, and it completely subrogates the original intent of this bill.

I ask my colleagues to vote for these amendments and, if they are adopted, I ask that the bill be moved up to Third Reading.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I object to the adoption of these amendments. I would suggest to the Minority Leader that we do not insert those amendments today because they are lengthy. I think we should look at them.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would suggest that the bill go over in its order until next Monday. By that time, all of us on this side will have had a chance to look them over. I am sure that the Elections Committee studied this very thoroughly. They made some changes in the original bill and, as I understand it from Senator Weiner, this does amend the bill back to its original form. If he will agree, I would like for this bill to go over in its order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have no objection to this bill going over in its order. I will agree to the amendments being placed on the table, if we will take action on them on Monday. However, I would like to recommend to the gentlemen on the other side, who supported the amendments which completely emasculated the bill, that quite a lengthy article on this very matter appeared in the Sunday Harrisburg Patriot-News, of October 18, 1959, as reported by Mr. John Scotzin, a reporter in this Chamber. I think he pretty well touched upon a good many of the very points which are contained in our amendments and in the remarks that I made. I think the entire picture will be laid before these gentlemen if they will avail themselves of this study.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS LAID ON THE TABLE

SENATE MESSAGE

SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL No. 115 CONGRATULATING THE JOHN CONRAD WEISER FAMILY

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, July 28, 1959.

June 25, 1960, will mark a high spot in the life and times of the John Conrad Weiser Family with the celebration of the 250th Anniversary of the arrival of the John Weiser Family at New York and the 200th Anniversary of the death of Conrad Weiser.

Born on November 2, 1696, in Wurttemberg, Germany, Conrad Weiser emigrated aboard the ship "Lyon" on June 13, 1710, to New York where the family settled at a camp along the Hudson River not far from the present Hyde Park. It is from this colony, sent to extract tar from pine trees for the British Navy, that Conrad Weiser laid the foundation of his multicolored career for when the camp broke up in 1712, Conrad was invited by a friendly Indian chief to spend the winter with him. Thus began his role as Indian ambassador and interpreter.

In 1729 Conrad Weiser moved to Pennsylvania where he built a one-room stone house at the foot of Eagle Peak in the Tulpehocken Valley. It was at this modest home that he entertained his friends, among whom were some of Europe's most distinguished citizens, nearby colonists and hundreds of native Indians, and it was from this now famous spot that he built his famous reputation as farmer, businessman, financier, church and school organizer, and outstanding religious layman. Here too he served for nineteen years as a judge of which eight were spent as the first President Judge of Berks County. Although a pacifist he volunteered as a soldier during the Indian Wars but from 1731 until his death formed the link between Pennsylvania's Indians and the government. It was this cornerstone of friendship and understanding that helped maintain the friendship of the Six Nations and helped turn the tide from French to English dominance on the North American continent; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Senate commemorate the activities of a great fellow citizen, Conrad Weiser, and congratulate the John Conrad Weiser Family for continuing the ideals which he upheld; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the John Conrad Weiser Family Association, Box 121, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, for presentment at the observance of the twin-anniversaries of the family on June 25, 1960 at Weiser Park, Womelsdorf, Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

Mr. WORLEY. Because of many of the descendants of this man living in my legislative district, I urge the adoption of this resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the resolution?

It was concurred in.

CHAMPION NEEDLER

The SPEAKER. The Chair has received an unusual and somewhat mystifying request. The Chair has been asked to recognize the gentleman from Wayne, Mr. Needle or the gentleman from Needle, Mr. Wayne. The Chair would like very much for the gentleman from Dauphin to explain why the Chair has been asked to recognize Mr. Needle from Wayne.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, it so happens that we have with us a very distinguished character from the northern tier, or the northeastern part of our state, who at a luncheon party today was declared the champion "Needler" of the House of Representatives during this past Session.

You had it a little confused, but I still think you were right. I do not know whether it is the "Needle" from Wayne or the Wayne from Needle, but I would like to introduce to the House the champion "Needler," and he has a gold needle to show us. The Honorable Arthur Wall from Wayne County.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the "Needler" from Wayne.

Mr. WALL. Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, I did not know who the gentleman from Dauphin was talking about when he said Mr. "Needler," but I happened to be at a luncheon this noon and had a plaque presented to me. On the top of it is a nice, bronze needle. I do not know why they presented it to me, on the plaque it says, "Presented to Honorable Arthur J. Wall, the Champion Needler of the 1959 Pennsylvania Legislative Session."

If this was meant for me, I trust it was meant as a compliment, I accept it. Thank you.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

INTERROGATION

Mr. McCANN asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Minority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the Minority Leader inform the Members of this House as to the information he has regarding the operation of the Senate for this week?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I will.

Mr. Speaker, I just talked to the Majority Leader of the Senate. He informs me that tomorrow will be the last day of the week for the Senate. They will come in early tomorrow and have a very short session. They plan to reconvene next Monday.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, then the Senate will operate tomorrow, Wednesday, and recess for the week, coming back on Monday, December 7, is that right?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is correct.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman very kindly.

Since the Senate will be sending over to the House a resolution, this House will operate only tomorrow.

Since we are right up with the Senate day by day as the bills come over from the Senate, we are in a position to concur or nonconcur. We have all of our work completed, and this House will operate right with the Senate schedule, day by day.

Under those conditions, since I have sent a notice to all of the Democratic Members of this House to plan to be here, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, they may plan now, according to the information the Minority Leader gave us, to go home tomorrow, Wednesday, following the end of the Session.

I ask now that all of the Members, some of whom were planning to go home tonight, stay over because we will move everything on the calendar one way or another. Whether it passes or fails it is moving right off the calendar.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, before we proceed further on this calendar I would like to call a caucus of the Republican Members, not to exceed one-half hour.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Democratic Members will not caucus. We will ask that they just take a little bit of ease while the Republican Members caucus covering the calendar. We will act on all the bills on the calendar here today and they will be voted on. So as soon as they return, we will proceed.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SCHAFF asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, in this afternoon's Evening News there is a rather complete report of the crash of the Allegheny Airline's Flight 372, I believe, on the site of Bald Eagle Mountain outside of Williamsport. This was a flight which left Harrisburg this morning and which was due to arrive in my home city of Erie some time after 11:00 o'clock this morning. From the reports that are available it appears that of the 25 people aboard this plane all with the exception of one were killed.

This crash concerns a Member of this House, incidentally, my good friend and colleague from Erie County, Stanley Blair, whose cousin was aboard this plane. Stanley at the present time is on his way home, as I understand it, to at least assist in the making of arrangements for her burial.

I believe that I myself, and certainly I would take the liberty of speaking for the Membership of this House, sympathize with each and every member of the families of these people, sympathize with the loved ones of these people and offer condolences for their loss. I sympathize also, and I hope the House will join me in this, because it is sort of a back-handed commendation, but I do sympathize with Allegheny Airlines.

A short time ago I made a speech in this House concerning the lack of communication that the city of Erie has with the rest of the state. Allegheny Airlines was our main link, or at least my main link. As a matter of fact, I left Erie shortly after 9:00 o'clock this morning and came down on an Allegheny Airlines' flight going the other way. They have offered to the people of our city, good, courteous and efficient service. According to this paper's report, this is their first accident in 22 years. So, while I sympathize with them, at the same time I commend Allegheny Airlines and I think this is the type of tragedy which we many times read about but sometimes it is a little bit far from us and we do not really appreciate it.

One last thing. I see, according to the newspaper, that one of the persons killed, or believed to have been killed, was the flight steward. If he is the young man who I think he is, then I can only say that in almost a year that I have been coming down here, in the many times he has served the flights on which I have flown, he was a good, conscientious and faithful servant.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE
ON HOUSE BILL No. 1099

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1099.

The report of the Committee of Conference was read as follows:

To the Members of the Senate and House of Representatives:

We, the undersigned, Committee of Conference on the part of the Senate and House of Representatives for the purpose of considering House Bill No. 1099, entitled: An act amending the act of May 22, 1951 (P. L. 317) entitled, "An act relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the annual renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws" providing for biennial registration.

Respectfully submit the following bill as our report:

RAYMOND P. SHAFER
DOUGLAS H. ELLIOTT
JO HAYS
(Committee on the part of the Senate.)

J. DEAN POLEN
ARTHUR J. WALL
(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives.)

An Act amending the act of May 22, (P. L. 317) entitled "An act relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the annual renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws" providing for biennial registration and changing fees

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and section 11 act of May 22, 1951 (P. L. 317) known as "The Professional Nursing Law" are amended to read

An Act.

Relating to the practice of professional nursing providing for the licensing of nurses and for the revocation and suspension of such licenses subject to appeal and for their reinstatement providing for the [annual] renewal of such licenses regulating nursing in general prescribing penalties and repealing certain laws

Section 11 Each person upon being licensed by the Board as a licensed registered nurse under the provisions of this act shall without additional fee therefor be given a card to evidence such license which shall be valid during the current renewal [year] biennium Licenses issued pursuant to this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of October of each [year] biennium or on such other [annual] biennial expiration date as the Board may fix Application for renewal of a license shall [annually] biennially be forwarded to each active registrant prior to the expiration date of the current renewal [year] biennium The application form shall be completed and returned to the Board accompanied by the required fee of [one dollar ($1)] for dollars ($4) upon approval of each application the applicant shall receive a renewal of license

The form and method of licensure and renewal shall be provided for by the Board in such manner as will enable it to carry into effect the purposes of this act The Board shall maintain a record of all licenses issued under this act and of all renewals as herein provided

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Conference Committee report on House Bill 1099 was the report that was defeated on Friday, November 20, dealing with the professional nursing law. This is the Conference Committee Report which changed the fee from $1 to $2 a year, $4 a biennium.

It was Friday a week ago that this was defeated. Since that time we have had a conference with the Nurses Association.

The main objection to the bill dealt with the allocation of funds to operate the State Board of Nursing. We have worked out a compromise with the state organization of nurses in which they have in their possession, in writing, the amount of additional money that will go to the State Board of Nursing, which they have requested.

With this letter in its possession I am authorized to state that the State Board of Nurses is supporting this Conference Committee Report, and asks that you vote in the affirmative for its adoption.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would confirm what the Majority Leader has said.

I met a representative from the Nurses Association in the lobby earlier this afternoon and it was reported to me that they have withdrawn their objection to House Bill 1099 Conference Committee Report, and requested that we vote for the bill in view of the agreement they have made.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

L. 58) entitled "An act consolidating and revising the Vehicle Code the Tractor Code the Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act and other acts relating to the ownership possession and use of vehicles and tractors" authorizing the erection of "yield right-of-way" signs describing the duties of operators thereat prohibiting the designation of 4 way stop and other multi-way stop intersections and providing a penalty for the violation thereof.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Any such designation shall be void for all purposes"; page 3, line 14, by striking out at the beginning of the line the letter "(f)" and inserting in lieu thereof the letter "(e)"; line 19, by striking out after the word highways the words "which are not throughways"; page 4, by inserting after line 7 the following: "with the warrants established by the secretary of highways before local"

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, the amendments inserted by the Senate in this bill strike out the use of the word "stop" and insert the word "hesitate" on "Yield Right of Way" signs. They also strike out the entire provisions with reference to the elimination of four-way stop signs.

There are a great number on this side of the House who are against this bill. I am merely calling their attention to it in case they want to vote for non-concurrence on these amendments.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, could I get myself clear on a parliamentary move? When I make a motion to concur in the amendments, if I fail to gather 106 votes, then the motion is not agreed to and it is nonconcurrence, right?

The SPEAKER. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. The vote now in the House is 87 to 83, which means we will not concur if the Republican Party is opposing concurrence. With that in mind, and saving time since I will lose this motion, I move that the House nonconcur, and let it go to a Conference Committee.

The SPEAKER. The Majority Leader withdraws his motion to concur, and substitutes a motion that the House nonconcur in Senate amendments to House Bill 1675.

Does the Minority Leader desire to be recognized on this motion?

Mr. TOMPKINS. We agree with that motion.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 1915, Printer's No. 1969, was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 2173, Printer's No. 1970, together with communication from the Senate be taken from the table.

Mr. A. D. WILLIAMS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, as we started today's session we were mindful that over the weekend there were, of course, stories in the paper quoting certain Senators who said there were as high as 21 Conference Committee reports pending in the House.

I want to correct this situation by saying that he meant that is so in the Senate, for the Conference Committee reports pending in the House are on three House Bills on which each of the members of the Conference Committee have received numerous memoranda, and I have asked them to please try to finish their reports this week.

House Bill No. 141, Printer's No. 1303, there are Mr. Fineman, Mr. Yatron and Mrs. Henzel; on House Bill No. 762, Printer's No. 1647, Mr. Kornick, Mr. Yetter, Mr. Horst; on House Bill No. 2268, Printer's No. 1729, Mr. Musto, Mr. Meholchick and Mr. Jump; on Senate Bill No. 112, Printer's No. 1029, Mr. Schaaf, Mr. Prendergast, Mr. T. H. W. Jones; on Senate Bill No. 810, Printer's No. 1547, Mr. Devlin, Mr. Schaaf and Mr. Seltzer. Of those, on Senate Bill No. 810, the Conference Committee Report is being prepared and made ready.

In the memoranda that I have sent to each of these members I have asked that they please try to complete their Conference Committee work this week since they have been of long duration in the Conference Committee; some of them have been there since early in September.

The number of bills in the House in Conference Committee, I repeat, all total at this point are four, not twenty-five.

Another thing I would like to say, Mr. Speaker, is that tomorrow, Wednesday, this House will convene at the same time as the Senate, 11:00 a.m. We will have on the calendar the Conference Committee report to concur in the Senate amendments on the Unemployment Compensation Law.

We have the Workmen's Compensation Act which we want to concur in tomorrow, as well as on the Unemployment Compensation. We want to make arrangements for both these bills to be signed by the Speaker of the House and the President pro tempore of the Senate and to be sent to the Governor for approval.

I hope that we can complete this and I am going to ask that tomorrow we work as fast as we possibly can, complete the necessary messages, and I am confident that we will get out of here in good shape. Our calendar will boil itself down to practically nothing, and by Thursday our calendar would be bare except for Senate concurrences.

I hope that the House will bear with us each day. I understand that the Senate has agreed that we will return to these Halls on Monday of the following week. Whatever days they will be here, if they are here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, this House will be in session those days. I still believe that we can finish all this work and could finish it very easily.

There are still three major pieces of legislation that we are waiting for, the General State Authority bill, the State Public School Building Authority increase, and the Highway Program, because signals are being changed every few hours. Last week we had an agreement on Senate Bill No. 24 to agree to the amendments. Something happened and they are withdrawing from those amendments because, maybe—I said maybe—the gasoline tax is going to move again. Well, those who said it will go over their dead body may have a chance to die.

Either way we are here to meet with the Senate, hour by hour, and complete all the work. I thank the Members of the House and I hope they will all be with us here tomorrow. We will get out of here as soon as we can.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. MAXWELL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Members of the House, on Sunday, November 29, it was my privilege to attend a very impressive ceremony held in the city of Monessen. It was the dedication of the new civic library.

This dedication was the culmination of years of hard work, planning and effort on the part of Harry R. Pore, Jr., the editor of the Monessen Daily Independent, along with his committee and the rest of the public-minded citizens of Monessen.

Hugo J. Parente, the mayor of Monessen, and his city officials played a very important part in the establishment of this library, inasmuch as they gave their wholehearted support and effort to this program.

I would like to read very briefly from the Monessen Daily Independent newspaper:

Monessen's new $275,000 Public Library opened for daily "business" today following an impressive dedication program yesterday afternoon.

Gov. David L. Lawrence, principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies, formally opened the building by cutting a ribbon stretched across the main entrance.

"The dedication of this vital new building is a dramatic illustration that Monessen citizens understand the breadth and importance of good library facilities; the governor said.

Speaking from a fern-bedecked stage in the Manos Theatre next door to the Library, the Governor said the "achievement here in Monessen, therefore, should become an example for all our other communities where better library service is so badly needed."

Stating he has been interested in the development of libraries for years, Governor Lawrence charged that "political considerations" by Republican senators have apparently junked his program for development and expansion of the public library system in the state.

He pointed out to the nearly 500 persons present that the program cleared the Democratic-controlled House by a wide margin, but has been bottled up in the GOP-dominated Senate State Government Committee.

"Opposition by the majority leadership of the Senate appears to have ended all hope for library legislation at this time," Lawrence said. "I cannot tell you how sorry I am that Senate Republicans have seen fit to inject political considerations into the library development program.

"There is nothing partisan about libraries," the Governor continued. "The basic education system we need in all our communities is something which affects Republicans and Democrats alike."

He then went on to praise the building of the new library in Monessen, stating it is a "living testament to the citizens' demands for service" and "stands as a fine example of what can be accomplished through enlightened interest.

"I pray we may find the same understanding in other Pennsylvania communities," he continued.

"The job which remains to be done is largely one of educating the public—the kind of job Monessen did," Gov. Lawrence emphasized. "Many Pennsylvania communities can gain from a study of Monessen's achievement."

The rest I wish to file for the record, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman asks leave to print the remainder of the article.

The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. MAXWELL offered the following for inclusion in the Legislative Journal.

Learn Through Example

"As children or adults, we learn best through example. Monessen has given all of us a precedent to follow," he said.

The governor also praised the people of Monessen for that "resounding 'yes' vote they gave when the $200,000 bond issue to finance the construction of the Library was put up for election in 1957."

Harry R. Pore Jr., president of the Board of Library Directors, was in charge of the program in the theatre.

Prior to the governor's speech, Charles C. Throop, president of the Monessen Civic Library Assn., made a short address in which he expressed appreciation on behalf of the Association for the "splendid cooperation of the city administration in helping us to obtain this fine, new building we are dedicating today."

Throop then introduced Robert A. Haurly, general contractor, who turned the keys to the new building over to J. Russell Bailey, architect. The latter, in turn, after a short talk, turned the keys over to Mayor Parente.

"This is a proud moment for Monessen," the Mayor stated. "It was a combined effort . . . every facet was united. This type of cooperation speaks well for the future of Monessen."

"I am very happy that myself and the city administration had a hand in it," the Mayor said before turning the keys over to Pore.

In thanking the Mayor, Pore said the Board of Library Directors "accepts official custody of the new Library building with a deep sense of responsibility.

"We are all most grateful to you and your colleagues on City Council for the opportunity to serve the community in this important way," Pore continued.

He said that "from the very moment it was proposed that the city government should undertake to provide library service in Monessen, we have had the fullest cooperation at the City Hall.

Pore then went on to "express my gratitude and that of the other directors for the skill and devotion which have gone into the construction of this building. From the architect and general contractor down to the last craftsman there has been the feeling that we were not building here just an ordinary structure."

Vivian L. Drake, librarian, spoke briefly and commented "on the vision and foresight" shown by officials of the Library "in building this fine Library."

Ribbon-cutting

Following the theatre program, during which the invocation and benediction were given by Rabbi Theodore Stampfer, Kneseth Israel Synagogue, the program shifted to outside the front of the new building.

There Gov. Lawrence, Mayor Parente and Pore took part in ribbon-cutting ceremonies to officially open the building to the public.

Girl Scouts from Troop 46 guided nearly 500 persons on a tour of the new facilities.

Later the Board of Library Directors was host at a reception at Johnson's Restaurant.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1915, Printer's No. 1969, together with communications from the Senate be taken from the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1915.

An Act amending the act of May 11, 1949 (P. L. 1106) entitled "An act requiring the county commissioners to provide at the expense of the county telephone service typewriters stenographers office space materials and other equipment for the use of the county superintendent of schools" providing for the payment of the expenses of the county superintendent of schools.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments. The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 11, by striking out after the word "disbursement" the word "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "upon request of the county board of school directors the."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, we want to put into the record a question of legislative intent in connection with this bill.

There has been some question raised in connection with what the punctuation should be in this bill. Of course, we all know that no bills are punctuated as they pass the General Assembly. The punctuation is done by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

In order that the purposes and the intent of the bill are carried out, we want to put on the record the legislative intent, that on page 2 there be no period after the word "disbursement" in line 11, but that the period be inserted after the word "directors" on line 12.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. That is the legislative intent and I asked the gentleman to make the remark since we had basically agreed we want that inserted in the record.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2093, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of members of certain boards and commissions and repealing inconsistent acts.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which this bill passed third reading be reconsidered.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, by inserting between line 1 and 2:

"To the Chairman of the Milk Control Commission$14,000
To the members of the Milk Control Commission other than the Chairman each$13,000"

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Mr. McCANN asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 1, page 3, by inserting between lines 4 and 5:

"To the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board$20,000
To the members of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board other than the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board each..$18,000"

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I am sorry that this mike is located over here so far that we cannot be seen down here in this corner.

I wanted to ask for some information on these amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield to the Majority Leader or does he wish to interrogate?

Mr. TOMPKINS. I do not wish to interrogate. All I wanted to ask was for an explanation of the amendments.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, on House Bill 2093 the bill had been amended previously in which the Liquor Control Board, the Chairman and the members, and the Milk Commission, the Chairman and the members, were removed from the bill. These amendments restore them to the bill, which means when House Bill 2093 is reprinted it will have both of these boards in the bill, same figures, no changes.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, when I asked if that was all that was in the amendments, the gentleman said, yes, and he only read, the Milk Control Board.

Is it a separate amendment that you are putting in to put the Liquor Board back in? A separate amendment?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, they were separate amendments. They covered the Liquor Board and Milk Commission.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman, the amendment acted upon was for Milk Control Commission and only one set was read and only one set adopted as far as the Chair is concerned.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

A division was called for, sixty-eight Members having voted in the affirmative and eighty in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection,

House Bill No. 2295, Printer's No. 2004 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2458, entitled:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JIM. Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I am opposed to this type of legislation where we give a certain class of people the opportunity to fish without a license. We are having plenty of trouble here in the state of Pennsylvania for those who buy a license; it seems they do not catch enough fish. Therefore I am going to vote against this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 109

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, September 10, 1959.

Whereas The inflationary trend of the last few decades has worked considerable hardships on all recipients of fixed dollar incomes and

Whereas This trend appears likely to extend into the future and

Whereas The General Assembly has provided for increases in the retirement allowances of annuitants and

Whereas Many bills proposing such increases have been introduced at recent sessions of the General Assembly therefore be it

Resolved That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a comprehensive study of inflation upon retired State and public school employees of various methods of providing for cost of living adjustments in retirement allowances and of alternative methods of financing such adjustments and to report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 132

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 16, 1959.

The recent amendment to Article II Section 4 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which provides for annual sessions of the General Assembly and which restricts regular sessions convening in even-numbered years to laws raising revenue and laws making appropriations has given rise to several important constitutional and procedural questions.

In order to avoid confusion and insure an orderly legislative process it is imperative that the General Assembly be advised as to the proper interpretation of our Constitution in the light of this new amendment. Without advance study and a complete understanding between the two Houses of the General Assembly it is likely that views on what limitations exist upon the nature of bills which may or may not be introduced will differ greatly. Divergent views also exist on this and related questions between individual members in each House therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who are well versed on questions of constitutional law and legislative procedure two of whom shall be Democrats and one a Republican and that the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate who are also well versed on questions of constitutional law and legislative procedure two of whom shall be Republicans and one a Democrat who together shall constitute a joint committee to make a thorough study of the recent amendment to Article II Section 4 of the Pennsylvania Constitution and related constitutional provisions and to define operating ground rules for the 1960 annual session and the "fiscal sessions occurring in even-numbered years thereafter; and be it further

Resolved That the committee make a report of its findings together with its recommendation for appropriate rules at the beginning of the 1960 Session of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the Resolution?

Mr. A. W. Johnson offered the following amendments:

Amend first resolution, page 2, line 11 by striking out "operating ground rules" and inserting; "the types of legislation to be considered and limitations thereon."

Amend second resolution, page 2, line 15 by striking out "for appropriate rules."

They were agreed to.

The Resolution was agreed to as amended.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. ROBERT A. MacASKILL, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, Gettysburg, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

Almighty and ever living God, humbly we beseech Thy favor and blessing upon the Senate of Pennsylvania, here assembled. Grant unto them sound minds and wise counsel, that they may deliberate with good judgment, fairness and justices. May they be ever aware of the responsibilities entrusted unto them as stewards of the things belonging to Thy Kingdom, and worthy successors of those who upheld truth and justice in this responsible capacity.

Direct and govern them with Thy Holy Spirit, preserving them from hasty judgment in vain dispute and selfish gain, and inspiring them with hearty love and true devotion. May they be empowered to devise and do those things which will be for the building of Thy building of Thy Kingdom, for the peace and purity of our people, for the welfare of our State and Nation, and for the good of the world.

Therefore, bless their deliberations and their labors, that they may be in accord with Thy will and receive Thy approbation.

All these things we ask in Jesus' Name, Amen.

ADVISING OF CORRECT PRINTER'S NUMBER

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to advise the Senate that the correct printer's number on House Bill No. 1108, which is the next bill appearing on the Calendar, is 2072 and not 2067.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

HB 1108—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. SEYLER.

SB 1215—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

SB 1256—Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request that SB 1256, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I object to these bills going over in their order. They are Senate Bills and we are trying to wind up this Calendar. I think if we move them up, we will still have plenty of time, until tomorrow, to study them.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I appreciate the gentleman's sentiment. I hope he will apply the same sentiment to the remainder of the Calendar, where there appear bills which have been on the Calendar, also, for quite a number of weeks.

This is rather an important matter, Mr. President. Both Senate Bill No. 1256 and Senate Bill No. 1257 relate to Philadelphia and to Pittsburgh. I think the Senator should extend the same courtesy to the gentlemen who come from those districts to, at least, have the opportunity to discuss this matter with some of the people in their own areas, in order to get the sentiment of opinion. There are some people in our district who feel very strongly for these bills and there are others who feel very strongly against them. I think this matter is not that earth shaking. We are changing the procedure whereby these members who have been appointed all along are now going to be elected. I think we should, at least, have the opportunity to have that sentiment.

If this affects Senator Ehrgood's District, or in any way affects him, I cannot understand it. However, if it does, if he will explain it to me and I find a need for haste, I will be very happy to proceed on that basis.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, with such prevailing thoughts, I will withdraw my objection. However, I do hope that we can get through with these bills. We are drawing to the end of this Session, and, after all, they were introduced a few weeks ago. I know that all of Philadelphia would probably be in favor of it because they want the vote of the electorate to decide things.

Mr. WEINER. If the gentleman persists, Mr. President, I will ask that there be a roll call to pass this bill on second reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman has acceded to your request, Senator, that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. WEINER. I am sorry, Mr. President. I want to thank the gentleman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

SB 1257—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

SB 1262, 1264, 1265, HB 1344 and 1355—Read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1380—Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I request that HB 1380, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I object to this bill going over in its order. I wish the gentleman from Lebanon would also make his voice heard at this point.

This bill has been on the Senate Calendar since September 30. It was amended, on Second Reading, on October 14 and was referred to the Committee on Education on June 22. Last week, after I asked the gentleman—I believe it was Senator Pechan who was handling the desk at that time—what action would be taken, he told me that it would be handled this week. I believe if Senator Ehrgood, who is anxious to clean up the bills on this Calendar and bring this Session to an end, would add his voice to mine, I think he could use some influence over there to move this particular piece of legislation.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, there is an old saying, "What is good for the goose is good for the gander." I gave the gentleman a little Senatorial courtesy and I am sure that he will give this side, if Senator Pechan wants the bill to go over in order, the same courtesy.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the equities are not the same here. Senate Bill No. 1256 and Senate Bill No. 1257 were merely reported from committee last week. House Bill No. 1380 has been on our Calendar since some time in September.

If I remember correctly what Senator Pechan told me, he said that action would be taken on this bill some time on Monday. If he did not mean Monday and I made a mistake on what he said, I wish he would correct me.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Objection has been raised to this bill going over in its order.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I now move that HB 1380 go over in its order.

Mr. ELLIOTT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the bill was passed over in its order.

HB 1474—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I realize that it is out of order to discuss bills after they have passed Second Reading. However, I think this is a rather far-reaching measure. I would suggest to the Members of this Body that, before they vote on this measure, they look at it very carefully and perhaps get some advice between now and the next Session of the Senate.

What is being done here is that you are allowing funds, which people look toward to retire upon, to be invested in corporation common stock. The only criterion for investing in those corporate stocks is that those corporations, out of a ten year period, must have an eight year period wherein they paid a dividend or some interest on the stock.

The question I raise here is: Suppose we invest in the eighth and ninth year, or the eighth and the tenth year. What happens then to the people who are looking forward to this fund? I do not think the people who drew this bill intended this to take place.

Therefore, Mr. President, I respectfully ask that the Members of the Senate look at this measure rather carefully before voting upon it. I think it just goes further than we want to go.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BERGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I agree with the Minority Leader that discussion of bill on Second Reading is more or less futile. However, I want to assure him that we will take a good look at it. I would not be surprised if some of the Members on this side might concur in the thinking of the Minority Leader.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

HB 1830 and 1927—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1971—The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. WAGNER, on behalf of Mr. FLEMING, offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 406), page 5, line 9, by striking out "primary immediately preceding the".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am going to object to this amendment, and I do reluctantly with the idea that the gentleman in the Chair is the sponsor of this amendment. My reasons for objecting to this amendment are as follows:

First of all, this would immediately, I believe, kill the bill. I think the Governor has announced, as a policy, that he would not sign this bill if it came to him in such form as providing that this matter be acted upon in the General Election.

Secondly, I do not believe you should confuse an issue as important as this. The only two cities involved are the city of Pittsburgh and the city of Philadelphia. Any other city may be included in this bill by amendment if it is desired. One of the primary concerns of both of these cities, at the moment, is the loss of revenue to not only the cities themselves, but also to the State. People who cannot use the facilities which are available there, find themselves going out of the city. In the city of Philadelphia, they go across the Delaware River Bridge into New Jersey, and from Pittsburgh into Ohio. We have lost many conventions in the city of Philadelphia, and I am sure the same is true of Pittsburgh.

I noticed a beautiful new hotel the last time I was in Pittsburgh. Without giving a commercial to the Hilton Hotel, I think it is just about the last word in hostelry in this Country.

It comes in ill-grace to try to destroy this measure by this means, if what we want to do is allow the people to vote on this measure to decide whether they want it or not. I think we should give them that opportunity. It is not good to try to confuse it with voting for candidates or voting for a party in the General Election. Politically, it may have some merit. I do not know anything about that. I would say, generally, if the issue is clear-cut, a primary Election is the time for such a decision.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair at this time would like to turn the gavel over to Senator Scott, and ask for the floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the Minority Leader offered arguments that could be arguments in favor of this bill, just as there can be arguments against the bill on final reading. However, the amendment merely calls for a change in the referendum from the Primary Election day to the General Election day.

I feel that on a measure such as this, if it is to be presented to the voters, the greatest number possible of those voters should decide whether or not this should be agreed to. Certainly—and while I do not approve of it—the fact remains that so few of the people vote at a Primary Election that a real cross section of the feeling of the people could not be received or would not be felt at a Primary Election. Certainly an issue such as this that affects the morals of the two cities involved, and eventually would affect all of the Commonwealth, I fear, should be decided at an election in which the greatest number of people vote.

Therefore, I would urge my colleagues to support this amendment.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the next General Election will be in 1960 when the people of the United States generally, and the people of Pennsylvania, will be asked to vote for candidates for the Presidency of the United States. To have an issue of this kind come up in an election when the President is to be elected is dooming it to perdition, because who is going to pull the little levers on the machine?

Now we see that amendments to the Constitution are neglected, let alone a measure of this kind. For this reason, this amendment vitiates the bill completely. The moment this amendment is adopted, there is no point in having the bill.

For this reason, Mr. President, I feel that if this amendment is adopted, there is no use even to vote for the bill. It is useless, because the people of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will pay very little attention to a referendum when they have to vote for something as important as the President of the United States. The only time to decide upon this issue is at a Primary Election.

Mr. KROPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, just so they pull the lever for Kopriver, it is O.K. by me.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the gentleman's fears are ill-founded. I believe that both sides, those who advocate this measure and those who are against it, would certainly create enough of a storm in both cities to insure that an adequate number of voters would come out. There would be a lot of advertising, and I am sure there would be a lot of committees formed, both pro and con, on this matter.

Both political parties have taken positions on this matter—or so their platforms indicate—and I believe that this would also tend to bring out the voters. If you will look at the results of the last Primary Election in the city of Philadelphia, you will find that quite a large number of people turned out.

I do not feel that mixing this in with the Primary Election, where the issues are should Party X or Party Y predominate or should Candidate X or Candidate Y predominate, would cause confusion. However, by placing this referendum on the ballot in a General Election, you are forcing your candidate to take a position on this problem. The moment he does so, it is no longer the candidate or the party for which the people are voting. It is the issue that they are voting for or against. I think this is not a healthy way to test out this vital issue.

I would ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this amendment.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I believe this is one time when voting by a voice vote is not proper, because I am sure there are many Members among the Republican Majority who would like to be heard, and they are lost in the shuffle of a voice vote.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Stiefel, there was definitely a predominance of "ayes," as far as the Chair was concerned.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1977, 2018, 2019 and 2108—Read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2209—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

HB 2277—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1108 CALLED UP

HB 1108—Without objection, the bill, which previously went over in its order, was called up, from page 12 of the Second Reading Calendar, by Mr. BERGER.

HB 1108—The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1108 appears on the Calendar, as has already been noted, under Printer's No. 2067, which, as I understand it—and I ask the Chair whether I am correct—was the printer's number on the bill as it was reported from committee, as amended. Is that correct, Mr. President?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. My information is that the latest printer's number on House Bill No. 1108, as it was reported from committee, is Printer's No. 2072.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, when did the Printer's No. 2067 appear on the bill for the first time?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the information of the Members of the Senate, the Chair has been informed that at the time of the printing of House Bill No. 1108, as it had been reported from committee, with amendments, there were a number of errors in the printing. The printing was then recalled and a new printer's number had been given to House Bill No. 1108 in its correct form. The new printer's number is Printer's No. 2072.

Mr. SEYLER. As I understand it then, Mr. President, the bill was reported from committee, with amendments, with Printer's No. 2067. Changes were necessary, as I understand the Chair, for correctional purposes, and some other amendments were added to the bill, thereby correcting the errors. Is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is not correct.

As I understand the situation, at the time when the bill went into print, when it was reported from committee with amendments, it was assigned a printer's number. That printer's number was 2067. A number of copies were printed and then it was discovered there were errors in the printing of the bill. All of those copies were recalled and the corrected bill was printed, and it was given a new printer's number which was 2072.

Mr. SEYLER. By a vote of what committee, Mr. President, was Printer's No. 2072 authorized? Was that just done by the Chair?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The information which I have, Senator Seyler, is that it was done by the Secretary of the Senate's Office.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, it is my understanding that amendments can only be made by the vote of either a committee or by this Body, the Senate. I do not know of any rule or precedent which authorizes the Secretary of the Senate to place amendments in a bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, no amendments were placed in the bill other than those which were contained in the bill when it came from committee.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. What committee was that?

Mr. BERGER. From the Rules Committee.

The original bill, as amended, now bears the printer's number of 2072.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, in all of my experiences here, when correctional amendments or any kind of amendments—have been placed in a bill, it has been done either by a vote of the committee which had custody of the bill, or it has been done by a vote of this Body. All

I am asking is, by a vote of whom? By a vote of what authorized body were the corrections made which now appear in House Bill No. 1108, Printer's No. 2072?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. As I understand the situation, when House Bill No. 1108 was reported from the Rules Committee, it was reported with certain amendments. When the printing was done, the error was made in the printing. The amendments were not correctly inserted in House Bill No. 1108. When the printing error was discovered, the bill was then recalled and the correct amendments, deleting the printer's errors, were placed in the bill. Then a new printer's number was given to the bill, which was Printer's No. 2072. There were no new amendments placed in the bill over and above those which were voted upon by the Rules Committee.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I accept the statement of the Chair. I question the procedure, but this is merely my opinion. I am not going to take any action on it. I question the procedure which was used. However, I would like to bring this point to the attention of the Senate.

Senator Hays and I had amendments drawn to House Bill No. 1108, with Printer's No. 2067. In good faith, we had amendments drawn. Today, we discovered that Printer's No. 2072 was the correct printer's number. We conferred with a representative, in this Chamber, of the Legislative Reference Bureau. He has informed us that it will be necessary, in order to make our amendments fit the present form of the bill, to have them completely withdrawn. The amendments are extensive in nature and they are lengthy. He informed us that it will be physically impossible for that efficient agency, straining to the utmost, to have these amendments present at today's Session.

Therefore, Mr. President, in order that we could present amendments which we had intended to present, and which we had drawn and ready to offer to House Bill No. 1108, as it appeared under Printer's No. 2067, we asked for an extension of time. That was the reason for my asking that bill go over in its order, so that we could have prepared amendments which would fit the bill in its present form.

Mr. President, I again request that the bill go over in order so that we may have time to prepare amendments because, through no fault of our own,—and certainly with what was rather questionable procedure in my opinion—the amendments we had planned to present do not fit the present form of the bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Senator Seyler.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I merely wish to inquire of the Senator whether he has ever been refused consent to offer amendments on Third Reading.

Mr. SEYLER. I have not, Mr. President. However, the rules state that one single Member objecting, whether it be on this side or the Majority side, is sufficient to prevent me from so doing. I would prefer, since the incident occurred as I recounted before, that we be given the day in order for us to get the amendments, personally look over the amendments and be prepared to offer them tomorrow. I would prefer to do this on Second Reading.

I realize, when the gentleman tells me there will be no objection from his side, that he speaks in good faith. I have not canvassed my own side. I do not know what the sentiment might be on my amendments on this side of the aisle.

Therefore, Mr. President, I still would request that the bill go over in order.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I object to the bill going over in its order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would suggest to the Chair that the procedure by which Senate Bill No. 1108 advanced from Printer's No. 2067 to Printer's No. 2072 was not according to the rules of this Senate. I ask the Chair to rule on my point of order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I respectfully suggest for the Chair's consideration, before he makes a ruling on the point of order, one other factor which I think should be considered here.

I think the gentlemen in this Body, or any legislative body, must go by the Calendars as presented to them. The basis of that Calendar is not only the number assigned to the bill, but also the printer's number, which is the basis upon which we read these bills. None of the Members of this Senate, following the Calendar, would know that this had a different number other than Printer's No. 2067, unless they picked up the package of bills here today and found Printer's No. 2072 within it.

If you will look at Printer's No. 2067,—which I am sure you have—you will find that it does not read very coherently and you will find that many of the brackets just do not fit the bill. Many of the Members coming here and reading that printer's number would be completely confused, and would have had no opportunity to study or to vote on this measure properly.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I suggest that the correct interpretation of this situation is that the bill, as printed and appearing upon the Senators' desks, is the one which is under consideration. The Calendar is merely a guide to the bills in their order. There have been many bills on our Calendars, in times past, where the wrong printer's number was assigned.

In this situation, what happened was that the bill was assigned a new printer's number in order that the printer might keep his records straight on the printing of the bill with the correct amendments in it. There has been no deviation from the form of the bill as it came from the Rules Committee. The Calendar is not the prevailing document. It is the bill itself, with the printer's number inscribed thereon.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I then respectfully suggest to the Chair that, taking what the Majority Floor Leader has just said as being completely true and not arguing with his interpretation of this matter, we should then concern ourselves with one other factor.

In regard to the new bill, which appeared on our desks here today, there certainly was not an opportunity for the bill to be looked at. There would be no way of going back to the Legislative Journal to find out how this new number came about, other than the interpretation from the Chair, which only occurred when the bill came up before us. As you will readily see, this measure is one which involves forty-one pages. There are a great number of not only corrective amendments, but new amendments to the measure. There was one which was made right in the Rules Committee. I believe that a single day would not make any difference in this measure. I am not concerned with the printer's number, but I am concerned about where we are going to get that other number and the amount of money to fill the number which is stated in the bill. We, however, will concern ourselves about that later.

I think the biggest problem is that you have no sequence of sixty-seven into seventy-two. You would find there would be no use in going back to the Journal, which is also a guide to the Senators or Legislators, as to how these new numbers came about and the purpose therefor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, without receding at all from the position I took as far as the bill itself being the prevailing document, but as long as the question has been raised and some of the Senators feel that the procedure might be open to question, which I do not agree with, I will withdraw my objection to the bill going over in its order.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his very generous action.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Does the gentleman withdraw his request for a ruling at this time?

Mr. SEYLER. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

STATEMENT BY MAJORITY LEADER

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, with the permission of the Chair and the Members of the House we would like to announce to the Membership here today that at the present time we are in a position in which better than 30 of our House members are tied up on the Pennsylvania Turnpike at the present time.

A great number of them are at a place called Brandywine, some are on the western end of the turnpike, and the State Police have called the office to inform us that they believe they will be able to get the traffic through by this evening some time.

With the situation as it exists, I am recommending to the House here today that we proceed with the swearing in ceremonies of our newly-elected Member from Allegheny County, Dr. Haudenshield, and at the expiration of the swearing in ceremony that this House adjourn until 1:00 p. m. tomorrow and operate, since we have already caucused on our calendar, and move right on.

I hope that this meets with the approval of the Membership of the House and will give all Members an opportunity, who are stranded on the Pike today to be a part of this Session, since they have been traveling all day to get here.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands that the arrangement meets with the approval of the Minority Leader.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. McCANN from the Committee on Rules, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 1115, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 22, 1933 (P. L. 912) entitled "Bakery Law" changing certain definitions further regulating marking and labeling conferring additional powers and duties on the Department of Agriculture and further regulating the sale and importation of bakery products.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. STRAUSSER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for quite some time I have felt the urge to talk about a matter which should be the concern of all Members of this House. The Speaker's last week's edition of "Dispelling the Fog," the Majority Leader's last week's statement regarding "Gas Tax," and the appearance of House Bill 2459 on last week's calendar all provided the final push to get me on my feet.

Mr. Speaker, as stated in your "Dispelling The Fog," I often find myself all mixed up in trying to understand our planning. We hear and read a lot about loop-holes, double-dippers, and so forth, in connection with the Unemployment Compensation Act. We have heard nothing about the slush funds, double-dippers, and so forth, that we are responsible for in connection with the allocations of our highways funds. This is what I feel should be discussed at this time.

It is alleged that the financial condition of the Highway Department is on the critical list and there are those who feel the only cure is to add an additional cent to the gasoline tax. I personally feel that the one cent additional Gas Tax Bill is a dead duck, and based on this assumption we should do something about rectifying the excessive allocations of liquid fuels tax money back to our counties. It is this allocation that is being used by some county commissioners as a slush fund to perpetuate themselves in office. By hoarding taxpayer's money in their county liquid fuels fund for two to three-year periods and putting it out to the political subdivisions the fourth year, the year they come up for re-election, they thus make an election slush fund of this money. By allowing this excessive allocation to our counties to remain unchanged, we encourage our municipalities to continue to be double-dippers into this fund. If the allocations to counties were reduced 50 percent this action would not only provide $15 million more moneys to finance our Commonwealth's 10 percent of an additional $150 million of our national government's interstate highway system, but it would also help justify the state's taking over the 164 miles of county roads and 189 county bridges from Allegheny County, as provided under part of House Bill No. 2459. Such a bill should ride along as a companion bill to House Bill 2459. In the event this House agrees, there is such a bill in the Rules Committee. If the sponsorship of this bill is not acceptable, I know the sponsor would be glad to withdraw his name from the bill to make room for acceptable sponsors.

For the benefit of those who might be confused by this suggestion, may I assure them that this proposal in no way affects the liquid fuels allocations which are made directly to the municipalities in their districts.

To clarify: Under Act 427 of the 1957 Session, we mandated that $30 million per year be appropriated directly to our municipalities on a 60-40 basis. This $30 million represents one cent of the total five cents per gallon tax on gasoline. My proposal does not change this Act.

Under Section 10 of Act 105 of the 1931 Session, the Legislature then mandated that $\frac{1}{2}$ cent per gallon of the gas tax be returned to the 67 counties for the construction and maintenance of county-owned roads and bridges and permitted redistribution to the political subdivisions. This is the Act which would be affected by the proposal offered.

My reasons for the suggestion made: The allocation under the Acts of 1931 and 1957 leave the Highway Department three and one half cents for the construction and maintenance of more than 41,000 miles of state highways and bridges. This three and one-half cents represents $105 million per year. By taking this amount over 41,000, we come up with an average unit cost of $2,561 per mile allowance to take care of our state highway system of roads and bridges.

Now let us try to compare this unit cost of $2,561 with the unit we get by taking the allocation of $15 million to the counties under the 1931 Act. By taking this amount over the total 763.38 miles of county-owned roads and bridges we come up with an average unit cost of $19,649 per mile allowance to take care of county-owned roads and bridges. This, of course, is not entirely a realistic figure because only 14 of the 67 counties have road-mileage, while the majority of counties have bridges to take care of.

So, what is the answer? Based on studies made of audits made of county liquid fuel funds, I am firmly convinced that the state should eventually take over all county-owned roads and bridges and abolish in its entirety the provisions of the Act of the 1931 Session. House Bill 2459 is a step in this direction, but to make it more acceptable, I again say there should be a companion bill reducing by at least one-half the amount of liquid fuels tax money now allocated to the counties.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there have been some things on my mind the last week or so, and I think this would be a pretty good time to give forth with my feelings about matters as I have observed them.

I want to characterize this as a Session of "squeeze plays." I suppose it has been inspired by the L & M cigarette ad which says "You can't have one without the other."

One would ask: How do you become an old pro in politics? Apparently you become an old pro through squeeze plays. Let me give you some samples of some squeeze plays that have been going on around this General Assembly in the last few months.

The first one is right on our calendar today on second reading, the question of House Bill No. 2459. That is a squeeze play to out-squeeze all squeeze plays. It started out first with this House sending over to the Senate two bills, one taking over roads in Allegheny County, the other taking over roads in Philadelphia County.

Do you know that the Chairman of the House Highways Committee did not call a meeting for one month? Why? Because he would not move the local omnibus bill, roads for small cities, boroughs and townships, until the Senate agreed to move the bills for the two big cities. That, of course, was a squeeze play patently written on its face, and it was practically admitted here that the Chairman of the Philadelphia delegation went over to the Senate with the Chairman of our Committee to see Senator Berger to talk about those bills! the Chairman of the Philadelphia delegation not even being a member of the Highways Committee. That was the first squeeze play.

Now it has evolved that we have on the calendar House Bill No. 2459, which has included the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia roads in the road bill for the small cities, boroughs and townships. That, of course, as I say, is a squeeze play to out-squeeze them all. It is here in front of you on our calendar and, of course, will have special treatment tomorrow and the next day.

Here is an example of another squeeze. We passed House Bill No. 1108 here in this House, sent it to the Senate with $55 million in it. I grant you we did not pass a companion tax program. We sent it over to the Senate. What happened to the bill? The Governor said, "I will veto House Bill 1108 unless you, the Republican State Senate, pass the personal property tax bill."

The Senate does not want to pass that personal property tax bill. Why? Because it gives Philadelphia, I believe it is, a 100 per cent exemption, and Allegheny County 80 per cent exemption in the bill! Also the Senate does not want to pass the personal property tax bill because it is a tax on the thrifty little guy, on the hard-up pensioner, on the retired school teacher, on the small investor, and it is, as I say, a handout to the Dave Lawrence machine in Pittsburgh and the Bill Green machine in Philadelphia County.

There is one thing that the bill does. It taxes security values regardless of whether they pay any interest or not, not, and it could be as much as 25 per cent tax on the income on these small people, by and large, who hold these securities.

Now you say it is a tax on the big fellow. The big fellow in Pennsylvania has his securities in tax-exempt securities, in governments, in securities which are exempt from the Pennsylvania Personal Property Tax because these large corporations already pay Pennsylvania Capital Stock Tax. We lose sight of that. The fact is that this Personal Property Tax would be a tax on the thrifty little guy. Let me tell you, that is a squeeze play.

No school aid, unless you pass the Personal Property Tax. That is the second squeeze I am talking about that is going on around this General Assembly. As I say, if you want to become an old pro, get adept in the art of the squeeze.

Now, what is the third thing that has hit us right between the eyes? The schools of the big cities said, "we need aid." We know that they needed aid. But they said, "If we do not get it legislatively we will get it administratively." So, what happened? During the Session the Tax Equalization Report came out and lo, and behold, in the great city of Philadelphia, with that wonderful government down there that is doing such great things, the valuations dropped from $7 billion to about $6.5 billion, or a drop in the value of property in the city of Philadelphia of $500 million, so that the city of Philadelphia would get $4.8 million more money in school aid.

Likewise—I am sorry I do not have the figure here—there was a drop in the value of real estate in the great city of Pittsburgh where that wonderful city government is doing such phenomenal things; yet their valuation dropped so that they will get $600,000 more school aid.

Where is the squeeze in that? More money for the big cities, and as I pointed out several months ago, less money for the rural counties. That is another squeeze play that I want to point out to you.

We are about to swear in a new Member. I just have one more incident to bring out, then we will swear in the new Member, and then anybody can answer this argument who cares to do so.

The other squeeze I am talking about was on the gas tax. I know that none of my Members would publicly get up and say they were told, "You vote for the gas tax or you do not get roads." Be that as it may, a few Members on this side voted for the penny gas tax. I will not mention any names, but one of them said, well, boy, I have made deals all over the place because of that vote. That too was a squeeze play of all squeeze plays, to get through a penny gas tax. I feel sorry for those of us who did not vote for that penny gas tax, even though I pointed out at this microphone that there is plenty of money in the Motor License Fund today to do just about all the work the Highway Department could possibly do.

In conclusion, let the squeezes go on, but let me tell you we have our eyes open. We know what is going on, and I am just pointing it out so that the people in Pennsylvania will know what is transpiring in the halls of this great House of Representatives. Tomorrow we will debate the squeeze play that is on the calendar and then we will abide by the results.

The only thing I can think that gives me greater pleasure than having received those tributes is returning here today, and being among the people that I have been associated with for so many years and learned to appreciate and love.

I am happy to be back with you and thanks for the welcome.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request permission of the House, following the swearing in ceremonies of Dr. Haudenshield to reply to the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Haudenshield please take the nearest available microphone and introduce to this House the Members of his family.

Mr. HAUDENSHIELD. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen, over to my right I would like to introduce my wife, Janet Haudenshield; my daughters, Lynn and Leslie, and Janet's mother, Mrs. Chreiman.

Thank you very much.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair welcomes the gentleman into the Membership of this House, and also welcomes his family into a great fraternity, the families of all the Members of the House.

The Chair now returns the gavel to the Speaker of the House.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER. In recognizing the Minority Leader to welcome the new Member to the House, the Chair wants to say that "Doctor" Hocker of Dauphin County has presented the Chair with a bottle of "grouch" pills for the relief and treatment of cantakerous disputation and scowling. Any Member who may feel the approach of a grouch period should apply to "Doctor" Hocker for a pill.

The Chair recognizes the Minority Leader and suggests that "Doctor" Hocker stop on his way and give him a pill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I know what you are alluding to, the remarks I just made before the swearing-in. I thought the place was too quiet, calm and serene here, and that we need a little speech of some kind to jar things up a little.

I want to say, with respect to welcoming the new Member, it is always a pleasure for a floor leader to stand at this microphone and welcome a new Member to the House of Representatives.

I particularly enjoy it because I think it is a great honor to any person to be elected to this House of Representatives. It opens up a new life for him, new friendships and a new vista as far as what is going on in the state is concerned and as far as that particular Member is concerned. Here we are, a great deliberative body, one of the finest in the nation. We take this microphone, we air our views and battle back and forth, and after the Session is over we let the people of this great state decide.

I might say to the new Member that there is a great opportunity for him here in this General Assembly. We are facing problems as we have never faced them before in this state; not only in the field of highways, as I pointed out here today, but in the field of education, growing welfare needs, and the desire on the part of the people for economical government and lower taxes. There is no end to the job that a new Member can do if he will address himself earnestly to the work of this House of Representatives.

We are very glad to have Dr. Haudenshield here. He is replacing a fine, eloquent person in the late John Haudenshield. We all loved John very much, and I am sure from what I have seen of Dr. Haudenshield we will find him an equally delightful, pleasant and able Member.

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes the new Member from Allegheny County. Every time we go into our office we are reminded of his uncle, who was our friend for many, many years.

In the Speaker's office, as a permanent possession of the Speaker's office, there is a very, very beautiful state flag which was the personal gift of the late Member from Allegheny, Mr. Haudenshield.

We would say to his nephew that if he through the years lives up to the reputation and the services of his uncle, he can be very, very well proud of his achievements.

You know the Chair several days ago suggested that it might be a good thing to have a Committee of the Whole in which Members spoke their minds about various things. Apparently that suggestion took root informally, although it was never acted upon formally.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take a moment to welcome the new Member from Allegheny County, Dr. Haudenshield.

I understand he is a professional man, a dentist. As a Member of this House, if the pattern follows as it has in the past, he will not have time to fix so many teeth as he will devote to listening to a lot of debate here in the halls of this House. I hope and I am confident that we shall enjoy his views, his thoughts, and that we shall welcome with open arms those new ideas from the Legislative District he represents.

We are confident a growing, fine friendship will exist and be kindled by his election as a Member of this House.

Mr. Speaker, a while ago the Minority Leader of the House started out by talking about squeeze plays. The gentleman comes from McKean County and I come from Greene County. I think we would have to agree that we each come from a rural county. There are 210 of us in the House, who represent all of Pennsylvania, and you know, all of us in the rural counties can team up and kick Philadelphia and Pittsburgh around, which we have done for years, both Democrats and Republicans, regardless of what was fair.

This is odd coming from a rural Member because what have we had as rural Members in education? We had incentive for union, incentive payments for jointure, payments for closed schools, payments for transportation, additional payments for additional courses, payments for construction of buildings, and until 1955 we did not permit amortization. So you and I can say we took care of rural Pennsylvania's education pretty well.

As far as Philadelphia and Pittsburg were concerned, we kind of let them wander around as children who had to find their own way. If it is fair for us, it is fair for them.

You talk about payment of personal property tax. I come from Greene County and I pay four mills on the personal property I own, and stocks and bonds. You do the same in McKean County. But if I lived in Pittsburgh, would I be paying only four mills on my bonds and stocks, or would I be paying a little more for education? Four mills more; that is right. So you see it is not right to say that Pittsburgh would not pay any more, but it is right to say that they already pay more than we do in that field.

Should we say the same if I were a Philadelphian? The answer would be: You and I pay four mills, but in Philadelphia, do they not pay eight mills now? And where is the additional four mills on stocks and bonds? If I owned 100 shares of any given stock and my friend in Philadelphia owned a like 100 shares, would our tax be the same? The answer would be, no, for they pay four more mills than I do for education. So you see it is just a matter of how you look at the squeeze play. The squeeze play is not that Pittsburgh would not pay as much as I, or Philadelphia would not pay as much as I, but it is also right to say that they pay more now than either you or I.

Now then, talk about squeeze plays! The biggest squeeze play of 1959 has been the squeeze play of this Session. When will it end? And when will the Senate act on these measures? Perhaps you know the answer. Perhaps that squeeze play answer is here today. I do not know for I have not been informed.

But if you want a good squeeze play, you talk about the highway one. That is the best. That is the one we like. We say that one cent gasoline tax is needed and we voted for it. The Senate says to you and me, we can not give you the one cent gasoline tax but will help provide votes for you for a $5 automobile license increase.

Let us see how this works. If you have a car and you run it on an average of say 15,000 to 18,000 miles a year,—that would be a pretty good average, I think—you would start to figure out that at about 15 miles to a gallon one cent more of gasoline tax you would come up for an average person, with about $5 or $6. Any way you figure it, it would work out pretty even. Now then, they do not want me to pay the additional $5 or $6 in gasoline tax, but it is all right to pay it in the license fee; that is quite all right. The average is about the same, except to say to you that all those wonderful tourists, and all of that trucking industry, and all of those other people would not pay one cent on anything only we who have the cars and are Pennsylvania residents. So there is a little squeeze play here that is more than meets the eye.

You talk about a squeeze play that is a doozy. Would you say the Secretary of Highways has not made a clear-cut case as to his need for money? There is a difference of opinion as to the amount of money needed. Our debate a few months ago clearly indicated the position of various Members of this House who opposed the one cent gasoline tax increase. But on this we can agree: If you provided the $5 license fee, which is about the average of the one cent gasoline tax, did you intend to also provide 20 percent more for all our municipalities for reimbursement to take care of their streets and township roads? Well, I think each of the municipalities is for this. The majority of the people you talk to when you do a little talking with your own constituents do not have such great objection to the one cent gasoline tax increase. How much objection did they show when the Federal Government recently increased the gasoline tax in this field? Very little, if any. I think you will find most of the people of Pennsylvania want the roads built. You and I want the bridges built in our respective areas, and want the rural roads taken care of. So in my opinion the biggest squeeze play is the squeeze play that is going on about the type of taxation and the difference that exists between the two parties. I will admit there are times when our differences are very small.

You stated that a squeeze play was on regarding the State Tax Equalization Board. I ask you what type of a squeeze play this would be, for, number one, did they do anything illegal, or did they just do a job that was supposed to be done? Did they in any way change anything in my own district, or yours, illegally, or did they do it properly?

I recently sat in a General State Authority meeting. We were buying ground for a new state hospital in one of our northern tier counties. I think you will find this on the minutes of the General State Authority meeting. The State Tax Equalization Board report showed the estimated land value, or what it was believed to be worth in this area, when we bought the land. If that is a normal sale, then the State Tax Equalization Board report for that county is surely mighty low.

So you see there are always two sides to a squeeze play. I think you will agree that the best squeeze play is the one where we do what is right for all the people of Pennsylvania, not to pit the city against the rural area.

There was a time when Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were your strongest Republican machines in Pennsylvania. Even in those days, you as Republicans pitted against them. Today our strongest Democratic machines are in the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh, and it makes no difference whether the machine is Democrat or Republican. What counts is that we would get the same rightful consideration for our problems as we should be giving them, not whether I come from Greene County or you from McKean, not whether I am a rural Member or an urban Member, but that we look at their problems and treat them in the same way as the other problems we have.

Mr. Speaker, I am sure there is not much difference in the matter of opinion as to the squeeze plays, but there have been some awfully good, big ones here in this Session in the eleven and a half months in 1959.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SHERMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to say in reply to the statement made by what I term a rural Member from a rural area, the Minority Leader, I state that in all sincerity because, I do hope that the time will come, perhaps in the next Session, that it will not be a case of rural area against suburban or city area. But it will be a case of all 210 of us fighting together, planning together, whether it is for the sake of education or for the sake of any other bill.

I cannot but briefly remark and correct the Minority Leader in some of his erroneous statements. He has, perhaps inadvertently, stated that Philadelphia in the personal property tax bill would be 100 percent exempt. That, Mr. Speaker, is an error because Philadelphia in that personal property tax bill would not be 100 percent exempt but would have an additional 2 mills tax imposed upon it.

I also ask the Minority Leader if it is not true that there has been in the course of the debate on 1108 whether he, or with his consent, the majority Members of his party voted for 1108, on the assumption, plainly stated on the floor of this House that there was a $55 million personal property tax bill to be passed by the other esteemed body of this General Assembly, and for that reason and that reason alone was it not what caused mainly this 1108 bill to pass?

When it comes to attacking the city of Philadelphia I say to Mr. Johnson, you had better hesitate. We are trying to cooperate and we do hope to cooperate in the future. Philadelphia is a large industrial area, we have lost a great deal of tax revenue as a result of taking up certain property in our great city. We have also a tax equalization board that the Senate Members, as they had the matter before them praised the Tax Equalization Board for a job well done, an honest job, and just because they have reaped the benefits of years passed by, and the State Tax Equalization Board has been honest in its attempt to do what is right, they should under no circumstances be criticized.

I ask for harmony between the rural and city areas, both for the remainder of this Session and the future Sessions to come.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. TOMPKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I had not intended to get into this act, but I cannot allow some of the statements made by the gentleman from Philadelphia go unchallenged.

I will challenge him to go back to the debate on 1108 and have him show me anywhere, any such statement that was made to the effect of our voting over on this side or in this House in connection with the $55 million personal property tax that is over in the Senate. The Democrats may have had that in the back of their minds but we certainly never had it in the back of our minds over on this side.

I think you will find that I made a statement from this floor that there was at least $28 million provided for, in the four percent sales tax which we voted for over here, some of us, which has vanished into thin air. And you will find nothing in the record where the Republicans said anything about putting this over to the Senate for the $55 million personal property tax.

In connection with the additional 2 mills from Philadelphia, that is the only amount that will come into the general fund. Even though you are paying at the present time 8 mills in Philadelphia, that all goes for the benefit of Philadelphia and no part of it comes into the general fund of the Commonwealth for distribution in the entire state. That applies in the same way to the personal property tax in Allegheny County, they take it all for themselves, no part of it would come into the general fund for the purpose of distribution equally among all of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Let us get ourselves down to some facts, real figures before we start throwing a lot of things around.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins has on several occasions brought up the question of the $28 million that has vanished. I felt for some time that we should clarify that and I am going to attempt to do it at this time.

The joint committee that considered both taxes and appropriations, in fact I believe in July, did consider $28 million of additional money for the schools and $4 million for the hospitals. In this package that we considered, I want to say that while the gentlemen on the other side may have understood when they voted for the four percent sales tax, that there was $28 million in it for the schools, I do not know where they got that understanding. But I do want to say, in our consideration of appropriations and taxes, there was $28 million for the schools.

What happened to it? Well, here is what happened to it. We were using on House Bill 660, the gross receipts tax on gas companies $11 million. That bill in the Senate was changed so that the effective date was January 1, 1960, and therefore reduced the yield $5 and one-half million. The joint committee also used the figure of $4 million which we considered would be increased revenue from out of state corporations under the decision of the Supreme Court. When the final analysis was made it was found that that $4 million was non-existent, it would not come into the fund.

All of our calculations in that joint conference committee were based upon an effective date for the sales tax of August 1, 1959. We did not meet that deadline and the result was that the increased revenue on account of its not going into effect on August 1st was $4.5 million. That is a total of $14 million.

It is true that while we both arrived at practically the same figures in our calculations, the Republican Members based their totals on the fact that there would be a $55 million cut, based upon the Senate figures. Actually, that $55 million cut went down to $43 million, which gave $12 million less than I believe the Republican Members had figured on. If you add that up that is $26 million.

Another thing is that we were considering non-budgeted bills. It is my recollection that we were only considering approximately $3 million of non-budgeted bills. Actually, we passed $10 million plus in non-budgeted bills. In those figures you will find what happened to the $28 million and the $4 million that we had used. We on this side were in a little more favorable position because as I stated while the Republican Members based their calculations on the $55 million cut, we based our calculations on the $55 million that was in the personal property tax. So, we still had money available under our figures which could be used for education, while due to the factors that I have mentioned there would not be that available on the other side.

I do not believe that the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Tompkins, was really serious when he said on the 11th of November, that by devious means, these funds vanished. It is a clear open record what happened to the amount of money that both sides had considered. I have enumerated them, item by item, and it deals in a large measure with something over which neither our side nor the other side, the Republican side, had any control. So, I think it is unfair to leave the impression that somehow or other we did away with the $28 million.

I might say that many, many months ago, I suggested to this House, when I made my first budget report, that I thought at a minimum, we should increase the maximum subsidy base to $6,200 and it would take approximately $28 million. In all of our calculations, when we reported House Bill 1108, we did use the $55 million tax bill that we sent to the Senate. I believe it is equally true that they do not intend to pass that bill, but I think it was unfair to leave the public under the impression that in any way we changed signals or did anything that eliminated the $28 million.

I think if the gentleman will review the matter, and I believe I did review it with him on a previous occasion, he will find that the figures that I gave him are correct, it was due to changes made by the Senate, also it was the item of the incorrect amount of tax revenues that was issued for dry cleaning and so forth. But when all of those factors are taken into consideration, it is very evident what happened to the $28 million.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this could be a never ending subject of debate. I do not propose to enter into it any further.

The only thing I have to say is this, that when we voted for a four percent sales tax we understood that in that would be included sufficient revenues to provide at least $28 million additional for schools.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE FEASIBILITY OF THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE TEACHERS' COLLEGE IN THE WEST PHILADELPHIA AREA

Mr. McCRESSH offered the following resolution (Serial No. 87), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, December 8, 1959.

The rising expense of tuition and other costs at institutions of higher learning within the Philadelphia area has created a situation where more and more deserving and qualified young men and women within the city of Philadelphia are unable to seek adequate educational opportunities. While State Teachers' Colleges are located throughout the Commonwealth in defined geographical districts, Philadelphia alone has no such State institution within its confines, despite the magnitude of its population.

The need for a State College within the Philadelphia area has, therefore, become increasingly more desirable and necessary.

At the same time, a State College planned as part of the new physical rebirth of West Philadelphia and in conjunction with the future development of "University City" would be in complete accord with the re-awaking of that area as a center of higher learning, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to investigate and study whether a new State Teachers' College in the West Philadelphia area would be feasible and practical, and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations.

SB 413—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

Mr. VAN SANT, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 2, last line of Title, by inserting after "engines": "for a certain period of time"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 3, line 16, by inserting after "and" where it appears the first time: "except as hereinafter provided"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 3, line 16, by striking out the bracket before "one" and after "cents"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 3, line 17, by striking out "one cent"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 4), page 3, line 20, by inserting after "engines": "For the period beginning January 1, 1960 and ending May 31, 1961 a State tax of one cent a gallon or fractional part thereof is hereby imposed and assessed upon all liquid fuels used or sold and delivered by distributors within this Commonwealth for use as fuel in turbine propeller, jet, turbo-jet or jet driven aircraft and aircraft engines"; Amend Sec. 2, page 4, line 10, by striking out "immediately" and inserting: "January 1, 1960."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. VAN SANT.

HB 634—Read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, House Bill No. 634 would compel the erection and maintenance of medial barriers or guards along the entire length of the Turnpike. I think this is not only unnecessary, but I think that it is expensive and would be a great burden upon the Commonwealth hand on the Turnpike Commission to undertake such a large task.

Therefore, Mr. President, I certainly do not think this bill should be passed.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, what is the status of the bill as of this moment?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill is ready for final passage and awaiting the roll call.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I request that House Bill

No. 634, Printer's No. 1684, go over in its order on Final Passage.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order on Final Passage.

HB 652—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1 of the bill, page 2, line 13, by striking out the words "in case of"; page 2, by striking out lines 14 and 15; page 3 by striking out lines 1 through 5.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I offered these amendments because they were given to me by the Insurance Department. The purpose of the amendments is that the Insurance Department does not feel that an insurance company should be allowed to add a supplementation to its name for the purpose of identification, as this would likely confuse the general public. It is for this reason that I have offered these amendments.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I anticipated objecting to these amendments. However, I believe that I would like to read them because I could not get an explanation from anybody as to what they do.

Therefore, I will not object to them and allow them to be printed and then we can read them into the bill.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 900— Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

HB 1121—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, line 18, by inserting after "parent": "person standing in loco parentis."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WALKER.

HB 1122—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALKER, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 3, line 15, by inserting after "parent": "person standing in loco parentis or legal guardian."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I have no objection to the amendments, but I hope that if there is anybody else who has an amendment and has not gotten it into either one of these two bills, they speak now or forever hold their peace. I do not think there is anything left to House Bill No. 1121 and House Bill No. 1122 the way they stand now. I think they have been completely negated and all that is left is an empty shell.

I would respectfully suggest that it is just a sham to even enact these bills and spend the Commonwealth's money to have them reprinted, new printer's numbers assigned, have them appear on the Calendar and go through all this again. If anyone else wants to amend them, I think they should do so because I would hate to think of them missing the boat on these bills.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I believe Senator Walker has now taken care of grandparents, and I do not think anybody is inclined to go farther back than that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, it might be that there is a cousin, once removed, who has not been taken care of. I would hate to think of him being left out of this measure.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would advise the Senator against reminding his colleagues about that possibility.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The amendment was agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WALKER.

SB 1189—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

SB 1204—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

HB 1355—Read at length the third time and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I must take the floor and state my position.

I think this is rather a silly piece of legislation because it is taking away from the judiciary a prerogative which it should have. Therefore, I feel that if we do not have any confidence in our judiciary, then we should pass this legislation. However, I do believe that it should have latitude in making a decision.

Therefore, I most emphatically oppose the passage of this legislation, because I do not believe it is good for the people nor for justice.

Amend Sec. 2, page 5, line 15, by striking out "immediately" and inserting: "January 1, 1960."

They were agreed to.

Without objection, the bill, as amended, was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. VAN SANT.

HB 1971—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1977—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, last week, when this very bill was on Second Reading, I offered amendments to it and I believe that Senator Pechan, who was then the Acting Majority Floor Leader, after we had discussed this, said that he would discuss the matter with his Caucus and see if the bill could be reinstated to its original form. It was practically cut to ribbons and I think the bill even changed some of the pending laws which we have and some of the laws which we have enacted in past Sessions.

At that instant, Mr. President, I asked that the amendments be laid on the table. I am now about to call those amendments from the table and ask that they be adopted by the Senate.

I am well aware of the fact that the bill is on the Third Reading Calendar and that any one person could object. However, I think that we had an agreement that when the bill was on Third Reading, I could call the amendments from the table at that time.

My amendments are quite lengthy, but they merely reinstate the bill to the original form in which it came from the House. I think this bill has been approved by the League of Women Voters and by both political parties in their platforms. I am merely trying to put the bill back into its original form.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Weiner, are you making a motion that the vote by which House Bill No. 1977 passed Third Reading be reconsidered?

Mr. WEINER. No, Mr. President. I am asking for unanimous consent for my amendments to House Bill No. 1977, Printer's No. 2000, to now be considered by the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. They cannot be considered on Final Passage. You should move the bill back to Third Reading.

Mr. WEINER. The bill is now on Third Reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The bill just passed Third Reading and we are about to call the roll.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF HB 1977

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate do reconsider the vote by which HB 1977 just passed third reading.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

AMENDMENTS TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I call from the table the amendments which I offered previously to this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Title, page 2, last five lines of Title, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "authorizing and providing procedures whereby certain qualified registered electors absent from or unable to attend their regular polling places may cast their votes; imposing additional duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth, various county boards of elections, and election officers, courts, various registration commissions, chairmen of political parties or committees and officers and employees, certain political subdivisions; further regulating the procedures for voting of qualified electors serving in the armed forces of the United States, including their families or any qualified bedridden or hospitalized veterans by authorizing and providing procedures for the absentee voting by certain Federal personnel, including their families, in the event they are qualified electors; further regulating the dates for furnishing information as to offices to be filled for filing and circulating nomination petitions and nomination papers; and providing penalties."

Amend Sec. 1 page 3, line 1, by striking out "SECTION" and inserting: "Clauses (w) and (x) of section."

Amend Sec 1, page 3 lines 4 and 5, by striking out both of said lines, and inserting: "clause (w) reenacted and amended March 6, 1951 (P. L. 3), and clause (v) added March 6, 1951 (P. L. 3), are amended to read."

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 102), page 8, lines 12 to 20; page 9, lines 1 to 6, by striking out all of said lines, and inserting: "(w) [The term 'qualified elector in actual military service' shall mean a qualified elector of this Commonwealth who is or may be in the military or naval service of the United States or any branch or unit thereof and regardless of whether such person is registered or enrolled in accordance with law.

When so approved the applicant's permanent registration card shall be removed from the district register and inserted in a special absentee registration file. Commencing on the second Tuesday prior to the day of the primary or election, the county board shall mail or deliver personally to all approved applicants an official absentee ballot or ballots and all materials in accordance with the provisions of section 1303, as additional names and addresses of electors are ascertained the board shall deliver or mail official absentee ballots to such additional electors within forty-eight hours after ascertaining their names, addresses and qualifications.

"In the event that an application is not approved by the county board, the elector shall be notified immediately to that effect with a statement by the county board of the reasons of the disapproval.

"Section 1306. Voting by Absentee Electors [in Actual Military Service].—(a) At any time after receiving an official [military] absentee ballot, but on or before the day of the primary or election the elector [for the purpose of voting, may appear before any person of this or any other state or territory of the United States authorized to administer oaths by Federal, State or military laws. The elector shall first display the ballot to such person as evidence that the same is unmarked and then] shall in secret proceed to mark the ballot [with] in black lead pencil, [crayon] indelible pencil or [ink in the presence of such person but in such manner that the person administering the oath is unable to see how the same is marked] blue, black or blue-black ink in fountain pen or ball point pen and then fold the ballot, enclose and securely seal the same in the envelope on which is printed, stamped or endorsed "Official [Military] Absentee Ballot." This envelope shall then be placed in the second one on which is printed the [affidavit] form of declaration of the elector [the jurat of the person before whom the elector appears] and the address of the elector's county board of election. The elector shall then fill out [subscribe] date and [swear to] sign the [affidavit] declaration printed on such envelope [and the jurat shall be subscribed and dated by the person before whom the affidavit was taken]. Such envelope shall then be securely sealed and the elector shall send same by mail, postage prepaid except where franked or deliver it in person or by representative to said county board of election.

"(b) In the event that any such elector excepting an elector in military service, or any elector unable to go to his polling place because of illness or physical disability entitled to vote an official absentee ballot shall be in the county of his residence on the day for holding the primary or election for which the ballot was issued, or in the event any such elector shall have recovered from his illness or physical disability sufficiently to permit him to present himself at the proper polling place for the purpose of casting his ballot, such absentee ballot cast by such elector shall upon challenge properly sustained be declared void.

"However, any such elector referred to in this subsection who is within the county of his residence shall be permitted to vote upon, presenting himself at his regular polling place in the same manner as he could have voted had he not received an absentee ballot: Provided, That such elector has first presented himself before the court of common pleas of his county between the hours of seven o'clock, A.M. and five o'clock P.M. on the day of any primary or election and has procured an "Emergency Voting Form" signed by the court, which form entitled the elector to vote at his regular polling place upon the signing of a voter's certificate: Provided, however, That the court may require the surrender of said elector's absentee ballot where he has not already voted which shall thereupon be marked "cancelled" by said court and transmitted to the county board of elections. In the event such elector has already voted, then the court shall direct the county board of elections to set such ballot aside unopened.

"Section 1307. [Military] Certain Electors Voting in Districts of Residence.—(a) Whenever any [qualified] elector[in actual military service] qualified in accordance with the provisions of section 1302, subsections (a) and (e), is present in his voting district of residence on any primary, municipal or general election day and has not already voted in such election, he may apply to his district election board for an official ballot and vote it in such election.

"(b) Each such application shall be in the form and shall contain the information required by this act, together with a statement by the applicant that he has not already voted in the election. All such applications shall be transmitted to the county board of election immediately upon the closing of the polls.

"(c) Upon receiving an official ballot and envelopes therefor he shall in secret in the polling place vote the ballot and [prepare it for execution of the affidavit and jurat] execute the declaration as prescribed by this act. [The affidavit shall be executed before the judge or either inspector of election and the jurat subscribed by the person before whom the affidavit is taken]. The [military] elector shall then securely seal the second envelope and hand it to the judge of election. The judge of election shall place all such envelopes in a container marked "Official [Military] Absentee Ballots" which shall be sealed immediately upon the closing of the polls and transmitted to the county board of election.

"(d) Each district election board shall prepare a separate list of the names of all such voters, which shall be attached to the lists of voters required by the act to which this is an amendment.

"(e) Each county board of election shall prepare and deliver to each district election board on such election days an adequate supply of official ballots, envelopes and other supplies as required by this act.

"(f) Each county board of election, before the day fixed by this act for the canvassing of official ballots, shall post, attached to the "[Military] Nonregistered and Emergency Absentee Voters File," an alphabetically arranged list setting forth the name, residence, the local voting district and ward of every military elector voting under the provisions of this section. The list shall not contain the elector's military address or military organization. Copies of such list may be furnished as in the case of copies of the [military file] "nonregistered and emergency absentee voters file."

"Section 1308. Canvassing of Official [Military] Absentee Ballots (a) The county boards of election upon receipt of official [military] absentee ballots in such envelopes shall safely keep the same until they meet to canvass official [military] absentee ballots, which canvass shall begin immediately following the official civilian canvass for [all] the primary [election. After the November election, the canvass of official military ballots shall begin at ten o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time, on the second Friday following the election] or November election or the second Friday following the primary or November election whichever date is later. Said canvass to commence at ten o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time. No such ballots shall be counted which are received in their offices later than ten o'clock A. M., Eastern Standard Time of the second Friday following the primary election or the November election. At such time the members of the return boards or the county boards of election shall in person dispose of official [military] absentee ballots in the manner hereinafter set forth. The county boards of election may designate a sufficient number of clerks to perform such duties. When it is determined that clerks shall be appointed, the total number shall in every case be in multiples of three and each member of a county board of election shall appoint an equal number thereof.

"(b) Each candidate for nomination or election shall be entitled to appoint one watcher and each political party or body which has nominated candidates shall be entitled to appoint three watchers. Watchers shall be permitted to be present when the envelopes containing official [military] absentee ballots are opened and when such ballots are counted and recorded.

"(c) In disposing of an official [military] absentee ballot, the county return board or the county board of election shall examine the [affidavit and jurat] declaration and if the [jurat] same bears a date later than the date of [the] such primary or election, the envelope shall be set aside unopened.

"(d) Whenever it shall appear by due proof that any absentee elector who has returned his ballot in accordance with the provisions of this act has died prior to the opening of the polls on the day of the primary or election, the ballot of such deceased elector shall be rejected by the canvassers but the counting of the ballot of an elector thus deceased shall not of itself invalidate any nomination or election.

"(e) The board shall then further examine the [affidavit and jurat of] declaration on each envelope not so set aside and shall compare the information thereon with that contained in the [military] special absentee registration file and the nonregistered and emergency absentee voters file. If the board is satisfied that the [affidavit and jurat are] declaration is sufficient and that the elector has qualified and the board has utilized the information contained in the [military] nonregistered and emergency absentee voters file and the special absentee registration file to verify his right to vote the board shall announce the name of the elector and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge in like manner and for the same cause, except the failure of qualified electors set forth in preceding section 1301, subsections (a) to (i) inclusive to register or enroll as the elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to vote other than by official [military] absentee ballot. If no challenges are sustained, the board shall open the envelope in such manner as not to destroy the [affidavit and jurat printed] declaration executed thereon. All envelopes on which are printed, stamped or endorsed the words "Official [Military] Absentee Ballot" shall be placed in one or more depositories well shaken and the envelopes mixed before any envelope is taken therefrom. The board shall then break the seals of such envelopes, remove the ballots and record the votes in the same manner as district election officers are required to record votes. Upon completion of the computation of the returns of the county, the votes cast upon the official [military] absentee ballots shall be added to the other votes cast within the county.

"Section 1309. Public Records. All official [military] absentee ballots, [military] files, applications for such ballots and envelopes on which the [jurats and affidavits] executed declarations appear and all information and lists are hereby designated and declared to be public records and shall be safely kept for a period of two years, except that no information concerning a military elector shall be made public which is expressly forbidden by the War Department because of military security.

"Section 12. The act is amended by adding after section 1309, a new section to read:

"Section 1310. Penalties.—Any person voting an official absentee ballot who wilfully falsifies the declaration or who votes any ballot other than the one properly issued to him, except as provided in section 1306, subsection (b), or who votes or attempts to vote more than once at any primary or election is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1000) or imprisonment for a term not to exceed two (2) years, or both.

"Section 13. Article XIII-A of the act and its amendments are repealed."

Amend Sec. 4, page 63, line 1, by striking out "SECTION 4 ALL" and inserting: "All other".

Amend Sec. 5, page 63, line 3, by striking out "5" and inserting: "14".

Amend Sec. 6, page 63, line 6, by striking out "6" and inserting: "15".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, these amendments, as the Minority Leader stated, and after I have read them carefully, would appear to put the bill back into the same condition that it was in when it came from the House.

Our advice and information was that the bill, in that form, would have been unconstitutional. The amendments, which I offered to this bill sometime ago, and which are now incorporated in it, would, in my opinion, make it a workable bill, and one which will carry out the intent of the voters to provide for absentee balloting which, as was correctly stated, has been approved by the League of Women Voters and every other league that I know of which has considered this problem. It was in both party platforms.

We believe that House Bill No. 1977, Printer's No. 2000, as it presently appears on our Calendar, is in proper form, and is a bill which should be approved.

Consequently, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on the amendments and to vote "aye" on the bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, this bill as it came from the House was not only approved by the League of Women Voters, but the Federal Government. Congress, under the Federal Assistance Act of 1955, asked the States to enact supplementary legislation which would allow members of the Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents to vote; members of the Merchant Marine, their spouses and dependents to vote; civilian Federal employees serving outside the United States, their spouses and dependents accompanying them to vote; and members of welfare or religious groups officially attached to and serving with the Armed Forces, their spouses and dependents to vote.

In order for this to be done, legislation was uniformly prepared and sent throughout the Country to the State Legislatures to be acted upon. The amendments which have been added here provide for a rather involved procedure for an individual to qualify as an absentee voter. It changes the form suggested by the Federal Government to such an extent that the free airmail privilege is no longer available.

These amendments, for all practical purposes, once this has become a difficult problem, eliminate the possibility of any Federal employee or person serving in the military service to ever qualify to vote. What you have actually done is taken away this privilege from these people who are entitled to it by law. I think to, in any way, cut down a person's ability to qualify as an elector or to cut down his ability to vote in a democracy is certainly depriving him of his basic right and basic privilege, which is the right to vote.

We here in the States, in the North, certainly condemn any State which makes voting difficult by imposing a poll tax, a realty tax or any other kind of a tax to prevent someone from exercising this right that has been given to them under both the State and Federal Constitutions.

What do we do here? We have an opportunity to make it easier for these people to vote. By these amendments in the Senate, we take away or abrogate this right. This bill has been emasculated to the point—this is not only in my words, and I am not speaking from a partisan point of view, but here is Mr. John Scotzin, who writes for the Sunday Patriot-News. I do not know generally the political view of that paper. However, back on October 18 of this year, Mr. Scotzin said the very things that I am telling you right now. I do not think that the Patriot-News has any particular interest in this measure, any more than they have in any other, and they take the same position that I have taken. I want to quote just one phase of the article:

"Largest groups of absentees who would have been qualified to vote by mail in the original form are employes of the Federal government, Merchant Marine, members of religious and welfare agencies serving the armed forces—along with spouses and dependents in each case—whose duties take them to all parts of the world."

Mr. Scotzin goes on to say:

"Floor amendments heavily emasculated, nearly to the point of shell-form, a House-approved bill to implement a constitutional amendment of 1957, which provides for absentee voting by those unavoidably absent from the state or county of residence because of occupation or business reasons, illness or physical disability."

I am sure neither his paper nor Mr. Scotzin, himself, have any personal animosity against anyone who offered the amendments or have any personal reason other than looking at this matter objectively. If a newspaper takes that attitude, I think we, as Members representing the people in our Districts who are unavoidably absent, certainly cannot take a lesser position. If anything, we should certainly take a stronger position and bring this bill back to where it was originally, because the idea is not to prevent people from voting, but to get as many of them as we can to register and vote on election day.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, it has been suggested that I request permission to interrogate Mr. Scotzin, but I will not do that.

However, Mr. President, the whole question here, in its fundamental, is whether or not the absentee voter shall be a qualified voter, in spite of all of the verbiage that has been used in discussing the question. We think that the man or woman should be qualified to vote in the district in which they cast their absentee ballot, just the same as any other voter. That is the whole question. The bill requires that they be qualified and registered voters.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to delay this discussion unduly. However, the point is that this is the basic premise that is used in many States where they want to prevent people from voting. They say, "Are you properly qualified or registered?" The basis for that is that if you are in the service, you may be taken off the rolls for any reason that they can think of—perhaps because you have not voted in the last two elections—so you can never become properly qualified or duly registered. Therefore, you are being denied your right of franchise.

This bill was supposed to take care of that problem, and also to prevent fraud. I do not think anyone wants to make money that easy that they would allow fraudulent voting. However, by the same token, you have taken away from people, who through no fault of their own are away from their homes on election day, the right to vote and express their opinion.

It seems incongruous to deny the right to vote to a man who goes into the Federal service either as a military man or on behalf of the government to work outside the continental limits of the United States. As you well know, if you have been watching television or listening to the radio, the government has been recruiting people and is having a difficult time doing so. I think once a person has obligated himself, it is sort of undemocratic of us to cut off his right to continue to serve as a citizen. In a sense, voting is one of the rights of a citizen and a good citizen does vote.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, if that is so, then we might just as well repeal the permanent registration law. After all, there is no reason in the world why a voter may not qualify himself and register just the way every other voter in the Commonwealth has to do. If he goes away, all he needs to do is vote by his absentee ballot, if he is a registered and qualified voter. I can see no reason in the world why anyone who wishes to cast a ballot in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, under our laws, should not be a qualified and a registered voter in order to do so.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I suggest to you that if this is the case, what do you do about a young man who goes into the service when he is eighteen or twenty years old and becomes twenty-one while he is in the service and is outside of the continental limits of the United States? He cannot vote until he gets back to the States, and it may be two years before that happens. Therefore, you have disenfranchised him for two years under the interpretation of a properly registered, duly qualified voter.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am of the opinion that unless these amendments are accepted here today, we should not even pass this bill. We are better off, I think, with the old legislation.

I am not one to generally quote editorials because I disagree with some editorials. However, there was an editorial in the Pittsburgh Post of November 17, 1959, which I think wraps this up in detail. It says:

"Ballot Bungling.

"The Senate in Harrisburg has thus far so amended legislation to permit absentee voting for Pennsylvanians as to disfranchise many among the intended beneficiaries of the earlier House legislation.

"Senate amendments have inserted a number of defects, among which three may be cited here:

"1. By requiring registration in advance (not required for military servicemen and hospitalized veterans), the Senate would continue to disfranchise civilians abroad who have never registered, including some wives of servicemen, some Red Cross personnel and their spouses, some U. S. Government workers and their spouses, some private business employes and social workers.

"2. By closely restricting the period within which an absentee may apply for a ballot, the senate would in effect void many applications made too soon or too late, and would, in all, add to the clerical burdens of county election bureaus that handle voting affairs. The valid period is fixed by the Senate amendment at from 30 to 7 days prior to an election. An application received before the 30th day would be void, as would one after the 7th day. At the least, the law should not disqualify applications received before the 30th day preceding an election.

"3. By ill-considered changes in the House legislation, the Senate would require a county election bureau to print four different kinds of ballots (one each for the several categories of voters) instead of a single ballot. This would, for example, add $30,000 a year to the printing costs for ballots here in Allegheny County.

"The Senate has not yet completed its work on absentee voting. Thus, time remains and should be advantageously employed by it to undo its amendment damage and to approve legislation similar to the models of fairness and good sense . . ." that we received from the House of Representatives.

I have worked with county election boards for quite some time, and the costs of elections keep increasing as the years go by. I do feel that what we should do here today is accept Senator Weiner's amendments and let us get the bill in print and review it again and see if there are any errors and pass it in that form.

I am going to wind up by saying that I feel we should accept these amendments. I think we should review this bill in detail because this is very, very important legislation. I do not believe that the Republicans deliberately tried to disfranchise anyone, but I do believe they possibly have not given a lot of thought to this problem. I believe these amendments are in error, and we should take Senator Weiner's amendments and review the legislation and pass it before we close this Session.

Incidentally, we are having a marathon Session and it appears that we are going to have lots of time, because the Republicans want to make sure that the Governor does not appoint any members to the Public Utility Commission.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a roll call vote on these amendments.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I also request a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the action of the Senate the other day, I hereby move that Senate Bill No. 1977, Printer's No. 2000, be recommitted to the Committee on Elections and that a resolution be prepared, thereby allowing the Local Government Commission to do a good job on elections. We hope that we will have it at the next regular Session.

Mr. President, this bill is no good now in its present form. Therefore, let us recommit it to the Committee on Elections.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call vote.

Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I request a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill only for the reason that I know full well it will go to a Conference Committee. Perhaps we can get some of our views to prevail in the Conference Committee, where as we may not be able to do so on this floor.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will vote "aye" on the bill.

RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a one hour recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus, to be held in the Caucus Room on the first floor.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Potter, Senator Berger.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Potter, Mr. Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, we are fast approaching the holiday season and next week will be the week of December 14. I believe after that we will have difficulty in getting the Members here because many of them have holiday plans.

Would the gentleman please advise us whether the intention is to adjourn sine die next week and work a full week, or is it the intention to continue on, thereby making no difference whether we are here next week, the following week or come back January 4, 1960, as far as clearing up the Calendar and other outstanding business is concerned?

Mr. BERGER. That was a long interrogation, Mr. President, but I will be glad to answer it.

First of all, I am sure that all the gentlemen on the other side have been forehanded and have their Christmas shopping completed.

Our plans, Mr. President, are to return here next Monday. During that week, we plan to proceed as rapidly as possible to dispose of all the legislation that remains on our Calendar. At the end of that week, we plan to take such recess or interval as may be necessary to permit all the Members to enjoy the holiday season at home.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please further advise us whether it is a fair conclusion that there will be no sine die adjournment until probably January 4th or 5th, of next year? If I am wrong in assuming that, would the gentleman please correct me?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, that is within the realm of possibility, but is by no means a certainty.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the Chair declares a one hour recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY WHETHER INDUSTRIAL DEAFNESS SHOULD BE A COMPENSABLE INJURY UNDER "THE PENNSYLVANIA OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE ACT"

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 123), which was read and referred to the Committee on Rules:

In the Senate, December 8, 1959.

The loss of hearing over a period of time due to industrial noise is not at present a compensable injury under "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act."

It is a known fact that the constant noise of industrial machinery to which many workers are subjected in the course of their employment causes an impairment and sometimes a complete loss of hearing. Such an injury is a direct result of the type of employment in which such individuals are engaged, and the injury is just as permanent and just as much of an obstacle to future employment and full enjoyment of life as is the sudden loss of hearing due to an explosion or other single incident, or the loss of sight or of a member of the body, all of which are now compensable injuries; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a study of whether industrial defense should be a compensable injury under "The Pennsylvania Occupational Disease Act," and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Whereas, Dr. Israel Zamost, it's founder and president has pioneered in establishing curricula for medical technologist, x-ray technologists and medical secretaries which are now in use in schools and hospitals throughout the World, and

Whereas, this Institution has contributed vital personnel to important medical research and to the care of patients in hospitals, laboratories and medical offices throughout the State and Nation, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania does hereby commend and congratulate Dr. Zamost and the Franklin School of Science and Arts in Philadelphia upon its Fortieth Anniversary and for its many contributions to modern medical sciences, and be it further

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I voted with the prevailing side.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

O God, Thou Omniscient One, we come to Thee in the realization that we, too, need the power of Thy wisdom. As Thou hast entrusted to these Thy servants the operation of lawmaking within this great Commonwealth, grant to them the knowledge whereby they may use wisely the wisdom which they possess. Purge their hearts and minds of all petty thoughts and selfish gain, and endow them with the truth which Thou wouldst have realized by their efforts. Through Thy divine counsel we pray that the Members of this House may continually seek and eternally follow Thy will and Thy way: through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

BIRTHDAY OF CHIEF PAGE

Mr. DENGLER. Mr. Speaker, we, from time to time, have very important birthdays coming up in this House, but today I think we have a very special one.

Today is Benny Foltz's birthday. Benny is our Chief Page and he does a wonderful job for us. I think we should all sing, very lustily, Happy Birthday Dear Benny.

The Members joined in singing "Happy Birthday."

The SPEAKER. Does the Chief Page desire to be recognized for any remarks.

CHIEF PAGE (Benny Foltz). Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I am very glad for this opportunity to thank all of the Members for the wonderful gift they gave me to enable me to talk with. I thank them from the bottom of my heart, and God bless you all. Thank you.

The SPEAKER. That is one of the many modern marvels, that little box which the Members of this House contributed. That little box enlightens life, encourages a man and is a lesson to all of us.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varallo for Mr. REIDENBACH for the remainder of the week because of illness.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. ROYER for today.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. BRENNINGER for today.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. HEFFNER for today.

Mr. Tompkins for Mr. O'DELL for the week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. CURWOOD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House, I come before you today with a very important situation I think, and I think it is dear to the hearts of every Member of this House, it is highway safety. I would like to give you an idea how our Highway Department is run.

The Highway Safety Department is something that is very dear to my heart and the hearts of all of us. I, for one, believe in strict prosecution but certainly not persecution, which may happen when an individual receives a summons from a police officer and for the sake of convenience pays his ticket to the Justice of the Peace without availing himself of the right to a hearing. A lot of your constituents have come to you in the same cause. He then receives correspondence from the Bureau of Highway Safety advising him of his right to a departmental hearing or a suspension. If he does not have this hearing, his license is suspended. If he does have the hearing, and I use this term loosely, because such a hearing is a mock hearing if I ever saw one, he still has his license suspended. The hearing examiners are afraid of being reprimanded if they choose to recommend no action, and lots of times no action should be recommended. No matter how legitimate the statement of the individual his license is still suspended. Just in case the hearing examiner should become daring and recommend no action, this decision is reviewed by the reviewing unit.

During the past three years, I have had many occasions to make inquiries from the staff members of the various bureaus of Highway Safety in the Department of Revenue. Without a doubt, the Bureau is the essence of organized confusion. There are many inconsistencies in their decisions and morale has reached its lowest ebb among the employees.

As a result, if an inquiry is made by a Member of the House, such as myself, it may be a month before a reply is received. The thought occurs that perhaps it is not a unique situation, where I alone have viewed this confused operation for some time.

We are dealing with human beings who are dependent upon their motor vehicle privileges, and who, in many instances, lose their jobs and are forced to be a burden to the taxpayers of the community.

I bring this statement to you for this reason: I think in my own mind, and I know you all feel the same way, that Highway Safety is one of the most essential things there is in the state of Pennsylvania, but I do contend if a man loses his license there should be some way he can get it back to make a living or something of that nature. I feel that we are a little bit too strict in some cases and not strict enough in other cases. I just wanted to bring that before the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GALLAGHER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to concur with Mr. Curwood's remarks. I, too, have had in my short time here many problems with the acquisition of drivers' licenses once a suspension has terminated.

It seems that the department is quick enough in taking the fellow's license from him but when the period is over, somewhere along the line, through probably some administrative confusion, for the license to be returned to the driver or the constituent, it takes them a week, or two or three weeks, or maybe a month, at the time.

I think there should be some provisions made, since today we are discussing some of the problems of highway safety, to return these licenses to these people who were suspended or revoked as promptly as they are picked up by the State Police or by the Department of Highway Safety.

Sometimes also there have been many cases where lencency could have been shown where there have been very extenuating circumstances, but at these so-called hearings before the Department of Highway Safety, apparently, the word of the person in question is not taken to heart and the Review Board just decides on the cold facts as they are written down on paper, and oftentimes the poor fellow is put out of work and his family goes hungry because of some mistake or misunderstanding.

I think that Mr. Curwood has a proper idea, and I hope that somebody will look into this matter and take steps to correct these problems.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. Before recognizing the gentleman from Cameron, the Chair desires to make a statement. The gentleman from Cameron sometimes says he needs a bell or he thinks he needs a bell in order to attract the attention of the Chair. I have also heard some complaint about that being a particularly noisy corner, subject to all kinds of interruptions.

If the Minority Leader desires to have a desk at a place on this side of the aisle, in the same relative location in which the desk of the Majority Leader is located, we can have such an installation made almost overnight.

We imagined that the Minority Leader is where he is because that is where he preferred to be, but if he would rather have a place similar to the one that the Majority Leader occupies, we will have it done overnight.

The Chair will admit it would be much easier to see him where the gentleman from Lancaster sits than it is to see him over there in that corner and sometimes the Minority Leader is so surrounded by advisers in that corner that it is difficult to tell just where the Minority Leader is to be found in the midst of the group.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the Chair for his very kind consideration of offering a bell, but I have already come prepared with a whistle.

The SPEAKER. That whistle can be used every time the Chair must needs be assisted by the Speaker's Page.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 1207

Mr. J. J. MURRAY. Mr. Speaker, I present the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 1207.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, there are several matters on the calendar that we did not finish caucusing on yesterday. Therefore, I would like permission of the House to hold a Republican caucus for 30 minutes, immediately.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the Democrat Members of the House will not caucus, and during this thirty-minute period they can do whatever they want to do, but we will start immediately upon the return of the Republican House Members. I ask, since we have the hundred Democrats here, that they all be here. We are going to vote on important legislation this afternoon.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hopes that the caucus can be confined within a half hour.

RECESS

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the Chair declares a recess of one-half hour.

The Chair hears none, and a recess is declared.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR.

The Chair might make an observation of possible interest to the Members. Before we depart we ought to have pictures taken of this Hall showing these piles of books because when you leave you say good-bye to them. They are never going to come back again. Other arrangements will be made that will serve the convenience of the Members of this House without them.

The Chair might observe that it is very possible that in order to serve the convenience of the Members there may be less space along the side aisles.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Varrallo for Mr. A. J. MURPHY for today.

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2459, entitled:

An Act establishing and taking over as State highways certain county highways or sections thereof tunnels, bridges, viaducts and approaches thereto in counties and certain streets in cities of the first class and certain streets in cities of the second class, second class A and third class and certain township roads and certain streets in boroughs and incorporated towns authorizing certain terms and conditions their construction, maintenance, repair, reconstruction and improvement by the Commonwealth conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities * * * for sharing of the cost * * * of such highways.

The first Article was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the Article?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, may I make a brief announcement in order to sort of set some of the folks straight on this highway bill? The interrogation of Mr. Comer will relate to the amendments that are going in and perhaps will settle the problems of a lot of those who have been asking questions.

Mr. Speaker, House Bill 2459, is better known as the omnibus bill. There are a great number of amendments which Members desire to offer to this bill. It is my understanding that requests were filed with the Chairman of the Highway Committee for a number of roads by a number of Members, copies of which are in possession of the Chairman of the Highway Committee, and among which are a great number which were not incorporated as a part of the omnibus bill. Is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now, does the gentleman have on file the requests which all of the Members filed with you?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If the Members should come to your office at a time to be fixed by you could they pick up those requests and get clearance with you to offer the amendments in a package rather than flood the Legislative Reference Bureau with requests for those amendments?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, as I believe we agreed, I do have all the requests that were offered by the Members, and if we are going to proceed along these lines as far as all requests were placed I would suggest that my office make the amendments rather than the reference Bureau, because on these requests many of them were not accurate and had to be checked out with the Highway Department and District Engineer for correct descriptions. In other words, if a Member takes one of his own descriptions to the Reference Bureau and has it drawn up it will only make another error in the bill, which we are trying to avoid.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, does the gentleman have in his possession a correct description of all the requests which have been filed?

Mr. COMER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Could the various Members then come to the gentleman's office and check them out further with him and have him incorporate them into his package of amendments?

Mr. COMER. They could, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. There are some who have requests which were never filed with the gentleman's Committee. What should those people do with their proposed amendments? Should they bring them to the gentleman's office, too, in order that they could be checked out to be incorporated in the same manner?

Mr. COMER. That description, Mr. Speaker, of those that never were filed, they would have to give me some idea, and many of them are 'way off base, and they would have to be sent to the Highway Department, who in turn would send them to the District Engineer in their districts, which could take three, four, five days, a week.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, do I understand then that so far as requests which have been filed, if they come to the gentleman's office he will be glad to go over those requests with them and then incorporate them as part of his package of amendments?

Mr. COMER. Those that are on file, yes, Mr. Speaker. If I may interrupt Mr. Tompkins, I might suggest if the Members have any that have not been filed, I would suggest that when they get back home this week they get an accurate description from the Highway Office, bring them in—

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader to whom the gentleman from Philadelphia has yielded.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Comer, I did not understand anything about that in our conference, about the people going to go home this week end and get amendments ready. If I understood correctly, the Senate has agreed to work so many days next week, this bill would be finished and be amended tomorrow, Wednesday. You would pass it on Monday, it goes right on through. If you are going to amend on Monday and Tuesday, the answer is "No."

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

Mr. McCANN. I mean there is no interrogation. I do not believe I misunderstood the conference that Mr. Johnson, Mr. Helm, Mr. Bower, Mr. Tompkins, you and I, were in about amendments, but I believe the amendments were to be finished by tomorrow.

Mr. COMER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, with those that have been filed, but a question was raised and what is the position I am supposed to take with a request that was never filed, where it will take anywhere from four days to a week. Should I answer Mr. Tompkins by saying forget about it?

The SPEAKER. Will the House be at ease until the leaders have clarified the procedure. So far a very admirable job has been done in straightening out procedures.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, further interrogation of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, you have on file a great number of requests from Members which are not incorporated as a part of this present bill, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Those requests have all been checked out, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And if these Members will come to your office at a time to be fixed by you, you will pull out of your files their particular requests and work on their requests as a part of your package amendment, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. If a Member presently has some that were never filed with you, but have been checked out, they should clear them with you also, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Those who have requests which have not been checked out, it will be impossible to incorporate them in your package amendment, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That will have to be taken care of, then, in the Senate, when the bill gets over there.

Mr. COMER. That is right.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what time the gentleman will fix when Members may come to his office and see him and get this matter ironed out?

Mr. COMER. I would have to ask the Majority Leader what the schedule is for this afternoon.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I think that is proper on that part. The gentleman will have to use the time tonight and in the morning. This House will convene tomorrow at 10:00 a. m. I want the gentleman to finish the work during the night, following the Session, and in the morning from 8:30 a. m. until 10:00 a. m.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, that will be working a little close there.

Mr. McCANN. We do not have many days left. We all want to go home.

Mr. COMER. May I suggest then that we open the Session tomorrow at 11:00 o'clock. This is a lot of work.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of getting this bill finished, I will go along with convening this House at 11:00 a. m., but they must work tonight as well as tomorrow morning.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, may I suggest that I go down to the office now and start taking the Member's requests.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Then, Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman will be in his office beginning now and will run through until—not all night I suspect—but he will be there at 11:00 o'clock tomorrow? Anything that is not cleared with the gentleman by that time, by the Members coming to him, will not then be incorporated as an amendment in this bill.

Mr. COMER. I would suggest that all the Members get down there by 7:00 o'clock this evening. There is quite a bit of work attached to making these up.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Are there any questions on the part of any of the Members now, any Member who do not clearly understand what this situation is?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to Article I?

It was agreed to.

The second to sixth Articles inclusive and title were separately read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 446.

An Act relating to the legitimacy of children born of void or voidable marriages.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, page 1, by striking out after the word "cases" the words "of a" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "where a supposed or alleged marriage is contracted which is absolutely void by reason of one of the parties thereto having a spouse living at the time of the supposed or alleged marriage or if for any other lawful reason the said marriage was"; line 6, by striking out after the word "voidable" the word "marriage" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "when contracted"; page 2, line 1, by striking out after the word "to" the words "the parties of such void or voidable marriage" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "such parties"; line 3, by striking out after the word "parties" the words "of such void or voidable marriage."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose any requests for concurrence in Senate amendments to House Bill 446.

This bill was previously considered both by the House and by the Senate. At the time it was considered I raised certain objections in the House, mainly that the bill was morally objectionable, and cited a good many reasons therefor.

This bill has been amended by the Senate, and the Senate amendments do not improve the bill one iota. In my opinion it subjects the bill and will subject the people, I claim, to open prostitution. The bill now has been greatly broadened and provides that when any alleged marriage is absolutely void—not void or voidable, but absolutely void—by reason of one of the parties already having another spouse living at the time of the alleged or supposed marriage, all children born to such parties shall be deemed legitimate children of both parties.

That, Mr. Speaker, may be legal phraseology, but let us put it more simply and state this: Where a man has a legitimate spouse living and knows that the legitimate spouse is alive and well, and a woman has a legitimate spouse alive and that woman knows that legitimate spouse is living, and those people, perhaps to deceive a person, or for any other purpose, enter into a supposed or alleged marriage which is absolutely void, the children born thereof shall be deemed legitimate.

This bill I claim is morally objectionable. It encourages parties who have a legal husband or wife, with open knowledge of said fact, and without any evidence of good faith on the part of either, to live together in open lewdness and public indecency and to bear children in open defiance of marital responsibilities and relationships, and at the same time for them to tell the world, the devil with all decent moral relationships and decent marriages entered into in good faith.

Children born of these illegitimate and indecent relationships deprive legitimate children of one-third to one-half of their property rights. Call it what you will, I say it is wrong, immoral and indecent. The door is open for men and women to live in prostitution in open defiance of decent conduct and proper relationship. For that reason I oppose concurrence.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1322.

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire the Wolf Academy in East Allen Township Northampton County providing for its restoration improvement future care and maintenance as an historical site and making an appropriation

Whereas the Wolf Academy located near Bath in East Allen Township Northampton County was named in honor of George Wolf the seventh Governor of Pennsylvania and founder of the public school system of this State who was reared immediately adjacent thereto and educated therein and

Whereas this native stone structure constructed in the year 1785 provided the fine academic training necessary to enable George Wolfe to become one of the most outstanding citizens in our early Commonwealth and to serve in such capacities as a member of the House of Representatives Congressman and Governor and

Whereas the Wolf Academy is one of the earliest of our historical landmarks of which there are too few in an area so rich with historical lore being one of the early structures erected in the first settlement of white people in Northampton County and

Whereas this little stone school house which is the only physical monument to George Wolf that early day statesman who contributed so greatly toward the education and development of this Commonwealth is in a very sad state of repair and faces the possibility of forever being lost to us as an historical structure unless funds are made available for its purchase.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 3, line 7 by striking out the words and numerals "twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof the words and numerals "ten thousand dollars ($10,000)."

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 2150.

An Act amending the act of August 9, 1955 (P. L. 323), entitled "An act relating to counties of the third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" authorizing the levy and collection of an additional tax for municipal improvement to lands and buildings damaged by subsidence due to underground mining of coal.

With the information that the Senate had passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 1, line 6, by inserting after the word "subsidence" the following: "due to underground mining of anthracite coal."

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 10, by inserting after the word "mining" the words "of anthracite or bituminous coal"; page 2, line 14, by striking out the following "Moneys in said fund shall be used only in those instances where liability for said subsidence cannot be established and enforced Moneys may be used for all necessary expenses to establish and enforce liability through investigations and court actions."

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have just made a hasty restudy of this bill.

As I understand it, when the bill left the House it was Printer's No. 1848 and it provided for money for subsidence due to underground mining. On second reading in the Senate it was amended "underground mining of anthracite coal." Then on third reading in the Senate it was amended "underground mining of anthracite or bituminous coal."

I was just wondering whether we were at odds with the Senate on this bill. We sent it over that it would apply to all underground mining, now the Senate says anthracite or bituminous coal.

May I interrogate the Majority Leader and ask him just what is now wrong with the bill? The bill is now really the way it was when it left the House, underground mining would cover anthracite or bituminous coal.

If you will refer to Printer's No. 1848 of the bill when it left the House, I believe it just covers underground mining. I am addressing this personally to the Majority Leader, is that not correct?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct. The title when it left the House—said buildings damaged by subsidence.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. In the bill, in the body of the bill I believe on page 2, line 10, it says "subsidence due to underground mining."

Mr. McCANN. When the bill left the House, Mr. Speaker, on line 10 it read "due to underground mining." The Senate added "of anthracite or bituminous coal" in amendments offered in the Senate.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Majority Leader, is that an appreciable change, because underground mining could cover slate or could cover other minerals but the Senate has nailed down and restricted it to anthracite or bituminous coal. What are you objecting to in the bill, that you do not want us to concur in those amendments?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I do and I think our explanation will be clear.

When House Bill 2150 was here, the said bill was devised by the anthracite representatives along with the Senator from Luzerne County who discussed this bill in my office.

This particular piece of legislation pertained in their discussion to anthracite mining. Although it did not read clearly anthracite, if you will turn to the title you find that the Act applied to counties of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class. The county in the second class, Allegheny, is in the bituminous field. It has subsidence but was not covered in the bill. I believe it was agreed that this bill pertained to anthracite at that discussion. The amendments offered in the Senate made it absolutely clear that it was dealing only with underground mining of coal both in anthracite and bituminous.

We have no basic objection to the underground mining of coal because there are limestone mines and slate mines, all of these are underground mines, but we do object to the amendments that make it absolutely clear that it includes bituminous fields.

I will give it to you in this way. In Washington County which is a bituminous county, one township is Peters Township which adjoins Allegheny County on the borderline. Most of the people in this county came from Allegheny when they moved to the area. Subsidence is existing in that township. Even though the subsidence in Peters Township stops at the county line as far as this bill is concerned, the subsidence does not stop there, it crosses over into Allegheny County but the Washington County Commissioners, for example, would be asked by the residents of Peter's Township in Washington County, to impose a one mill tax for subsidence in Peter's Township, Washington County. However, if your house was across the line in Allegheny County, they could not do this because it is not in this proposed legislation. Until we find a way to resolve this in the bituminous field we ask that you agree to non-concur.

We wholeheartedly support the position of the anthracite people, if this is what they want but we ask bituminous people to be clearly refrained or removed from the bill as far as subsidence is concerned because of underground bituminous coal mining.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, in other words what your objective is you want to change the bill from the way it was when it left the House, it covered all types of underground mining, which would cover the iron ore mines at Cornwalls. You want the bill restricted to just anthracite mines. Is that correct?

Mr. McCANN. Anthracite, underground mining. I do not know enough about the anthracite field, but the bill left the House without our checking closely enough. The way it was written, Mr. Speaker, it covered every type of mining underground. We, in order to correct it in a Conference Committee, the Senate has agreed that they will go along to make it clear, that we will take care of the anthracite coal field in underground mining of anthracite, period.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the interrogation was to make it clearer to those who are interested in the bill, who perhaps come from bituminous mine fields where they have subsided, as to just what the bill now provides, and I believe that you should vote your district on this bill. If you want your county commissioners to be allowed to levy one mill to rip out the subsidence in bituminous mines you should vote to concur in the Senate amendments. If you want to restrict it to the anthracite fields you should vote to non-concur and put it in a Conference Committee.

Personally, I think the bill is all right the way it is and I intend to vote to concur in the amendments offered by the Senate.

Mr. McCANN. I will ask the Membership of this House to support my position of nonconcurring in the amendments.

As the interrogation clearly brought out here, we want to give to the anthracite fields that which they have requested, and we ask that they leave the bituminous field alone because we cannot find the answer in our second class county as well as our other classes of counties.

In the county of Greene, the county I represent, we have some subsidence. Our commissioners have asked as a matter of record that at the present time we do not include the bituminous field, including my county, until they have had an opportunity to meet this problem a little differently in the bituminous field.

I ask that you support our position of nonconcurring on House Bill 2150.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division was called for, one hundred and two Members having voted in the affirmative and fifty-four in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were nonconcurrent in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

Mr. TOPKINS. Do I understand we are on page 4, House Bill 2338, Printer's No. 2046?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The bill is better known as the Unemployment Compensation Bill?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I just wanted to point that out so the Members would know exactly what bill we are voting on.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there are just a few items that I think we could quickly cover in 2338 that seem to have some bit of misinformation.

I would say one of the greatest pieces of misinformation in 2338 is the information that someone has disseminated that if your present rate is a low rate of payment what your rate will be after 2338 is law. For example, I know that some of our major companies and individuals who will be covered by this particular piece of legislation have not had any UC claims for years and are deeply interested in the merit rating section. They have been told time and time again by the people in charge, and also by the wording in the bill, that their rate will be the low rate, that the new rate will not be the high rate at the top to build up the fund until such time as the fund reaches a stipulated amount.

I think it is clear to say that 10 days ago the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, a rather large, careful organization, endorsed this bill, 2338, Printer's No. 2046, in its entirety; that the labor unions of Pennsylvania are in absolute agreement as to the intent and wording of 2338; that the bill as it left the House of Representatives was a bill little more liberal than the present bill, but it had certain sections that I am glad were corrected, such as the clause dealing with when the additional tax would be imposed should the fund drop below $300 million. As it left the House, for example, if the fund hit $299 million, the additional tax would go into effect and the fund would then go over the year and up to $349 million before it would drop off.

What did they do in the amendments worked out in the Senate? The fund can drop to $250 million. Then the additional tax goes into effect, which would bring the fund back up to the $300 million level and this, of course, you know quite well will not occur until approximately the 1961-62 period, but it is extremely important.

The electronic industry and the telephone industry are satisfied at this point as to the full intention and meaning of the amendments placed in 2338 by the Senate. The legal counsel for both of these groups as well as other groups have in their possession in writing a letter, as well as the letter that was given to Senator Thomas Harney, a copy of which was given to Mr. Johnson, the Minority Leader, pertaining to these clarifications.

With all these major concessions made in this bill I think that Pennsylvania again can step forward and say we are proud of our UC law. It is not the best that we would want, but it is a step in the right direction, and we are proud to support it.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I have in my possession a letter addressed to the Honorable Thomas P. Harney, signed by Morley W. Baker, who is of counsel for the Bureau of Employment Security and it explains the way the Bureau would interpret the various sections of the bill in question, and I would like to offer this letter for the record and have it placed in the record.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The letter will be spread upon the records of the House.

Re: House Bill No. 2338

Dear Mr. Harney:

In response to your inquiry to Mr. A. Allen Sulcove, Executive Director of the Bureau of Employment Security, as to the interpretation and application of the provisions of subsection 301.1 (f) contained in House Bill No. 2338, Mr. Sulcove has authorized me to advise you as follows. The basic provisions contained in this Bill with respect to the schedule of unemployment compensation rates provides for a flat rate of four percent, and variable rates for those employers who can qualify, depending upon the combination of a Funding Factor, an Experience Factor, and a State Adjustment Factor. The aggregate of these Factors, however, cannot exceed four percent.

The Funding Factor ranges from five-tenths to one per cent. The Experience Factor ranges from five-tenths to three per cent. However, when the balance in the Unemployment Compensation Trust Fund is more than three hundred million dollars as of December 31st of any calendar year, the Funding Factor of all employers for the succeeding calendar year is reduced to zero and the minimum Experience Factor is reduced from five-tenths to one-tenth of one percentum. This situation would continue in effect until the balance in the fund thereafter would fall below two hundred and fifty million dollars as of December 31st of any subsequent year. If the fund balance did fall below two hundred and fifty million dollars, then the Funding Factor schedule would be restored and the minimum Experience Factor would be raised to five-tenths of one percent, until such time as the fund balance again exceeded three hundred million dollars as of December 31st.

The foregoing represents the understanding of the interested parties and is the construction which the Bureau of Employment Security will place upon this subsection.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Morley W. Baker

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DOWN filed the following reasons for his vote on House Bill 2338.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to submit my reasons for voting for House Bill 2338, Printer's No. 2046.

I voted against the bill as it originally passed the House because many of the loopholes were not taken out of the bill.

We all realize Unemployment Compensation is essential not only to help those people who become unemployed because of no fault of their own, but it is also good for the economy of the State.

I now realize that this bill is a compromise and the best bill we can get.

It does give the small businessman some relief and it tightens up on some of the loopholes that I object to.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, since this is the best bill we can get at this time, I am going to support the bill.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. COMER asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Highways to meet during the session of the House.

contract may contain such other provisions not inconsistent with this act or otherwise prohibited by law as the bank or bank and trust company and the borrower may agree upon. The amount of credit extended to any borrower pursuant to this clause together with the principle balance or balances outstanding on all installment loans made pursuant to clause (4) of this subsection on which interest is charged at a higher rate than six percent simple interest shall not at any time exceed the principal amount set forth in subclause (a) of clause (4) of this subsection taking into consideration the character of such installment loans. The amount in which a borrower has become indebted on any loan made pursuant to this clause shall be repayable in substantially equal successive monthly payments beginning not more than sixty-two days after the date on which such loan is made. Interest may be calculated on the basis of either a thirty-day month and a three hundred sixty-day year or a calendar month and a calendar year. No additional charge for delinquency or otherwise shall be made or contracted for directly or indirectly on or in connection with any such loan except the following (a) ten cents for each check paid by the bank or bank and trust company pursuant to this clause (b) premiums paid by the bank or bank and trust company for insurance obtained as security for or by reason of such loan (c) such amounts as are necessary to reimburse the bank or bank and trust company for fees paid to a public officer for filing recording or releasing any instrument or lien and (d) the actual expenditure including reasonable ten per cent for attorney's fees for legal process and proceedings to secure or collect any such loan.

Section 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I may preface my remarks that I am about to make, that the people perhaps, even if I do not consider myself for the moment, should be pleased that they do have state Representatives here and Senators in the other body who are here to protect their interests at all times.

This bill has allegedly been improved by the Conference Committee to the detriment of both banks and our poor and middle-class people. Instead of six percent per year interest, those seeking to make loans will now bring at least twelve percent per year and in some cases more than twelve percent, since, according to the bill, interest can be computed on 360 days instead of 365 or 366 days per year.

The bill provides for a loan of money without notes, just by the borrower submitting a check, whether or not he has money in the bank to meet the check is immaterial. If there is any question as to whether what I am saying is correct or not, I refer you to lines 11 to 15 on page 4 of this bill.

This bill subjects our conservative savings banks to a dangerous gambling situation which helped cause our panic and crash in 1929. Our poor and middle class depositors will suffer and lose their life savings. The bill also provides for ten cents per check in addition to the twelve percent interest. It also provides, in addition thereto, for premiums paid by the bank for insurance as security or by reason of said loan-unlimited as to the amount paid for said premiums.

In addition thereto, if that were not enough, the bill also provides for fees paid to the public official for recording or releasing any instrument. I said fees, not only the actual cost paid, but all fees paid. And, if that were not enough, it also provides for all other actual expenditures including ten percent attorney's fees merely to secure any loan. This last item, I submit, is not permitted to any small loan company or under the Small Loans Act. No percentage whatsoever can be collected by any small loans company. Attorney's fees are prohibited by the Small Loans Act and by the Banking Department in all cases of small loans under the Act, and yet this particular bill seeks to make this legal in bank loans.

I am pleased to see that labor does oppose this bill and put it on the disapproved list. In conclusion, I call this bill outrageously damaging to our monetary system, highly detrimental to our savings banks and the taking over of our poor and middle class people together with their savings. This bill, if it were passed and signed by the Governor, would help lead to a crash unheard of heretofore.

I strongly urge you on both sides of the House to oppose this outrageous bill.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House. I am much impressed by the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sherman.

It is true that on the basis of a quick and cursory reading on page 4 of the bill, lines 11 through 15, and from the standpoint that the saver, the depositor of a savings account in a bank, the bank, if it utilizes such a plan, would not have notes. I would respectfully suggest to those of the Membership who are interested enough in this bill to go beyond what is said on the floor and what is reported in so-called approved or disapproved lists, if they read the bill they will see that although there is no note there is a contract.

I would emphasize one thing, if it please this House, we have a bad habit, and I think it is a bad habit, of making whipping boys of certain institutions and certain persons.

This is not a compulsory thing as far as the banks are concerned. The amendment is to the "Banking Code" whereby the powers of banks are enlarged, but the choice is theirs. It is a voluntary choice on the part of the banks whether they want to utilize this law or this power or not.

Secondly, it is a matter of voluntary choice upon the customer, we will call him that, of the bank, whether he, himself, becomes a party to this type of transaction. I do not believe we should make banks, business banks, whipping boys for this reason: They are a competitive business. Money is a commodity just as any other thing is a commodity, just as food, just as tools, just as grain; just as cattle, money too is a commodity. Money has a market. The banks have competition certainly from building and loan associations, certainly from small loan companies, and certainly from, in these days, credit unions. We only ask that this bill receive the support of this House to keep the banks competitive.

If you will recall, ladies and gentlemen of the House, when this bill was in the House previously, it was amended so as to reduce the interest rate to three-quarters of one percent. That is the monthly interest charge, a total, I suppose, in round numbers of nine percent in the course of a year. It was restored in conference to one percent per month or 12 percent per year. This is not exorbitant, this is not gouging the poor fellow. Everytime you wave the bloody red flag of the poor man, the poor little cramped individual, you are just obscuring facts, and let us look at the facts coldly here. You are not hurting anybody here. Nobody is compelled to participate in the plan, and, if a bank does adopt the plan, no customer of the bank is compelled to join the plan.

This bill, contrary to what may have been the impression left, has at least the tacit approval, the tacit consent, of the Department of banking. It has the wholehearted consent of the responsible traditionally conservative banking institutions in our own localities. I think one thing that the House of Representatives has always tried to do and that is to try to protect the little people by preventing them from being driven to the loan shark. I think this bill accomplishes that purpose, because it keeps the banks in a competitive position so that they can give service to their customers without driving them out to questionable sources of loans.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before us once before I voted for the bill just as I took a position on the increase in interest rates by small loan companies and voted against that particular bill.

I do not believe that Members of the House as given to us by Mr. Schaaf, should automatically have a preconceived notion because of the particular institution that is involved in the bill. In other words, just because it is a bank does not mean that you should vote against a bill which may help a bank. As I stated the last time, the reason I can vote for this type of bill is because if you balance the equities of a person who is looking for a loan, who needs a loan, where would he be better off, going to a small loan company, or going to a bank? I think the only conclusion you can come to is that person would be better off dealing with a bank than with a small loan company because of the difference in interest rates.

Let us take for granted that the interest rate here is one percent. The small loan company interest rate, as we know, is three percent a month, in some cases, 2.5 percent a month in some cases, and 1.5 percent a month in some cases, irrespective of the amount involved, so that on all scores the person going to the bank under this bill will be paying in some cases one-third of the amount of interest they would pay if they went to a small loan company.

Another great advantage that this bill has is the fact that the person who enters into an agreement with the bank does not pay interest on any of the money until he uses the money. That is a very great and definite advantage to the borrower. I, therefore, have no hesitancy in voting for this bill.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am glad I am not a learned banker. I cannot, therefore, comprehend the logic of being driven out of one loan shark's clutches into the clutches of another. Talk about pity for the little fellow, for the fellow that is up against it. Well, I have a bit of boyhood background on that.

I was raised in the middle west. I can remember the time when the farmer was hard up and had to pay 12 to 15 percent for his money and it took us, I do not know how long in this state, but it took us 20 years in Iowa to force the banks to a 6 percent rate of interest. A bank has certain public responsibilities and it seems peculiar to me that at a time when the dividends of banks are skyrocketing and money is gravitating more and more into the hands of a comparatively narrowing group that the heart of the banker grows soft and wants to do something for the fellow who is in trouble. Now he says that we no longer recognize 6 percent as a reasonable return on money; 12 percent is a reasonable return on money.

Our Public Utility Commission law, I believe, states that 6 percent is a reasonable return, maybe it is 7, and I leave it to the judgment of this House whether 6 percent is or is not a reasonable return in accordance with the recognition which we have given that particular total.

I very much regret that the Democratic party, long a friend to the little fellow who has struggled, suddenly becomes banker-conscious and says that the proper rate for money if you are hard up is 12 percent, if you are not so hard up maybe you can get it for four or five. I am against this bill.

Mr. GELFAND. Mr. Speaker, I also rise in opposition to this bill. I am very, very happy that our eminent Speaker has spoken so ably in opposition, although he did take some of the words right out of my mouth, because to me it appears to make no difference whether you go to one loan shark or another.

When this bill first came to the House from the Senate and was on our daily calendar, we had a lengthy debate, and the bill was defeated by a vote of 91 to 88. At that time the bill provided for 12 per cent interest, and that was one of the basic factors which led to its defeat.

Ultimately the bill was called up a second time and it was amended. The basic amendment made to the bill was that the interest rate was reduced from 12 per cent to 9 per cent. At the time the bill passed this House. Now, much to our chagrin and surprise, we have back the same bill after it has been considered by a Conference Committee. And what did the Conference Committee do? It completely ignored what we in the House thought was proper, and reorganized the bill in such a fashion as to be almost exactly as it was originally when it came to this House, with an interest rate of 12 per cent instead of the 9 per cent to which we had amended it. As the Speaker said, and as I would like to reiterate, one loan shark is no worse than another.

Also, I would like to put in the record a statement which I received in the mail from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, and which, incidentally, includes the basic reasons the Governor gave for vetoing another bill which was an increased rate for the small loan corporations.

Among the things the statement of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor says are these:

This bill permits an increase in interest rates above the 6 per cent simple interest rate for amounts now subject to that limitation. It would encourage the widespread and unnecessary contracting of consumers' debts at a time when credit and installment buying is at an all time high.

This would place in greater jeopardy the economic security of the individual families so involved. The practice contributes to inflation more so than other causes in that it devaluates the dollar even further by siphoning off an additional amount for increased interest rates while it, at the same time, serves to lower the standard of living of wage earners and small income groups by reducing the purchasing power of the dollar.

Moreover, the attraction of investment capital for this particular phase of consumer credit financing would serve further to decrease the mortgage market and cause the already declining number of new housing starts to drop even further.

Also I would like to call to the attention of the House that recently in Forbes magazine I read that at a meeting of the American Bankers Association one of the leading economists of the United States decried the fact that the banks were starting to go into this type of financing because what it was doing was leading to more installment buying and actually siphoning off the purchasing power of the small people for future years. So that what we are doing is putting ourselves into debt for future years and possibly leading to a tremendous inflationary climate in our economy.

I would suggest that each Member of this House consider this bill fully, and when they consider their vote that they vote against it because it presents a danger to the economy, not only of the Commonwealth but of our country.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will either Mr. Schaaf, the gentleman from Erie, or Mr. Schwartz, the gentleman from Philadelphia, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SCHAAF. With great trepidation, yes, sir.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that under the provisions of this bill there is no limitation insofar as the amount of a loan is concerned? In other words, if a man is seeking a $5,000 loan, he can go to the bank and the bank will tell him, enter into a contract, and you will be subject to 12 per cent interest. Is that not true?

Mr. SCHAAF. I am informed, Mr. Speaker, that this is not so, that Section 4 of this particular bill, which is not including in the bill, sets a limitation of $3500.

Mr. H. M. GOLDSTEIN. $3500? Thank you for the information. That is all.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, regardless of whether or not the limitation is $3500 or otherwise, we feel the net result of this bill will be inflationary.

I read with great interest in the papers throughout the country that the Democrat National Advisory Committee has taken the position against an increase in interest rates. With the Democrat National Advisory Committee I concur, and I suggest that the Members on the other side of the aisle can follow the Democrat National Advisory Committee by voting against this bill.

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I will be very brief. I apparently do not share the identical political philosophy of some Members of this House, and at the risk of incurring the wrath of some of the Members I again repeat my comment, that I do not think as a political party we on this side of the House say that all banks are gougers and all people who bank in banks are the common people and, therefore, we are for them.

I take issue with Mr. Andrew's remarks when he made the parallel between this bill and the guaranteed six or seven per cent return of a public utility and, since that is the figure that should be acceptable to banks, I do not think there is any comparison. I think, if I am correct in my thinking, that is a net return to the particular utility. We are talking about interest that a bank or banking institution obtains; we are talking about the gross returns from which must be set off their expenses of doing business.

Lastly, Mr. Speaker, I would say this: This is not a bad bill. We talk in broad terms about asking business to come into the state of Pennsylvania by making the state of Pennsylvania attractive for business. I would just ask a rhetorical question of the Members of the House. If a business does want to come into Pennsylvania and is in need of funds, is in need of a loan, and does not have real estate to subject to the payment of those loans, it does not go to a building and loan association, it does not go to a credit union, it does not go to a small loan company. It goes to the bank, the center of the financial activity in the particularly locality.

I urge every Member of this House, in fairness to their own communities to support this bill.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like sometime to have the opportunity of debating this question of banking with the Speaker of the House. Of course, he prefaced those remarks by saying that he does not know too much about banking. Well, I think it is obvious that he does not.

The reason I make that statement, and make it knowingly, is because he, as well as some other people, lose sight completely of what is happening in banking circles today. You all know that the Federal government has recently issued bonds which pay five per cent interest. Now, you tell me, in God's name, how a bank can lend money at six per cent, unsecured, to an individual, when by the same token they can get five per cent guaranteed from the Federal government on bonds?

The same thing is true if you know anything about the mortgage market at the present time. Builders are paying as high as eight and ten per cent bonus in order to receive a mortgage at six per cent interest. We cannot stop at this level at the present time and say to the bank, you cannot charge this, and this, and this, without realizing what money is costing the banks today. If you read the papers at all you know what the prime rate of interest is and how it has increased in the last year or year and a half. I say you just cannot take this situation and put it in a cocoon, or act like an ostrich and put your head in the ground and say, we do not care what the banks are paying for their money, six per cent is enough for them. I say that is the wrong way to look at this situation.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, very briefly, can we stop this outrageous situation, shall we stop this outrageous situation? In my opinion it is about time we did. What are we waiting for, a crash like we had in 1929? What are we waiting for? According to the amendment fixing the amount of interest, the costs and fees come to about twenty to twenty-five per cent of the loan. Not only are you taking those people over, but what is he waiting for where the banks themselves are concerned? According to these savings banks, whether it is the Philadelphia Savings or any other conservative banking institution which is permitted to make loans without any notes, any security, are you waiting for them to go up?

I ask you to vote against this bill, and I ask a strong vote in protest against actions of this kind.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I want a very short period in which to reply to the distinguished financial authority from Philadelphia.

It happens that I have a small amount of money in a bank. It is a good bank, and I presume that I should put some more money in there as a time deposit and get three per cent, or have it as an open checking account, and increase that. Why? So, the bank can lend my money that is not costing them anything, or on which they are paying me three per cent, to the gentleman from Philadelphia for twelve.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I did not intend to take the floor on this bill. Why? Because I have had calls from institutions that are for it and from those who are against it.

Let us not work ourselves into hysteria here that is absolutely unwarranted. The present law is that a bank can lend you $3,500 on an installment note on which they have added, in effect, 12 percent interest. It is the law today. The only difference between this bill and the present law is that under present law you go into a bank, arrange for your loan, sign a judgment note, and they credit your account with it. They divide it by 12, 24 or 36, the number of payments, and you pay 12 percent interest on the installment loan under present day law. Banks are doing it today all over Pennsylvania. The only change, as I see it, in this bill and present law is that you will sign a contract with the bank that you have a credit up to a certain amount of money. I understand that most of those contracts, if not all of them, contain a confession of judgment clause. It is true that it is money on tap, money that you can draw on when you need it, and you do not pay interest on it until you draw it. But if I understand the banking laws correctly today, up to $3,500 the rate is presently 12 percent. I personally cannot see how this is any more inflationary than the present day $3,500 installment loan that we have in banks.

So, let us not get hysterical about this. The sky is not going to fall on Pennsylvania if this bill passes, so help me. I do not believe any bank will, in a very flimsy way, indiscriminately hand out the depositors' money in a reckless manner which will cause unusual losses to the bank, or create any undue inflation. That is my opinion on this bill.

Mr. HEAVEY. Mr. Speaker, when you want to borrow money you go to the cheapest place. I talked to one of the officials of a big bank in Philadelphia and he told me these small loans we are talking about today cost the bank nine percent.

It looks to me like we are making a mountain out of a molehill. These small loans have gone over very well with the people of the Commonwealth at all the large banks, and they are making great use of it. I do not see anything wrong with the bill.

On the question recurring,

SENATE MESSAGE

APPOINTMENT OF CONFERENCE COMMITTEE ON SENATE BILL No. 24

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate insists on its nonconcurrence in the amendments made and insisted upon by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill No. 24, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 1, 1956 (P. L. 1944) entitled "An act providing a permanent allocation of a part of the fuels and liquid fuels tax proceeds to cities boroughs incorporated towns and townships for their road street and bridge purposes . . ." continuing a conditional appropriation beyond the calendar year of 1959 making an additional allocation and appropriation to municipalities.

And has appointed Messrs. Watkins, Wade and Hays a committee of conference to confer with a similar committee of the House of Representatives (if the House of Representatives shall appoint such committee) on the subject of the difference existing between the two Houses in relation to said bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House insist upon its amendments non-concurred in by the Senate to Senate Bill No. 24 and that a Committee of Conference be appointed.

The motion was agreed to.

APPOINTMENT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON SENATE BILL No. 24

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Speaker has appointed as a committee of Conference on the part of the House, Messrs. POLEN, HAMILTON and EWING.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly. The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair now returns the gavel to the Speaker.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) IN THE CHAIR

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to announce there are some anonymous sources, Members of the House, who do not care to be identified with the gift that the Chair has today received, $60, as an addition to the $600 that has been sent to CARE in the name of the House.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up House Bill No. 2093 on page 2 of today's calendar, bills on final passage.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2093, entitled:

An Act fixing the salaries and compensation of members of certain boards and commissions and repealing inconsistent acts.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCANN. I do not think there is much use wasting much time on this bill now. I understand that I have no supporting votes from the Republican side of the House on House Bill 2093. I believe the bill is a very sound piece of legislation, but there is no use in debating it since it was discussed at a prior date, but we have all the information available for debate.

I think the Republican leadership knows how many votes there are on this side of the House today, how many are for the bill, how many are against the bill. Therefore, I have no objection to any type of a roll call they may care to take, slow, fast, division, whatever it may be, on House Bill No. 2093, the last bill of the day.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, of course, it would be nice to be able to raise the salaries of all the members of these boards and commissions. On this side of the House we think there are some persons named in the bill who would earn the money. There are a lot of others that only show up about one day a week and there is some question whether the money that they are getting now is not more than they earn.

I am giving you the position of the Republican caucus. Perhaps if you had a series of bills on the calendar and separated each one, there would be some of them that would have some merit and would receive the favorable approval of the Republicans Caucus.

Coming down through the hall, one Member came to me and expressed his ideas about the bill. He said, here we have a situation before the Senate now. We have sent House Bill 1108 over there. They trimmed it down to the small sum of $16 million, and the Governor's office has said there is not even $16 million for 1108. In fact, there is no money in that budget for public schools.

I am wondering whether there is any money in the budget for these salary raises. I just talked to Mr. Tompkins who was on the Committee of Conference and nothing was said to him that there was money available in the budget to pay for these raises. Maybe there is. Maybe it is tucked away some place and maybe we in voting for the conference report inadvertently added money for these raises not realizing what was going on. But so far it has been pointed out that the four percent sales tax gives money to raise salaries of cabinet officials but no money for House Bill 2093.

That seems to be the situation that prevails. So on this side of the House we are solidly against the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, there is no use trying to hide behind the veil of the fact that there is no money to pay for these. If you would have asked the question, how much it costs for each one when it goes into effect, some do not get any money until their term expires and they are reappointed or new appointments are made.

It is just a matter of principle that we have done the following which is a part of the record. We changed the salary of the Governor; we changed the salary of the cabinet members; we changed the expenses of the Members of the House and Senate. This was to be done in '57. It was not done. It should be done now.

You are saying that you are not voting for it. That's your privilege and your prerogative. I believe you should. It is a moral obligation and I do not think it costs very much money because had you asked the question, at any time, you would have been provided the answer instantly at that point.

This is something that two years ago should have been done. If it is not being done in '59, I ask you when it is going to be done.

Mr. FARABAUGH. Mr. Speaker, some of the things that I had in mind have already been said. As you well know, I spoke on this bill before and I called to your attention the fact that we were struggling to find money for the schools, which as I understand, we have not yet found. I cannot see how any Member of this House can support a measure of this kind under those circumstances.

I want to say further, I realize that possibly there are some of these places where there should be an increase in salary. I stated my position to the leadership before, and asked that it be corrected and increases given in a reasonable amount or where they should be given.

That suggestion was ignored. I am not one who will vote for an entire package that has a lot tied together and vote for it just because there are certain ones that should have had an increase. I cannot see my way clear to do that and I think others ought to think of it the same way.

I want to say there has been some very mysterious lobbying going on here on this bill which I think should be not allowed in this House. Some of the members of various boards are sitting around here in lines today watching what goes on and seem to have an effect on some people. It affects me possibly in an opposite direction. I hope they are not influenced by such means, and I certainly will insist on a slow roll call on this bill.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I had intended to interrogate the sponsors of this bill, but in the light of what has taken place, I am going to forego that.

I want to say this for the record: I do not agree with some of the statements that have been made that some of these people deserve an increase in pay. I do not believe they do. I think they are being paid sufficient money now. For the most part, they are parttime jobs and they work maybe one or two days a week. If the Members of this House will take their calendars and look at the number of days we have worked and look at the checks they are getting every month, I think they will agree with me that this is one bill that certainly should be defeated and that no person with a parttime job should be making $14,000, $16,000, $18,000, year. I am certainly tickled to pieces to see it is going to be licked.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO POSTPONE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. I ask that the Membership support the motion to place the bill on the final passage postponed calendar. I am willing to see what their offer is as to who they say deserves the raise since they can not furnish the information today.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. HOCKER and AUKER and were as follows:

Give us such a depth of Thy love that our faith may be rooted and grounded in Thee. And inspire us with such an expanse of Thy love that wherever we go and whatever we undertake may be to Thy honor and glory. To Thee be the praise and adoration forever and ever. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, December 8, 1959 will be postponed until printed.

The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I have been reliably informed that the lunch counters in the Department of Revenue in this state Capitol are selling Washington state apples with the words "Product of the State of Washington, U. S. A." as part of the printing on the wrappers.

It is high time the Governor supports Pennsylvania's agricultural and horticultural products, and that the Governor remembers that he is the Governor of the whole Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which includes the farming areas of Pennsylvania, and that he is not just the Governor of Pittsburgh.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires to make a statement.

We read in the Press that annual sessions create a hassle over leadership. We read that the Executive Secretary of His Excellency, the Governor, says it is the opinion of the Attorney General that when we convene next January the House must reorganize.

We appreciate the interest of the Executive Secretary of His Excellency, the Governor, in the procedure of this House, and we also note with interest that the Attorney General "is of the opinion." The opinions of the Attorney General, be they formal or informal, are not governing as far as the procedure of this House is concerned. The decisions of the Attorney General are governing as far as departmental procedure is concerned, governing as far as the official actions of His Excellency, the Governor, are concerned.

When we convene next January, should we pass a measure which in the opinion of the Attorney General contravenes the Constitution, it is the duty of the Attorney General to so inform His Excellency, the Governor. The Governor would veto the legislation, and it would be within the province of the House to sustain or override the veto.

There is difference in the language of the Constitution concerning the situation in the Senate from the situation in the House. Article II, Section 9 of the Constitution provides:

The Senate shall at the beginning and close of each regular session and at such other times as may be necessary, elect one of its members President pro tempore, who shall perform the duties of the Lieutenant Governor, in any case of absence or disability of that officer, and whenever the said office of Lieutenant Governor shall be vacant. The House of Representatives shall elect one of its members as Speaker. Each House shall choose its other officers, and shall judge of the election and qualification of its members.

At the beginning of each regular session the Senate apparently is required to elect a President pro tem. The language insofar as the House is concerned differs. The House of Representatives—not the House at any particular period of its functioning, but the House of Representatives—shall elect one of its Members as Speaker. And, as we know, this House elects a Chief Clerk. This House elects a Secretary. This House appoints committees. And we continue to be "this House"—this House at all the stages of our existence. It is rather important that the situation in the Senate be clarified in order that the right of succession to the Governorship shall not be impaired as far as the President pro tem of the Senate is concerned.

This House is endowed with certain continuing powers. As far as reorganization is concerned, this very morning if a sufficient number of Members were so minded they could elect a new Speaker. They could elect a new Chief Clerk. They could reorganize the Committees. Control over the functioning officers of this House is a continuing control and not confined. The Speaker is not elected for anything except Speaker of this House. The House continues in being. Anytime the House desires and has the number of Members to do it, it can depose the Speaker and elect a new Chief Clerk.

And so the opinion formal or informal, of The Justice Department is without force or validity in so far as the functioning of either branch of this General Assembly is concerned. If it is the opinion of the Attorney General that we should be reorganized, the opinion is a matter of mental curiosity, but it is without validity.

So presuming that the House is not this morning disposed to reorganize, we will take up the regular order of business. And that is exactly what we will do when we reconvene next January, any opinions, formal or informal, to the contrary notwithstanding.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHERMAN. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, do we meet on January 5th by virtue of the bill that was just passed, or by virtue of our Constitution, since casual examination of the Constitution fails to reveal any fact that we meet in 1961 or in any odd numbered year on January 5th or the first Tuesday.

The SPEAKER. The Chair did not quite get the point.

Does the gentleman inquire whether the legislation unfinished when this particular period of our functioning ends, is he asking whether the unfinished business will be transferred when we meet in January?

Mr. SHERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I will try to make it clearer.

From reading the newspapers, or otherwise, I understand that we are meeting at 12 noon on January 5th, to either reorganize or start a new Session.

I fail to see anything in our Pennsylvania Constitution to that effect. The only thing the Pennsylvania Constitution, if I read it correctly in my casual examination, shows that we meet every second year on the first Tuesday of January. Is it by virtue of the bill that we passed and the Constitutional amendment that we meet this January 5th, or on Tuesday, January 5th, or by what reason do we reorganize or meet on January 5th at 12:00 Noon in an odd numbered year?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read the Article:

"Upon adoption of this amendment the General Assembly shall meet at 12:00 o'clock noon on the first Tuesday of January of the year following such adoption and shall meet at such time annually thereafter and at other times when convened by the Governor at regular Sessions convening in even numbered years, the General Assembly shall not enact any laws except laws relating to revenue and laws making up appropriations."

Mr. SHERMAN. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BELL. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, what would be the status of this House of Representatives if we meet on January 5th, in the afternoon, and we have not, prior to that time, had a adjournment sine die?

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to answer that in this way: We have by mandate of the Constitution found our functions divided. In one year we can enact general legislation, we meet again the next year, we are the same House, we are the same Legislature, but the Constitution decrees that by reason of our divided functions next year we can enact only legislation relating to appropriations or legislation which has a fiscal import.

As we are now functioning, having jurisdiction over the broad field of legislation, that ends. That ends regardless of a sine die resolution and when we are forbidden by the Constitution to do anything except deal with appropriation and fiscal legislation. And it does not make any difference whether there is or is not a sine die resolution.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, further parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, are we then to understand if there is no final adjournment resolution passed that it is the Speaker's determination when we go into the period set by the Constitution for what you might call a fiscal session, that we will be restricted to fiscal matters, unless we are called into Special Session by the Governor?

The SPEAKER. That is right.

Mr. BELL. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. It would be within our power, if it were not for the enactment of a recent revision of the Constitution, for us to have continued in being as we are now for the entire period for which the Members of the House have been elected. But the Constitution says that while we can do that at next year's session we can only deal with a certain type of legislation.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, with the discussion that has been going on, I will request permission of this House to turn to page 9 of the calendar, and call up the resolution that deals with this subject.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 132

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker. I call up on page 9 of today's calendar, House Resolution No. 132.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, November 16, 1959.

The recent amendment to Article II Section 4 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which provides for annual sessions of the General Assembly and which restricts regular sessions convening in even-numbered years to laws raising revenue and laws making appropriations has given rise to several important constitutional and procedural questions.

In order to avoid confusion and insure an orderly legislative process it is imperative that the General Assembly be advised as to the proper interpretation of our Constitution in the light of this new amendment. Without advance study and a complete understanding between the two Houses of the General Assembly it is likely that views on what limitations exist upon the nature of bills which may or may not be introduced will differ greatly. Divergent views also exist on this and related questions between individual members in each House therefore be it

Resolved (the Senate concurring) That the Speaker of the House of Representatives appoint three members of the House who are well versed on questions of constitutional law and legislative procedure two of whom shall be Democrats and one a Republican and that the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint three members of the Senate who are also well versed on questions of constitutional law and legislative procedure two of whom shall be Republicans and one a Democrat who together shall constitute a joint committee to make a thorough study of the recent amendment to Article II Section 4 of the Pennsylvania Constitution and related constitutional provisions and to define the types of legislation to be considered and limitations thereon for the 1960 annual session and the "fiscal" sessions occurring in even-numbered years thereafter and be it further

Resolved That the committee make a report of its findings together with its recommendation at the beginning of the 1960 Session of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I believe the Members of the House appreciate very much your discussion this morning as to what is the order of the day as far as the reorganization of this House is concerned, the status of our standing committees and so forth.

This resolution which is on the calendar today was inspired about a month ago when we heard from various sources that the Attorney General's office was studying the method in which we would be permitted to operate, just what bills could be introduced and so forth. It was thought, as expressed by the Speaker this morning, that, after all, this House of Representatives is the one to decide whether a bill is constitutional or whether it is not constitutional, and that it not look to the Attorney General for any direction on that score; that where the Attorney General comes into the play is when a bill hits the Governor's desk, the Attorney General, being the Governor's lawyer, would tell the Governor whether it was constitutional or not and whether he should sign it or not.

Therefore, it seems pertinent and significant that the House of Representatives and the Senate sit down and study the problem of the narrow limitations of the constitutional amendment on the next Session of the General Assembly.

This resolution was inspired to have a committee of three from each House—there would be two Democrats and one Republican from the House, two Republicans and one Democrat from the Senate—who would be versed in constitutional law, to, in this coming interim between our recess and the opening of the Session on January 5, study the problem and render a report, if they saw fit to do so, as to what types of legislation could be introduced, what the limitations would be on it, and just what ground rules, if any, we would work under with respect to legislation to be introduced next session. We have the resolution in front of us, and it seems the resolution is very timely in that it restores and preserves in the General Assembly the right to determine its own rules and make its own decisions as to constitutionality.

Therefore we ask all Members of the House to support this resolution. It would be work done by this committee during the interim, so that time would not be lost, then, by our recessing until the 5th of January. We would have the committee get together, sit down with the Speaker and with what counsel we might have, and then advise the General Assembly as to how we shall proceed next Session in an orderly and constitutional way.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the statements made by the Minority Leader basically outline some of the major subjects that would be discussed by this committee dealing with Resolution 132.

I would like to add that I believe this committee, when appointed, should, during the period between Christmas and New Year, meet and present all of these problems and come up with their recommendations in writing, a report in mimeographed form to be distributed to all of the Members of this House, so all of these items would be a matter of record. This is very, very important, and I believe it will be helpful in the coming Session. I ask all Members to support the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. DOUGHERTY asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, today in the city of Pittsburgh almost 200,000 people are without streetcar and bus service. This is due to the fact that a streetcar and bus strike has been called by the employes of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

With the merits of the dispute we have no concern or no knowledge, but we say to you that the citizens of our city would be having transportation service today if House Bill 962 had been passed. If House Bill 962 had been passed one of the first official acts of Mayor Joseph M. Barr would have been to have called upon Governor David L. Lawrence to appoint a mediator. That mediator upon his appointment would cause a suspension of a strike situation in that city. Bill 962, is not a labor baiting bill. We must realize that the thought on various situations in government changes from time to time.

I read with great interest in the newspaper, The Post Gazette, this morning, a statement by Adlai Stevenson, which read as follows: "Adlai urges Presidential strike power." And he states in part, "when the public is denied alternative sources of supplies it is entitled to demand that the supplies not be shut off."

We say to you, it is not too late to release House Bill 962; we think that labor itself would be in favor of this bill. As strange as it may seem, early in this Session when we passed the transit bill, House Bill 1297, it contained a provision for compulsory arbitration, similar to that inserted in House Bill 962. This provision for compulsory arbitration was inserted by labor itself. If labor felt that way when it did not have any right to strike whatsoever in connection with the operation of an authority, that it would like to be protected by compulsory arbitration, we can not see why they should oppose this particular bill.

We say to those who opposed legislation of this type in the past, reexamine your thinking, and we plead with the Chairman of the Committee on Labor Relations and with the leadership on the other side to make a reexamination of that situation and the implications of House Bill 962 and place it upon the floor of the House for discussion, amendment and correction if necessary, so that 200,000 people in the city of Pittsburgh will have transportation service at the earliest possible moment.

INTERROGATION

Mr. RIGBY asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. Wargo.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, we have all heard Mr. Goldstein speak of the disastrous strike that is facing the citizens of not only Pittsburgh, but of Allegheny County and a great many boroughs also. I would like to know from the Chairman if he is contemplating a meeting of his Committee.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, when the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, first offered his discharge resolution on that bill I stated and I can assure the gentleman that I shall take this matter up with all parties involved, and when I say all parties involved I also mean the labor unions in on this problem.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I think if the Chairman would take it up with his Committee today there may be a different feeling because at the time the discharge resolution was presented, we were not faced with this disastrous strike. We have had a strike in 1954 and 1957 and now here in 1959, we have the same, we are facing the same thing. We have reached the point in our way of living that transportation is the life line of the community. This bill will only put the transportation workers in the same category as the utility workers, your police and firemen. I say that they are striking against the people.

I believe this is a necessary bill and I would wish that the Chairman would reconsider having a meeting, have it now and that the committee act fairly upon this legislation, because it has reached the point in Pittsburgh and Allegheny County where this is a must. We can not exist. Our economy is affected with the 1,700 men striking, and I assure you there will be many, many more than that laid off because it is going to affect our buying power in the city, our stores, our businesses, if they can not get to work and it creates a traffic problem, Mr. Wargo, which I wish you could see.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I shall assure the gentleman that this bill will get every consideration.

Mr. RIGBY. I did not hear the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WARGO. I can assure the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby, that this bill will get every consideration.

Mr. RIGBY. May I ask the gentleman when?

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I would not say that this is an improper question. However, there are many individuals and organizations I would like to contact first on this bill before I give it immediate consideration.

Mr. RIGBY. Well, I hope that these individuals that you are speaking of, will be contacted very soon, because time is running out. Time is running out on the economy of our great city. Our new mayor has worked since he has taken office, I would guess 16 to 18 hours a day, faithfully and well. He presented a solution to these people, and they literally threw it back into his face. I say there should be something more done in considering 1,700 people, since this affects the lives of so many thousands and also the economy of our city.

I wish the Chairman, Mr. Wargo, would consider it immediately and that his Committee would vote on it, probably bring it out on the floor, because I think it is a piece of legislation that should be discussed on the floor, it should not be buried in Committee. This is something that affects too many people for a Committee of 22, or whatever number it might be, to decide to bottle it up. It is just not the right thing to do. I think the Committee should act on it favorably and bring it out and let the matter be discussed on this floor. I might add the time would be today. Today is the day to do it.

Mr. FOERSTER. Mr. Speaker, certainly the strike in the city of Pittsburgh is a strike against the people, but it can be laid directly at the feet of the company, because earlier during negotiations the union offered to arbitrate the issues and to have the results binding on both parties, but Mr. C. D. Palmer of the Pittsburgh Railway Company rejected this and certainly it is the fault of the company that the people of the city of Pittsburgh are without transportation today.

Mr. M. H. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I am particularly pleased that the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Foerster, pointed out the dilemma.

He indicated that the union was willing to comply and abide by the results of compulsory arbitration. Why should the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh beg either labor or management to have a worthwhile result? Today management turned down compulsory arbitration because there was no law to bring it about.

If you pass House Bill No. 962 the people will not be the slaves of management or labor, but the people will be the master of both.

Amend Sec. 502, page 76, by inserting between lines 6 and 7:

“Wayne County

“Honesdale Borough

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of amendments at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

“Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I have amendments to offer to this bill. I talked to the Chairman of the Committee this morning, about an hour ago and he said I missed the deadline. But, Mr. Speaker, I didn't have the amendments. They just came over from the Reference Bureau at 12:15. Now I would like to know if I can offer mine.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, last evening we had agreed on both sides of the House that I would accept amendments up to 7:00 o'clock last evening. The Reference Bureau worked all last night on these amendments. If the gentleman had gone over there last evening they would have been with this morning's amendments.

Mr. VARNER. I called them on the telephone over there and I was told they would have them for me, so that is all I know about it. Where they are, at 12:15, so I would like to offer them.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Varner, asks unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer.

Mr. COMER. I yield to the Majority Leader, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the Majority Leader.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Clarion, Mr. Varner, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clarion permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VARNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman meet with the Chairman of the Committee on Highways as was agreed to by the debate here on the floor?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I could never catch up with him.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Varner, did you attempt to go to the Highway Committee room any time yesterday from the time of the debate until 8:00 o'clock last night?

Mr. VARNER. No, I did not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. Did you at any time telephone to that room between those hours?

Mr. VARNER. No, I did not, Mr. Speaker. I did not have the amendments, there was no use, but I thought we could turn them in this morning. I was really under that impression. I do not know whether anyone else got caught in the same situation or not, but that was the impression that I had. This is just one little piece of road, it is not hundreds of miles.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, we had a pretty thorough understanding yesterday as to what the Members were to do. Many Members came there yesterday from both sides of the House and their amendments are in that large package delivered to the desk today. All amendments were prepared as the agreed items were discussed yesterday.

Mr. Comer informed me today that the amendments would all be here and when they arrived he told me all the amendments are here. If those are the facts, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman should have at least taken time to go to the Committee room or call, because to make an exception for the gentleman we also would have a right to make an exception for Jim or John who did not know about the debate or were outside making a phone call. This was pretty clear yesterday. I have no objection and will abide by the situation here in the House this morning, but I will say this to the gentleman, including myself, there should have been no difference. This was an agreement that was worked out yesterday and a lot of people worked all night last night, throughout the night.

Mr. VARNER. What on?

Mr. McCANN. On the large package that was delivered there to the desk, to be checked, to be typewritten, to be proofread and to fit in the bill this morning.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, may I say a word about the amendment?

This amendment concerns one little piece of road in Clarion County near the county seat, and it was offered to the Committee some time ago. For some reason it just did not make the team when the bill came out. So, I would like to have it included, and I would appreciate the Membership of the House going along. I am sure if there is anybody else in here that is in the same circumstances, I will not object.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Clarion on one point.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clarion permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VARNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Clarion, did I understand him correctly that he had filed this request with the Chairman prior to yesterday?

Mr. VARNER. Yes, Mr. Speaker, many months ago.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Did the gentleman go back yesterday to find out from him if he still had his request on file?

Mr. VARNER. No, I did this morning.

Mr. TOMPKINS. You did this morning, what time this morning?

Mr. VARNER. Well, I do not know exactly, some time this morning, sometime after breakfast.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, was the gentleman present in the Hall yesterday during the discussion on this matter?

Mr. VARNER. Yes, I was, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VARNER. But this thing has been flicking around here for so many months, that a few more hours is not going to make that much difference. That is my opinion.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. COMER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Philadelphia recall the filing with him of the request of Mr. Varner during the course of the session?

Mr. COMER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. You have handed me here a list of those who contacted you after our floor conversation yesterday, the Republican Members, you have not put the Democrat Members on it, but you have given me a list of the Republican Members who contacted you about the roads, and those whose amendments are incorporated in this package which you have given to the Chief Clerk. Is that right?

Mr. COMER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Now, you only have brought out as amendments those particular amendments which the members contacted you on yesterday or this morning, is that right?

Mr. COMER. That was additional to what I had prepared yesterday.

Mr. TOMPKINS. And when did Mr. Varner contact the gentleman in connection with this?

Mr. COMER. At 11:00 o'clock this morning.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Was not 11:00 'clock this morning the deadline?

Mr. COMER. Seven o'clock last evening.

Mr. TOMPKINS. I understood that we had postponed the session from ten to eleven o'clock this morning in order that this matter could be straightened out.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, may I say this in regard to these amendments. There was plenty of time last evening for Mr. Varner to file these amendments. The procedure with amendments, for the information of those who do not know, every amendment must have a legislative route number. It takes time to check these requests out for accuracy, for a description and for a number to be placed on it.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, is there any particular objection to this amendment of Mr. Varner's being offered at this time?

Mr. COMER. I have no objection to the amendment, but I am objecting to the time it is being offered. I informed the gentleman this morning that the bill was completed. He had plenty of time to do it, and I suggested that he take it to the Senate where amendments will probably be offered.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, if his road were incorporated in the amendments today would it seriously impair the bill?

Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Clarion whether or not the amendment he is proposing to offer corresponds to the description of the request which he had previously filed with the Chairman of the Highway Committee.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Clarion permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VARNER. I shall, Mr. Speaker. Well, yes, they do. It is the same description, the same piece of highway.

Mr. TOMPKINS. The gentleman's amendment is the same as the request which he had previously filed.

Mr. VARNER. That is right, and I might say that I did not have the amendments to offer until 12:15, just about 20 minutes ago.

If I did not have them now I would not be offering them, it is as simple as that. I have them and I would like to offer them. I hope that Mr. Comer has no objection, so let us get on with the business.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I do object to amendments being offered at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. No roll call is necessary if unanimous consent is requested and not granted.

Mr. AUKER. I would like to get something clarified here, Mr. Speaker, if I may.

Do I understand now that since there is one objection to Mr. Varner's amendments his amendments can not be offered?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the gentleman, on third reading the Rules require before amendments can be offered unanimous consent be obtained. The gentleman has asked for unanimous consent and the Chair has heard objection.

Mr. AUKER. I think something ought to be really considered—

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will read the Rule, if the gentleman will yield.

Mr. AUKER. I agree with the Rule. I just wanted to have it clarified for the information of the House. We have all gone along here from time to time with amendments being offered on third reading, and nobody has raised any serious objection to it whatsoever. Now we have this thing cropping up and it could mean some pretty bad things in the future probably if the objection is allowed to stand.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that the resolution this House adopted in connection with the last date for the introduction of bills also had incorporated in it that we could amend bills on third reading in this House without the necessity of unanimous consent. Now, has that resolution been set aside?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. To the knowledge of the Chair no such resolution was adopted. There has been an understanding between the majority and the minority that amendments would be offered on third reading. However there has been a bit of difference in this particular bill because of an agreement entered into yesterday between the minority and the majority as to deadlines.

If we abide by the rules, Rule 48 says, "Bills on third reading and final passage shall be considered in their calendar order. Amendments on third reading may not be considered except by a majority vote of the Members elect."

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I am sorry but I have understood ever since the resolution went in with reference to the last date for introduction of bills that where they are reported out on second reading those bills then could be amended on third reading without the necessity of unanimous consent.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will read the special rule the gentleman referred to, offered by the Messrs. McCann and A. W. Johnson.

Bills read for the first time in the House of Representatives. Resolved that all bills reported from the Committees of the House as committed be read for the first time on the first day reported during the remainder of the Session.

It did not deal with amendments on third reading.

One other special rule adopted in the Session dealt with the introduction of bills. These are the only two that have been adopted during this Session.

Mr. TOMPKINS. It is the principle of the thing involved here.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, it seems we are making a mountain out of a mole hill. Maybe Representative Varner is technically not in strict conformity with the understanding, but be that as it may, I understand it is only .95 miles, it is a very small strip of road, and we have until Monday to print the bill and assign a route number to it.

It seems it is only fair, reasonable and logical that the person objecting withdraws his objections and let him offer his amendments. We have dealt here with comradery and fairness all through the Session. I realize that maybe he is technically not actually correct, but it seems like it would be fair to let him offer his amendment and get it in the bill.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I have not yielded.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. AUKER. No, I want to make a point of parliamentary inquiry at this point.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, have the other amendments been unanimously agreed to?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. They have been agreed to.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, the amendments I offered this morning in regard to the bill, in order to take care of Mr. Varner's request, I would have to recall those amendments. Again I say to the Members of the House, it is not a question of offering amendments to a bill, it is a question of changing the legislative route numbers.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I am getting a lot of advice here, but to try to move this thing along I think I will give them to my Senator and ask him to get them in over in the Senate. I therefore withdraw them, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2461, entitled:

An Act amending "The Fiscal Code" approved April 9, 1929 (P. L. 343) authorizing the retention by the Department of Revenue of portions of funds obtained through proceedings relating to escheatable property and making an appropriation thereof for the payment of compensation fees and expenses.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

CONCURRENCE IN HOUSE RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, December 9, 1959.

Resolved (the Senate concurring), That House Bill No. 1897, Printer's No. 1657, entitled "An act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 1216), entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen, and providing for the licensing, regulation and supervision of resident and nonresident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business,' further regulating deposits and disbursements of funds by brokers," which was recalled from the Governor October 26, 1959, for the purpose of amendment, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

BILL TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. BOWMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill

No. 1897, Printer's No. 1657, be taken from the table and returned to the Governor.

The motion was agreed to.

CAUCUSES

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, at this point I am going to request a caucus to finish third reading and concurrences in order.

I am going to request that all the Democratic Members of the House bring their calendars with them to the House Caucus Room. We are going to ask for only a 20-minute caucus; then come back here; no break for lunch. We will be through right away and go home.

I ask that when I make the request for a recess everyone please come immediately to the caucus room, and when the caucus is over, come right back on the floor and finish up.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we would like to call a similar Republican Caucus under the same conditions. We are going to caucus on concurrences in Senate amendments to House bills mainly. There are 15, I think, on the calendar, it should not take too long.

Mr. McCANN. And two Conference Committee Reports to adopt, and two bills.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

RECESS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Without objection, the Chair will declare a recess of twenty minutes.

The Chair hears none.

AFTER RECESS

The time of recess having expired, the House was called to order.

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the Members of the House and the Majority and Minority Leaders, we have on the Speaker's table House Bill No. 506, House Bill No. 1977 and House Bill 2368; also Senate Bill 1106. There are also House Bill 652 and House Bill 1927.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, are we not finished except for the communications from the Senate? The reason I ask is that if we are, I would like to say to all the Members here now, we are at the point where you may go home.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The SPEAKER pro tempore. For the information of the Members there will be a Democratic caucus on Monday at 2:30. The Session will begin at 3:00 o'clock. It is likely we will be in session three day at least, and probably four, next week.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, we will caucus at 2:00 o'clock on Monday. We expect to send out a caucus letter advising them of the 3:00 o'clock session and the 2:00 o'clock caucus. We will not say anything about the number of days. We are at the mercy of the Senate, you might say, in that regard, so I do not know how many days we will be here; it is quite likely, as you said, three, or possibly four.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. GALLAGHER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, December 14, 1959 at 3:00 p. m. EST.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor John Morgan Davis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. NORMAN E. DETTRA, Evangelical United Brethren Church Clergyman, Annville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O God, deliver us from a low appraisal of ourselves. Grant that we may think of ourselves as sons of Thine and thus learn to live in brotherhood. Forgive us for our narrowness of vision and contentment with low desires and low aims.

Grant to these Legislators a clear understanding of their divine possibilities for growth and development. Help us, in this Session, "to show ourselves approved unto God, workmen that needeth not be ashamed." Make clear Thy plan and purpose for us and strengthen us as we, in this moment, dedicate the powers of mind, heart and hand to Thee.

In the Name of the Master of us all, we pray. Amen.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations read by the Clerk.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. WADE, that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

NOMINATION OF HERBERT J. McGLINCHEY TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call from the table the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board.

The nomination was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Herbert J. McGlinchey, 596 East Geneva Avenue, Philadelphia 20, Philadelphia County, for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, until November 14, 1963, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now yield the floor to Senator Ehrgood.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, the remarks I am about to make at this time regarding this nomination will be equally apropos, I believe, to the other two nominations which will follow.

I am going to ask my colleagues to vote against the confirmation of Mr. Herbert J. McGlinchey, as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and also the other two members who have been nominated by the Governor.

First of all, Mr. President, let me say that the State Tax Equalization Board is the vehicle by which the State subsidies are distributed to the local school districts throughout the Commonwealth. It seems to me there has been a deliberate attempt by the present membership of the State Tax Equalization Board to go ahead and distribute these subsidies to the large metropolitan areas. I believe I can say, very fairly, that throughout Pennsylvania there has been suspicion if political interference with the market values as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board. I know, in my own district, that the findings must have been determined by inspired guesswork, if by no other method. I think that in the school system throughout this Commonwealth, there is no place for political suspicion, there is no place for guesswork and there has not been in the State Tax Equalization Board as heretofore constituted.

Mr. President, I believe this is very serious to this Commonwealth. If there is no faith on the part of the school districts and on the part of educators throughout this Commonwealth in these findings, and if we are going to have any suspicion of politics entering into the school districts, then I say, and I think we all should agree, that these nominations should be turned down.

There is no doubt, Mr. President, that the nominee before us right now is the secretary of one of the big Democratic bosses in Philadelphia. I think this is no place for politics. I hope that all Members of the Senate will vote against these nominations and turn them down.

MOTION THAT NOMINATIONS BE LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that these nominations, reported from the Executive Nominations Committee, be laid on the table at this time. My reason for asking for this to be done is because I think that these gentlemen should at least have an opportunity to be here in order to hear some of these accusations which are being made against them.

I think this is a rather serious matter. These people have been appointed by the Governor. They are citizens of this Commonwealth. If Senator Ehrgood or any other Member over there has some accusations to make against these people, I think they should be present in this room to hear them. I think they should have the opportunity which everybody in this Country has; namely, to face their accusers or at least find out who they are. I do not think we should have a situation where the words are Esau's and the voice is Jacob's. I think that these people should be here and have the opportunity to be heard.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that the nominations be laid on the table until we are under the order of business of Executive Nominations tomorrow. I do not think there is any pressing need for this to be done immediately. We have had many weeks here when we have had no Executive Nominations. There are some Executive Nominations which have been lying over there ever since the beginning of the Session. Therefore, I do not think there is any reason to protest the fact that these nominations be laid on the table for another ten or twelve hours.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, these nominations made by His Excellency, the Governor, were reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations. I can see no reason for the three men to be here. Whether they were here or whether they were not here, they would not be permitted to speak on the floor of this Senate while we are in Executive Session. The Constitution provides that the Senate of Pennsylvania, on any nomination made by His Excellency, the Governor, shall vote thereon. If two-thirds of the elected Members feel that that person or those persons should be confirmed, they are confirmed and the Governor is so advised.

If, on the other hand, two-thirds do not vote for that confirmation, the Governor would likewise be advised that his nominees had failed to receive the required two-thirds vote of the entire Membership of the Senate. I see nothing wrong in the procedure of having their names reported from committee. Senator Ehrgood or any other Senator would have the right to express his opinion on whether or not the confirmations should be made. Certainly, any Senator, on either side of the aisle, who would feel that he should speak on behalf of the nominee or nominees, has every right at this time to make that speech. However, I certainly would be opposed to the motion at this time to lay the nominations on the table.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us as to whether there is any compelling haste why he cannot wait until tomorrow to take up this matter?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, there is no compelling haste, except that I think the business at hand is being conducted in an orderly manner. The names have been reported from committee and we are now in Executive Session. I feel that the nominees should either be confirmed at this time or not be confirmed. This certainly cannot be determined until the Clerk calls the roll and we find out whether or not they have been confirmed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us whether this matter has been taken up in his Caucus?

Mr. FLEMING. I would say that we touched on it lightly, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman further advise us, on touching on this matter lightly, how many votes were against these people?

Mr. FLEMING. If the gentleman would consider that question, Mr. President, I think he would know that it is improper to ask about a vote in a Caucus. I would not ask him about his vote in his Caucus.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask the gentleman to forgive me. Perhaps the question was ill-put.

Mr. President, will the gentleman tell us whether there was any sentiment for approving these gentlemen in his Caucus, without telling us what the votes are?

Mr. President, I will allow the gentleman to confer with counsel if he would like to do so.

Mr. FLEMING. We did not have any Caucus action on it, if that is what the gentleman means. I think there is considerable sentiment against the confirmations among the Members on this side of the aisle. I could not say whether that would be unanimous. I could not even say whether it would be enough to fail of receiving the two-thirds majority. I am most confident, unless some of the gentlemen have changed their minds, that there will be some "no" votes.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman, as the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, tell us whether he would be averse to holding a public hearing on these people, thus enabling us to hear about their qualifications?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would see no reason for holding a public hearing on them. No one requested a public hearing on them at any time during the period when their names were in the Committee on Executive Nominations. I believe they were submitted on November 16 and this is now December 14. As of now and including the meeting which was just held by the Committee on Executive Nominations, no one requested a public hearing for these men to appear before the committee.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise the Members of this Senate, if he has some information which is not readily available to all of us, why we should not confirm these people or why the sentiment in his Caucus was against these gentlemen? If a request for a public hearing is necessary, I will now make that request, on behalf of the gentlemen sitting on this side of the aisle.

Mr. FLEMING. On the first question, Mr. President, I would yield the floor to Senator Ehrgood, who has seen fit to speak against the nomination of one of the gentlemen. To the second part of the gentleman's question, I would certainly defer to my Floor Leader, Senator Berger.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, is the interrogation addressed to me? If so, will the gentleman repeat it?

Mr. WEINER. Senator Berger, I believe the gentleman who last spoke on your side, Senator Fleming, said that you were in a better position to answer the question; the question being whether or not we could hold a public hearing on these gentlemen. The reason for my asking for a public hearing was that there may be some information against these gentlemen which I do not have available to me and to the Members on this side. I would not like to vote for anyone if there is some information against them. Since I do not have that information available, I think it should be made available to us, if it so exists.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman is well acquainted with at least one of the nominees, much more so than I am. However, in answer to the interrogation as to whether a public hearing at this time or a deferment of the consideration would be feasible, I would say that we have now arrived at the point of business where we are in Executive Session and for the purpose—and for the purpose only—of considering the nominations which have been reported from committee at today's Session.

The gentleman's request for a public hearing, Mr. President, in my opinion, is tardy and, at this time, could not feasibly be considered.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman please advise the Members of this Senate, if we were to wait for a twenty-four hour period and have these gentlemen brought here, whether that would impede the orderly conduct of business in this Senate or in this Commonwealth?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I am sure that the gentleman's skill in cross-examination has already convinced him that it is not advisable to ask a useless thing. I am sure he is convinced by this time that a public hearing, in our opinion, would serve no useful purpose.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the gentleman please advise the Members of this Senate why he feels that he would like to vote against these gentlemen whose names are now before this Senate? Perhaps some of the Members on his side may have convinced him.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would not answer that interrogation. I am sure that the gentleman would not want me to answer it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would not only want him to answer it, but I would insist that he answer it in order for me to properly vote. Perhaps the gentleman can advise me and the other Members on this side why we should vote against any of these people. He might have some information that we do not have. If he is against holding a public hearing, maybe this would be a good time, while we are in Executive Session, to so advise the Members who make up this Body why we should also join you in not voting for these gentlemen.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, first of all, in answer to the gentleman's interrogation, I would advise him that in my opinion, and in my opinion only, he is in no position to insist.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to thank the gentleman. I also want to state that he is correct in that I am in no position to insist because of the fact that we do not have the votes. However, I would like to advise the gentleman that I think the insistence should not only be on the basis of the number of people you have sitting here to vote, but I think, as a citizen making up this Commonwealth, when it comes to a person to take high office, all of us should be in a position to vote intelligently on any person who comes before us. It might well be that the gentleman, or other people sitting in this Chamber or I might have certain information about somebody coming before us. I think it not only behooves us, but is incumbent upon us to make this information known to all of us.

I think the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations should have made this information available to us at the committee meeting. When we attended the meeting, I knew of none of this. I am just a little chagrined that we are out here now and have taken this position without being advised that there is some sentiment against these gentlemen and the reasons therefor. I think it comes in ill-grace to bring these people up and knock them down for the purpose of running them through and making it appear that this is part of the orderly way of running this Body. We have not done so during all of this Session, nor have we done it during the Session before this one. I think this is a bad time to do it, and I think it is a bad way of handling it.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have no objection whatever in divulging to the gentleman the reasons which I believe might have been somewhat persuasive in considering this nomination.

I think we went over it rather at length earlier in the Session when we discovered that by the action of the Tax Equalization Board, a majority of the districts—I believe the districts of the sixty-two counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania—were going to receive less money in their school subsidies by the action of this board. Furthermore, in some of the counties which would receive increases, the market values, Mr. President, were decreased and the assessed values were increased. We believe that that action, in itself, is sufficient to question the abilities of these men to be members of the Tax Equalization Board.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if I remember correctly, on the day when the Members of the Republican Caucus had the matter of the State Tax Equalization Board before them, they spoke to me in the back of the Senate during luncheon. They did not like what had happened, but they were very commendable about the job which they had done.

If people are to be castigated and, you may say, thrown out of governmental office for doing what the Legislature mandated in the Act establishing the Tax Equalization Board—and of which bill Senator Stevenson is the father—this, in my opinion, is the greatest backward step that has ever been made in the State Government of Pennsylvania.

I have witnessed what has gone on in Washington, where there is a Democratic Senate and a Republican President. Not once, Mr. President, since that has happened—and President Eisenhower has had control of the United Senate only one year since his term in office—has any one person been subjected to the treatment which these men are about to receive here today. Everyone has been called before the proper committee and has had a proper hearing. I just want to say to you gentlemen on the other side that I do not think you know how to read election returns.

Today, I asked, in the Committee on Executive Nominations, whether we could call in our nominees for the Public Utility Commission and hold a hearing. I have been a Member of the Committee on Executive Nominations for quite a number of years. I remember just the last time when the Chairman of the Commission and two nominees, Mr. Stahlnecker and Mr. Sharfsin, were called in to be questioned and they were confirmed. I can remember the day when the late Commissioner Houck's name came over to the Senate. At that time, Senator Watkins was the Secretary of the Senate. He came over to us, being from Mr. Houck's county, and I said: "Yes, if you will call a meeting of the Committee on Executive Nominations, I think we can get that done today."

I am merely asking the gentlemen on the other side to extend the same treatment to us that we extended to them during the sixteen years under Governors James, Martin, Duff and Fine. I am merely asking for fair play for these men. If these gentlemen come in and cannot make out their case, then you are as free as you are at any time to vote their names down. If I am right in what I think is going to happen today, then along with what we refer to as "Black Friday," which occurred in October 1929 when the stock market crashed, we will refer to today as "Black Monday" in the Pennsylvania Senate.

I do not think you men realize what you are doing. In my opinion, you are establishing here the worst precedent that will ever be established in this Senate. I say this as a fellow who has been honored to be here for nineteen years and, as you know, will not be here much longer.

Mr. President, I think these men have done a tremendous job. Yes, there was one man who was not around because he was suspended from his job. However, in my opinion, Mr. Bevec is probably one of the best members who ever served on the State Tax Equalization Board. The other man, the Mayor of New Kensington, is a gentleman whom I know very well. I know of his ability to run his city. I think that he has the capabilities of operating on this board.

The other member is a former Member of the United States Congress. If you will remember correctly, he is a man who, in my opinion was indicted politically. He went before his jurors and jeers up in a remote county—in Senator Wolfe's District and in a Republican area—and there the case was not even allowed to go to the jury. His name was never mentioned. I think the man has suffered enough. If you just want to heap insult, then I think the election returns will just get worse and worse.

I ask you honorable gentlemen to consider what you are doing here. I think this is probably the most detestable moment that I have seen or observed since I have been in the Pennsylvania State Senate.

Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on our motion to lay these names on the table.

The PRESIDENT. Senator Barr, are you asking for roll call vote on that motion?

Mr. BARR. I am, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Are you seconding the request for a roll call vote?

Mr. SILVERT. No, Mr. President. I would like to be heard on the question.

The PRESIDENT. You may be heard, Senator Silvert. Please proceed.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, in my nine years in this Senate, this is the first time that I have seen three men deliberately brought out for slaughter. I want to say to Senator Berger and to Senator Ehrgood that they have given, as their reasons for this type of action, the fact that the members of the board arrived at market values which reduced some of the valuations in some districts and increased them in others. I cannot agree that it was done unfairly. However, assuming that it was, where is the justice when you discredit a man, former United States Congressman Herbert J. McGlinchey, who, to the knowledge of this Senate, did not serve on this board during the time when these valuations were arrived at? As Senator Barr said, he had resigned his office, pending the clearing of his name which he succeeded in clearing. During the two years when this evaluation was going on, Herbert McGlinchey was not a part of the board. Yet, you are bringing him to slaughter for the same reasons as you are slaughtering the other two men.

I call upon your sense of fairness not to do this in this un-American way of treating a former Congressman.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I also request a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

The PRESIDENT. Senator Lane, we have now heard from both sides on a motion which is not debatable.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I have been on this floor for one-half hour, yielding to everyone else. I would like to make a speech on behalf of John Bevec.

The PRESIDENT. It so happens, Senator Lane, that John Bevec's name is not before the Body at this moment. There is only one name before the Senate for consideration, and that is the Honorable Herbert J. McGlinchey.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe that Senator Ehrgood, in his opening statement, said, if I am correct in my hearing, that the sentiments he was expressing were applicable to the other two members.

The PRESIDENT. This motion, in itself, is not debatable. At this particular moment, it is not debatable, and so far it has gone far beyond what we intended to do at the beginning.

Mr. LANE. All right, Mr. President. Let us pass the motion, and then I would like to have the floor.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion before us to table these nominations. It has been seconded, and we were about to vote on it. There has been a roll call vote requested by Senator Barr and Senator McMenamin.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe there have been about three speeches since that motion was made.

The PRESIDENT. I have tried to control them, Senator Lane, but they have gotten beyond me.

I think we should proceed to a vote on this particular motion.

Mr. LANE. All right, Mr. President. Go ahead and I will not object to that.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, is it the ruling of the Chair that we cannot speak on this motion?

The PRESIDENT. I will give you the exact ruling, and then I think we can take it from there, Senator. It reads as follows:

"It is a matter of importance to a body that the consideration of a question may be put over to a later date without debate or delay. To permit debate on the motion to lay on the table would defeat this purpose. This motion is therefore not debatable."

I would say to you that the ruling is quite clear, and it is in Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, Section 335, and it is the ruling of this Presiding Officer.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if the Chair please, we were asking whether it is proper to speak on behalf of this motion.

The PRESIDENT. It is perfectly proper to ask a question.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, without debating the motion, we are speaking on behalf of the motion and we are urging the motion. We are not debating the motion at all.

The PRESIDENT. I am afraid that is a difference that cannot be recognized, sir.

Mr. WEINER. Then the ruling of the Chair is—

The PRESIDENT. The ruling of the Chair is that the motion is not debatable, and it is now placed for a vote.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. McMENAMIN, and were as follows, viz:

| | | | |
|--------------|-----------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Koprivier, Jr., | Miller, | Ruth, |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the motion that the nominations be laid on the table was defeated.

RECESS

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I now request a twenty minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus, to be held in the Caucus Room on the fourth floor.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a twenty minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER (William Z. Scott) in the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

MOTION THAT EXECUTIVE SESSION RISE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice having been taken, the question was determined in the negative, and the motion that the Executive Session rise was defeated.

MOTION TO PROCEED WITH CONSIDERATION OF NOMINATION OF HERBERT J. MCGLINCHY

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed with consideration of the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey of Philadelphia for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, might I suggest that the Chair peruse the Senate Rules, under the heading of Executive Nominations, Rule 38? It is a rather lengthy rule, but I think the part that is pertinent to what we are dealing with here refers to Executive Nominations and is as follows:

"... Which question shall not be put on the day on which the nomination or nominations are reported from committee, unless by unanimous consent..."

I believe that the only question before us earlier was that we go into Executive Session. If the genesis of this is wrong, or if the order is wrong, you can correct me. There was a motion that these names be tabled. The vote as to whether these names should be tabled was taken and, by majority vote, the motion fell.

The next motion made was that the Executive Session do now arise, and that also was defeated by a majority vote.

The question before us now is that we take up consideration of this nomination. I suggest to the Chair that under Rule 38, this matter is not pertinent because it must lie on the table for at least one day.

If there is any problem about this matter with the Chair, as far as unanimous consent is concerned, I believe that is withdrawn for the purpose of considering this individual name or names. I do not believe that we can take up this matter unless we violate this rule.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would agree with the gentleman wholeheartedly had it not been for the fact that prior to going into Executive Session, the request was for unanimous consent to consider the names reported from committee at today's Session, and the unanimous consent was given and not objected to.

Therefore, Mr. President, it is entirely in order at this time to consider the business of the Executive Session.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that what we are dealing with is the motion made by Senator Fleming, asking that this name be now considered. For that purpose, I and my colleagues are withdrawing unanimous consent. Therefore, the Members on the other side cannot take up this matter if they are going to do them individually.

MOTION THAT UNANIMOUS CONSENT BE WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I move that the unanimous consent, which was apparently given, be withdrawn.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. As the Chair understands the motion, Senator Lane, it is that the unanimous consent previously given now be withdrawn.

Mr. LANE. Yes sir, that was my motion.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, again, I would call the attention of the Chair to the fact that unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of the nominations was given before going into Executive Session. Therefore, I would suggest to the Chair that the motion, in Executive Session, is out of order.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I want to say that I voted under a misapprehension. It was my belief that the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations brought out these names with a favorable recommendation, and that is why I voted for unanimous consent.

I now find that the chairman did not use the words, "favorable recommendation." I, therefore, object now to the consideration of the names, having voted under a misapprehension.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is already a motion on that, Senator Silvert.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe the only motion before the Senate is the motion made by Senator Fleming for the purpose of voting on individual names.

There is no unanimous consent. If it was given, it has now been withdrawn. I think that is the only matter before the Senate at this moment, before you take up anything else.

Senator Fleming did not—Senator, if I am incorrect in quoting you, I wish you would correct me—ask for unanimous consent to consider this matter at this time.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I believe that if the reporter could read back my motion, you would find that the motion was that the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of considering the names reported from committee at today's Session and read by the Clerk. I would submit to the Chair that when that unanimous consent was given, there is an implied consent then that we go ahead and consider them, whether favorably or unfavorably. I would ask the Chair to so rule.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think if the gentleman will peruse the record, he will find that he asked unanimous consent for the purpose of Executive Nominations. I believe he will also find that the record states, in no uncertain terms, that there being no objection, the Clerk would proceed. There was no further objection, there was no further asking of consent and no consent was ever given.

I do not think that you can, by indirection, term what you consider to be consent or nonconsent where none exists. If there was unanimous consent, we now withdraw it for the purpose of considering any of these names.

The chairman of the committee has asked that we consider the first name on his list, and he has not asked unanimous consent that this be done. According to Rule 38, which is what I am asking to be invoked by the Senate in the proper order of business here, you must have unanimous consent to consider this name. That has not been requested nor has it been given.

I believe the gentleman is on rather thin ground here if he is going to try to get over this rule.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. For the information of the Senators, the present occupant of the Chair was not in the Chair at the time that Senator Fleming's original motion was made. I think that the wording of that motion is very pertinent and, therefore, I would like the Senate to be at ease for a few minutes so that the Chair might become familiar with the exact wording of Senator Fleming's original motion.

If there is no objection, at this time the Chair would like the Senate to be at ease for a very few moments.

(The Senate was at ease.)

MOTION TO WITHDRAW UNANIMOUS CONSENT WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion that the apparent unanimous consent be withdrawn.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the motion is withdrawn.

The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

RESTATEMENT OF POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I will restate my point of order, which was as follows, and I think this was the order in which the matter appeared before the Chair:

The asking for unanimous consent by the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations was for the purpose of Executive Session. After this occurred, we then went into Executive Session. The question now asked by the chairman of that committee is whether we will consider the name of the first nominee on his list, which was reported today from committee.

Under Senate Rule 38, dealing with Executive Nominations, I believe the Chair should thus put the question: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" The only way that this can be done is by unanimous consent being granted if it is to be done the very day that it is brought from committee and placed before this Body. I suggest to the Chair, this having been done today, that is in violation of Rule 38. Unanimous consent not having been given to do this, I ask that Rule 38 be invoked and that we do not advise and consent to this matter being brought before us or that we concur in this action. I ask that the matter be laid on the table until such appropriate time when it can be brought before this Body.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair feels that the gentleman's point of order is well taken. The Chair feels that at the time when Senator Fleming asked for unanimous consent for the immediate consideration of nominations made by His Excellency, the Governor, and reported from committee at today's Session, there was a general consent given. Later on, after we did go into Executive Session, and the nominees were brought up in individual order,—the first one being Mr. McGlinchey—the Chair is of the opinion that unanimous consent again must be granted under the rules. The rules specifically say that the Chair ask that unanimous consent be given for the consideration of this nomination.

Because there has been no unanimous consent given at this time for the consideration of this nomination, the Chair feels that the point taken by Senator Weiner is well taken.

If there is no objection, the nominations reported from committee at today's Session will be laid upon the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, will state it.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, would the Chair rule, please, as of tomorrow's Session when the order of business is that of Executive Nominations, would a motion to lift from the table, made by any Member of the Senate and properly seconded and carried merely by a majority vote of the Senate, then place that nomination before the Senate for confirmation or nonconfirmation?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is definitely of the opinion that such would occur, Senator Fleming.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may we be at ease for a moment so that I might confer with the Chair?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

CLARIFICATION OF RULING BY THE CHAIR

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The chair would like to reiterate and verify the ruling that it just gave to Senator Fleming, and to state that there is no question in the Chair's mind that the nominations which have just been laid on the table, which were reported from committee at today's Session, can be considered at tomorrow's Session.

Mr. FLEMING. Do I understand the Chair, Mr. President, that we have laid on the table the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey only?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I think Senator's Weiner's request was that all of the nominations reported at today's Session be laid on the table. If I am incorrect, will the Senator correct me?

Mr. WEINER. I believe the Chair is correct, that they all lie on the table.

INTERROGATION

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Minority Floor Leader, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. FLEMING. Do I understand, Senator, that you have officially asked to lay on the table the nominations of John Bevec and Raymond Gardlock as members of the Tax Equalization Board of the Commonwealth?

Mr. WEINER. No sir, Senator, I believe the correct answer to that is that I have objected to the Senate advising and consenting to these nominations as given. The only one that has been presented to the Chair, I believe, is Mr. McGlinchey.

On a point of order, I believe the Chair has ruled that these nominations now lie on the table. I have not made any request at all in regard to any of the other members.

NOMINATION OF HERBERT J. MCGLINCHY LAID ON THE TABLE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The request of Senator Weiner was that all of the nominations, as the Chair understands it, reported at today's Session be placed upon the table. The Chair understands that only the name of Mr. McGlinchey has been read by the Clerk, and then the request was that that be laid upon the table. Accordingly, the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey is laid on the table.

The Chair thinks that probably all of the other nominees reported at today's Session should go through exactly the same process.

NOMINATION OF RAYMOND E. GARDLOCK TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now call up the name of Raymond E. Gardlock of New Kensington, Pennsylvania, as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and ask that the Senate give it immediate consideration.

The nomination was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Raymond E. Gardlock, 116 Marlboro Drive, New Kensington, Westmoreland County, for appointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, until November 14, 1963, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified, vice Frank K. Cochran, Greensburg, whose term expired.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination read by the Clerk?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to set the record straight. My motion originally was that we lay these nominations on the table. That motion was defeated by a majority vote. The next motion that I made was that this Executive Session do arise. That was also defeated by a majority vote. The next matter that I put to the Chair was a point of order. The Chair agreed with my point of order and invoked Rule 38. I have no power over the consequence of that rule. The Chair can rule, backed by a majority vote.

These names are being brought up, and the point of order I made earlier is still apropos. I do not believe that the names can be brought up at this time. In other words, if they were out of order before, they are out of order now. To merely go through the naked process of bringing them before the Chair for the purpose of fulfilling the process, I think is completely out of order.

I do not want to make the job of the gentleman any more difficult. However, I think if we are going to follow an orderly procedure and we are going to play the game according to the rules, we should play it down to the very fine letter of the rules and the numbers thereof. For the gentleman to bring up these names for the purpose of having them lie on the table, I think is completely out of order. I think that should be quite apparent to him now as a result of the ruling by the Chair.

I think the reading of the name of Raymond Gardlock, or any other names he wants to read, is still out of order. Just to bring them up for the purpose of my objecting, so that the Chair can rule and they can lie on the table, is completely beyond the pale of what we are doing here.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair was of the opinion that Senator Weiner's original argument was that these names should be brought up individually, because the general unanimous consent which was originally given did not now apply when each individual name was brought before the Senate to decide whether the Senate would advise and consent to the nomination.

The Chair, at that time, ruled that the gentleman's point of order was well taken, and that unanimous consent had to be given for each individual nominee.

The Chair ruled on the name of Herbert McGlinchey and then had that name placed on the table. The Chair is definitely of the opinion, now that Senator Fleming has brought up the name of the next gentleman, Mr. Gardlock, that the same procedure should follow in that regard. Does the gentleman find fault with that?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I respectfully suggest to the Chair that the same purpose would be served without us going through this parliamentary procedure. If the chairman of the committee would ask that these names lie on the table, I think he would achieve the same purpose, rather than ask that we go through this procedure.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I think that is absolutely correct, Senator Weiner, but the Chair is trying to be very exact and follow exactly the same thing that he did with the first nominee.

Mr. WEINER. Then tomorrow he can call them up, and we can follow the rules then.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, it is not my desire that these nominations be laid on the table. I would like to go through with a vote on these last two names. However, certainly following the ruling of the Chair, if any Member of the Senate objects to immediate consideration, he should now state his objection and the matter, of necessity, following your ruling, will lie on the table.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair thinks this course of conduct is absolutely correct. The gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, has now presented the name of Mr. Gardlock, and the Chair rules that since unanimous consent has not been given, that name cannot be considered at this time. The Chair presumes, although it may have been wrong, that Senator Weiner would then request that the name be placed upon the table.

We are following through exactly as we did on the first name.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, that is what I am objecting to. If what the gentleman did the first time was ruled out of order by the Chair, it is now out of order if he does it the second, third, fourth or fifth time. I think if it was out of order then, he just cannot continue to do it. If that be the case, we could stay here all day, proceeding along these different lines. That is why there are rules of the Senate to govern us.

If these rules have once been ruled out of order by the Chair, I think the gentleman is still out of order. No matter how many times he reads the names or different names, they will still be out of order. To go through the mere procedure of having us object to these names is rather ridiculous.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would submit to the Minority Floor Leader that I have no intention of appealing from the ruling of the Chair. However, the Minority Floor Leader is certainly standing on every technicality that he can. I only want to be sure that these names are properly laid on the table. I will not make that request. I insist that someone else make the request.

Have you ruled, Mr. President, that also now the name of Raymond E. Gardlock will lie on the table until tomorrow's Session?

NOMINATION OF RAYMOND E. GARDLOCK LAID ON THE TABLE

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair so rules that the nomination of Raymond E. Gardlock will be laid on the table.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Donolow, will state it.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, can you clarify the language of Senate Rule No. 38 for me? The Senate Rule says that the language: "Will the Senate advise and consent to this nomination?" . . . shall not be put on the day on which the nomination or nominations are reported from committee, unless by unanimous consent."

Am I right, Mr. President, in my interpretation of this legal language, that the question itself cannot be asked unless first unanimous consent is secured and not whether the individual himself is consented to, but whether the question itself can be put, unless you first receive unanimous consent? That is the way the language appears to me, even before you get to the nominee.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Senate be at ease for a moment until the Chair is able to interpret Senator Donolow's question?

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There having been an objection to the immediate consideration of the name of Mr. Gardlock, this nomination was placed on the table.

In regard to the question put by Senator Donolow, the Chair is definitely of the opinion that the procedure which we are following is absolutely correct.

NOMINATION OF JOHN BEVEC TAKEN TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now call up the nomination of John Bevec of Strabane, Pennsylvania, for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and ask that the Senate give it immediate consideration.

The nomination was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate John Bevec, 173 Alexander Avenue, Strabane, Washington County, for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, until November 14, 1963, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the purpose of the resolution I am about to offer is to pay a well deserved tribute to an outstanding Philadelphian, who contributed a lion's share to the cultural progress of Philadelphia. I am referring to Mr. Max M. Leon, who is the head of the Philadelphia Pop's Orchestra. He is a Maecenas of Art, Coryphaeus of Music and Wizard of Organization.

Through his efforts, the Grand Opera of Philadelphia is now in full bloom and is having its most successful season. I feel that he also contributed to the cultural progress of Pennsylvania. For these reasons, Mr. President, I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO MR. MAX M. LEON FOR HIS UNSELFISH SERVICE TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA AND FOR HIS GENEROSITY, DYNAMISM AND LEADERSHIP WHICH CONTRIBUTED SO MUCH TO THE CULTURAL PROGRESS OF PHILADELPHIA

Mr. STIEFEL, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 91), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, December 14, 1959.

Among the unsung contributors to the cultural progress of Pennsylvania, Max M. Leon of Philadelphia, a Maecenas of Art, Coryphaeus of Music and Wizard of Dynamism, undoubtedly commands the title of "Mr. Music" of Philadelphia.

For more than three decades, Max M. Leon, with his characteristic zeal and dedication, contributed of his efforts in many fields of musical and charitable endeavors. Among Mr. Leon's impressive accomplishments are, inter alio, the founding and organization of the Philadelphia Pop's Orchestra, to the performances whereof at Army and Naval Hospitals and Rehabilitation Centers (including the Philadelphia Naval Hospital, Valley Forge General Hospital, Swarthmore Naval Hospital, the New England General Hospital in Atlantic City and many others), he lavishly contributed not only his sustained leadership and direction, but also generous financial support to the extent of over $100,000.00, solely given by him.

On June 27, 1945, Max Leon conducted a concert for the benefit of the U. S. Treasury War Bond Committee which was solely financed by him to the extent of $6500, but brought in $3,000,000 worth of Bonds sold as admission to the concert.

From 1943 to 1950, Max M. Leon conducted a series of Pop Concerts at the Academy of Music, with a score of international artists and soloists as participants, such as Jan Pearce, Rise Stevens, Grace Moore, Tod Duncan, Robert Merrill, Percy Granger and Blanche Thebom.

As the leader of the Talent Discovery Program, Max M. Leon was largely responsible for the discovery of Frank Guarerra, now with the Metropolitan Opera Company; Sherman Frank, now conducting "Jamaica" on Broadway; Thea Brandon, now singing with the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company and Lillian Shelby, now starring on Broadway in the show "Most Happy Fellow."

Recently, Max M. Leon applied his dynamism, organizing talent, musical know-how and financial wizardry to the progress of the Grand Opera Company of Philadelphia, known as the Philadelphia Grand, which is undoubtedly one of the mainsprings of Philadelphia's cultural life. (The President is Dr. Chevalier Jackson and Max M. Leon is the business manager thereof.) Placing all of his talent, time and financial contributions at the disposal of the Opera Company, Max Leon has advanced the success of the company to such an extent that the current season is being crowned with unprecedented triumphs in the history of the Company. Mr. Leon, through his knowledge of music and through his business ability, has combined the two into a surging force so that every opera during the current season has been hailed by the citizenry of Philadelphia as an unexcelled achievement.

Among the outstanding contributions of Max M. Leon to the cultural progress of Philadelphia, have been the opera performance for the school children of Philadelphia, made possible through admission for a fraction of the prices paid by the public.

Verily, the people of Pennsylvania generally and the citizens of Philadelphia in particular, owe Mr. Max M. Leon, the "Mr. Music" of Philadelphia, a debt of profound gratitude.

Be It Therefore Resolved that the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania pay tribute to Mr. Max M. Leon of Philadelphia, for his unselfish service to the people of Pennsylvania and for his generosity, dynamism and leadership which contributed so much to the cultural progress of Philadelphia.

And Be It Further Resolved that upon the adoption of the instant resolution, the Secretary of the Senate of Pennsylvania be directed to forward certified copies thereof to Max M. Leon and to Dr. Chevalier Jackson, President of the Grand Opera of Philadelphia.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 82, CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called up from page 13 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 82, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study the library system.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 82, ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Resolution, Serial No. 82.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on Senate Resolution, Serial No. 82, as we feel that a report has already been made by—I believe it is called—the Greenfield Committee, which went into this problem at quite some length. Therefore, it would seem a waste of State money to further investigate a matter which has been very thoroughly discussed in this report, a copy of which was placed on every Senator's desk quite some months ago.

For that reason, I request my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 85, CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called up from page 13 of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 85, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study current laws and administrative practices relating to the regulation of the production distribution and marketing of agricultural products in this Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 85, ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Resolution, Serial No. 85.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that my colleagues vote "no" on this Senate Resolution. This was contained in both Party Platforms. It has already been done and there is already quite an extensive amount of material about this problem of investigating further markets for our agricultural output. There was even money provided in the budget for this purpose which was cut out of it, I believe, over in this Chamber.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this Senate Resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

A voice vote having been taken, the motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 87, CALLED UP

Mr. BERGER, without objection, called up from page 13, of the Calendar, Senate Resolution, Serial No. 87, entitled:

Directing the Joint State Government Commission to study the establishment of a State Teachers College in the West Philadelphia Area.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 87 ADOPTED

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do adopt Senate Resolution, Serial No. 87.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to and the resolution was adopted.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1204, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 29, 1959 (P. L. 58) entitled "The Vehicle Code" providing for testing of brakes by means of a brake testing devise.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SCHWARTZ offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 816), page 2, line 20, by striking out "MAY" and inserting: "shall".

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 816), page 3, line 3, by striking out "MAY" and inserting: "shall".

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, as I understand these amendments, they are amendments which are tremendously important and would cost the official inspection stations of this state sums of money—each one, about 16,000 of them—anywhere from $59.50 to $2,000 depending on what type of machine was mandated.

I believe that the sponsor of this amendment should get up and explain his amendments as to why the inspection station shall be required to have an official brake-testing device, and perhaps he might give us some logical reason why we should force 16,000 filling stations and inspection stations to put in a brake-testing machine. In that connection I would like to ask Mr. Schwartz to give that explanation.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, it is my understanding that when this bill was originally introduced it was a "shall" bill. For some reason, in the Senate, it was amended to make it a "may" bill.

My thinking is that if this bill is passed in its present form, it does not mean a thing and it should not be passed at all. It will only mean something if it is a requirement, so that the inspection stations must have the type of equipment that this bill calls for.

I understand further that this calls for a deceleration piece of equipment which is in addition to the present testing of brakes. This is not a substitution for any present tests which are made to brakes but is an addition thereto. It is supposed to be an aid to highway safety.

This piece of equipment will determine whether or not a car decelerates within a proper limit. It is a piece of equipment which is attached to the side of the automobile and from a meter determines whether this car decelerates properly.

As I say it is in addition to any other brake tests required at the present time. It has been explained to me that this is a piece of equipment which is in aid of highway safety, something that we need very definitely at the present time. I think all Members will agree anything that will save lives on the highway should be given consideration.

I understand there was some debate and question in the Senate last week or the week before about this bill, and the Senator who introduced and sponsored this legislation resented the fact that a certain gentleman raised the question as to the very excessive cost for this type of equipment. In checking into it I find that at the present time there is only one piece of equipment that has been partially approved by the department that will sell for somewhere in the neighborhood of $59 or $60. The story that the piece of equipment would cost some $1,900 was entirely farfetched, entirely out of line.

I understand the gentleman brought some protestants in to see the Senator, and the Senator allayed their suspicions and assured them that the information they were being given was cock-eyed and completely wrong; that it would not be an expensive piece of equipment at all; that it would be a piece of equipment well within the means of the various inspection stations.

That is the explanation that I have, and that is the reason I feel that either we ought to amend this bill to make it mandatory, or else we ought to recommit the bill and get rid of it. If it is not going to do any good, we do not want that kind of legislation.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the bill says that if the amendments prevail, that brake-stopping distances shall be determined by the use of an approved brake testing device. Will the gentleman tell us what is an approved brake-testing device? Is there such a device today that has been approved by the Division of Safety and would be mandated on the official inspection stations?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The answer that I have is, yes. There is a piece of equipment which is in use in the State of Rhode Island. It has been in use up there for about a year. It is the same piece of equipment that has been approved by our Department here in Pennsylvania. If we would see fit to pass this type of legislation, there is at least one piece of equipment that we know of at the present time that will receive Department approval. This is the same provision that applies to brake linings or anything else. If you have noticed it is worded in such a way that the Department of Revenue must approve the device. How many other pieces of equipment they will approve is anybody's guess, but we do know at the present time there is one that will be approved by the Department if we pass this bill. That piece of equipment sells for around $59.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Does the gentleman know whether the Department of Revenue, Division of Safety, is cognizant of this bill and the gentleman's amendments today to make it mandatory that the official inspection stations have this device?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. They know of this bill and I understand that they were in favor of this bill. I do not know what their position was when the bill was amended so that it became a "may" rather than a "shall" bill, but it is my personal thought that unless we make this a "shall" bill, let us forget it. Nobody is going to buy any equipment if they are not required to buy it under the law. The bill in its present form, unamended, is nothing but a sham.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Could the gentleman have a letter read to this House by the Bureau of Highway Safety that it is their considered opinion that in the interest of highway safety in Pennsylvania we must mandate that each official inspection station have an approved brake-testing machine of some type or other approved by the Department of Revenue?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. The only way we could do that, Mr. Speaker, would be to table the bill to give me an opportunity to see what I can do on that score. I do not have such a letter at the present time with me. I believe there is some correspondence to that effect. I do not have it here to read to the House.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I believe that is all, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, as I went over this bill this morning I was not particularly against the idea that an official inspection station would be allowed to be equipped with this approved brake-testing device, but I felt that the bill would mean that if the inspection station used this approved device and approved your brakes and so certified that in the opinion of the official inspection station, by reason of having used this approved brake-testing device, that your brakes were in good condition, that that would put the legal stamp of approval upon that type of inspection by an official station. I felt that was all that this bill did. If that is what the idea is, that a station may use this machine—which in effect would be in lieu of pulling off your wheels and examining your brake drums and so forth—and if the Division of Safety, when the bill would get to the Governor's office, would think that is a good substitute and a way of testing whether your brakes are all right or not, there is nothing wrong with the bill. But when you come along and the language says that every official station must have an approved machine and we, right here, do not know what the machine is nor what it will cost or anything, I think that is mandating something and that is going pretty far.

I know in my community, in my county, I do not want to walk down the streets—there are about five or six official stations in my town—I do not want them to say next year in the primary election, well, Johnson, that was a great thing you foisted over on us, making us buy a machine for "X" number of dollars. That means that when we inspect your car we are going to charge you two bucks for the use of the machine in addition to the fifty cents.

I think it is not a very good idea to mandate a thing like that at this point. I do not object to legalizing the use of a brake-testing machine which would be in lieu of ripping off the wheel and going to a lot of time and trouble. There are probably a lot of big stations that are busy and that would like to put in a $2,000 machine where they could run a car on it and in three seconds test your brakes and collect the fifty cents. That is probably good, but when you say that every dinky little station in Pennsylvania has to have an approved brake-testing device, I think you are going a little far. Therefore, I am against the amendment.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson, is in full sympathy with me, that he would be in favor of anything which will improve highway safety. I know that he is sincere in his thoughts as he expressed them here on the floor.

It is my feeling that we do not go far enough with testing of automobiles. In fact, I feel that the test ought to be made every three months rather than every six months because under our present system some cars go as long as nine months without a test.

I want to make a motion at this time to put this bill and the amendments on the postponed calendar—on the table, Mr. Speaker—so that we can check into the thing a little more carefully and see if we can come up with some of the answers that Mr. Johnson has requested.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill together with the amendments be placed on the second reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2459, entitled:

An Act establishing and taking over as State highways certain county highways or sections thereof tunnels bridges viaducts and approaches thereto in counties and certain streets in cities of the first class and certain streets in cities of the second class second class A and third class and certain township roads and certain streets in boroughs and incorporated towns authorizing under certain terms and conditions their construction maintenance repair reconstruction and improvement by the Commonwealth conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities * * * for sharing of the cost * * * of such highways

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman to turn to page 44 of Printer's No. 2103.

On page 44 of the present bill there appears a taking over of a road in Armstrong County. I would like to ask the gentleman if I requested that road to be taken over?

Mr. COMER. At this time I could not answer that question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I would advise the gentleman I did not request it. I would like to ask him if he had any request from the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Guthrie, for the taking over of this road.

Mr. COMER. The same answer would prevail, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Did the gentleman have a request from the Senator from our Senatorial District for the taking over of this road?

Mr. COMER. That could be, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I would like to inform the gentleman that I have talked with the Senator and he advised me that he did not request it, neither did the House Members. Therefore, my next question, Mr. Speaker, is, who did request this road to be taken over in Armstrong County?

Mr. COMER. My answer to that at this time, Mr. Speaker, would be, I do not know.

Mr. HELM. Well, the gentleman certainly had a request from someone in his Committee. Certainly he must have had a letter from someone or at least a note asking that it be taken over.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, you can pick out different sections, different amendments, to this bill and at this time I could not give you the names of who offered the amendment to me or made the request.

Mr. HELM. Well, does the gentleman have any records in his office of these requests having been received and who sent them to him?

Mr. COMER. I probably would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Would the gentleman be kind enough to hold the bill up a few minutes while he checks with his office to find the information for me?

Mr. COMER. It is all right with me, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman. I would like to have the information before voting on the bill.

I request that the bill be held up temporarily.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the bill will be passed over temporarily.

The Chair hears no objections.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, come to the desk?

Mr. LOPRESTI IN THE CHAIR

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. McCANN.

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "Public School Code of 1949" prohibiting the closing of schools or departments during the school term and providing for the payment of the salaries of professional employees in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BRETH asked unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Title, page 1, last line of Title, by inserting after "cases" "changing provisions relating to excuses from attending school."

Amend Bill, page 4, by inserting between lines 3 and 4 Section 2. Section 1329 of the act is amended to read:

Section 1329. Excuses from Attending School.— The board of school directors of any school district may, upon certification by any licensed practitioner of the healing arts or upon any other satisfactory evidence being furnished to it, showing that any child or children are prevented from attending school, or from application to study, on account of any mental, physical, or other urgent reasons, excuse such child or children from attending school as required by the provisions of this act, but the term "urgent reasons" shall be strictly construed and shall not permit of irregular attendance. In every case, such action by the board of school directors shall not be final until the approval of the Department of Public Instruction has been obtained. Every principal or teacher in any public, private, or other school may, for reasons enumerated above, excuse any child for non-attendance during temporary periods.

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, that the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 3 of today's calendar, House Bill No. 2459, bill on final passage.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 2459, entitled:

An Act establishing and taking over as State highways certain county highways or sections thereof tunnels bridges viaducts and approaches thereto in counties and certain streets in cities of the first class and certain streets in cities of the second class A and third class and certain township roads and certain streets in boroughs and incorporated towns authorizing under certain terms and conditions their construction maintenance repair reconstruction and improvement by the Commonwealth conferring certain powers upon the Department of Highways and local authorities * * * for sharing of the cost * * * of such highways.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would once again repeat and ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, if he will answer the question I asked him before we passed the bill over.

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, according to my records this request the gentleman inquired about was given to me by the Highway Department.

Mr. HELM. By the Highway Department in Armstrong County or by the Highway Department in Harrisburg?

Mr. COMER. Well, I would say in Harrisburg, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Well, I thank the gentleman, but I do not think he has given me much information because the Highway Department is a big outfit. You could not pin it down as to the individual who gave you the request?

Mr. COMER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will turn to page 14 of the bill, on line 15. I believe that is a description of a particular piece of road that is being taken over in Allegheny County and it reads, "Beginning at a certain point thence over Lovedale road to its intersection with Pennsylvania Route 48 a distance of 242 miles."

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, I believe that is a printer's error. This error was picked out and it was agreed that all errors and amendments to the bill would be made in another place.

Mr. HELM. I am sure it must have been a printer's error, but will the gentleman tell the House whether it is 2.42 miles or 24.2 miles?

Mr. COMER. I believe it is 2.42 miles, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would also like to ask the gentleman why, in House Bill 2459, if he can give me a sound reason, because it is a departure from normal procedure, we include the roads that we are taking over and the streets we are taking over in the cities, boroughs and township all in one bill?

Mr. COMER. Mr. Speaker, sitting down with Members of another place, I was informed that the procedure I had used before pertaining to cities and counties of the first and second class, by sending in an individual bill, was not the procedure they want to use as far as our highway program is concerned. So, as in the past, we made many changes to satisfy everybody concerned. I made one complete bill which I expect to pass through the House and I believe it will meet the wishes and requirements of the other place.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, then I would like to ask the gentleman, if that is the agreed upon procedure, why was not the same procedure followed under deletions of highways?

Mr. COMER. It was held, I was advised I might say by counsel, that the deletions should be in three separate bills, boroughs, townships and cities.

Mr. HELM. What is the reasoning behind that when it is the agreed procedure to take over highways and take them over all in one bill. Why could we not follow the same procedure in deleting highways?

Mr. COMER. Well, many times, Mr. Speaker, as it has happened in this bill, printer's errors occur. They felt that if we separate the deletions from the additions it would be far easier.

Mr. HELM. Well, I am sure that I am not going to get any other answer from the gentleman although he knows full well that is not the reason.

Mr. COMER. You ask me a reason. I give it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. The gentleman has not given a reason; he has given an excuse.

Mr. COMER. You asked me for a reason, and that is a reason.

Mr. HELM. I would like to ask the gentleman, if House Bill 2459 is enacted into law and signed by the governor, what the cost to the Commonwealth will be for maintenance for the roads and bridges that are being taken over.

Mr. COMER. I raised that point, Mr. Speaker, with the Highway Department, and they thought it would be impossible at this time to give an accurate estimate.

Mr. HELM. Do you mean to tell me that this House is asked to take over highways in this Commonwealth without having any idea as to how much it is going to cost to maintain them?

Mr. COMER. In answer to that, Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman ever get a figure in other sessions on the estimate of the omnibus bill?

Mr. HELM. Yes, sir. I certainly can answer that in the affirmative.

Mr. COMER. Can you give me a figure on the cost of the omnibus bill last session?

Mr. HELM. I have no idea at this particular moment. The Chairman of the Committee on Highways handled that and I certainly do not have those figures, but I believe we should have that information at our disposal. The gentleman knows it is going to cost at least $1,200 a mile to maintain township roads.

Mr. COMER. I could estimate, say, it would cost $1,000 to $1,200 per mile, yes.

Mr. HELM. Does the gentleman have a figure on how much it is going to cost to maintain the bridges and tunnels in Allegheny County that we are taking over?

Mr. COMER. No, I do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HELM. Well, for the information of the gentleman, I have been informed that it will cost about $3 million a biennium.

Mr. COMER. May I ask the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, where did these figures come from?

Mr. HELM. They were given to me by what I would say was a rather reliable source.

Mr. COMER. Was it the Highway Department?

Mr. HELM. Well, I do not have the entree to the Highway Department that the gentleman from Philadelphia has, so I cannot get my information there. I even tried to get a marked township map to show me where the piece of road was they are taking over in Armstrong County. I made that request seven days ago, and up until this moment have not gotten the map, so I am not as fortunate as the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Comer, but I say to you that we should have some idea as to how much this is going to cost this Commonwealth before we just take over any x number of miles of highways in the Commonwealth.

I am only asking the figure on maintenance. Certainly, if any of these roads have to be topped, reconstructed, or relocated it is going to cost untold millions of dollars, and I think that is very poor business for us just to go out and take over roads when we have no idea, which we apparently have not, as to the actual cost. Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I think this bill in its present form should be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 355

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 10, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 355, Printer's No. 1710, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 1, 1933 (P. L. 103), entitled 'An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto' changing the amount of dues which may be paid by the township to the State Association of Township Supervisors."

This bill would amend section 610 of The Second Class Township Code, the act of May 1, 1933, P. L. 103, as last amended by the act of June 1, 1956, P. L. 2021, by deleting the provision that fixes the sum of $20.00 per year per township as the maximum dues which will be assessed by the State Association of Township Supervisors and shall be paid by the member townships from their General Township Funds.

The Association of Township Supervisors is composed of all of the townships of the Commonwealth and under the provisions of all of the townships of the Commonwealth and under the provisions of section 611 of the Code, each township pays dues to the Association from the General Fund of the township.

In the interest of assuring each township of the maximum amount of dues that may be assessed by the Association and enable each township to participate in its activity, I believe that the dues assessed by the Association per township and which the member townships shall pay from their General Township Funds should be limited to at least a maximum sum to be charged for such membership.

The deletion of the $20.00 per year membership as maximum yearly dues, in my opinion, would leave an uncontrolled and unwarranted blanket authority in the Association.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WESTCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 2120

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, December 10, 1959.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 2120, Printer's No. 1400, entitled "An Act amending the act of May 28, 1937 (P. L. 1053) entitled 'An act relating to the regulation of public utilities defining as public utilities certain corporations companies associations and persons providing for the regulation of public utilities including to a limited extent municipalities engaging in public utility business by prescribing defining and limiting their duties powers and liabilities and regulating the exercise surrender or abandonment of their powers privileges and franchises defining and regulating contract carriers by motor vehicles and brokers in order to regulate effectively common carriers by motor vehicle conferring upon the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the power and duty of supervising and regulating persons associations companies and corporations including to a limited extent municipal corporations subject to this act and administering the provisions of this act authorizing the commission to fix temporary rates placing the burden of proof on public utilities to sustain their rates and certain other matters authorizing a permissive or mandatory sliding scale method of regulating rates providing for the supervision of financial and contractual relations between public utilities and affiliated interests and supervision and regulation of accounts and securities or obligations issued assumed or kept by persons associations companies corporations or municipal corporations subject to this act conferring upon the commission power to vary reform or revise certain contracts conferring upon the commission the exclusive power to regulate or order the construction alteration relocation protection or abolition of crossings of facilities of public utilities and of such facilities by or over public highways to appropriate property for the construction or improvement of such crossings and to award or apportion resultant costs and damages authorizing owners of such property to sue the Commonwealth for such damages providing for ejectment proceedings in connection with the appropriation of property for crossings conferring upon the commission power to control and regulate budgets of public utilities imposing upon persons associations companies and corporations (except municipal corporations) subject to regulation the cost of administering this act prescribing and regulating practice and procedure before the commission and procedure for review by the courts of commission action giving the court of common pleas of Dauphin County exclusive original jurisdiction over certain proceedings prescribing penalties fines and imprisonment for violations of the provisions of this act and regulations and orders of the commission and the procedure for enforcing such fines and penalties and repealing legislation supplied and superseded by or inconsistent with this act' prescribing an alternative method for fixing the rates of certain common carriers."

This bill amends Section 311 of the Public Utility Law by providing an alternative method for valuing the property of public utilities engaged exclusively in common carriage by motor vehicles. In lieu of other standards established by law, the bill provides for fixing the fair return by relating the fair and reasonable operating expenses, depreciation, taxes and other costs of furnishing service to carrier operating revenues.

While the bill is permissive, it opens the door to consumer difficulties. It would allow the use of the present formula where it would help the utility and the use of the operating ratio formula where that would prove more beneficial. It is our opinion that this bill would place a premium upon inefficient operation.

We call your attention to the fact that a bill more protective to the consumers than the present bill, involving operating ratio, was enacted in the 1957 session and vetoed by Governor Leader.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being on objection

Senate Bill No. 1115, Printer's No. 1640 was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER pro tempore.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 1266, entitled:

An Act requiring certain authorities to grant the right to political subdivisions to flush their fire hydrants.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. A. J. MURPHY, TAYLOR and P. J. MURPHY. HOUSE BILL No. 2466.

An Act prohibiting the operation of pusher engines behind occupied cabin cars of assembled freight trains and providing penalties.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

INTERROGATION

Mr. RIGBY asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate Mr. WARGO.

Mr. Speaker, last week I interrogated the gentleman and I requested that the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo, give some consideration to House Bill No. 962. At that time he said that he would. He said that he could assure me he would take this matter up with all parties involved. When I say, all parties involved I also mean the labor union who are in on this problem.

I would like to know from the gentleman if he has done that.

Mr. WARGO. Yes Mr. Speaker, I have been checking it out. I assured the gentleman I would give it consideration, and I will.

Mr. RIGBY. Well, Mr. Speaker, when? We are running out of time.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I can answer that in a pretty sharp way, but you will have to take my word for it that I will give it consideration.

Mr. RIGBY. I did not hear the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WARGO. When I clear with all parties, individuals, and organizations, I shall give it consideration.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, could the gentleman tell me who the organizations are and all parties involved?

Mr. WARGO. I want to know where the CIO stands on this, the AFL. After all, this is a drastic change in our labor laws and I think that they are entitled to give me their stand on it. I would like to present that view to the Committee.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I do not agree with the gentleman that there is a drastic change in the law. I would like to ask him this: Does he consider county operators, bus operators, utilities?

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, that is not for me to say.

Mr. RIGBY. Well, Mr. Speaker, in 1947 this House passed an Act including employees of gas, light and water companies, and I would think that buses and trolleys must certainly be utilities. They come under the jurisdiction of the Public Utility Commission. Can the gentleman tell me why they are not under this?

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to perhaps first put a question to the gentleman: Why did not they include them in 1947?

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I was not here and it is something I cannot understand. I do not know and I cannot understand how or why they were left out.

I can understand the gentleman is a little confused with his quarterbacks over there.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say to the gentleman that I am not playing power politics by just putting it in my pocket and killing it. I gave the gentleman my word it would get a fair shake before the full Committee. When I get all the information I am seeking, the Committee will take up the matter and then I shall report back to you. If they see fit to put it in a mausoleum committee, that is where it will go.

Mr. RIGBY. Well, if we are going to do anything this Session—and certainly this bill is no less important today than it was last week—and since we are afflicted, I might say, with a trolley strike about every three years, in order to save us from another disastrous strike three years hence, this bill should be acted upon now, immediately. I understand we hope to get out this week, and certainly after the first of the year we cannot consider this type of legislation.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I feel that so long as we are Members of this Legislature we shall always face a crisis, and I think that perhaps we are going out. But if I can mention the other branch, the other branch has been keeping us here longer than we should be by just not confirming a couple of men for the PUC, otherwise we would have been home. If that is not power politics, what is?

Mr. RIGBY. They have a working quorum over there; they have enough people to operate the PUC.

Mr. WARGO. They have it, sure, but it is not a full working force and I think that when a hassle of three men—

Mr. RIGBY. I believe three is quorum and they have that. Of course, that has nothing to do with this bill.

Mr. WARGO. I realize it does not.

Mr. RIGBY. Of course, Mr. Speaker, we have nothing to do with appointments to the PUC, and if they are playing around with those, I am not playing with them and neither is the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Wargo.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Has the gentleman concluded his interrogation?

Mr. RIGBY. No. I want to know when this is going to be given some consideration and I want to know when the CIO has become a member ex-officio of the Labor Relations Committee of this House.

Mr. WARGO. Mr. Speaker, I can tell the gentleman that we can meet tomorrow, we can meet Wednesday or Thursday. I will meet as soon as I get all of the information I am waiting for. I will not say the 4th of January; it will be before then.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, of course, this bill has been pending in Committee since March. It should have been considered before this because it is a vital piece of legislation, and I would implore you to do something about it because it is something that should have been passed. Why it was not put in in 1947 I do not know, but it passed with a big majority then, I can tell you that.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SCHAAF. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SCHAAF. As I understand Rule 64 of this House, the questions of personal privilege shall be limited to questions affecting the rights and reputations of Members.

Mr. Speaker, I believe my reputation has been impugned, and I refer to a publication called the "PMA Legislative Bulletin" of December 11, 1959, on page 2 of which I am referred to as a "Republican from Erie."

It is precisely the last debate which prompts me to get up here and deny that I am a Republican, to deny that I ever have been a Republican, and to deny that I ever will be a Republican. I do not want the awesome responsibility, or be a part of the awesome responsibility which has kept us here for 12 months, which has played power politics, and which perhaps is going to deny Erie County a Pittsburgh-Erie freeway.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Do I understand that we are determining whether we will concur in amendments inserted by the Senate to the absentee voting bill? That is the bill, is it not?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. That is correct.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. And I believe the Majority Leader is making a motion that we nonconcur?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The motion has not yet been made, but I believe it is his intention to do so.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, just to save time, while I am at the microphone, if the motion is made by the Majority Leader to nonconcur, I am asking the Members on this side of the House to vote "No" on the motion. I believe the consensus of opinion on this side is that we like the amendments inserted by the Senate in the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House nonconcur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments placed in this bill by the Senate, which is really the Absentee Election law, first written by the Director of Elections of Allegheny County and Mr. Eberman of the election bureau of the state here, was a model piece of legislation when it left the House.

With the Senate amendments just think what can happen if this was law. You are going to give a right to the man to vote, but you are not going to give a right to his wife to vote who is there with him on the project or job out of the state. In other words, it is our opinion that this legislation on absentee voting has certainly not been clearly thought out or considered in the amendments placed in this bill. We feel that there is no difference between the man who has to go to another state in his work and his wife who accompanies him, that they would both be given the right of absentee voting privileges. But you read the bill as it is amended, the Senate says that the man would be entitled to vote, but the wife would only be entitled to vote if she was registered back home. There is only one conclusion we can come to, that the Republican Senate does not care for the female vote in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and we as Democrats want all of them. I ask that you non concur in the amendments.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I could be wrong and maybe I am misinformed as to the Senate version of this bill.

Under the present absentee voting law, a veteran, as I understand it, a member of the armed services on active duty, does not have to be a registered voter. He can get a ballot and vote. If he is not on active duty, say he is in this country in the hospital or something like that, he has to be a registered voter. The wife of a veteran on active duty today, under present law, would have to be registered to vote. As I understand this bill, the Senate version does not change the principle that a veteran would not have to be registered. His wife would still have to be registered. The Senate version goes on to say that anybody who is out of Pennsylvania, if he be a man who has gone away to work in Colorado and cannot be here on election day, still would not be allowed to vote, and the husband would not be allowed to vote unless he was registered under the Senate version. If his wife was registered to vote, she could vote. Then if one of his dependents was registered, they could vote by absentee ballot. But I may be wrong. I wish you would point out in the bill where we are denying the right of a woman to vote under this bill under the Senate version?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Johnson?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Minority Leader permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCANN. First, we will clear some points, Mr. Speaker. As to the present changes that have taken place regarding veterans.

Do we both agree that a veteran on active duty in the armed forces of the United States is permitted an absentee ballot now whether he is registered or not is immaterial?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. Shall we go to the next step? Is an ex-veteran, one who has been discharged from service and is in a hospital, a veterans' administration hospital, permitted now to receive a ballot while a patient in the hospital whether he is registered or not?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. My understanding is that he, not being on active duty, would have to be registered under present law. That is what I understand and what I understood in our meeting this morning. We could be wrong, if you have some other advice on it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I want the gentleman to check that carefully.

The last change to the Constitution that we voted on in this field, dealt with the people who are in their own county in a hospital. Do you recall that? We had this problem, if you recall, where veterans in the hospital in Allegheny County, whose home was Allegheny County, could not get a ballot, but veterans from other counties than Allegheny County were entitled to a ballot because they were in a hospital away from home? Do you recall our correction to that?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That sounds correct.

Mr. McCANN. That is right. We corrected that. Now, then, Mr. Johnson, if we corrected this so that the veteran on active duty could get a ballot whether he is registered or not, the man who is ill in the hospital whether he is in his home county or not could get a ballot.

We are going to the absentee ballot field, and what was the bill when it left the House as far as providing absentee ballots in the same field? Did not the House bill provide that the husband and wife, if they were employed in another state or outside of their area, could secure an absentee ballot and vote, both in primary, general and special elections if they so desired when the legislation left the House?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right. They did not have to be registered.

Mr. McCANN. They did not have to be registered to be eligible to vote and to request an absentee ballot, is that right?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The bill when it left the House said that members of the armed forces, their spouses and dependents would be allowed to vote without registering.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. In other words, when we voted for House bill, were we not doing two things? We now provide a ballot for the man, for the person on active duty. Of course, we do provide if the lady is in service that she get a ballot just the same. A member of the WAC is entitled to an absentee ballot just the same as a man is in service. Do you agree to that?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right. Women in the armed services in active duty are entitled to a ballot.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. In the bill when it left the House we were going to do certain things, and what were those things? The wife who accompanies the service man would be entitled to vote. That was in the bill.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Without being registered?

Mr. McCANN. Correct, because the husband does not have to be registered since he is on active duty.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Then the dependents would not have to be registered?

Mr. McCANN. That is right. Let us go to the next step of the House bill. We were trying to take care of the service man's wife, or if this would be so, we would be taking care of the service woman's husband who might accompany her on active duty. I am sure this could happen, and we were taking care of those people. In that absentee ballot we were now taking the same situation as to the man who had to go outside of Pennsylvania to work. We will say I had to go to Chicago, and my wife accompanied me. When the bill left the House were we not both, husband and wife, entitled to secure absentee ballots?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right. When the bill left the House there was no differentiation between the man and his wife. They did not have to be registered. They could both vote and their dependents. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. Now then, if we have all agreed that this is what we voted for when this bill left the House, were we not voting to provide absentee ballots for females who accompanied their husbands without being registered and we favored them securing this ballot? Did not the Senate take that out and therefore their position would be that they opposed granting the ballot to the wife?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. In other words, you agree with me that the Senate is removing the right of the woman to vote who has to accompany her husband, and they do not worry about these people who have to work and be with their husbands and should be given the right to vote.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. This bill as it left the House did not differentiate between wives of veterans and nonveterans. If you were out of town and you could not vote you did not have to be registered, nor your dependents, as I recall the bill.

Mr. McCANN. I am bringing this point up and you have agreed with me, and you and I voted and knew what we were voting for clearly when the bill left the House. If you will look at the previous print, before the Senate put in these amendments in which we are nonconcurring because we, as Democrats, and I am sure you, as Republicans, do not agree that these women should be denied the right to secure a ballot. Do you not agree to that statement?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, the reason for our wanting to concur in the bill is, there has been quite a lot of study and thought given to the various possibilities that could occur as a result of the bill as it left the House. There was a feeling that it would open the door to many, many voting frauds and that the requirement of registration to vote should be written into the bill.

Mr. McCANN. Could you tell the House . . .

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. The conflict is within the non-veterans field, really.

Mr. McCANN. The conflict, we agree, is in the non-veteran field, but could you tell us your position of when you say you want to concur in Senate amendments and we favor nonconcurring and to go to conference committee? Can you tell us, basically, the position of your Party regarding this field? Can you outline it carefully for us before we go to conference?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. We feel this new group that you are extending the vote to should be required to be registered voters of Pennsylvania in order to get a ballot and in order to close the door on possible fraud. When you bring in the question of dependents and all this and that, and they do not have to be registered there is a feeling that it is going too far. This is a result of studies made of the bill since it left the House.

Mr. McCANN. When the gentleman says, we favor the registration, does the gentleman mean both the husband and the wife who accompanies him, both should be registered before being eligible for absentee ballots? Or, just one.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right. That is in the non-veteran field.

Mr. McCANN. That is right.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. So far as the veteran is concerned, the law is not being changed. If he is on active duty, and so forth, he does not have to be registered. But his wife would still have to be registered under this Senate version.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman favor that the wives of the servicemen—because in the House bill they were eligible for an absentee ballot would have to register before they are eligible for a ballot, even though the husband who is on active duty does not have to register to get an absentee ballot?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is the import of the Senate amendments and we are backing them at this time.

Mr. McCANN. The gentleman favors that position, then, that the wife should be registered?

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. I thank you very kindly.

Mr. Speaker, I ask that the House do non-concur in these amendments to back our position of supporting the position as the bill passed this House originally to give these people an opportunity to secure a vote.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the Majority Leader?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, I think, as the Minority Leader expressed it, it is not argument so much between the rights of the veterans.

I would like to ask the Majority Leader this: The Majority Leader said if he and his wife went to Chicago and were not able to be home for voting, they should be permitted to have an absentee ballot whether they were registered or not.

Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman recommending regarding unregistered voters that the gate be open and permit them to vote?

Mr. McCANN. No, I am not saying "unregistered voters." We are talking about absentee ballots, section by by section. If there is any section you want to name, I will tell you whether I favor what was the House version, permitting the lady or the wife to vote. If you will clear your question, I will answer it clearly. Are you talking about the wife of a serviceman?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I am talking about, as the gentleman said, yourself and wife were unable to be home to vote; you are not registered but you are unable to be there and you are in Chicago. Now, do you feel that you should be given the right to have an absentee ballot, not being registered.

Mr. McCANN. Should I, the male?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. The wife too. Either one of you.

Mr. McCANN. The answer is yes, myself and my wife, who is accompanying me because as it left the House the bill covered both. The bill, as it comes back, excludes the wife unless she is registered.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. As a civilian I am talking about?

Mr. McCANN. That is what I am talking about, a civilian.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Then you are opening the gates wide so that any civilian, whether he is registered or not, can go out of his county or out of his town and apply for an absentee ballot. And you have no control at all. Who becomes a qualified elector then?

Mr. McCANN. In compliance with the law, the election board of the respective county or city, if you read more carefully, makes the decision now both on service people and people who are civilians and places them in the same category.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. That is true.

Mr. McCANN. That is right; it is in the law.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. An unregistered voter at the present time cannot apply for an absentee ballot unless he is in the armed services.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. If this were law, an unregistered voter, as it passed the House—and I assume you voted for it—favored the granting of the ballot to that man and to his wife.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Why should anybody register then?

Mr. McCANN. All of us should register.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Well then you are giving a special privilege to a person who is not registered.

Mr. McCANN. Because he is away working and could not.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Well, could he not have registered when he was at home?

Mr. McCANN. Very true, sir. Could the serviceman and his wife do the same? The answer is they may not be there and could not register during the period when registrations are open.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I think, Mr. Speaker, the reason for putting in an absentee ballot referendum was to let people who are registered, but are unable to be home on election day, notify the election board beforehand that they are going to be out of town, will not be there to vote, and get an absentee ballot. I do not think it was brought forth to let anybody, a civilian, vote whether he is registered or not. I think your law reads "a qualified elector."

Mr. McCANN. The House bill said "a qualified elector."

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I think the Senate bill says the same thing.

Mr. McCANN. What is a qualified elector, sir?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. A registered voter, I always say. Somebody who is registered.

Mr. McCANN. That is right. And the amendment that the people voted on to the Constitution clearly set those changes that the people approved. The veteran does not have to be registered.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. We favor that his wife does not have to be registered who is accompanying him, period. Your position is that you should have her registered to get a vote. Then when we go to the civilian field your position is—

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Yes Mr. Speaker, I agree that she should be registered because oftentimes the wife does not accompany the soldier on all of his trips. She is not with him all the time on duty.

Mr. McCANN. I am not arguing that she is, but let use take the case where she is.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. All right.

Mr. McCANN. What do you do then, refuse her a right to exercise her franchise even though her husband is granted that right?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Her husband is serving in the armed forces.

Mr. McCANN. And is it not, wherever possible, right for the wife to accompany her spouse?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. If the Army permits it, yes.

Mr. McCANN. Does not the Army even pay to have some of these—

Mr. HOLLIDAY. In certain cases, but in other cases they are not permitted to accompany their husbands.

Mr. McCANN. All right. If she is home in her own precinct and not accompanying her husband, she would not be away from her own voting precinct, but if she accompanied him, do you favor that she could vote or not?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I would say that that would depend on circumstances.

Mr. McCANN. What circumstances?

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Mr. Speaker, I asked about civilians.

Mr. McCANN. Well I answered you.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. You brought up the question of yourself and wife being out of town and not registered voters.

Mr. McCANN. Correct.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Why should you a civilian, out of town, in Chicago or some other state, be permitted to vote in Pennsylvania? You say that you should be allowed to vote. Why were you not registered in Pennsylvania before you went to Chicago if it was just a business trip?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, it is not a business trip. A business trip is what if you are a businessman? Say you are a truck driver—that is a good example—a long distance truck driver. I guess they get home every so often. I am sure they do. Now then, on Tuesday, or whenever is election day, say they are in Chicago on a run. They cannot vote at the present time, can they.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. The can, under this law, if they are a registered voter back home. They could apply for an absentee ballot ahead of time and say I am going to be in Chicago.

Mr. McCANN. That is right.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. I have lived both in Chicago and Pennsylvania and I was a registered voter in Chicago, and I came back and registered again in Pennsylvania.

Mr. McCANN. That is correct. There is no argument there. But, now, if your wife accompanied you—

Mr. HOLLIDAY. She did. She was registered in Chicago too.

Mr. McCANN. If your wife was accompanying you, as a truck driver your situation is that she could not vote.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. If she is away and has no license and if she is a civilian, I would say that no person has a license to vote in a Pennsylvania election if they are out of the state on a business trip, unless they are registered.

If you open the gates that wide anybody could vote—We have 25,000 people in Blair County, I believe, that are not registered out of the total population. The same holds true throughout the state. Every one of those 25,000 people who did not take the interest to register could walk out of the county and apply for an absentee ballot.

Mr. McCANN. No. Those people would not be eligible to vote.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Why not?

Mr. McCANN. Where they are away from home or their place of employment in comparison to the other situation in which state they would then be eligible to vote.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Well all right, if they are away on election day, any person who is away from his home on election day according to your basis, would be permitted to vote on an absentee ballot.

Mr. McCANN. Unavoidably away, yes.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. That is right.

Mr. McCANN. On a business trip.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Whether he is truck driver, railroad man running an engine or a conductor if he is on a trip, he could vote whether he is registered or not.

Mr. McCANN. He has to be registered and unavoidably detained. It is right in the bill if you read it carefully. On page 7, on line 7 the portion which was struck out in the Senate, it is very clear if you read the bill.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. On what basis would you get a vote when going to Chicago on a business trip.

Mr. McCANN. If I, on election day, knew that I had to be in Chicago, Illinois, unavoidably detained on business or work, a registered voter in my own precinct where I live—

Mr. HOLLIDAY. You are not registered. You said you are in Chicago and not a registered voter.

Mr. McCANN. I am a male. I am registered, you will find that on page 7.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentlemen yield? The Chair has been very patient and believes the interrogation should be conducted through the Chair and not as an argument across the Hall.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I certainly agree with that.

I would like to say that the person has to be registered, which is clearly outlined in the one section and reads unavoidably detained, the right to secure the ballot. Now, his wife, we are talking about the serviceman's section, we favor that in the bill.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. No, Mr. Speaker, I am referring to the serviceman. I am talking of the question that the gentleman from Greene brought up when he said, my wife and I were in Chicago on a business trip and we would be permitted to vote on an absentee ballot whether we were registered or not. That is my question.

Mr. McCANN. If your question is pinpointed that carefully, the answer would be they would not be eligible to secure an absentee ballot because he was not a qualified registered voter as indicated on page 7, line 7.

Mr. HOLLIDAY. Well, Mr. Speaker, evidently the gentleman from Greene has reread the law, and I believe that would change his original statement.

Mr. McCANN. No, Mr. Speaker, the section above that deals with the veteran. And I want to clearly define it. If you will look where it is struck out by the Senate in the various amendments—evidently not too many people have been studying the House bill that passed this House. Some items were different when the House passed this bill. I think you will agree to that. With that in mind I hope that we can concur and go to a conference committee to thrash out these various sections.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the Majority Leader on one point.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the Majority Leader consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, John Doe is in the service and he is assigned to duty in Germany. While in Germany he meets a member of the female corps and marries her. This member of the female corps joins the service from Cleveland, Ohio, and she is a duly qualified resident and voter in Cleveland, Ohio. Would that give Mary Doe from Cleveland, Ohio, the privilege of getting an absentee ballot in Harrisburg because she married John Doe from Harrisburg?

Mr. McCANN. I knew you were going to bring up the real tough technical ones about the marriage, but let us say this: The husband of course is entitled to an absentee ballot. His wife was already entitled to an absentee ballot had she been a Pennsylvania girl in service. But you mentioned the fact that she was from Ohio. I could not answer whether she could get a ballot in Cleveland, Ohio, but I think you could agree with me that under the bill as it passed the House she would be entitled to voting rights as a wife of the husband in active duty in the armed forces, in Pennsylvania, in the precinct or voting district which the husband came from. You agree to that? Now, the next question is, she might be able to vote twice if Ohio would permit her to vote. I am sure that has happened—

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, may I raise the question as to how that wife avoids the other Constitutional provision with reference to a year's residence in Pennsylvania to be a qualified elector?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I am sure that the only question I can answer there would be that she would have to have a year's qualification before she would be eligible to vote. Then you are going to say, how are you going to certify as to that year since her husband went into active duty from Pennsylvania and had the necessary qualified period of time? But these technical cases, I believe, would be determined by the fact that she would not be eligible unless she had the qualified period of time to secure an absentee ballot.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, it does not say that in the bill, however.

Mr. McCANN. It does not, and if you read it carefully you will not find the answer to that question, or the other about the marriage that you might want to impose regarding girls from certain other foreign countries.

Mr. BELL. Mr. Speaker, we have had a very learned debate on this subject and it is quite obvious when one reads the bill that the debate, in large part, is away from the subject-matter of the bill, and the basic subject-matter of this bill is tied in with the integrity of our elections.

I say this because it is basic law in Pennsylvania that a person to vote should be registered. We, in the past, have given the right to vote to those who are not registered if they are in the military service or if they are disabled, bedridden veterans.

The question is, are we going to hold the right to vote of an unregistered elector to those two categories, or are we going to open the door? Are we going to open the door to the husbands of the WACS—so I cannot be accused of being against lady voters—are we going to open the door to the dependent of all these people, or are we going to uphold the integrity of our elections by insisting that a person has to be registered to vote? I think that is the basic question here, and the other House, as our Speaker says, has in its wisdom asked that we keep our elections restricted to registered voters, except for people in the service and those veterans in hospitals. That is the only question here.

I say we should vote to hold our voting rights to those who are registered.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 2268

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I call up the report of the Committee on Conference on House Bill No. 2268.

The report of the Committee on Conference was read as follows:

(Committee on the part of the House of Representatives)

An Act prohibiting mining in certain areas without prior approval by the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries establishing standards for the approval of plans for mining in such areas imposing powers and duties on the mine foremen and the Department of Mines and Mineral Industries and providing penalties.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 9 Penalties Any agent of the mine operator or any of its officers or supervisory employees or any agent of the owner or any of the owner's officers or supervisory employees if said owner engages in active supervision and control over the operator or any mine inspector who by acts of commission or omission wilfully and knowingly violates any provisions of this act and the act of commission or omission is the contributory cause of an incident which results in death or serious bodily harm of anyone lawfully in the mine shall be guilty of a felony and upon conviction be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) and undergo imprisonment for a period not exceeding three years or both.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I request that the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference.

Mr. A. W. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the Majority Leader to explain the changes by the Conference Committee. As I understand, the changes were small. We have not caucused on the report. If the changes are material, we will have to caucus on it.

Mr. McCANN. Mr. Speaker, I will have Mr. Musto of Luzerne County explain the change which was just one paragraph.

Mr. MUSTO. Mr. Speaker, it was agreed by the Conference Committee of the Senate and House, it was a clarification of the opening which is different in the anthracite coal fields than in the bituminous coal fields. There was no disagreement whatsoever in the Conference Committee, so I ask the House to vote for it.

On the question recurring.

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock p. m.
The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

Rev. NORMAN E. DETTRA, Evangelical United Brethren Church Clergyman, Annville, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

O Thou Who inhabitest eternity, blessed be Thy Name, for Thou alone art God.

As of old, when the sons of an ancient High Priest entered the Jewish temple at Jerusalem, and finding there eight iron spears, they stuck candles in those spears and kindled them. So, Most Holy One, encourage us to make of every adverse situation a ray of light which will illumine and guide our fellow men to a more perfect understanding of themselves and of Thee.

Spare us, O God, the embarrassment of forgetting that with every Menorah, there is a challenge to rededicate our lives to a better service to our fellow men. Teach us, blessed One, to search until we find that light of peace, and then press on undaunted and unafraid, valiant and free from malice. Thus, we will usher in that kingdom which Thou hast ordained for mankind.

Give to us that sense of power which comes with each day's renewed dedication of self to Thee.

Hear this our prayer, O Thou Holy One, for Thou art God. Amen.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the reason for my voting "no" on this piece of legislation is because there are two distinct matters contained in this bill. I feel that the amendments should have been placed in one bill and in one piece of legislation, alone.

Therefore, Mr. President, I cannot accept this wrapped up piece of legislation and vote for it in its present form. My vote was "no" because I feel that the action taken by those who amended this legislation makes this bill unconstitutional.

REMARKS RELATING TO REQUEST FOR RULING BY THE CHAIR

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I call to the attention of the Senate, in connection with the bill which just passed, that I asked for a ruling from the Chair two weeks ago and I was ignored. I do not mind, but I think I am a Member of this Senate—at least I have been here—and when I ask for a ruling, I think I am entitled to it. I see no reason in the world for such action. We accepted amendments to it and did everything else except have a ruling on it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The present occupant of the Chair most certainly would like to apologize to the Senator. Unfortunately, he was not in the Chair at the time when the request for the ruling was made.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

HB 1474—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I do not think that I can vote for this bill which would allow the investment of the retirement funds of the schoolteachers and the State employees of Pennsylvania into common stocks. I think any trust is a sacred trust. However, the trust which the Commonwealth must have toward the moneys invested by its employees and its teachers in their pension funds is of such a high nature that I think the risk of investing those moneys in common stocks is going just a little bit too far.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I find myself in complete agreement with the gentleman who just spoke. This bill would permit the investment of the retirement funds in common and preferred stocks, under the same rules which presently apply to fiduciary investments. While we realize that the people in charge of these funds, for the investment thereof, are people of high integrity and excellent judgment, nevertheless, I think it would be too great of a responsibility for the Members of this Senate to say to them that they should invest the retirement funds of the schoolteachers and the State employees in common or preferred stocks.

Therefore, Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I find myself in complete agreement with Senator McMenamin and the Majority Leader. I have observed here that on page 5, of House Bill No. 1474, Printer's No. 1997, the sponsors of the legislation have endeavored to write some sort of a safeguard into the bill. However, I do not believe that it is sufficient.

I believe the objective of this bill is to bring about a greater yield on the investment by investing in common stock and, therefore, cutting down the State appropriation as far as the guaranteed interest is concerned. However, Mr. President, I do not believe that we can safely vote for this piece of legislation and feel sure that the retirement funds of the schoolteachers and State employees are properly protected.

Therefore, Mr. President, I, too, must oppose the passage of this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

During the calling of the roll, the following occurred: Mr. RIPP. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will be so recorded.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Rules.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a five minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in view of the recent divergent views on the compensation of the judges, I feel it is high time that the Joint State Government Commission undertook a study. Therefore, I am offering a resolution to that effect, and I ask for its immediate consideration and adoption.

SENATE RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE COMPENSATION OF THE JUDGES OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. STIEFEL, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 92), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Whereas, Various proposals have been made at this session of the General Assembly regarding the compensation of some of the judges of the Commonwealth; and Whereas, The financial needs of all members of the judiciary should be considered; and

Whereas, The General Assembly, in order to maintain an independent judicial system of the Commonwealth, requires additional data such as comparative statistics, reflecting judicial salaries in comparative sister States and other information of cognate nature for consideration and adequate "evaluation of this matter; Now, Therefore, Be It

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate the compensation of the judges of the Commonwealth, the need for changes and adjustments concerning such compensation, and report its findings and recommendations to the General Assembly immediately upon the completion of the study.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being objection, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

NAYS—2

Mahady, Mullin,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

HB 1971—Read at length the third time and agreed to, And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I believe in consistency. That is why I intend to vote in favor of the Sunday hotel liquor sales referendum for Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. This bill applies only to those two cities. The purpose is to enable these cities to compete with other cities in attracting conventions.

I want to emphasize the words "consistency" and "referendum." I especially want to call those words to the attention of double-talking Democrats on the other side of this Chamber. When I fought hard earlier this Session for a referendum on the mass transit bill in Allegheny County so that the people of our county might have a chance to vote "yes" or "no," the Democratic Members of this Senate vigorously opposed it. Now the Democrats are talking out of both sides of their mouths. They are suddenly in favor of a Sunday hotel sales referendum, which again takes care of our two largest cities. The Democratic Members of this Senate did not give a hang about what the people of Allegheny County thought about the multi-million dollar mass transit foolishness, but they bow low for this Sunday liquor sales bill.

I want the record to show clearly that I am not voting for the Democrats on this bill. However, I am supporting the bill because I believe in voting consistently and because I believe fairly in permitting people to express themselves on controversial measures such as this.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, since I handled the mass transit bill on this side of the Senate during the debate and the passage of the bill, I might say to my good friend, Senator Koprivier, that there was a referendum feature in the bill which provided that at the discretion of the county commissioners, a referendum could be held in regard to mass transit in the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegheny.

In regard to this piece of legislation which is before us today, we have a little different aspect. If there were no local machinery which would provide or manage a referendum, I feel that I would not vote for this bill. However, in view of the fact that there is a local referendum provided, I am going to vote for this legislation. This is a departure from my position, but I feel that I cannot deny the people of the city of Pittsburgh and the city of Philadelphia the right to vote locally on their problem.

I repeat that the county commissioners in Allegheny County have the prerogative of deciding whether or not there should be a local referendum in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this bill. At the outset, I want to say that I am fundamentally opposed to any liberalization of the liquor laws. I am fundamentally opposed to any encroachment on the observance of the Sabbath Day.

This bill is grossly unfair to other cities from that standpoint. It picks out two cities in Pennsylvania and gives them the right to sell liquor on the Sabbath during certain hours, provided that fifty-five per cent of their business is derived from food. It clearly ignores the right of competitive hotels in surrounding and adjacent territories to do likewise. Clearly in the county of Allegheny, the hotels in the city of Pittsburgh—if this measure were to pass—could conceivably serve liquor on Sunday, and it denies that same right to hotels in the other 122 municipalities in Allegheny County, in many of which I believe if an investigation were to be made, it would be found that over fifty-five per cent of their business was food on the Sabbath Day. Clearly it is an opening wedge into further desecrating the Sabbath Day because unquestionably—and I can understand why this would occur—there would be a great drive on the part of owners of hotels in other territories to secure the same rights that would be given to the owners of hotels in the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh. I do not believe that, in any way, this can help the economy of either of the two large cities.

I certainly feel that in Pennsylvania when we take steps toward further demoralizing the Sabbath Day and further getting away from the strict—or as strict as possible—observance of the Sabbath Day, that we are taking a step that is fundamentally wrong in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I would urge every Member of this Senate to examine his own conscience. This is not a partisan matter, certainly. It is a matter on which each man should represent his own constituency. I am absolutely satisfied, Mr. President, that I represent the great majority of those people whom I represent in the Senate of Pennsylvania when I vote as emphatically and as loudly as I can against this measure.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to say, very briefly, that this is a matter which is coming before the people. If, in their wisdom, they decide to vote against this matter, they can do so, and that will be the voice of the people speaking. I think that all of us should have enough confidence in the people that if they do not want a thing, or they do not want to desecrate the Sabbath, if that is the fact,—which I do not believe—I think that the people are capable of making their voices heard.

The gentleman has stated—and I believe his point is well taken—that the bill does not go far enough. In past Sessions, there have been efforts to enlarge the jurisdiction of this matter, but nothing has ever come to a vote or the matter has been defeated in committee.

I would like to point out further to the gentleman that the two cities involved are Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, and not Sodom and Gomorrah.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, this bill, I believe, is a bad and an evil bill for the reason that those of our populace, whether they be in Philadelphia or Allegheny County, who have to have a drink on Sunday, I am sure, will have no difficulty going to a legitimate club and getting it. I am afraid that it is a vicious opening wedge in our effort to control the liquor traffic, which has been, by legislative enactment, declared a legal business.

As far as I am concerned, I urge all of my colleagues to vote “no” on this bill.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I followed Mr. Fleming’s argument, and it seemed to me to be somewhat contradictory. He thinks the bill is bad, and I respect his views. At the same time, he said while it is bad, it is unfair to let only Philadelphia and Pittsburgh be bad. It is unfair not to let all of the rest of the cities in the State be bad. It seems to me that such an argument is somewhat inconsistent.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I certainly had not intended to take the floor a second time. If I left that inference with the Senate, I did not want to leave it.

I meant to say clearly that the proponents of this measure—although I probably did not say it, but this is what I had in mind—know full well that if this measure were applicable to all of the sixty-seven counties of Pennsylvania, it would go down by one of the greatest defeats that would be possible to be made, if all of the Senators knew that the cities, boroughs and townships in their own Senatorial Districts were going to be permitted to have this same referendum.

Certainly, the bill is discriminatory in that phase of it. I further said, and I fully believe, that we should not pass on to the people referendum votes. This is a representative form of government. We are sent here to determine whether or not legislation should be passed. In my opinion, this measure should have been presented clearly on the basis of permissive or otherwise as to whether or not this should be allowed, and we, as Members of the Senate and Members of the House, should stand up and vote our own convictions at that time.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I think that we should take a realistic approach to this problem. Many times I have heard, on the floor of this Senate, the argument that we must do something to preserve our cultural centers and our metropolitan areas. Here we have the great city of Pittsburgh with a number of great hotels. They recently had the honor of having a Hilton Hotel open in that city. We have Philadelphia, which is adjacent to New Jersey. It is the largest city in the State of Pennsylvania. If we do not do something to permit these people to vote locally on this problem, I feel that we are doing wrong.

I agree with Senator Fleming that if this were to be applicable to all the boroughs and townships in the State of Pennsylvania, I would be on the floor battling this legislation as vigorously as Senator Fleming battled this particular bill. However, we have to look at it, I think, from an objective point of view. Unless we do something and give these people the opportunity to vote on this particular problem, I feel we are doing wrong.

Someone mentioned that if anyone wanted a drink, he could go to any legitimate club and get a drink. That may be true. As a matter of fact, I believe that most of us agree that that statement is correct. However, we have these large hotels which have large investments and serve a great number of our population. We have large hotels in Philadelphia which take care of national organizations. The same applies to Pittsburgh. Are we going to hamstring the metropolitan areas by being picayunish here today? I believe that we should give them the right to vote. Let us settle it once and for all.

Under the 1937 Act covering liquor control, there were local referendums set up. I recall that, at one time, in my Senatorial District they had a vote whereby they dried up the borough of Waynesburg in which one of the largest hotels was located. The next time they had a referendum, they came right around and reversed themselves, and now liquor sales are permitted in that particular borough.

I know this is a departure as far as the Sabbath Day is concerned. However, I believe the time has come that we should give them the opportunity to vote. I am voting to give the people of the city of Pittsburgh and the city of Philadelphia the right to determine whether or not the hotels should have the right to sell liquor on the Sabbath Day. I feel it is proper. I feel it is only fair.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, my reasons for voting against this bill are, in many respects, consistent with those expressed by Senator Fleming.

However, I do not know whether or not the competition which the large city hotels may have from out-of-State hotels is too damaging to their business. I do know that a piecemeal referendum may result in extending this, in future years, over larger portions of the State. I am likewise sure that should this be a State-wide referendum,—and this is only my judgment on it—I believe that it would be overwhelmingly defeated.

Whatever the reasons expressed in favor of this bill or against this bill on this floor, I am convinced and certain that the people whom I represent are opposed to it. Therefore, I intend to vote against the bill.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

HB 2192—Read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEINER, by unanimous consent, offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 1, last two lines of Title, by striking out "State Teachers' Colleges and Univer—" in next to last line and all of last line of Title; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 12 and 13, by striking out "State Teachers' Colleges and Universities receiving State aid"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 1), page 2, lines 15 and 16, by striking out the bracket before "and" in line 15 and after "Governor" in line 16.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask that my colleagues in the Senate vote against these amendments. This bill would give the power to arrest to policemen in the Pennsylvania State University, State Teachers' Colleges and Universities receiving State-aid. These amendments would eliminate all of those institutions from the operation of the bill, excepting the Pennsylvania State University.

Mr. President, I am informed that the other institutions, contemplated within the purview of this legislation, would like to have their officers also have this arresting power. Particularly, I suggest that the State Teachers' Colleges, many of which are located in rather isolated places, need to have this in order to protect their property and their students from outside violence. I believe the universities receiving State-aid would like to have it. They are now occupying large campuses, located in large cities, and they are subject to intrusion or invasion by persons who are not proper to be upon their campuses and in their buildings.

Consequently, Mr. President, I urge that the Members of this Senate vote against these amendments and vote for the bill as it appears upon our Calendar.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments were not agreed to.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING POSTPONED

SB 113, 351 and 381—Without objection the bills were called up from the Postponed Calendar by Mr. BERGER. Upon motion of Mr. BERGER, seconded by Mr. PECHAN, and agreed to, the bills were dropped from the Calendar.

REQUEST FOR RECESS

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request a ten minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus, to be held in the Caucus Room on the first floor.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wonders if the Senator will yield for a moment? I understand there are some Reports from Committee at this time.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, as the Chair knows, we deferred the regular order of business until completion of the Calendar, which we are still on. If there is unanimous consent for the Reports from Committees, as I am sure there will be, and if they will in no way interfere with the business we established at the opening of this Session, then I will have no objection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that if unanimous consent is requested by a Senator to make a report from committee at this time, the report will be accepted and that will in no way interfere with the previous agreement that we would revert to the regular order of business later on in today's Session.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Rules, reported, as committed, HB 2048 and HB 2323, as amended.

Mr. SHAFER, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported, as amended, HB 648.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Mahady, will state it.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I would like to make inquiry as to when the Judiciary General Committee met.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I will answer the gentleman's question, not in the capacity of the Presiding Officer, but in my capacity as Chairman of the Judiciary General Committee.

The Judiciary General Committee did not meet. A number of the members of the committee were polled on this particular bill. It was decided to bring it out for the consideration of the Membership of the Senate as a whole. I do not know whether the particular Senator was asked for his views on it or not.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, for the record, no one on this side of the aisle was polled on that bill.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, at the commencement of this Session, I asked and received unanimous consent to omit the regular order of business up to the consideration of today's Calendar and, at the conclusion of the consideration of the Calendar, to revert to the regular order of business. Consequently, I must object to returning to the regular order of business until we have finished the Calendar.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can advise the gentleman that in the interest of the welfare of the Members of the Senate, I will move for a recess until 9:30 o'clock this evening.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask that we have a recess of ten minutes for a Democratic Caucus, to be held in the rear of the Senate, in the "Love Nest."

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS ON SECOND READING

HB 63—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 117—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. WEINER.

HB 203—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 317—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 853—Read at length the second time,
On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. SEYLER offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 1 to 15, by striking out all of said lines; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 16, by striking out "2" and inserting: "1"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 17, by striking out "of the"; Amend Sec. 2, page 2, line 17, by inserting after "act": "of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), known as the 'Public School Code of 1949,'"; Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 14, by striking out "3" and inserting: "2".

Amend title, page 1, sixth and seventh lines of Title, by striking out "the determination of reimbursement amounts and."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I object to these amendments and ask by colleagues to vote "no."

I might say to Senate Seyler, if I may, that the very same provisions which he is taking out of House Bill No. 853 appear in House Bill No. 2173. Tomorrow afternoon, we are meeting with the House Members, in a Conference Committee, on that very same subject. I presume their objection to House Bill No. 2173, when they did not concur in our amendments, was in regard to the provisions which the gentleman wants to delete from House Bill No. 853.

In view of the fact that we have such a short time, I would suggest that this bill be read for the Second Time and if Senator Seyler wants to introduce his amendments tomorrow, he will receive no objection from this side. We certainly will not object to his offering of amendments, but whether or not we accept them is another thing.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, is the gentleman offering me a good reason for deferring my amendments until tomorrow, or is he saying that tomorrow I may get a few more votes for them than I will today?

Mr. PECHAN. No, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the gentleman's deal does not sound very promising.

Mr. PECHAN. I am not making any deal, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, since I am not being offered any inducement, I think I would like to have the amendments voted on today.

I would like to say, in defense of the amendments, that it is my understanding that with the amendments which are presently in the bill, which these amendments would take out, and which amendments were placed in the Senate, it is my understanding, from discussing this with the Department of Public Instruction and with other persons who work in this area, that if these amendments do not go through and if the amendments placed in the bill by the Senate remain, it will have the effect of having school districts building elementary buildings of six rooms, or larger, reimbursed for something which they do not do. By that I mean to say that upon the recommendation of the State Council of Education, buildings with six rooms are also requested to have a room which is called an all-purpose room, to be used for a gymnasium, auditorium, cafeteria. As an inducement to this, we have, by legislation, reimbursed districts which provide such rooms.

As I understand the effect of the bill, as it stands at present, if a school district builds the room or if it did not build the room, it would still receive reimbursement as though it had. It seems to me this is manifestly not the intention of the Legislature. If the gentleman would want to offer an amendment which would cut out such reimbursement, I could follow him. However, I would not necessarily agree with him, but I could follow him.

It is my understanding, from my discussions with the department and also with members of the School Directors Association, that the effect of this bill would actually be to reimburse school districts for something they did not do. It would be giving them an additional reimbursement beyond the six-room building they construct, even though they did not choose to follow the recommendations of the State Council of Education and build the additional room.

At least, Mr. President, I think that if the gentlemen do not wish to go along with these amendments, they should perhaps pass this bill over temporarily or something, in order to ascertain the truth of that statement themselves. Surely, it cannot be the intent of such a sound and reasonable thinker as Senator Pechan—one who is as interested in the welfare of the schools as Senator Pechan—to have the Commonwealth reimburse school districts for something they do not build.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would urge my colleagues on both sides of the aisle to either support these amendments to remove this, or else to pass this bill over in its order long enough for them to find out for themselves the truth or falsity of the statement I am making, which I have on very good authority.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I will take the "or else" about which the gentleman spoke and we will put the bill over in order.

This evening, when we come back, I hope that Senator Seyler and I can sit down and go over this matter. I think the gentleman has been misinformed, because I have some figures. I am just trying to cut down the cost of school buildings. When you want a six-room school building, why should another room be built when there is no need for it? However, I would suggest that the gentleman and I sit down and discuss it.

I am getting hungry and I am getting a headache, just as Senator Seyler had a little while ago. Therefore, let us not prolong this discussion. I will agree that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the gentleman has now made me an offer which I can cheerfully accept.

I would like to say to the gentleman that the same persons, who informed me of the information which I gave him before, tell me that this bill will not save one penny in reimbursement from the Commonwealth. It is my information that it will not save us one penny.

Therefore, Mr. President, I will be glad to accept the gentleman's offer and I will ask that this bill go over in its order, with the amendments, for consideration whenever we return to this subject.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I think, Senator Seyler, that the orderly way to do it would be for you to withdraw the offering of your amendments at this time, and then have Senator Pechan make a request that the bill go over in its order.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I realize that the amendments have not been adopted. Therefore, I am just as willing to have them returned to me because I will not be losing anything thereby.

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I, accordingly, withdraw my amendments at this time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I request that this bill, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

HB 866—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1057—Read at length the second time and agreed to, Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1108—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. BERGER.

SB 1272—The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. PECHAN and PROPERT offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 3), page 2, line 12, by inserting after "taxes": "on real estate."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second and third sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 1380—Without objection, the bill was passed over in its order at the request of Mr. PECHAN.

HB 1616 and 1909—Read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2209—Upon motion of Mr. PECHAN, second by Mr. BERGER, and agreed to, the bill was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

HB 2386 and 2388—Upon motion of Mr. PECHAN, seconded by Mr. BERGER, and agreed to, the bills were re-committed to the Committee on Rules.

HB 2397 and 2399—Read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2400—Read at length the second time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?
Mr. RUTH offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 410), page 2, line 5, by striking out "shall" and inserting: "may"; amend Title, page 1, next from last line of Title, by striking out "requiring" and inserting: "authorizing."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I object to these amendments, and request my colleagues to vote "no" on them. This bill is intended to require the Department of Highways to place receptacles for rubbish along the highways.

First of all, we have levied a large fine for discarding rubbish, and we are now unwilling to require our Department of Highways to provide receptacles for the trash.

I think the amendments are not good, and request my colleagues to vote "no."

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative, and the amendments were not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HB 2449—Read at length the second time and agreed to,
Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING POSTPONED

SB 764—Without objection, the bill was called up from the Postponed Calendar by Mr. PECHAN. Upon motion of Mr. PECHAN, seconded by Mr. BERGER, and agreed to, the bill was dropped from the Calendar.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President. I will do it for Senator Lane.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, I observed that you recommended the General State Authority Bill. Do you propose to have the Rules Committee report this bill back to the floor?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, with amendments.

Mr. LANE. Do you know what the amendments are or would you tell me?

Mr. PECHAN. I do not think I would even tell you if I did know.

Mr. LANE. What is it, a highly classified Republican secret?

Mr. PECHAN. No, Mr. President. The bill was reported from committee to save a legislative day. We have not had a chance to study it. The Committee on Rules is going to do that, and then amendments will be offered, which we feel will be acceptable to the fifty Senators on this floor.

Mr. LANE. Did you say "study" or "emasculate"?

Mr. PECHAN. Do not put words in my mouth. I would not know how to spell "emasculate."

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY THE USE OF THREE MEMBER BOARDS OF ATTORNEYS—ARBITRATORS

Mr. MAHADY, by unanimous consent, offered the following resolution (Serial No. 124), which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Whereas, There has arisen a widespread use of three member boards of attorneys—arbitrators to hear and decide civil claims up to $2,000, and

Whereas, In Allegheny County the estimated cost of such a system is between $75,000 and $100,000 per year; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to make a study of the use of such three member boards of attorneys—arbitrators and the cost thereof as well as the feasibility of additional law judges hearing such claims without a jury and the comparative cost thereof; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I wish to say a few words on this resolution. I wish to offer for the record an editorial from the Pittsburgh Press, showing that the cost of arbitration in Allegheny County, where three attorneys volunteer to act as a board of arbitration, is very high. Therefore, I feel that the Joint State Government Commission should study whether or not additional judges, hearing the same without a jury, would not be less expensive and more efficient.

In our county, it is considered a burden by the attorneys and it is something that is loathed. It costs seventy-five dollars sometimes for a one-half hour hearing. A judge, sitting without a jury, could run through innumerable cases in a day and at much less cost. That is why I am asking for this study.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. At the request of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Mahady, the editorial will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

EDITORIAL FROM PITTSBURGH PRESS

Arbitrating Small Claims

The County Court here, by authority of a new state law, is clearing the way for the use of three-member boards of attorney-arbitrators to hear and decide on civil claims of up to $2,000. The plan will be put into effect if the new Board of County Commissioners approves the annual financial outlay of $75,000 to $100,000 which would be needed to cover administrative costs and fees of the arbitrators.

Arbitration of small claims is already being successfully employed in more than 40 of the state's 67 counties where it had been previously authorized. In Philadelphia the system has been especially useful in reducing the backlog of the Municipal Court. Special acts were required to institute arbitration in Philadelphia, and now in Allegheny County, because these two metropolitan areas already had lower courts for handling small claims. As the volume of cases grew, however, the Municipal Court in Philadelphia and the County Court here became unable to cope with them.

No doubt arbitration will help the Allegheny County Court to keep its docket current. And in this respect it will be a welcome innovation. But the courts and the public should not be allowed to forget that an extra-judicial device is being used as a substitute for what should be a regular judicial function. Arbitration should be acceptable as a short-term remedy for clogged calendars. But it should not obscure the effort, represented by the court-administrator legislation now pending in Harrisburg, to modernize the courts and make them more efficient. Moreover, it should be remembered that the use of arbitration does nothing about the mountain of untried cases in the Philadelphia and Allegheny County Common Pleas courts where most of the cases involve claims exceeding the maximum arbitration limit.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The resolution offered by Senator Mahady is referred to the Committee on Rules.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. BERGER, KALMAN and MULLIN, by unanimous consent, presented to the Chair SB 1273, entitled:

SENATE RESOLUTIONCONDOLENCE OF THE SENATE EXTENDED TO THE FAMILY OF THE LATE THEODORE BLUMBERG

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution (Serial No. 93), which was read, considered and adopted:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Mr. Theodore Blumberg, one of Pennsylvania's most public spirited citizens passed away last week and the people of this great Commonwealth will unquestionably miss him.

At the time of his death, Mr. Blumberg was a member of the Delaware River Bridge Commission, a position to which he was recently appointed by Governor Lawrence. As all the other members of the commission will attest, Mr. Blumberg's efforts will be greatly missed.

Mr. Blumberg was an industrialist in Philadelphia and it was because of him that many new industries were brought into the State. He was active in the Democratic party, but members of both parties often sought his advice.

We, the members of the Senate deeply mourn Mr. Blumberg's death; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania extend to the family of Mr. Theodore Blumberg our deepest sympathy and profound gratitude for the excellent job he did for our State prior to his untimely death; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to his widow in Philadelphia.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SB 1250 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That Senate Bill No. 1250, Printer's No. 1604, entitled: "An Act conferring the rank of Brigadier General Retired in the Pennsylvania National Guard upon George Sarraf," be recalled from the Governor for further consideration.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, this is a recall resolution for further consideration, rather than for amendment or to cure a defect in the bill. I note that the title of the bill is to confer the rank of Brigadier General, Retired, on one of our own Members, George Sarraf, and I am wondering whether Senator Stiefel might want to have this laid upon the table until we can find out more about it.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the Chair to understand, Senator Berger, that you object to the immediate consideration of this resolution?

Mr. BERGER. I do, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair hears objection. The resolution will be laid on the table.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1593

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 1593, Printer's No. 1320, entitled "An act amending the act of May 21, 1931 (P. L. 149), entitled, as amended 'An act imposing a State tax payable by those herein defined as distributors on liquid fuels used or sold and delivered within the Commonwealth which are practically and commercially suitable for use in internal combustion engines for the generation of power; providing for the collection and lien of the tax and the distribution and use of the proceeds thereof; requiring such distributors to secure permits to file corporate surety bonds and reports and to retain certain records; imposing duties on retail dealers, common carriers, county commissioners and such distributors; providing for rewards; imposing certain costs on counties; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; providing for refunds; imposing penalties and making an appropriation,' increasing the permanent State tax," having been referred to the Committee on Finance on August 19, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the primary reason for offering this discharge resolution, at this particular time, is that we of this Administration feel that we need additional funds to finance our highways. We have had a number of meetings. As a matter of fact, we had a dinner meeting at the hotel at which a number of the leaders were present.

The opposition has been advocating the passage of legislation which would penalize the residents of Pennsylvania by adding an additional five dollars on to the fee for plates. We feel that out-of-State motorists pay thirty per cent of the gasoline tax. We need the money and, therefore, we felt that this committee should be discharged from further consideration of this legislation because it will be for the best interest of all of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I will ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this resolution. I do not feel that it was exactly necessary to refer to the meeting at dinner, which we had and which was very pleasant, when we were the guests of Senator Lane, at which a number of members of the administrative arm of the government were present. However, as long as Senator Lane has referred to it, Mr. President, I might say that the impression I gained from that meeting was that it was not of too much consequence to the Department of Highways whether they received the money that they said they needed from the registration increase or from the one cent gasoline tax.

I would, therefore, ask my colleagues to vote against this discharge resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I did not mean to infer any criticism of the meeting, because I enjoyed the fellowship which existed at that particular meeting. However, I do believe that the executives of the Department of Highways certainly spelled out their problems in detail.

If the Republican Majority is sincere in its efforts to assist in bringing new industry to Pennsylvania, we should have new highways, and they know that just as well as I do. They are not too sincere when they advocate the increase in license fees because they know that is a political move. They know very well when they advocate the increase in license fees, those who receive the increase will blame this Administration. They realize that we need the money to finance our highways. If we do not have the money, we are going to lose a lot of Federal money because we will not be able to match those funds. It was purely a political move on their part.

I think they will agree, if they are honest with me, that they know very well that at that time the executives explained in detail the number of States that had increased their gasoline taxes, and Pennsylvania is far behind New York and Ohio. As a matter of fact, the total gasoline tax in the State of Ohio is now eleven cents per gallon. The same applies to New York. Here in Pennsylvania, we have four times the highways which the State of New York has, which are sustained and controlled by the State of Pennsylvania.

If Senator Berger and the Republican Majority are sincere at this late date, they will agree to the discharge of this committee. We should bring this legislation to the floor so that we can debate it in detail.

Senator Pechan, I hope you vote with me.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have never gained the impression from any source, either from the Democratic or Republican side, that an increase in taxation of any kind, whether it be through a registration fee or an increase of one cent in the gasoline tax, would be an inducement to industry to locate in Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in my meetings with those who represent industry, one potent factor is good transportation and good highways. The second is public utilities, and the third is a good labor force.

Without good highways in Pennsylvania, we are not going to have additional industry. I believe that those who work with industrial development will agree with me that there are three things; good highways and good transportation, public utilities, and a good, intelligent labor force. We must have good highways in order to entice industry into Pennsylvania.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I want to draw to the attention of this Body that even if we had the additional one cent tax, we still, in the long run,—and speaking of a long range plan— would have an inadequate long range plan.

There is no question about the merit of the additional one cent gasoline tax, because those who use the roads pay for them. However, I would like to draw to the attention of this Body the seriousness of this problem. In this State, we have 41,700.72 miles in the State road system. Of that, there are 5,233.6 miles which are unpaved surface. Of that, there are 6,650 miles which merely have a light coat. In other words, they are made only for very light traffic. If you take this number of miles, which is 41,700, and using the figure that there are 4,000,000 automobiles and trucks,—there being 3,506,224 passenger cars and 589,045 trucks—and you take the average length of them and try to park them on that system, divide it yourself and see whether you can park all of those cars on the State road system.

When we see that this is growing every day and our population is growing, are we to be so shortsighted and so politically-minded that we will say that if we cannot have a small amount of money by using an embarrassing system whereby our own people pay for the roads even though outsiders use them, then, of course, you will vote against this discharge resolution? However, if you intend to keep this one of the foremost States in the union, then it is incumbent upon us to lay the groundwork that will permit this to be so.

There is one individual—I will not say he is a stubborn individual, but a man who likes to be shown and usually deals in figures—who has convinced the Members on the other side of the aisle that this money could not be used. That is contrary to facts. The money can be used. Not only can it be used, but we must gear our Department of Highways to such a degree that we can meet the demands of the next ten years upon us and that we will not be a backward State as far as roads and transportation are concerned. Only by having an adequate amount of money to gear the highway program for the next ten years to the increased population of the State will we be able to maintain the leadership of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on this resolution.

Mr. ROONEY. Mr. President, I would like to say at this time a few words about the discharge resolution that was just introduced.

I have seen my colleagues from the other side of the aisle on many occasions rise and talk about the splendid highway program that we have in Pennsylvania. However, at the same time, I have talked with the Governor and our Secretary of Highways on many occasions about the great program in which we can participate within the next twelve years under Federal matching funds. This is the only program in Pennsylvania where we can buy one dollar for every dime that we invest. We have to, within the next twelve years under this program in Pennsylvania, come up with $25,000,000. If we come up with $25,000,000, we will share in Federal highway funds amounting to $3,000,000,000.

On many occasions, I have seen and heard Senator Confair talk about the great Keystone Shortway. Well, if we are going to have the great Keystone Shortway and other numerous Federal interstate highway programs in Pennsylvania, we are going to have to arrive at a realistic tax program. At the same time, in this twelve year program with a one penny increase on the tax on each gallon of gasoline, we, in Pennsylvania, will have to share sixty-six cents of each dollar that we contribute. That is all because other out-of-State residents, Senator Ehrgood, who are traveling to and from various parts of this Country, will share in this tax.

As far as the increase in registration is concerned, and as far as the increase in the license fee is concerned, it is purely politics. I think it is time we come to the realization that we, as leaders in this Legislative Body of this State, must assume a tax program and, at the same time, let out-of-State residents participate in some of the excellent facilities of the highway program that we have in this State.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe that the hypocrisy or the equivocation of the position taken in regard to this program is readily apparent when we understand that one of the oil companies, which has been fighting this tax and which has put out propaganda against it, raised the price of its own gas by one penny. When their competitors put pressure upon them, they took off the penny. Yet this very same company, which showed a tremendous profit for the past year in the public statement issued, is the same one which protested against the additional one penny tax for the purpose of providing better highways and also for the State to take advantage of the Federal funds.

I wonder how that gentleman from Williamsport is going to report back to the people in his District. His platform has been in favor of building the Keystone Shortway. His talk here has been on the Keystone Shortway. However, I ask him here, what has he done to produce the necessary money to provide the sinew that will put together the program he has talked about and on which he has run? I have heard him say nothing about this program. I have heard him come to no conclusion about this, except a lot of talk which has not been translated into votes. I think that in order for him to carry out the promise made to the people in his District—unless, of course, he does not want to carry out that promise—he should get behind this program and also join us in discharging this committee from further study of this bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Lane has requested a roll call vote. Is there a second request?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I also request a roll call.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, before calling the roll on this matter, I feel it incumbent upon me to say something about the word "hypocrisy," which has been mentioned here in connection with this subject.

It has been urged upon us that we should pass this additional one cent gasoline tax, first, because it is difficult to meet the Federal commitments on the Federal interstate and defense system. Mr. President, that costs the State one dollar for every nine dollars of Federal money. I believe I am not in error when I say that the total amount that they intend to spend during the next biennium is $160,000,000. Then they say they cannot take care of the 100 per cent State maintained system on which they have to pay all of the costs.

Mr. President, this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has never failed to meet its commitments with the Federal Government, not only on this new Federal interstate program, but it has never failed to meet its commitments on the fifty per cent primary system, and it has never failed to meet its commitments on the secondary system.

However, Mr. President, the thing which impresses me is that there has never been one bit of objection made by the Highways Department. In fact, it has been urged upon us that we should take over new mileage in the city of Philadelphia and new mileage in the county of Allegheny, without any increase in the gasoline tax in Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, I say that it has not been demonstrated that this one cent increase is needed to maintain the State highways of Pennsylvania.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to clarify a slight distortion. In the event that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Department of Highways, takes over any road mileage, either in Allegheny or Philadelphia County, those particular counties lose that proportionate share of the liquid fuels' tax, and that reverts to the Motor License Fund.

Let us get that clear. Every county in Pennsylvania that has any road mileage receives a reimbursement from the Liquid Fuels' Tax Fund. They lose that when they lose their mileage. That would revert to the Department of Highways for the maintenance and construction of those roads.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think one other point should be cleared up as well. I think if all of us will objectively examine where the funds which fill the coffers of the highway fund come from, you will find that the principal sums come from counties such as Philadelphia and Allegheny. You will also find that the proportion to what they receive is mighty small, and they have never received their fair share and apparently never will, unless the make-up of this Body changes in the sense that the Members who live in the rural areas are constantly getting not only their fair share, but more than their fair share. The only thing the city of Philadelphia and Allegheny County have always asked for is at least their proportionate share, which they have never received.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I can agree 100 per cent with the Minority Leader that when the complexion of this Body changes, then most certainly the distribution of highway funds will be greatly different than it is now under the present system. It will not be distributed on the basis of sixty per cent mileage and forty per cent population. It will be distributed on a far different ratio, because they have been after that for a long, long time. The only reason that the rural highways are in business is because the complexion of this Senate has not changed. It is still Republican and represents the 100 per cent State maintained highway system.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to make another correction on another slight distortion. There are two particular funds as far as the liquid fuels' tax is concerned. In regard to counties, each county receives one-half of one cent of the gasoline tax. That money is used for the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges. Then you have a fund which is applicable to cities, boroughs and townships. Senator Berger is talking about the sixty-forty. That is correct.

The question of Allegheny and Philadelphia counties was brought up. They receive one-half of one cent of the gasoline tax, which is distributed to all of the counties in Pennsylvania. The idea behind that is that it is distributed on a population basis only. Therefore, that is what they use for their roads and their bridges. That is the fund which Auditor General Smith raises so much fuss about every once in awhile.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, may I just very briefly point out some facts in connection with this resolution to discharge the Finance Committee from further consideration of this bill, increasing the gasoline tax by one cent or twenty per cent of the present gasoline tax?

Last biennium, the highway funds available for expenditure by the Highways Department totaled some $886,000,000. This biennium, according to the best figures that are obtainable and checked by reliable sources, we will have a total of $913.7 millions of dollars, which is an increase of 13.5 per cent without any new taxation.

Let me also verify the statement made by Senator Berger just a few moments ago on this subject regarding the fact that this Commonwealth has never lost a single penny of Federal matching funds. Never have we lost a single penny on the fifty-fifty basis or on any other basis, including the interstate basis of ninety-ten.

Last year we were electing a Governor. The Department of Highways let contracts, between January 1 and September 20, to the extent of $127,000,000. This year, for the same period, they have only let contracts to the extent of $29,000,000. I do not say that the reason that we were so liberal in letting contracts last year was the fact that we were electing a Governor. However, it could be so.

We have had three Highways Secretaries in less than five years. Certainly it takes a man a long time to become familiar with the great operation, as it has been pointed out, of over 41,000 miles of roads, as well as the necessary bookkeeping, administrative duties and the carrying out of the operation of such a department. Mr. Lawler and Mr. Stevens just became thoroughly familiar—if my experience is of any value—with the duties incumbent upon them when they left the office.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a minute?

Mr. WADE. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair recognizes Senator Weiner. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I do not want to be rude and interrupt the gentleman. I merely want to point out, for the purpose of the record, that the gentleman is rather far afield, and I am not objecting to it. However, I also want him to bear this in mind when later on we try to answer some of the statements being made by the gentleman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that the debate on this particular discharge resolution has gone far afield in a number of instances. The Chair will allow the gentleman from Cumberland to continue with the understanding, of course, that the gentleman from Philadelphia will be entitled to answer.

Mr. WADE. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

I would like to conclude the short statement I was about to make by saying the sooner this Legislative Body gets around to passing legislation creating a highways commission where we will have continuity of management, the sooner, I think, we will arrive at a place where we will feel justified to place additional funds in the hands of the Department of Highways.

As has been brought out by Senator Lane and others, our current tax rate on liquid fuels is five cents. We immediately take one-half of one cent and return it to the counties under the formula. Then we take twenty per cent of the remaining four and one-half cents and return it to all of the municipalities within the Commonwealth on the basis of population and mileage. That formula has worked well. We have a good highway system. We will have an increase of thirteen and one-half per cent without increasing any gasoline tax or liquid fuels' tax. Frankly, in my judgment, that is all of the funds that this Department of Highways is prepared or ready to spend.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state it.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, would you tell the Members of the Senate how Senator Confair voted?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I believe that request is out of order. The roll call should be announced before an inquiry on that subject is made.

Mr. LANE. I think the Presiding Officer should determine whether or not it is out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the gentleman asking for a verification of the roll at this time?

Mr. LANE. No, Mr. President. I am asking how Senator Confair is recorded as voting.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman is recorded as voting "no."

Mr. LANE. Thank you very much, Mr. President.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am about to offer a discharge resolution and ask for its immediate consideration.

Incidentally, this discharge resolution will determine once and for all the sincerity of the Republican Majority in regard to financing our present school districts.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 656

Mr. LANE offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December, 15, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill No. 656, Printer's No. 418, entitled "An act reenacting and amending the act of June 22, 1935 (P. L. 414), entitled as amended 'An act to provide revenue for State purposes; imposing taxes upon certain classes of personal property; providing for the assessment, collection and lien of the same and the distribution of the proceeds thereof; imposing duties on executors, administrators, registers of wills, recorders of deeds, prothonotaries and court clerks and on persons, copartnerships, associations, banks, national banks, trust companies and other corporations receiving deposits of money and on certain corporations and limited partnerships; conferring powers and imposing duties on certain State officers and departments; imposing penalties and making an appropriation,' by reenacting and clarifying the State personal property tax, increasing the rate thereof and of the corporate loans tax, granting certain additional exemptions and credits and providing for the valuation of stock in certain investment companies," having been referred to the Committee on Finance on June 30, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question was raised on the last discharge resolution about some of the Members going far afield. The Chair, at this time, contemplating that there will be additional discharge resolutions offered this evening, would like to read, for the information of the Members, from Section 491 of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure:

'It is not in order to discuss the merits of a bill upon a motion to discharge a committee or withdraw the bill from committee. Debate in such cases must be confined strictly to the purpose of the motion, for if this were not true, the merits of any question could be forced under discussion merely by such a motion."

The Chair, at this time, would caution the Members to attempt, within all possible reasonable limits, to confine their remarks on discharge resolutions to the meaning of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, Section 491.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in reference to the resolution which I just offered to the Chair and to the Members of the Senate, I wish to advise that the purpose of submitting this resolution is to inform the public, and especially members of the public school teaching profession, that we now have in our Finance Committee, legislation which would bring about revenue amounting to $55,000,000, and should we have that revenue, we would possibly be able to finance House Bill No. 1108 to the satisfaction of the members of the public school teaching profession, the school directors and the members of the Parent-Teacher Associations of Pennsylvania.

The Republican Members of the Senate have released to the floor, House Bill No. 1108, to which, I understand, Members on our side have planned to offer amendments. However, there is a question of financing. The Governor has repeatedly stated that if we do not have the money to finance this legislation, he will be forced to veto it.

Therefore, what I am endeavoring to do here today, in reference to this resolution, is to bring out on the floor, for consideration, the tax on personal property or stocks and bonds.

There has been quite a lot of distortion in regard to this particular legislation. I wish to advise the Members that a great portion of the tax will be paid by out-of-State residents, because a lot of our personal property is now exempt from tax here in Pennsylvania.

I had an analysis of this bill prepared some time ago, but I do not have it on my desk. However, if there are any questions as to my statements, I believe I can find this analysis upstairs in my desk in my office.

There has been a distortion in regard to the penalty that might be applied to certain residents of Pennsylvania. It is true that the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh now levy an additional personal property tax. However, most of the counties of Pennsylvania, by law, are limited to four mills on personal property that is not tax-exempt. Should this bring in the $55,000,000, which I think it will—as a matter of fact, it may not now because we are halfway through the biennium, but it still will bring in sufficient funds to properly finance House Bill No. 1108.

If the Republican Majority is sincere in assisting the members of the public school teaching profession here in Pennsylvania and our various school districts, they will vote "aye" on this resolution to discharge this committee.

While I am on the floor, Mr. President, I want to digress for just a moment or two.

Quite some time ago, I offered a similar resolution and the exact status of this resolution was never properly determined. As a matter of fact, I believe the Majority Party took the position that it was not a privileged resolution and, I believe, the Committee on Rules wrote a white paper in regard to their decision. I have never heard that white paper read from the floor or from the rostrum. I have always been rather curious in regard to their decision, because I have never had a definite decision as to whether or not a discharge resolution is really a privileged resolution. Perhaps someone on the other side could enlighten me when we get into this debate.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, answering only the remarks of the gentleman concerning the decision of the Committee on Rules, to which the problem was referred for decision and from which committee a decision came, the record will show that that was handed to the Presiding Officer of this Senate. I do not recall the date. It was written in detail, and the Lieutenant Governor, to the best of my knowledge, still has in his possession the report of the Committee on Rules, and which decision he has not yet handed down.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Majority Leader for just one moment, please, if I may.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the Majority Leader, Senator Berger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BERGER. If it is germane to the subject, yes, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Berger, my question will be germane to the statement which you just made.

Could you advise the Members of this Senate of the political complexion of the Committee on Rules when you made this decision and handed it to the Lieutenant Governor? Were there all Republicans on the committee, or were there any Democrats?

Mr. BERGER. There were Democrats.

Mr. LANE. There were Democrats?

Mr. BERGER. Yes.

Mr. LANE. Did the Democrats concur, with the Republican position in regard to my position that it was a privileged resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in further answering the interrogation of the gentleman, a copy of that decision was also handed to the Minority Leader.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am very sorry to say that the gentleman did not answer my question. I would repeat. Did the Minority Members of the Senate Rules Committee concur with my position that a resolution to discharge a committee was a privileged resolution?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I cannot recall the deliberations of the committee. I only know the result, and that was that a report of the committee was made and handed up.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President—

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please yield?

Mr. LANE. I will yield, Mr. President.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, in connection with this present resolution, I must raise a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield?

The Majority Floor Leader has raised a point of order.

Mr. BERGER. Yes, Mr. President, I did.

The point of order is whether or not a resolution, once having been defeated in this Senate upon the same subject and the same bill, may again be introduced and voted upon.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe if you would check back in the record, I do not believe that my resolution was ever adopted or defeated, because the question was brought up as to whether or not it was a privileged resolution, and I have never seen that white paper. I would like to know the subject matter which the white paper contained. Therefore, the question of whether or not we have offered a prior resolution is not germane to this debate because there was no conclusion.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I have only the history to go on.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to raise a point of order and, perhaps, clarify for the Chair, if I may, the facts as they are contained in regard to the point of order which has been raised.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The point of order that was raised, to my understanding, is that the Majority Leader questioned whether a resolution, which one was defeated, might again be voted upon under a discharge resolution.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I respectfully suggest to the Chair that the resolution was not for the purpose of discharge of this measure. The resolution that had been offered, for the discharge of this measure, was objected to by the Majority Leader as to whether or not it was a privileged resolution. It was suggested that it was a privileged resolution. It was suggested that it was a privileged resolution by the gentleman from Washington County, who introduced it.

At that point, it was asked that the resolution lie on the table. It was taken from the table and sent to the Committee on Rules for further action. This Body did not ever vote, in my memory. I may be incorrect. The Journal is being searched at the moment to determine whether we ever voted on this discharge resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Regardless of the facts, Senator Weiner, in answer to the point of order which was raised by Senator Berger, the Chair knows of no rule which would substantiate the point of order which he has raised.

Mr. BERGER. In other words, Mr. President, I take it the ruling of the Chair is that upon the defeat of this resolution, an identical resolution may then be introduced.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that a discharge resolution would be in order.

Mr. BERGER. I thank you, Mr. President.

Mr. President, I wish to point out that in the History of House Bills, under House Bill No. 656, a resolution to discharge the committee from further consideration of this bill was defeated on October 15, 1959, by a vote of twenty-eight to twenty-one.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, if that is the case, then I would say that the Majority Leader and the Members of the Rules Committee are probably in error if they decided that a discharge resolution is not a privileged resolution. If that is the case, then I take it that a discharge resolution is a privileged resolution at any time. Is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that a discharge resolution is not a privileged resolution.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, according to the statements of the Majority Leader, some time ago this resolution was acted upon and was defeated by a majority vote. At that time, if you will recall, and I believe you were present, the argument was that a discharge resolution was not a privileged resolution. I have no recollection of the Senate ever acting upon my resolution. However, if their arguments in regard to my resolution not being a privileged resolution are correct, then, of course, we should not have acted upon the resolution. If their position is incorrect, then their arguments went over like a lead kite.

Mr. President, I ask for a roll call vote on my resolution.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair has requested that the history of the former discharge resolution be looked into at this time, in order for us to give some clarifying statements before we take a vote on this matter.

Mr. LANE. Then, Mr. President, I presume that we are at ease at this time. Are we now at ease?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the Chair may correct me if I am incorrect, but I do not think that the History is the final word on any one of the bills. I think it is merely an index, just like the Calendar.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The search, Senator Wiener, is being made in the Legislative Journal.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. First of all, in reply to the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, the Chair would again like to state that it rules that a discharge resolution is not a privileged resolution. The Chair can find nothing, under the rules of the Senate, which would show anything different.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, do you suppose that your ruling coincides with that of the Rules Committee as contained in their white paper?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. First of all, the Chair knows nothing about a white paper. Second of all, the Chair does not know what the Rules Committee may have decided upon. The Chair is not in a position to answer the gentleman's question.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, in view of the fact that my resolution is in order, I again request a roll call vote on my resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, the author of this resolution indicates that this resolution is intended to convey that the purpose of the $55,000,000 from this personal property tax, or stocks and bonds tax, is for public education. I would like to submit two authorities, who may have some influence on the majority of this Senate on this particular question. The first is none other than the Educational Adviser to President Eisenhower, Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. He terms the United States teachers' pay scale as a disgrace. "A Nation has no right to take advantage of a teacher's willingness to serve," said Secretary Flemming.

About a month ago, a leading merchant in Harrisburg paid money to tell us how she felt about our ability and our willingness to support education. In this paid advertisement, this Harrisburg merchant said:

"Take your choice, Folks!

"$20 billions annually for Crime

"$14 billions annually for Education

"$20 billions a year to keep America from getting worse, and $14 billions a year to keep America on the road to getting better . . . $20 billions for Scoundrels and $14 billions for Scholars . . . More for a jail term than for a college term . . .

She further states in this advertisement:

"America needs more schools and America's teachers need more pay. The only way to get them is for you and me and the folks next door to take a livelier interest in these problems . . . Our democracy functions and flourishes on the principle that a sound, well-balanced education is the birthright of every American child . . . Our existence and progress as a nation are dependent on that education and on those responsible for it in the classroom . . . The teachers and educators of our children are entrusted with the most important job in the world—molding the minds and directing the energies of this generation to give light and leadership to generations to come."

I might say, Mr. President, that as Senators, each of us, each day, has the opportunity, and we probably take it, to say good words about public education. Only two or three times occur during a Session when we have a chance to back up those words with votes. Today, December 15, is one of those days. This resolution is one chance for us to prove our sincerity for public education by voting for the discharge of this committee, so that every Member on this floor may then be recorded on this important issue.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I want to just say a few words and then I will sit down. In support of Senator Hays' position, and in my opinion, I might say that I feel that the vote on this resolution will indicate that those who vote in opposition to it are not for proper financing of public education in Pennsylvania. Those who vote for the resolution, I feel, are indicating their willingness to supply the funds to properly finance education in this great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, I do not wish to prolong this debate, but I would like to point out that in a ruling by the Chair, on October 15, it was ruled that a vote against or for a discharge resolution does not constitute a vote for or against the bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think we have now been over this matter four or five times. If the gentleman will look at a later date, when he asked for the very same ruling, I believe he will find that he was advised that the Chair has no right to grant any inference, either directly or indirectly, on what a vote indicates. I think the vote will stand on its own two feet. I cannot understand how anybody, who does any thinking about any of these problems, can say that if you vote against this resolution, you are really for the bill. I think if you vote against this resolution, you are voting against the bill. That is my interpretation of it. I do not believe that the Chair is in any position to determine what a Member has in mind or what he may want to do, unless he states here what his position is.

Mr. VAN SANT. Mr. President, at this time, I do not wish to read into the record all of the debate which occurred on that occasion. However, I would like to point out that if you will consult the record on pages 4173 and 4174, of the Legislative Journal, dated October 15, you will find that the Chair ruled that a vote for or against the resolution does not constitute a vote for or against the bill. I admit there was a later ruling, but I think this ruling is a more firm one after the debate which ensued.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that a discussion of this matter is out of order at the present time. The only thing before the Senate is the calling of the roll on this resolution.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, the Minority Leader seems to be clairvoyant tonight. How he knows the meaning and the tenor of my vote is something beyond me.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I want to correct the gentleman. The Minority Leader is always clairvoyant, not only tonight.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. SEYLER, and were as follows, viz:

| | | | |
|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Miller, | Ruth, |

| Flack, | Madigan, | Van Sant, | Scott, |
| | | | Presiding Officer |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Mahady, will state it.

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, in the rulings tonight, the Chair read from Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, which became the rules of the Senate on January 1, 1959. It seems the only copy of these rules is in the hands of the Parliamentarian. This manual has never been furnished to the Members of the Senate, despite the fact that it has been requested on a number of occasions.

It would seem that if the rules were in our hands, we would be more familiar with them.

OFFICERS OF THE INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE PRESENTED TO SENATE

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I should like, at this time, to present to the Chair and to the Members of this Senate three distinguished gentlemen, any one of whom could be of great help to us in the matter of taxes. I mean individual payment of taxes. These gentlemen are Mr. Edgar A. McGinnes, District Director of Internal Revenue, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Mr. A. James Golato, Tax Information Office, Internal Revenue Service, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; and Mr. Lynn Beard, Group Chief, Internal Revenue Service, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

All three have just finished addressing a meeting of Certified Public Accountants at the Penn Harris Hotel, and are seated to my left rear.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, on behalf of his colleagues in the Senate of Pennsylvania, most certainly welcome the guests of Senator Silvert.

The Chair is delighted to know that the gentlemen are not here on official business, but are here on the business of pleasure.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I think it would not be amiss for the Members of this Senate to get better acquainted with these gentlemen as we are getting near the end of the year. When it comes about that time, I think the form is 1048 which these gentlemen look at occasionally. Therefore, me might get to know them on an informal basis, in case we have to get to know them formally.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SILVERT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I am about to offer a discharge resolution, and I ask for its immediate adoption.

This discharge resolution refers to House Bill No. 1442, Printer's No. 639. It is a joint resolution, proposing an amendment to Article III, Section 18, of the Constitution, to permit appropriations to be made in the form of scholarships grants or loans for higher education purposes to Commonwealth residents enrolled in institutions of higher learning, except those enrolled in theological seminaries or schools of theology.

Mr. President, there is a great need for help to students in higher education.

DISCHARGE RESOLUTION

TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES AND FEDERAL RELATIONS FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF HB 1442

Mr. SILVERT offered the following resolution, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, December 15, 1959.

Resolved, That House Bill 1442, Printer's No. 639, entitled "A joint resolution proposing an amendment to Article III, Section 18 of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, providing for grants or loans to residents of the Commonwealth for higher educational purposes," having been referred to the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations on June 9, 1959, and the committee not having reported the same to the Senate for a period of over ten days, the committee is discharged from further consideration thereof.

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, in the House on June 8, 1959, this bill was passed unanimously by every Member of the House, including Democrats and Republicans, the vote being 197 to nothing, because the Members of the House realized the great need that exists for help to students in higher education, either in the form of additional scholarships or loans.

I, therefore, ask for the discharge of the committee at this time.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I would like to request a roll call.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I think it is a well known fact now that in Pennsylvania about one out of four or one out of five of the graduates from high schools are in institutions of higher learning, while in the United States the percentage is thirty-three to thirty-five per cent. In some States, such as Utah, the percentage is as high as forty-nine per cent. This, in my opinion, is a great waste of the greatest resource we have in Pennsylvania.

At the present time, of course, in too many cases, the basis of being admitted to a college or university is on the so-called bank power rather than the brain power of the boys and girls.

Therefore, I would plead with you to discharge this committee so that we may vote on a measure to provide scholarships for needy and qualified boys and girls in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We get greatly concerned about how we are doing at Cape Canaveral and other places in this satellite and moon race with Russia. However, I say to you that ideas are greater and more powerful than rockets and satellites. You get ideas from scholars and students. Therefore, it seems to me, instead of looking at the launching pads at Cape Canaveral for the future of this Nation in its race with Russia, we should look to the launching pads of the scholars and students of Pennsylvania and see that they gain admission into the colleges and universities of this State.

I hope twenty-six Senators vote to discharge this committee.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SEYLER and Mr. HAYS, and were as follows, viz:

| | | | |
|--------------|------------|---------|----------|
| Barr, | Lane, | Miller, | Ruth, |
| Camel, | Mahady, | Mullin, | Sarra, |
| DiSilvestro, | McCreesh, | Murray, | Seyler, |

| Hays, | McMenamin, | Ripp, | Stiefel, |
| Kalman, | | | Weiner, |

| Ehrgood, | Koprivier, Jr., | Stevenson, | Whalley, |
| Elliott, | Kromer, | Taylor, | Wolfe, |
| Flack, | Madigan, | Van Sant, | Scott, |
| | | | Presiding Officer |

So the question was determined in the negative, and the resolution was defeated.

RECESS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I request a five minute recess of the Senate for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus, to be held in the Conference Room at the rear of the Senate.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any objections? The Chair hears no objection, and declares a five minute recess of the Senate.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

MOTION TO ADJOURN

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, December 16, 1959, at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask my colleagues to vote "no" on this motion.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I request a roll call on the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

During the calling of the roll the following occurred:

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. There is nothing before the Senate at the present time except to announce the result of the roll call, Senator Weiner.

VERIFICATION OF THE ROLL

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I wanted to ask for a verification of the roll, and I wanted to make sure that I was in order to make that request.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Request has been made to have the roll verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the affirmative as follows:

| | | | |
|----------|------------|---------|----------|
| Camel, | Mahady, | Mullin, | Sarra, |
| Donolow, | McCreesh, | Murray, | Seyler, |
| Hays, | McGinnis, | Ripp, | Silvert, |
| Kalman, | McMenamin, | Rooney, | Stiefel, |
| Lane, | Miller, | Ruth, | Weiner, |

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The affirmative roll will stand as verified.

The Clerk will call the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative.

The Clerk read the names of those recorded as having voted in the negative as follows:

| | | | |
|----------|-----------------|------------|-------------------|
| Berger, | Keller, | Pechan, | Wade, |
| Ehrgood, | Kessler, | Probert, | Wagner, |
| Elliott, | Koprivier, Jr., | Shafer, | Walker, |
| Flack, | Kromer, | Stevenson, | Watkins, |
| Fleming, | Madigan, | Taylor, | Whalley, |
| Harney, | Mallery, | Van Sant, | Scott, |
| | | | Presiding Officer |

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are there any corrections? The Chair hears none. The negative roll will stand as verified.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WEINER, and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

So the question was determined in the negative, and the motion to adjourn was defeated.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO THE ORDER OF BUSINESS OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to take up, out of order, the order of business of Executive Nominations.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection?

Mr. WEINER. I object, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair hears objection.

MOTION TO PROCEED TO THE ORDER OF BUSINESS OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate take up, out of order, the order of business of Executive Nominations.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I suggest to the Chair that we are under the order of business of Resolutions, which has not been concluded?

I would also like to suggest to the Chair, since the motion for adjournment has fallen, that we are now in a new legislative day. The clock on the Senate wall has been turned back. I would like to know by what vote or what authority that was done. It certainly was not brought before the Members of this Body, and I believe that most of us will find, if we look at our watches, that it is now after 12:00 o'clock midnight and a new legislative day is upon us.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair has no knowledge whatsoever of the reason for the change in the clock. However, the Chair disagrees with the Minority Leader that we are in a new legislative day.

Mr. WEINER. Would the Chair then please advise us as to the correct hour?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The correct hour by my watch is 11:58 o'clock p. m.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, regarding Executive Nominations, I object to this motion as we are under the business of Resolutions. I believe that is what is before this Body. We have not concluded it. There was a recess taken by the gentlemen on the other side while we were on the business of Resolutions, and this business has not been concluded.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I submit to the Chair that my motion is in order, and would ask that the motion be acted upon.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the Chair, if the gentleman felt that he was on sound ground, why did he feel that he had to make a motion that we take this out of order? He may have the votes on his side, but that does not give him the right to proceed willy-nilly in any fashion that happens to suit him because, unlike the gentleman who has one favorable ruling and may have another unfavorable ruling and decides to call on the favorable ruling, this gentleman does not enjoy that privilege at this moment.

Therefore, I would suggest to the Chair that we are under the order of business of Resolutions and the gentlemen is out of order. If he wants to vote on this motion or any other motion, I would suggest to him that he has the majority to so proceed. However, that does not make it the correct order of business.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the gentleman seemingly does not want to lay everything on the table. I am certainly ready to do it now, sir.

The gentleman knew there was a gentlemen's agreement that we go through the orderly process of business, which we were doing. The gentleman himself broke that agreement when he made the motion to adjourn. I feel that he broke the agreement. I feel, then, that I have the right or any Member of this Senate has the right to make any motion that he sees fit. Therefore, I think the motion entertained by the Chair, and properly seconded, should be put to the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like to correct the gentleman from Allegheny. The agreement was broken sometime ago, and not by us. This agreement which the gentleman alleges to—if he would like me to go into it is quite some detail, I would be very happy to do so—is the business that we are under and follows the procedure as we have it here every day in this Senate. The order of business that we are under is Resolutions. I do not think it is out of order to offer these Resolutions which we have been offering. If any of them are out of order, I would like the gentleman to bring to our attention which of these Resolutions are not properly under the business which the Senate has at hand.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. As I understood the gentleman from Allegheny, he did not say that the offering of the discharge resolutions was out of order. He did say that once you had made the motion to adjourn you had broken the gentlemen's agreement which had been agreed upon earlier in the day as to the orderly process of the legislative day.

Am I correct in that, Senator Fleming?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, might I suggest that the motion to adjourn has been used by the other side much more than it has been by us. It is in order at any time and is not debatable. That motion fell. I then noticed that the clock on the Senate wall had been moved without anyone taking any action, and I suggested that we were in a new legislative day. If the Chair would advise us as to what the hour is now, I would appreciate hearing from him.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman be willing to accept the time as given by the Chair?

Mr. WEINER. I will, sir.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will all of the other Members of the Senate?

Mr. WEINER. I cannot speak for them. I can only speak for myself.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. I am asking any other Member who might want to examine my watch, at this particular time, to now step forward.

The present time, by my watch, is two minutes past 12:00 o'clock.

Mr. WEINER. Might I then suggest to the Chair that we are now in a new legislative day?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair does not agree with the contention of the Minority Leader.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I now rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will you then advise me as to the definition of a legislative day.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair will be happy to do so.

In The Pennsylvania Manual of the year 1957-1958, Volume 93, on page 132, under Section 15, there will be found a decision for a former presiding officer on this point. The wording is as follows:

"Mr. Dent raised the question that since the official time was after midnight the Senate could not act on the calendar for the previous day.

"The Presiding Officer ruled that a legislative day ends when the Senate adjourns for that day."

The Chair would further like to call to the attention of the Minority Leader, page 268 of The Pennsylvania Manual, under "Session," paragraph 281. I read as follows:

"The session of the House having continued after twelve o'clock midnight, the Speaker decided that it was in order to proceed with the business before the House. An appeal was taken. The House sustained the decision."

Again:

"The hour of midnight having arrived, the Speaker decided that it was in order to proceed with the business then under consideration."

Another ruling:

"The hour of midnight having passed, the Speaker ruled that a legislative day extends until the House is adjourned."

Another ruling:

"Under a question of parliamentary inquiry as to when does a legislative day end—

"The speaker ruled a legislative day ends when the House adjourns."

Another ruling:

"The point of order was made that the House is governed by Eastern Standard Time, we are, therefore, in a new legislative day. (The hour of twelve midnight having passed.)

"The Speaker ruled the point or order not well taken."

I quote from the top of page 269 of The Pennsylvania Manual:

"A Legislative day is not governed by the hour of the day or the day of the week, but extends until the House adjourns. The Chair will refer the gentleman to decisions of the House as follows—"

There are a number of other decisions along the same point with exactly the same rulings by the Speaker.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Before the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner, is recognized, the Chair would like to point out one other thing in conjunction with this point of order raised by the Minority Leader. I again quote:

"In addition the Chair would read to the gentleman from Cambria,"—who evidently raised the question—"from Jefferson's Manual, Section 6:

"Legislative rather than calendar days are observed by the House of Congress."

"The Speaker further stated that the rule of the House referred to governs the convening of the House but not the adjourning of the House."

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will you then advise us what is the order of business before the Senate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The order of business before the Senate, at the present time, is Original Resolutions, but there has been proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming, a motion.

Will the Senate be at ease for a few moments?

(The Senate was at ease.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION WITHDRAWN TO PROCEED TO THE ORDER OF BUSINESS OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would like to withdraw my motion, which I just made, and would ask to be recognized as soon as Senator Ehrgood withdraws his second to the motion.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Fleming.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS MADE A SPECIAL ORDER OF BUSINESS IMMEDIATELY

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now move that Executive Nominations be made a Special Order of Business, effective immediately.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if I am wrong in the sequence of the way these things happened, please correct me. However, I believe the Chair ruled that the business before the Senate was Original Resolutions. When we went up to the Chair, the discussion was that the motion would be withdrawn. That is the last thing which was supposed to be done. I believe we are still under Original Resolutions and I believe the gentleman is out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question was raised as to what order of business we were under. The Chair stated that we were under the order of business of Original Resolutions.

Mr. WEINER. That is correct.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. However, the Chair also stated that Senator Fleming had made a motion. Senator Fleming has withdrawn his motion, and has made a new motion that the order of Executive Nominations be made a Special Order of Business, effective immediately.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I respectfully suggest to the Chair that the gentleman is out of order. The business before this Senate is Original Resolutions. We are willing to proceed and are going to proceed under the order of business of Original Resolutions. The only thing which Senator Fleming was going to do was withdraw his motion which he considered out of order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In answer to the point of order taken by Senator Weiner, the Chair would like to quote from Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, page 203, Section 264, as follows:

"The purpose of a special order is to expedite important business and set a definite time for its consideration, which gives such a special order privilege over other pending business. Whenever the making of a special order sets aside the general rules regarding the order of business it requires the same vote as would be required to specifically suspend the rules."

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, would the Chair then rule—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would the gentleman yield for just a moment?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, raised a point or order as to whether the motion made by Senator Fleming, and seconded by Senator Ehrgood, was in order. At the time when the motion was made, under the order of business of Original Resolutions, the Chair then read, in reply to Senator Weiner, from Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure on "Motions to Set Special Orders."

The Chair is of the opinion that the motion made by Senator Fleming is in order at this time. The very specific purpose for a special order of business is to expedite business of the Senate. Therefore, the Chair, in answer to the point of order raised by the Minority Leader, would say that Senator Fleming's motion was in order.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I believe if you will read that rule again,—and I am sure it was only inadvertence on your part—you will find that it says: "... to expedite important business. ..." Is that correct?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The reading was: "and set a definite time for its consideration." The gentleman is correct in saying: "to expedite important business."

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, who is to decide what the important business of the Senate is? Is the Chair deciding that it is more important that we have the order of business of Original Resolutions?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question will be put before the Senate at the time when the motion is voted upon. Then the Senate will decide as to which is of the greater importance.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, will you please answer my query?

We are now in the midst of an order of business. Can such a motion be entertained in the midst of an order of business, rather than at the beginning or at the conclusion of such an order? Can you interrupt an order of business for such a motion?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is exactly the same question which was raised by Senator Weiner in his point of order. The Chair is of the opinion that a motion to go into a special order of business can be honored at that time.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, does not Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure say, "to set the time when such may be entertained"?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. It does say that. The Chair also feels that the interpretation of the paragraph just read also would give a motion to go into a special order of business precedence and the right to be made at any time, no matter under what order of business you may be.

Mr. DONOLOW. Not to carry this conflict out, Mr. President, but am I correct in my opinion that—again directing your attention to Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure—does it not say it is only entertained for the purpose of setting the time when this order of business shall be taken up?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is exactly what we are doing. We are setting the time.

Mr. DONOLOW. That is right. We are now in the midst of an order of business. Are we now interrupting this order of business and setting the time when we will entertain this other important matter?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. If the Chair were to answer that, Senator Donolow, it would be a mere repetition of what I said earlier.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, the motion made by Senator Fleming does not set the time.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The motion made by Senator Fleming set the special order of business as immediately. In the estimation of the Chair, that is sufficient to setting a time.

DECISION OF THE CHAIR APPEALED

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I would like to appeal that ruling of the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair has ruled and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Donolow, has now appealed from the ruling of the Chair. On the question of the appeal, the Clerk will call the roll. Those voting "aye" will be voting to sustain the ruling of the Chair. Those voting "no" will be voting to overrule the Chair's ruling.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, will the Chair please advise me whether or not a majority vote will prevail, or will a constitutional majority prevail on this vote?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Are you speaking about Senator Donolow's appeal?

Mr. LANE. Yes, sir.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. A majority vote will sustain the decision of the Chair.

The roll was called and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the decision of the Chair was sustained.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in order for me to understand what is taking place here, is it then your ruling that this motion for a special order of business is in order at any time, regardless of what phase of business is facing the Senate? In other words, if tomorrow we were on the Calendar and I were to ask, as a special order of business, that we take up Executive Nominations, would that then be before the Senate and proceed ahead of any other business which might be before the Senate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In order to be consistent, the Chair must agree that at any time a motion to take up a special order of business would be in order, unless that special order of business had already been considered.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, may I refer you to page 114 of the 1957-1958 Pennsylvania Manual, Rule No. 9? Would the Chair please advise me, for my information, how the Chair resolves what this says as opposed to the ruling just made by the Chair.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Would the gentleman please refer to the section again?

Mr. WEINER. It appears on page 114 of the 1957-1958 Pennsylvania Manual, under Rule No. 9.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease a few moments.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. In reply to Senator Weiner, the Chair has before it the page and the section referred to. However, the Chair does not understand the question that was presented by the Minority Leader to the Chair.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I am sorry that I was not more clear, but I will try to do better.

The Chair ruled, a moment ago, that a motion to take up business out of order, or set a special order of business, was in order at any time. Is that correct.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. That is correct.

Mr. WEINER. Under the rules of the Pennsylvania Senate, Mr. President, on page 114, of The Pennsylvania Manual, under Rule No. 9, there appears a ruling under the subject of "Order of Motions." Under this heading it states: "Motions shall take precedence in in the following order." It then lists the order of precedence. I am now asking whether there is not an inconsistency with the ruling just made by the Chair and the precedence of these motions. In other words, beginning with number 9a and going through to the number 9L, at what point would the Chair's ruling supersede these motions?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair now understands the question.

The Minority Leader, Senator Weiner, called the attention of the Chair to page 114 of the Rules of the Pennsylvania Senate, paragraph 9, which enumerates a number of motions which shall take precedence in the order as specified. He requested information from the Chair as to under which category a motion to make a special order of business fell. Have I stated that correctly, Senator Weiner?

Mr. WEINER. That is correct.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would like to call attention, in answer to Senator Weiner's question, to page 204 of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, paragraph 6, which states as follows:

"If the question is not pending, the motion to make it a special order for a certain time takes precedence as a main motion."

Consequently, in answer to Senator Weiner's question, Senator Fleming's motion to make a special order of business would fall into the category of a main motion, which is enumerated in Section 9 of the Rules of the Pennsylvania Senate.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, before the roll is called, I would also like the Chair to advise me on a point of information. Will the Chair vote on this question?

I believe the rule of the Senate is that when you have a tie vote, the Presiding Officer can break that tie vote. This is applicable as long as it is not a vote to pass a bill on Third Reading or Final Passage. The question which I am presenting to the Chair is, on this matter, where a majority vote of those elected is needed, which would be twenty-six votes of this Body, can the Chair vote as the Presiding Officer?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that when a duly elected Member of the Senate is presiding, he can vote on any question.

Mr. WEINER. I wish to thank the Chair, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The roll was called and was as follows:

YEAS—26

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state his point of information.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, what is the order of business now before the Senate?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair now announces that we are under the order of business of Executive Nominations.

INTERROGATION

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, Senator Fleming.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FLEMING. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise the Members of the Senate what pressing, urgent business there exists before the Senate that we must take up at this hour of the day?

Mr. FLEMING. The consideration of the nominations for the State Tax Equalization Board, which are lying on the table.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, in order to save time and the record, may I dispense with asking the gentleman if he will allow himself to be further interrogated? Any time he decides that he would rather not be further interrogated, if he will just so state, I will not ask him any further questions.

Mr. FLEMING. That is agreeable, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us why it is so pressing that we take up the Members of the Tax Equalization Board at this moment?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, this is the time to do it. The members on our side of the Senate feel that it is in the best interest of the Commonwealth that it be done forthwith.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman further advise us when he received these names?

Mr. FLEMING. On November 16, 1959.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman advise us if there have been any public hearings, or if these people who have been named to the Board have been brought before the committee?

Mr. FLEMING. There have been no public hearings. I might add, Mr. President, there were no public hearings requested.

Mr. WEINER. Have either of these gentlemen or any of the gentlemen nominated by the Governor ever been spoken to by the chairman of the committee, either in his capacity as the chairman or speaking on behalf of the committee?

Mr. FLEMING. I have not spoken to them.

Mr. WEINER. Will the gentleman please advise us, if these nominations have been in committee from November 16 until December 15, why we are meeting here under this special order of business that he has requested to specifically take up this problem?

Mr. FLEMING. I certainly will be most happy to answer that; yes, sir. We made an agreement today with you, sir, that we would go over the Calendar first, in order that the Calendar could be disposed of, and then revert to the regular order of business.

You, sir, as the Minority Leader and spokesman for the Administration, have used every dilatory tactic in the book in attempting to delay a vote on these names. You have produced a series of discharge resolutions and offered them at a time when you thought that you could have us not do this until tomorrow.

We, on this side, in control of the Senate, decided, sir, that we are going to vote on them today.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman further advise the Members of this Senate why this matter is of such urgency that it has to transacted today and will not keep until tomorrow or any other day?

I would also like to suggest to the gentleman that if he wants to confer with his counsel, he may do so.

Mr. FLEMING. My counsel, sir, is in the Chair at the moment and I cannot confer with him.

Mr. WEINER. I am perfectly willing that we take a few minutes break or recess so that you may confer with your counsel.

Mr. FLEMING. At this time, I do not need the advice of counsel.

Mr. WEINER. Then, will the gentleman please answer my question?

Mr. FLEMING. I have answered that question.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, will you please tell the Members of the Senate that this is not a personal matter with you and that you feel that you have to—if you want to consult with counsel, I think you should do so.

Mr. FLEMING. I need no consultation with counsel. Mr. WEINER. All right. I thought perhaps that was interfering with you hearing the question I am asking you.

Mr. FLEMING. I hear it completely, sir.

I have no personal interest in the matter whatsoever. As the gentleman fully knows, I am Chairman of the Republican Caucus. I am acting as Chairman of the Republican Caucus and I have been most insistent that we want these names acted upon at today's Session.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman further advise us if the purpose of this procedure at this time is to merely raise these names so that he can knock them down and, in turn, rip out this Board?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, there is no attempt to rip out any Board, sir. We are following the provisions of the Pennsylvania Constitution which say that on various positions in the Commonwealth, into which category the Members of the Tax Equalization Board fall, they shall be submitted to the Senate of Pennsylvania for confirmation or rejection. The Constitution requires that they have a two-thirds majority vote of the Senate of Pennsylvania. The framers of the Constitution saw fit to write that provision into it. That is what we are doing now in a very orderly manner.

Whether or not these gentlemen will receive thirty-four votes, I do not know. Your guess is as good as mine.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you give me your guess on this matter?

Mr. FLEMING. My personal Guess?

Mr. WEINER. Yes sir.

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know.

Mr. WEINER. What would you hazard if you had to hazard a guess on this particular subject?

Mr. FLEMING. That is rather ridiculous, but I do not think they are going to get the two-thirds vote.

Mr. WEINER. That is correct.

Senator, were you in this Senate four years ago?

Mr. FLEMING. I was, sir.

Mr. WEINER. Were you on the Committee on Executive Nominations at that time?

Mr. FLEMING. My memory is short. I do not know. I do not believe I was.

Mr. WEINER. But you were a Member of this Senate four years ago?

Mr. FLEMING. You gave me the right to ask my advisers. I have another adviser sitting at the rostrum, who at that time was Chairman of that Committee. If it would not be out of order, if the Chair would permit, I would like to have him tell me whether I was on the committee four years ago.

He shakes his head "no." I was not on the Committee.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, will the gentleman please advise us if he was in the Senate at the time that Mr. McGlinchey's name was brought up four years ago?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know. I would take your word, sir. If you say I was here, I was.

Mr. WEINER. No sir, you cannot take my word. I will have to take your word. I do not know.

Mr. FLEMING. I could not tell you. I do not know.

Mr. WEINER. Did you object at that time when his name came over?

Mr. FLEMING. I did not.

Mr. WEINER. Was he confirmed by this Senate?

Mr. FLEMING. Honestly, Senator, I do not know. I presume he was. I do not know. I am not sure if he is serving as an interim appointment, or if he was confirmed. I am not sure of that.

Mr. WEINER. Would you take my statement as a fair statement that he was confirmed by this Senate and is serving as a member who has been confirmed?

Mr. FLEMING. I will certainly accept that.

Mr. WEINER. You did not object at that time?

Mr. FLEMING. I did not.

Mr. WEINER. Nor did any of your colleagues who are sitting over there—many of whom were here at that time—object at that time either. Is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. WEINER. Would you tell us now what objection you have to Mr. McGlinchey or any other Member on that Board so that I can vote properly when this matter comes before us?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, as Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, yesterday I submitted to the floor of the Senate certain names for acceptance or rejection of confirmation by the Senate of Pennsylvania. At no time have I voiced opposition to any one of these three names. I believe the record will show that at least one Senator did rise and give reasons why he was suggesting to his colleagues in the Senate that they vote not to confirm.

I have become very active at the microphone, mainly because as chairman of the committee I felt it incumbent upon me to see that the orderly processes of the Senate be observed, and that certainly the names that we had reported from committee be acted upon either favorably or unfavorably.

Mr. WEINER. Will you please advise us, Senator, if you feel there is any reason why we should not confirm Mr. McGlinchey? I will certainly allow you time to confer with counsel.

Mr. FLEMING. No, I have a lot of advisors. I told you my counsel is in the Chair, and I am answering on my own. If I see him frowning, then I will know I am doing badly.

Mr. WEINER. Would you answer my question, please?

Mr. FLEMING. His name is not before us, sir.

Mr. WEINER. I am asking you, as the chairman of the committee, when his name comes before us, do you know of any reason why I should not vote for him?

Mr. FLEMING. I would say, sir, that that is a matter of your own conscience.

Mr. WEINER. Sir, would you advise the Members of the Senate, as chairman of the committee, if you have any knowledge that you want to impart to us about his inability to fill this job or continue serving in it after having served for almost four years?

Mr. FLEMING. I would say again, sir, that that is a matter for each Senator to determine in his own mind, whether or not he wants to confirm Mr. McGlinchey or any other name that would be brought before the Senate for confirmation.

Mr. WEINER. Will the Senator then advise the Members of this Senate, as Chairman of the Committee on Executive Nominations, what he would consider to be his function on that committee as chairman?

Mr. FLEMING. To act as chairman, and to report names to the floor of the Senate at the proper time for action by the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Sir, would you state that either you do or do not report these names with a favorable or unfavorable recommendation?

Mr. FLEMING. I report them, in most instances, with a favorable recommendation. I believe they were merely brought to the floor yesterday and reported from the Committee on Executive Nominations without recommendation.

Mr. WEINER. Will you then tell us, sir, on what do you base the favorable or unfavorable recommendation?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know that there is a particular reason. In most instances when they are applicable only to a Senator in his own district and do not involve State-wide matters, we have, not by any rule of the Senate but just by a rule of courtesy,—I would presume that would be the correct word—have let that particular Senator decide for his own District. For instance, on the Board of Public Assistance applicable only to Dauphin County, we let Senator Taylor decide. For instance, in the case of Centre County, we permit Senator Hays to decide whether or not that person should be confirmed.

Mr. WEINER. Then, sir, would you advise the Members of this Senate whether nominees reside have objected to them or have asked you to report them unfavorably; to wit: Senator Silvert, Senator Lane or Senator Mahady?

Mr. FLEMING. That is a matter for each Senator to determine in his own mind.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you please answer my question?

Mr. FLEMING. I am trying to answer it, sir. It is the right of any Senator, and it is his decision and his decision alone, as to whether or not he shall get on the floor of this Senate and state his reasons for voting either for or against any name presented to the Senate. I certainly have no advice to offer to any Senator on that score.

Mr. WEINER. Might I rephrase the question? Perhaps I put it very poorly. Did you, at any time, submit these names to the Senators from the particular areas in which these men reside in order to extend them this courtesy?

Mr. FLEMING. On State-wide officers, I do not believe that was done, No, sir.

Mr. WEINER. You did not submit these names to any one of these Senators?

Mr. FLEMING. That is right.

Mr. WEINER. On these State-wide officers, which you treat differently than those who come from a particular county, do you investigate these people so that you can give us either a favorable or unfavorable recommendation?

Mr. FLEMING. I personally do not; no, sir.

Mr. WEINER. In other words, is it a fair statement then that you are submitting these names after having made no investigation of them whatsoever, and after having taken no position on them whatsoever?

Mr. FLEMING. That would not be correct; no, sir. I believe that many of the Senators, none of whom I can name,—if they desire to rise and make a statement on the floor, that is their privilege—feel that these particular men are not competent to be members of the board.

Mr. WEINER. Getting back to my original question, would you advise me, Senator, what information or what criteria you have used to determine this?

Mr. FLEMING. Again, I do not know. I do not know why the Senators will not approve of them or why they will approve of them.

Mr. WEINER. As chairman of the committee, have you discussed this with any members of your committee?

Mr. FLEMING. You were in the committee meeting when they were voted out, Senator.

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir, Senator, my understanding of it was, when you held the committee meeting, that you were going to bring these names to the floor with a favorable recommendation. That was the first meeting that your committee has ever held since I have been in this Senate.

Mr. FLEMING. We are certainly violating the rules or, at least, the common procedure of the Senate by divulging what goes on in a committee meeting. I would suggest to the gentleman that at no time in a meeting when those names were considered was that suggestion brought up.

Mr. WEINER. May I suggest to you, sir, that you were the one who talked about the committee? I did not mention it at all. You stated that I was present at the committee meeting and what action we took. I am asking you now, what information do you have, because you stated these people would not be approved? On what do you base your opinion that they will not be approved? I am asking this so that you can give all of us the benefit of this knowledge that you have in order that we can vote with you if they are not deserving of our support.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I did not state that they would not be approved. In answer to several queries by the Minority Floor Leader in which he kept pushing me, I said that I would hazard a guess that they would not be approved. I did not say that they would not be approved.

Mr. WEINER. Would the Senator then advise us whether this is not the first time that this has happened, since he has been chairman of the committee, when he has left it up to the entire membership?

Mr. FLEMING. No, that is not so.

Mr. WEINER. What other time, sir?

Mr. FLEMING. The cabinet officers, which were brought out forthwith the day that the Governor sent them over, were considered by the full committee.

Mr. WEINER. They did not receive an unfavorable report, did they, Senator?

Mr. FLEMING. That is correct.

Mr. WEINER. So that, actually, this is the first time that we have had nominees submitted, name by name, since you have been chairman of this committee, and the report, apparently, is unfavorable, and you will not tell us why it is unfavorable or for what reason these people are being denied approval. Is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. No, that is not correct. I wish to correct an impression that possibly has been given by the gentleman which, I hope, is given without knowledge. These are not grouped nominations for some reason. Again, I know not why the Governor does things. In many instances, he sends over nominations for boards in which three, four or five names are on one sheet. If the gentleman would so desire, the record, which is official, will prove that each one of these was sent separately.

Mr. WEINER. Then is it correct that you have taken no investigatory action on these whatsoever?

Mr. FLEMING. I have so stated.

Mr. WEINER. Would you say that you feel that we should vote against these gentlemen, if I asked your opinion now as chairman of the committee?

Mr. FLEMING. Specifically, Mr. President, I said it is a matter for each Senator to determine in his own mind whether or not he feels that these gentleman, as their names are brought up, should be confirmed.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I am asking you now, publicly, to advise me—and I hope you do not mind acting as my counsel—how to vote on Mr. McGlinchey, Mr. Bevec or Mr. Gardlock.

Mr. FLEMING. Seriously, I have no right to advise you. Facetiously, if you have any regard for your position in Philadelphia, you will vote for them.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, you are stating it then on a purely political basis, is that correct?

Mr. FLEMING. No, I am not.

Mr. WEINER. Well on what other basis would you suggest, either facetiously or even to take this matter on the serious basis that it is, that I either vote or do not vote and use a political basis for voting? If this person is not any good, or any one one of them is not any good, should you not, as chairman of the committee, make that known to us? If they are good, should you not also make that known to us? Do you not think this is a serious matter in which the Legislature has set up this committee to look into certain important factors and notify the Department of Public Instruction, and that these people are certainly entitled to serious consideration and not to be handled in any facetious or political way?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, first of all, I want to correct the gentleman. I can see he is a smart Philadelphia lawyer, but I cannot see why he would want to insert "facetiously" when at only one time—and probably I should not have done it—did I use the word "facetiously" in answer to one question.

Seriously, Senator, I cannot be more emphatic. It is beyond my forensic ability to say that, in my opinion, and that opinion, parenthetically, if I may, you can certainly disagree with and you can say that I should not do it—I fully believe it is a matter for each of the fifty elected Senators of this Body to decide for themselves whether or not they want to confirm these men or any other nomination requiring Senate confirmation that is submitted to the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, would you please advise us—if I am being redundant or asking the same question more than once, please forgive me, because it is likely I have not gotten an answer to it—why we are doing it with this board or this commission, when we have not done it with any other?

Mr. FLEMING. May I ask you, sir, we are doing what?

Mr. WEINER. Why are we bringing up this board piecemeal and in this manner, when we have not done this all Session with any other board or any other commission?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I stated to the gentleman that I have no control over the method by which the Governor of Pennsylvania submits nominations to the Senate of Pennsylvania. On November 16, 1959, he submitted to The Honorable, The Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the name of Herbert J. McGlinchey, Philadelphia, for reappointment as a Member of the State Tax Equalization Board. On the same date, he submitted, in a separate set of papers, the name of Raymond E. Gardlock, of New Kensington, as a Member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and the name of John Bevec, of Strabane, Pennsylvania, as a Member of the State Tax Equalization Board. Why the Governor chose to do that Senator, I cannot say, but he did. Therefore, there is only one way in which we can consider them, sir, and that is separately.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I have no problem with considering them either separately or as a group. My difficulty is—and I am sorry—that I have been unable to ask the right question to elicit the right answer from you, and that is my fault and not yours.

The question I am going to ask—and please forgive me if I do not get it across to you, and I will try to ask it again if I do not—is why are we handling this matter in any different way than we have handled the rest of them. In other words, do you not feel that this is an important board, an important commission, and that you should submit this in the same manner as every other one that you have submitted, either with a favorable or unfavorable report? If it is unfavorable, I think you are duty bound to advise all of us of the information that you have so that we can also vote correctly on these people, because I am certain that no one sitting on this side of the aisle is interested in confirming anyone for any State job or for any other type of activity in this State who does not merit the confidence or merit the standing that you and I would like him to have.

Mr. FLEMING. The only thing I can say, in answer to that, Mr. President, is that is his belief and one in which I do not concur.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, will you tell me how I err in the statement I have made?

Mr. FLEMING. My advisers are getting—

Mr. WEINER. Would you like to take a five minute recess?

Mr. FLEMING. No. If my advisors will just leave me alone, I will be all right.

I do not know, sir. I can only think for myself. You have to think for yourself, Senator Weiner.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, sometimes I have difficulty doing that, and that is why I am calling upon you to aid me and tell me how I should vote on this man. It might be that you have information that is not available to me. All I am calling upon you to do is to give us this information.

Mr. FLEMING. Flattery will get you nowhere, sir. You know that I am not competent to advise you.

Mr. WEINER. I think in this matter you are, Senator, because as the chairman of this very important committee, I think that you should have information that none of us have, and I think you should be prepared to submit that to us. All of these names are kept by you, I understand, in a folder or kept separately, and you do have some duty to look into them and advise us, because otherwise we would not need this committee. Perhaps we only need someone to transmit the nomination from the Governor. We can lay it on the table and vote on it at will, or decide not to vote on it. I do not think that it has to go through a particular committee or a particular person to perform this duty or this very act.

Mr. FLEMING. It might be a good procedure, Senator. I would suggest that when the Rules for the next Session are drawn you submit that to the Rules Committee, and possibly it, will be adopted.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, for the purpose of taking up these names this evening, have you any reason to believe that we should not confirm any one of these gentlemen? Will you please answer that question "yes" or "no," and then explain if you would like?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I have stated as clearly as I can that I think it is a matter for each Senator to determine in his own conscience whether or not he shall vote for these members as their names are called.

Certainly Senator Weiner does not believe in that philosophy. However, I submit, Mr. President, that is my philosophy. I defend his right to his. Certainly, he should let me have mine.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, have you acted this way on other commissions and other boards that are in your possession, or are you holding some of those boards and commissions still in your possession that were submitted to you some time ago, and thereby not giving us an opportunity to vote in what I feel is the correct and proper way to vote on them?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know quite how to answer that. Certainly, I have some members of other boards in the files. They may and they may not come out. I am not in a position to answer that at the moment.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, if the chairman of the committee does not know whether these names are going to come out or not come out, who would you suggest that I contact to determine whether these people are going to be acted upon?

Mr. FLEMING. I do not know. I cannot answer that.

Mr. WEINER. If the chairman of the committee cannot tell me, who might I ask who could tell me whether some of these names which you have been holding for a much longer period than a month can or cannot come out?

Mr. FLEMING. We have not quite decided whether or not they will be reported.

Mr. WEINER. When you say "we," Senator—

Mr. FLEMING. When I say "we," sir, I mean the Republican Caucus; yes, sir. I am not shadowboxing with anybody. We made a decision on this, sir, to report the names. I think it is about time we vote on them.

Mr. WEINER. Then, sir, are you stating to me that the Republican Caucus has now made a decision on these names?

Mr. FLEMING. I did not say that; no, sir. I said the Republican Caucus has made a decision to bring the names up. Every Member of this Republican Caucus—and I hope this will be true of the Democratic Caucus—is as free as the breeze to vote for or against these men as their names are called.

Mr. WEINER. Sir, would you then suggest to me that these names were just reported out and that there has been no action taken on them whatsoever?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for just a moment?

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to have him answer my question. Then I will be glad to yield for a moment or for longer.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair had not realized there was a question unanswered.

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir. There is a question remaining unanswered at this moment. I believe I gave the gentleman the prerogative to quit at any time that he wanted to do so.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is the gentleman in a position to answer the last interrogation of Senator Weiner?

Mr. FLEMING. Will the reporter please read the question?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Can Senator Weiner rephrase his question?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir. I believe the question was—

Mr. FLEMING. I will get it from the reporter.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir.

(The reporter complied.)

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would say, in answer to that question, that there was no Caucus action on the disposition. There was a Caucus request that the names be presented to the Senate of Pennsylvania for a vote.

I would further submit to the Senate, Mr. President, that as of whatever time yesterday when they were reported to the floor of the Senate, not only myself, as chairman, but also the Executive Nominations Committee lost complete control of the names. They are now in the hands of the Senate for confirmation or rejection.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, at this point, would like to point out that at the beginning of the interrogation, Senator Weiner asked about the order of business, and the Chair said that the next order of business was Executive Nominations. Then the interrogation began, and the Senate did not go into the order of business of Executive Nominations. If there is to be further interrogation or further discussion, the Chair feels that it would serve the best interests of all if we were under the order of business of Executive Nominations.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

A motion was made by Mr. FLEMING and Mr. WATKINS,

That the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of acting upon certain nominations made by His Excellency, the Governor, which were laid on the table on December 14, 1959, and also the nominations reported at today's Session.

Which was agreed to.

NOMINATION OF HERBERT J. MCGLINCHY TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I call from the table the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey, 596 East Geneva Avenue, Philadelphia 20, Pennsylvania, for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and ask that action be taken on his confirmation.

The nomination was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE EQUALIZATION BOARD

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Herbert J. McGlinchey, 596 East Geneva Avenue, Philadelphia 20, Philadelphia County, for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, until November 14, 1963, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I believe yesterday one of the Senators opened this discussion by making a remark on the operation of the State Tax Equalization Board and, if the Chair approves, I would like one of the stenotype operators to read back those remarks of Senator Ehrgood.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Senate will be at ease. (The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Lane, for your information, I am advised that the stenographer has a copy of those remarks transcribed, which are in her office, and she will go to her office and bring it up.

The Senate will again be at ease a few moments.

(The Senate was at ease.)

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Senator Lane, you requested from the stenographer a copy of Senator Ehrgood's remarks at yesterday's Session.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not require a copy of the remarks. I would like the Reading Clerk to read back to the Senate the remarks that were made, if it is in order.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is in possession of a copy which has been presented to him by the stenographer, and if it meets with your approval, the Clerk will read the remarks at this time.

Mr. LANE. That is perfectly all right. That meets with my approval.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is that your desire?

Mr. LANE. Yes, sir.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Clerk will proceed.

The remarks of the gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Ehrgood, were read by the Clerk as follows:

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, the remarks I am about to make, at this time, on this nomination will be equally apropos, I believe, to the other two nominations which will follow.

I am going to ask my colleagues to vote against the confirmation of Mr. Herbert J. McGlinchey for reappointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and also the other two members who have been nominated by the Governor.

First of all, Mr. President, let me say that the State Tax Equalization Board is the vehicle by which State subsidies are distributed to the local school districts throughout the Commonwealth. It seems to me there has been a deliberate attempt by the present membership of the State Tax Equalization Board to go ahead and distribute these subsidies to the large metropolitan areas.

I believe I can say very fairly that throughout Pennsylvania there has been a suspicion of political interference with the market values, as determined by the State Tax Equalization Board. I know, in my own District, that the findings must have been determined by inspired guesswork, if by no other method. I think that in the school system throughout this Commonwealth, there is no place for political suspicion, there is no place for guesswork, and there has not been in the State Tax Equalization Board as heretofore constituted.

Mr. President, I believe this is very serious to this Commonwealth. If there is no faith by the school districts and by the educators throughout this Commonwealth in these findings, and if we are going to have any suspicion of politics entering into the school districts, then I say, and I think we all should agree, that these nominations should be turned down.

There is no doubt, Mr. President, that the nominee before us right now is the secretary of one of the big Democratic bosses in Philadelphia. I think this is no place for politics. I hope that all Members of the Senate will vote against these nominations and turn them down.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I believe that the gentleman resides in Lebanon County. I have in my possession an authentic document which shows that there was a decrease in the 1958 market value in Lebanon County, from 1957 to 1958, amounting to $4,871,500, or a two per cent decrease in the actual market value of the assessed valuations in the county of Lebanon.

Mr. President, the State Tax Equalization Board was created by an Act of Assembly in 1947. I think one of our former distinguished Members of the Senate served as a member of that board, and he had an outstanding record.

In 1951, the Local Government Commission of Pennsylvania passed what is known as the Permanent Assessment Act, which is applicable to all counties from the fourth to the eighth class. In the original proposal, of which I was a cosponsor, we gave the counties of the fourth to the eighth class a period of five years to put this program into effect. As of right now, I believe from my latest information, we have nineteen or twenty counties operating under the Permanent Assessment Act.

The primary purpose of the State Tax Equalization Board was to bring about an equitable subsidy, as far as education was concerned, whereby when we increased the local effort then, of course, the State subsidies would be decreased proportionately.

In this particular case, you will find, if you check the records of the Secretary of Internal Affairs, that these nineteen or twenty counties when they adopted the Permanent Assessment Act and put it into effect, they did, by a resolution of the county commissioners, put a percentage on the assessed value to determine what would actually be the assessed valuations of the county. In that provision, I believe there was a limit of seventy-five per cent.

In most cases they have taken a figure of twenty-five up to fifty per cent, and in so doing, they have increased the assessed valuations of the various counties of the Commonwealth, particularly those which adopted the Permanent Assessment Act. In so doing, there happened to be a decrease in the school subsidies and a decrease in the market value, with the result that some of the counties in the Commonwealth actually did not receive the same amount of State money they had formerly received in the past.

I am informed by reliable sources that there was a reduction in the assessed valuations of the city of Philadelphia, especially in the center part of the city, due to the decline of interests there and due to the competition they were receiving from these outside sources, such as these market places out along the highways. The result, therefore, meant an increased subsidy to the school district of Philadelphia.

Getting into the qualifications of the gentlemen, let me just speak generally. However, I would like to speak specifically in regard to Mr. John Bevec.

Mr. Bevec is a graduate of—

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment?

The Chair now recognizes Senator Ehrgood. For what purpose does the gentleman rise?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Ehrgood, will state it.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, is it not the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey that is now before this Body?

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The only nomination before this Body at the present time is the nomination of Herbert J. McGlinchey.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, the reason I am speaking along this particular line is that I must answer Senator Ehrgood's statement of yesterday. In his statement, he appeared to indict each and every member of the Tax Equalization Board as being political in their approach. He also said there appeared to be a suspicion throughout the Commonwealth. Therefore, in all fairness to me, I feel that I should have the right to defend these gentlemen, one at a time, because that is going to end it anyway.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair definitely is of the opinion that the Senator will have an opportunity to defend each individual as their names appear before the Senate for confirmation. However, the Chair is of the opinion that inasmuch as Mr. McGlinchey's name is the only one before the Senate at this time, he would request the Senator to restrict his remarks to Mr. McGlinchey.

Mr. LANE. All right, Mr. President.

In speaking of Mr. McGlinchey and his qualifications, let me say that the Tax Equalization Board of Pennsylvania has an advisory council which advises Mr. McGlinchey in regard to the duties of his office.

One of the members is Doctor Charles F. LeeDecker, Chairman of this Council. Mr. LeeDecker is the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs, with offices at 506 State Street Building, here in Harrisburg.

One of the other advisers to Mr. McGlinchey is a very, very distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, with whom I happened to work quite a number of years ago, in the person of Doctor Alfred G. Buehler. Doctor Buehler, as you know, is an economist at the University of Pennsylvania.

Another one of Mr. McGlinchey's advisers is Doctor H. LaRue Frain, also from the University of Pennsylvania; and Doctor Donald S. Murray, Administrative Director and Associate Professor of Statistics at the University of Pennsylvania.

Doctor A. M. Woodruff, also one of Mr. McGlinchey's advisers, is a Director of the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Another one of Mr. McGlinchey's advisers is Doctor David H. Kurtzman, Assistant Director and Director of Research, Pennsylvania Economy League, 1029 Union Trust Building, Pittsburgh 19, Pennsylvania.

Then we have Mr. M. M. Chudy. He is President of the Municipal Assessors' Association, City Assessor's Office in Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

We have Mr. Andrew S. Bullis, Director, Bureau of Municipal Affairs, Department of Internal Affairs, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Last, but not least, Mr. John J. Hertz, who represents the Pennsylvania School Directors Association, 410 North Third Street, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

I am wondering, in my mind, when someone makes an accusation in regard to political chicanery concerning assessments, whether these gentlemen whom I have named would be part and parcel to such a conspiracy. I can hardly visualize that any Member of this Senate would agree that these gentlemen would be a party to any political chicanery when it comes to assessments. As a matter of fact, I hardly believe that it is possible to do so because of the make-up of the Tax Equalization Board of Pennsylvania. They have had some restrictions, and they have worked under an extreme financial hardship.

As a matter of fact, in my interrogations of all three members of the board, including the gentleman about whom we are speaking now, in our Caucus, we went over, in detail, their method of obtaining the market value of properties in any political subdivision here in Pennsylvania.

In addition, Mr. President, I might say that, as most of you know and I am sure as Senator Ehrgood knows, every board of commissioners in every county of Pennsylvania must each year submit a complete list of the assessed valuations of their various counties, showing the percentages. I believe one list goes to the Department of Public Instruction, if my memory serves me correctly, and the other list goes to the office of the Secretary of Internal Affairs. It seems to me that it would be quite difficult for the Tax Equalization Board to twist, in any manner, those assessed valuations as broken down and submitted by the various boards of assessment and review, which are, in most cases in counties from the fourth to the eighth class, the county commissioners.

In addition to that, Mr. President, I am very familiar with the State Tax Equalization Board, because I happen to be a very close friend of Mr. John O'Neil, who resided in my county and now represents the League of Cities. John O'Neil served on the State Tax Equalization Board for quite a number of years. Now what they do in regard to market values is visit the various Recorders of Deeds Offices. Their representatives will pick out the properties that were sold for that year and they will then take the Federal tax stamps which are on the deeds which show the actual sale price. They compare the sale price of that property with the assessment which applies to that property in that particular county. How in the world they could ever juggle any figures is beyond my imagination.

I would like to say that these gentlemen, and Mr. McGlinchey included, have been very unfairly attacked on this floor, because prior to 1955 there was a laxity in the operation due to the fact that there was an over-all plan under the Administration of John S. Fine to eliminate the Tax Equalization Board.

Most of you Members remember when the Chesterman Commission was in operation. Most of you Members remember that the Chesterman Commission put forth a report in which they requested the abolition of the Tax Equalization Board. When the matter came to a vote on the floor of this Senate—as a matter of fact, I believe that Senator Wagner was the one who offered the Chesterman Report to the Members of the Senate at that time—we went into detail in regard to the merits of the Tax Equalization Board, and it was determined by a majority of the Members of the Senate, at that time, that this Board served a very useful purpose. However, they were being hamstrung financially under Republican Administrations because Governor Fine, at that time, did not feel that the Tax Equalization Board should be properly financed. The result was that things were lagging for a long time.

Then, in 1955, the time came to reappoint this board and I believe that every Member of the Senate voted for the nominees, which included Mr. McGlinchey, John Bevec and the other gentleman. They all voted for them. I think I am correct in that statement. I believe that even Bob Fleming voted for each member, as I recall, because I believe it was a unanimous vote.

Anyway, they were trying to do a good job. They came before the Senate Committee on Appropriations on several occasions. I believe their budget for the last biennium amounted to around $625,000, which was for a period of two years. That included the salaries of the three members, the traveling expenses of their representatives and the over-all operation of their office. Many, many times, even under Mr. O'Neil's administration, they recommended to this Senate and to the House of Representatives that they have competent industrial appraisers. They were not in a position to intelligently appraise any commercial property of any great size whatsoever, because they did not have the wherewithal and they did not have the professional personnel to do this job.

When anyone gets on this floor and says that there is a tinge of politics in this, I would say as a very close friend of the chairman, who is the boss, so to speak, of Mr. McGlinchey, that that could not possibly be the case, because the chairman of the board, for whom Mr. McGlinchey works, is a technician. He is a man who majored in accounting and a man who knows assessments backward and forward. He has worked with them practically all of his political life. He is a man who has held many major positions of great responsibility in county government. Even here in this Senate, I have heard many Members say that he is so competent and he is such a hard worker that they admire him for his interstitial fortitude. He is a man who is not a tete-a-tete man. We have lots of tete-a-tete men around here. We had them under the Republicans, and we always will have them I guess. This is not the case with the chairman of this board, for whom Mr. McGlinchey works.

Therefore, I cannot visualize any chicanery on his part. If there is no chicanery on his part, there could not be any on the part of Mr. McGlinchey.

Speaking of Mr. McGlinchey personally, frankly, I do not know him too well. I have met him on many occasions. He impresses me as being a very fine chap. When this Committee on Executive Nominations takes the position of reporting these names out in order to belt them down and to butcher them, they are trying to degrade the character of these men.

When we do things like that here in this Senate, it seems to me that we are making sure that competent people will not work for government. I would not blame people for not taking positions here. If the committee did not like these men, they should have kept all of their names in committee and that would have been that. If you bring them out here tonight and you knock them down on this floor, no matter how much I may talk, no no matter how much every Member of this Senate may talk in regard to their qualifications, a lot of people are going to think that there is something wrong somewhere and somehow. These men are going to be the victims of politics.

I have heard Governor after Governor talk about competent personnel. Let us protect the professional men. Let us put them under Civil Service. We have a difficult time in holding good men. Well, here is one of the examples. As a matter of fact, if you gentlemen do not confirm John Bevec tonight, you are going to hurt that man forever and ever and a day, because he is a very sensitive person. He is the type of man who cannot stand things like that, and it is very unfair because he has done a marvelous job. Republicans on the other side have told me many, many times what a fine job that fellow was doing.

Therefore, it appears to me that there seems to be some sort of a trick, some sort of a conspiracy, if you please, to bring these men up and knock them down, and then let the public say: Well, there must be something wrong or they would have been confirmed by the Senate." A lot of people throughout Pennsylvania do not understand the political chicanery which takes places here in this Senate. I am not saying I am above politics; No. We are all politicians or we would not be here. At the same time, there is a code of ethics in all things.

The only man I remember whose name was reported out on this floor and knocked down, in all my political experience here in this Senate, was Admiral Draemel. I cannot remember one other man. Of course, you have killed off a number by keeping them in committee. However, I mean to bring them out and really chop them down. The only man I can ever think of is Admiral Draemel. I believe the Republicans, themselves, wanted to lick Draemel.

If you will check into the record, you will find that I voted for Draemel because I felt it was a dirty, rotten, lousy, lowdown trick, and I think the same tonight. When we do things like that, we are not doing the right thing.

If you gentlemen on the Republican side do not like Herbert J. McGlinchey, if you do not like Mr. Gardlock and if you do not like Mr. Bevec, the honorable thing to do is to recall their names, take their names back into committee, all three of them, and kill them off. Do not report their names out. I think that is the fair thing to do.

I know if I were in the majority and I had anything to say about an operation like this, that would be the position I would take.

If you gentlemen hope to put some Republicans on the board, that is all well and good. We know that this is a political game. If you want a minority member on there, that is your business. If you can get him on, so much the better. You will not find us over here attacking him; not at all.

I am not going to talk too much longer, but I thought I should give you some background on the State Tax Equalization Board.

Mr. President, in closing, I would like to say on behalf of Mr. McGlinchey that he may be the secretary of a powerful political leader in Philadelphia, but there is nothing wrong with that. There is nothing wrong, whatsoever, with him being a secretary to Bill Green. There is nothing wrong with George Bloom being a secretary to somebody or being the Chairman of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania. George Bloom, in my opinion, is an honorable man. I like George Bloom. He is from my county. I would never sit in this Senate and allow anyone to jump on him. I would defend him as a gentleman. He has a right to be the Chairman of the Republican Party in Pennsylvania. Mr. McGlinchey has a right to be the secretary to Bill Green. I imagine that is who it is, although I am not too sure and it may be McCloskey or somebody. There is no disgrace in that. Sure, Mr. McGlinchey was put on trial, but he was acquitted by his peers and by the court. Therefore, I do not think that should be held against the man. I think it is wrong and I think it is purely political. I think you boys want to knock him down in order to show the Governor and the Administration that you mean business.

I think you are doing this as a preliminary approach to the release of the commissioners whom you have over here on the Public Utility Commission. It seems to me that that must be the approach, but why would you pick on three insignificant officers by making such a big fuss over them and bringing them up in order to knock them down? They do not amount to that much. They do not have any patronage to amount to anything, while the Public Utility Commission does. Are you trying to put the fear of God into the hearts of the Democrats, the Governor and anyone else by knocking these gentlemen down? Are you trying to let us know that you want a deal with the Public Utility Commission; that you want one and will give one to us? Is that the approach? I cannot figure out anything else.

Surely, with the old hands that you have over on that side, the politically astute politicians, you are not going to go in and do anything stupid. I do not say that you are stupid. I say that you are all very astute. You have done a lot of maneuvering here. It seems to me there must be something else beside the confirmation of McGlinchey, Gardlock and Bevec.

Mr. President, I now yield to Senator Seyler.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. After I state my point of information, I would like to continue to be recognized in order for me to speak on the question.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, during the evening, the Majority Leader had occasion to offer as evidence the fact that there was a citation in the History of the House. He cited that as evidence of a fact. I have nothing to say against the History of the House, as evidence. I think it probably is a well kept history, but I would like to suggest that if that is evidence, then surely the History of the Senate is evidence. I would like to call to the attention of the Chair, and to any other Members who are interested, page 330, of the current volume of the History of Senate Bills. I would like to read from page 330, which contains a list of Executive Communications presented to the Senate, under the heading of "State Tax Equalization Board," the third item there, as follows:

"Herbert J. McGlinchey, Philadelphia.

"Nomination presented to Senate, November 16.

"Referred to Executive Nominations, November 16.

"Confirmed, November 19. (Vote 50-0)"

Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chair whether, in view of the fact that the History contains the record that Mr. McGlinchey has already been confirmed by a vote of fifty to nothing, all of this trip was unnecessary.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman now state his point of information?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, my point of information is to inquire why we are debating the confirmation of the gentleman when, according to the record, as presented by the History of Senate Bills, he has been confirmed by a vote of fifty to nothing.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair is of the opinion that the History is not an official record or document. There is no question of the truth of what the gentleman read. The explanation for it is very simple. It is a printer's error and will be corrected in the next week's issue of the History.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I will accept the Chair's word that that is the fact. As a poor back-bencher, I, of course, am guided in my study of these things by what I find in the History.

Mr. President, I shall now proceed with some remarks which bear on the remarks previously made by the gentleman from Lebanon. If the gentleman was allowed tolerance and leeway in his remarks, I would ask the Chair that the same tolerance and leeway be extended to me in reply to the gentleman.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. To which gentleman are you referring?

Mr. SEYLER. Senator Ehrgood, Mr. President.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The gentleman will proceed and the Chair will caution the gentleman if it feels that he is going far afield.

Mr. SEYLER. The Chair may be sure that I shall not do anything except answer the gentleman's remarks.

Mr. President, the remarks made by Senator Ehrgood, yesterday, carried a note, or a mood, which it seems to me was a dangerous one and one which, if it is to stand as the opinion of a Party or of this Senate, is prejudicial to the fair and adequate financing of the schools of this Commonwealth.

I would begin by saying, Mr. President, that the gentleman from Lebanon, in implying and stating that the Tax Equalization Board decides upon the distribution of funds to schools of the Commonwealth, was in error. I think he realizes that the funds are distributed according to an objective formula, that the Tax Equalization Board has no voice in that formula and that only the Legislature can alter the distribution of funds. The Tax Equalization Board, Mr. President, is purely a fact finding board. Its job is to ascertain, throughout the counties of the Commonwealth, what the market value of real estate is.

In pursuing this task, the Tax Equalization Board has a staff. The staff is headed by Mr. Fox who, I believe, has been an incumbent in that office for many years, prior to the Administration of Governor Lawrence and prior to the Administration of Governor Leader. As usually happens, this gentleman and his staff perform the actual work of gathering together the data upon which the report the State Equalization Board is based.

Furthermore, Mr. President, as my colleague from Washington County has already related, this committee is advised by a board of distinguished citizens of Pennsylvania. They are not only distinguished citizens, but they are gentlemen who are experts in the various fields which contribute; namely the field of assessment, the field of education and the other fields which are affected.

When the gentleman from Lebanon states that, in his opinion, the report of the Tax Equalization Board is guesswork, Mr. President, the gentleman states his opinion against that of a distinguished list of citizens and against that of a staff which has been in office for a long time, headed by a gentleman who, apparently, has had the confidence of at least three Administrations, in addition to the members of the Board. This Board does not make policy. It surveys the situation and it prepares a report of its findings.

Mr. President, the gentleman also knows that there is protection by appeal; that any district, which feels that the findings are not correct, can go to the Board and ultimately, if it so desires, it can go further, to the courts, to determine whether or not the figures handed down are actually correct.

The gentleman, in his remarks, stated that sixty-two counties had suffered losses. The gentleman knows that this statement does not tell the whole story. Within many of the sixty-two counties, there were districts which gained as a result of the changes in the market values, which were a fact and which were reported by the Tax Equalization Board.

The gentleman, finally, has made the accusation that the activities of the Board brought politics into the affairs of the school districts. Mr. President, I believe, by the facts, this is not true. I have personally interviewed at least two members of the Advisory Council, both of whom are members and are gentlemen in whom I have great confidence. I am assured by them that this is not the case. However, Mr. President, politics has been brought into the manner in which the funds of this Commonwealth are distributed to school districts. It has been brought in by the action of the Majority Caucus and, particularly, by the gentleman from Lebanon who made these accusations.

I say, Mr. President, that the purpose of this action that we are having today is punitive. It is to punish the Board for reporting the findings which they brought forth, based on the facts. I say that if we, as a Legislature, are going to set up boards and ask them to report on the facts they find and then turn around and intimidate and terrorize the members of those boards by threat of dismissal and by threat of nonconfirmation, then it becomes political. That is throwing the matter into politics. Therefore, politics has been brought into the distribution of funds to the school districts of the Commonwealth. However, it has not been brought in by the Tax Equalization Board. It has been brought in by the action which has been taken here today. I point out to you that nothing, so far, has been given as any reason for this action. No facts have been presented to this Body. The gentleman from Philadelphia, the Minority Leader, has tried to adduce from the chairman of the committee or any other Member any fact which would bear on this problem as to the personal competence of the nominees. None has been forthcoming. We stand here today with only the statement of the gentleman from Lebanon that this is being done because the Tax Equalization Board brought forth a result which he did not like and which, presumably, the Majority Caucus, for which he speaks, did not like. If that is not politics, then I do not recognize politics. I say to you that if this action goes through, every board in the future, or every appointee to a board who is awaiting confirmation, will be in fear and will be afraid to bring in a fair and unbiased report, if it does not happen to suit the tastes of the gentleman from Lebanon and his colleagues in the Majority Caucus.

This will destroy the usefulness of the Tax Equalization Board. Why should we have a Tax Equalization Board if the members are to be afraid to bring in their findings because it will result in roughshod political action? They will be punished for bringing in the findings which their facts supported.

Mr. President, I think this is the serious part of what is going on here today. I do not think the importance of this matter is how long this affair is taking. I do not think the importance of this matter is all the maneuvering which is occurring here; expressing great haste on the part of one side of this Senate and, allegedly, "dilatatory" tactics on the other. The important thing here is that here is a barefaced and ruthless attempt to punish men who have done their job according to their rights, and who have brought forth the facts and have been supported in this by a staff and an Advisory Council which, to my mind, is above reproach.

Added to that, Mr. President, I am informed—and I am sure I will be corrected if I am in error—that two of the members whose names are being offered, namely, Mr. McGlinchey and Mr. Gardlock, were not active on this board at the time when the results of this board were determined. In other words, two men are being indicted for actions in which they had no responsibility. Mr. Bevec is the only member of the board who was there at the time these were made. It is manifestly unfair, Mr. President, it seems to me, to bring action like this against a board, from which nothing can be adduced—and nothing has been—except the fact that they have done their duty and that the Majority Party in this Senate does not like the results.

Mr. President, I would like to yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Silvert.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, after the remarks made by my two predecessors, there is very little which I can add.

I do arise because Mr. McGlinchey is a resident of my Senatorial District. I have known him for approximately twenty-five years. The only accusation which I know that can be reported against the man is that he has been politically active. He is a former Congressman. He was appointed and confirmed to the same job, four years ago, by a vote of fifty to nothing. When certain accusations were brought against him, he was man enough to send in his resignation to the Governor and say: "I am going to clear my name, and when I do, if you see fit to reappoint me, you can do so."

There is no question about the fact that when his case came up, the trial judge said there was not even enough evidence to go to the jury and that Mr. McGlinchey had been falsely accused. He was, therefore, acquitted by the trial judge.

Mr. President, I go back again to the remarks, as read back tonight and made by Senator Ehrgood, that there had been a deliberate attempt to make large distributions to the metropolitan areas and that politics were involved.

Of course, it has already been mentioned that at the time the valuations were arrived at, for the year 1959, Mr. McGlinchey was not a member of the Tax Equalization Board because he had sent in his resignation. That is point number one.

Point number two, as to the actual accusation of political influence, let me give you a few figures. Let us not have the impression that only Philadelphia and Pittsburgh benefited by the new evaluations. It is true, Philadelphia benefited to the extent of seven per cent and Pittsburgh to the extent of three and one-half per cent. However, let us take Hazelton, for example. For school districts in Hazelton, the valuations were reduced by nine per cent; Altoona, by five and one-half per cent; Nanticoke, by over ten per cent; and Lebanon City, by over five per cent, which is in Senator Ehrgood's District. In Lebanon County, eight districts were reduced in valuations. Avalon and Bellevue, in Senator Fleming's District, were reduced in valuations. Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro all received reductions in valuations and they are in Senator Elliott's District. In Luzerne County, Senator Flack's District, over twenty districts received reductions in valuations. In Schuylkill County, Senator Wagner's District, thirty school districts received decreases in valuations.

Let us take some of the Democratic centers like Erie City. In Erie City, there was an increase in valuation. Scranton, another Democratic city, received an increase in valuation. Westmoreland County, a strong Democratic County, received an increase in valuation of eight per cent. Bethlehem, another Democratic city, received an increase in valuations.

Mr. President, coming back to Philadelphia, we have been assessing our central city property at eighty to ninety per cent of its value. Recently, the Chamber of Commerce Survey showed that the assessments were too high and appeals had gone into court for reductions. Today, Philadelphia has an annual budget of $100,000,000. Time after time, they have been forced to come to the Legislature to receive the right for additional taxation. It has only been in the past two weeks that we, here in the Legislature, voted for the school district in Philadelphia to levy additional local taxes, amounting to some $8,000,000. We receive from the Commonwealth less than thirty per cent of the cost of our education in Philadelphia. We know that the average is above fifty per cent and some districts receive ninety-five per cent of the cost of their education.

Mr. President, I, therefore, feel that, as Senator Seyler said, the only politics involved in this matter are the politics being played by the Republican Majority here in this Chamber.

I now yield to Senator Donolow.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, there is very little left for me to say and I guess I would be in very good shape if I were to just say "Amen" to everything that has been said by my colleagues and then sit down. However, Mr. President, in order to keep the record straight, I would just like to make two observations in order to correct my friend from Lebanon.

First of all, Mr. McGlinchey is not and never has been a secretary to any political boss in Pennsylvania. If the gentleman was referring to Bill Green, then I wish to state that Herbert McGlinchey has never been secretary to Bill Green. If the gentleman is referring to the Democratic organization of Philadelphia, I would also like to state that Herbert McGlinchey has never been secretary to the Democratic organization of Philadelphia. If the gentleman is talking about any other Democratic leader in Philadelphia, whether it be John B. Kelly, Matt McCloskey or Jim Clark, I would like to state that Herbert McGlinchey has never been Secretary to any of these gentlemen.

When my friend from Lebanon again takes the floor, I would like to have a clarification as to which political leader he referred to because we, from Philadelphia, are at a loss to know in what capacity he is serving or with whom.

In reference to the assessments, Mr. President,—I am particularly referring to the city of Philadelphia—it may be interesting for the gentleman from Lebanon to know that those assessments were arrived at by our Board of Revision of Taxes, which has the duty and obligation to first secure the assessment figures. The Board of Revision of Taxes of the city of Philadelphia is a Republican-controlled commission, appointed by the Board of Judges. It is headed by a Republican, who is doing an excellent job; namely, Mr. Joseph Burns. The majority members of that commission are Republican. The Democrats are in the minority. Therefore, if the Tax Equalization Board secured figures which were certified from the Board of Revision of Taxes, they came from the Republican board operating in Philadelphia. If there were any politics involved, they were on behalf of the Republican-controlled board in Philadelphia which was playing politics.

At this time, Mr. President, I want to say that I will defend that Republican board, as well as the Democratic minority members, by saying that they looked at this without politics and they took the valuations which they found to be fair and just.

Those of us who have holdings and others who have invested in Center City Philadelphia realize the amount of vacancies which are now existing in the city of Philadelphia. The Board of City Trusts, which operates Girard College and the Steven Girard Estate, is now going through a great deal of loss because of the holdings in center city property with the great amount of vacancies which are now existing. If there was a reduction in the valuation of center city, it was because of the trend of business, which is now taking place in the heart of Philadelphia, to migrate to the outlying districts of the shopping centers. Therefore, those reductions were justified by the Board of Revision of Taxes.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, a quarter of a century ago, I came into this Senate and I am still here. I want to say that I have tried to do the right thing every day that I have been in this Senate.

Right now, I want to hear from the other side concerning anything they have against this nomination which we have before us.

I live in Pittsburgh. I was born in Potter County. I remember the first day when I came into this Senate, twenty-five years ago. I was sitting there where Senator Rooney, that quiet gentleman, is sitting. I was no more than seated there when G. Mason Owlett came over and sat beside me. He said: "Senator McGinnis, I understand you were born in Potter County, in my Senatorial District." I said, "Yes." He said: "I am proud of that. We now have two Senators from that District."

I want to say a nice thing about Senator Berger. He lives in Potter County, where I was born. He has repeated a number of times since that he was glad that we have two Senators from his District.

Mr. President, last night, I heard some remarks made here by a young Senator whom I admire. He said that he was suspicious of politics in Mr. McGlinchey's nomination.

I am going to make a speech here tonight, again, on suspicion. For many years in this Senate, I have been requested to make this speech. I was first requested by Senator Walker, who was the leader of the Republican Senate and who is now County Commissioner of Allegheny County, and a good one, too.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Will the gentleman yield for a moment, please?

Mr. McGINNIS. Yes, sir.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The question before the Senate at the present time is on the confirmation of Herbert J. McGlinchey. The Chair has attempted to be very lenient in the latitude with which it has permitted various Members to discuss the qualifications of Mr. McGlinchey. The Chair would like to request Senator McGinnis to adhere to the issue before the Senate at the present time, which is that of the confirmation of Mr. McGlinchey.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, that is what I am talking about. That is what Senator Ehrgood talked about last night.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair would agree that any Senator most certainly might speak on the comments made by other Senators on this very important subject. However, the Chair would have to request any Members of the Senate, who might take the floor to speak, to restrict their remarks to either the remarks which were made by other Senators on this problem or on the qualifications of Mr. McGlinchey, himself.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, many times I have made a speech on this floor about suspicion. Last night, Senator Ehrgood said that he was suspicious that Mr. McGlinchey was a political appointment. I am going to talk on that right now.

As I mentioned previously, for many years in this Senate, Senator Walker, who was the leader of the Republicans over there for awhile, asked me to make a speech on suspicion, the same as I made before a jury in the Federal Courts of Pennsylvania. I will relate a small part of it now, again.

Mr. President, during prohibition, there were thirty men indicted. These men consisted of the "Alcohol Ring." These thirty defendants were tried for thirty days. I represented two young men who worked in a garage. There were twelve lawyers and I was one of them. After thirty days of argument and trial, I was the last lawyer to speak. I leaned over to the jury and said: "Ladies and Gentlemen of this Jury, I am going to tell you now that the ugliest word in the English language, even though we do not have a dictionary here, is 'suspicion'."

Yesterday, that young Senator over there, whom I admire very much, said that he was suspicious that Mr. McGlinchey was a politician. Let me tell you that when you have suspicion, you have no facts and no basis on which to object. Mr. President, "suspicion" is the ugliest word in the English language. The word "suspicion" means to suspect. Because of suspicion, Congressman McGlinchey is not to be confirmed in this Senate of Pennsylvania. I am hurt, surprised and amazed that this young Senator over there would come into this Senate and object to any nominee on suspicion. There are no facts behind suspicion; there is just suspicion, the dirtiest word in the English language.

Mr. EHRGOOD. Mr. President, first of all, I do apologize to Senator Donolow if I stated that Mr. McGlinchey was secretary to someone. Who I meant was Bill Green. I do apologize. He is just a first lieutenant.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, I do appreciate what Senator McGinnis was trying to put across because I believe in the general tenor of what he was saying, too. What I object to in this nomination—and this will probably apply to the others—is the lack of confidence in the nominee whom the Governor has put forth. I say that because, as the gentleman from Washington has pointed out, Lebanon County has lost, in market value, according to the figures of the State Tax Equalization Board, about $4,500,000. However, those figures do not reveal the full impact. It just so happens that there is in Cornwall Borough, in Lebanon County, the Cornwall Ore Mine. The Cornwall Ore Mine lost $1,000,000 in market value. Gentlemen, Cornwall Borough could lose $10,000,000 in market value and it would not mean the slightest thing because it still would continue to receive the minimum of $1,000 in reimbursement.

My lack of confidence arises because of some personal knowledge which I do have of what occurred as a result of these findings. I do live in Lebanon County and I do have some knowledge of what the valuations are there, myself. Let me just give you an illustration on why, therefore, we could call it suspicion or we could call it lack of confidence. After all, it is just various terminology.

In Heidelberg Township, in Lebanon County, the market value, in 1958, was found to be $7,029,400, as opposed to the 1957 market value of $5,753,800. That is representing a gain, by these "findings"—and I put that in quotation marks—of $1,275,600. Heidelberg Township is a rural community. Suddenly we find, in one year, that it has jumped in market valuation by $1,275,600. That is not so strange. That could happen. However, right next door, there is a place called South Lebanon Township, in which I lived until 1956. In South Lebanon Township, the property values were very, very under-assessed. I was amazed when I bought my house there, in 1952, at the valuation of it. I was also amazed at the very low taxes which I paid. The findings of the State Tax Equalization Board were that there was a decrease in valuation for South Lebanon Township of $734,200, in 1958, over the 1957 findings.

South Lebanon Township is immediately outside of the city of Lebanon. A tremendous impact of growth has taken place in that township. It also adjoins Heidelberg Township. I cannot understand how I can have any confidence in the juggling of figures and the finding of figures such as those I have described.

We have heard a great deal about advisory boards. We can have all the advisory boards we want in this Senate and in this Commonwealth and in these United States. I happen to be an attorney and I have some clients. I can give them all the advice I want to, but if they do not take it, it does not do them any good. Some times they find out, to their sorrow, that they should have taken that advice. Therefore, the mere fact that we talk about advisory boards does not mean one thing if they do not do anything and if they do not have any real power.

Mr. President, I would like to state that it is a fact that the State Tax Equalization Board does not have any expert staff to go around and take real samplings throughout the Commonwealth. I do not say that this is the Board's fault, but that is a fact. This all leads me to say that if there is any doubt—at least, there is in my mind—in the job which the members of the State Tax Equalization Board have done, then it seems to me we should not confirm them because we are dealing with schools and the importance of those market values to the local school districts, which are used in the computation of their reimbursement fractions. If we have any doubt or any lack of confidence in them, then I say we should vote against them. That is my personal opinion and that is why I will do so.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I listened very carefully to the gentleman's remarks. I am just wondering whether the gentleman paid careful attention when the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane, was speaking. I understood, from the remarks made by the gentleman, that there was nobody on the Advisory Council to the Tax Equalization Board to whom he objected. If he does object to any of the members, I wish he would tell us which ones.

They are all people with good backgrounds and have served with the Municipal Assessors' Association, the State Association of Boroughs, the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Pittsburgh, and one gentleman is the Director of the Bureau of Municipal Affairs, and so on and so forth.

I believe the gentleman also read the report, which was placed on his desk some time ago, in which this council, during 1955, made a complete study of the Board and its methods. One of the principal problems which the Council felt it had to deal with was the problem of the tight secrecy which always existed behind the Board's operation. Also, it was very difficult to ascertain just what method the board used in arriving at the figures which it did. I read from the report, as follows:

"The board and staff also took major steps to improve statistical procedures. Most of the work of this committee has dealt with these procedures and the problem encountered both in the statistics and the nature of the real estate market."

In answer to the gentleman's question as to why these figures have jumped so suddenly, it is because the Board has not kept pace. If the gentleman will look back, he will find that in the past two budgets, previous to the present one, they have received a cut every time they have appeared. Therefore, they were unable to get a decent staff and do a decent job. For the first time, they have done a complete job. As a matter of fact, if you will remember, they appeared before the Republican and Democratic Caucuses and explained what their problems were.

I think you will recognize that there has been a shift in the population. That is not only true in the city of Philadelphia or the city of Pittsburgh, but it is true throughout this Country. People are moving to the suburban areas and getting away from the cities. The cities are trying to rebuild. Take, for example, Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh. They just built, at the Triangle, the large Hilton Hotel, which was never there before. All they had was a vacant piece of ground. Now, they have an assessable item which was never there before. This will also tend to change the picture as it exists.

I think you cannot discount this thing. I think if you check, in your own county, the cost of living and also the real estate values from the year 1956, if you lived in that county until now, you will find that they have done nothing except go up. In many areas, the center cities have been dying. This is one of the reasons why the cities have been trying to get redevelopment money, in order to rebuild these areas so that the core or the heart of the areas do not go completely to pieces.

For the first time, we have an honest and more detailed set of figures than we ever had before. That is the reason why the values have changed. It is not because they have not been changing and now it has been drastically done. It is just that the Board has not kept pace with what has been going on.

To expend your venom on the Board because of what the board has done, which has been authorized by the Legislature to be done, I think is sort of an odd way to attack a problem. It is going indirectly to attack a problem in a way which you can do directly.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I will be very brief, but I think that this should be explained.

In the first place, you see, as far as assessments are concerned, where you have great activity in real estate, naturally, there are going to be more deeds filed in that particular county for that particular section. The result is that you are going to have an increase in market value in that particular area.

Take a static section, a section where there is no great activity in real estate. In that type of section, it is pretty hard to determine market value for the simple reason that there are not a great number of transfers. Let us take for example, Senator Ehrgood, East Washington, which is in my county. East Washington is quite an exclusive section of our county, and the very wealthy people reside in that particular area. As a matter of fact, I do not believe there has ever been a great number of transfers in that particular area. The result is that it is static. Sometimes people wonder why these large old-fashioned homes, which are very, very expensive, have such a low assessment or a low market value. It is because they were built probably fifty years ago and, at that particular time, those properties could be built for possibly a fraction of what it would cost today.

Let us take a newer section. Let us take the section adjacent to Mount Lebanon, which is Peters Township. It is being built up quite rapidly, and they are building expensive homes. Naturally, they have a high market value and their assessments are terrifically high. I hear complaints every day about the conditions there. However, there is not too much that can be done about it.

The only way the Tax Equalization Board can ever equalize the properties in Pennsylvania is if they are given competent appraisers. It would take competent appraisers to determine the market value of the properties in East Washington, and they would have to get the multiple value of that property, and that would be an expensive job. Therefore, it is not perfect and it cannot possibly be perfect. I do not think it ever will be perfect. However, I do say to you that the Chairman of that Board is one of the most able men who ever hit Pennsylvania when it comes to assessments and the operation of assessments and market values. He is not the type of fellow to go around making any shenanigans in regard to changing valuations. That man served as my chief clerk for eight years. He served as county treasurer, deputy recorder of deeds and deputy controller. He served as chief of the board of assessment and review, and he did a mighty fine job. I resent very much any criticism of John Bevec's activities, because he is here from Monday until Friday, from nine to five. He is always available. You could not get him to change anything. I could not either. That is the kind of a guy he is.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, I wish to add my voice in protest to what has taken place here this evening. Frankly, I am not pleased. I do not like what is being done.

I heard our colleague from Lebanon accuse this Board of juggling figures without one bit of evidence except his own report which was based, presumably, on the facts which came up naturally from the records of Lebanon County.

We are here penalizing people for doing their job. I think we have come to a pretty bad state of affairs when we have public servants doing their work conscientiously and being penalized by being cast aside. This is not the first time in the short time that I have been in Harrisburg when I saw innocent men being attacked and cast aside for no reason at all other than that they were doing a job well. However, some political advantages seems to be the goal of these actions.

Sometimes people, who are individually fine people, are called upon to do a dirty job and this is, in my opinion, a dirty job. I think that when you are digging a grave for someone else, perhaps the grave may be your own.

This is, in my opinion, a desperate act, one of the first and last desperate acts of a failing cause. The precedent which we are setting here tonight can very often come back to haunt the people who are committing the act. I think that this political advantage which we are seeking tonight is a fancied advantage and will not turn out to be a real one.

As Lincoln said in his Second Inaugural Address, "There is a law of retribution." I do not like to see that forced into effect. When Lincoln said that the Civil War consumed as much blood as all of the blood of slavery, and when he said that the destruction of the Civil War was equal to all of the advantage ever gained by all of the slavery of the past, that was retribution in operation. I am pretty sure that this kind of thing is being done here today.

I understand this is the first time in the history of the Senate that anything like this has ever been done. There may have been a rare occasion that I have not heard about. However, I am very sorry to see my colleagues doing the kind of thing which is being perpetrated here today.

Mr. McMENAMIN. Mr. President, I will not address myself to the remarks of the Senator from Lebanon because, as far as I can see, he has not said anything yet which has made any sense, and there is no use wasting any further time trying to refuse the arguments that he has made.

My Democratic colleagues have expressed considerable concern over the action that is about to be taken here tonight and, as a Pennsylvanian, I join with them in expressing their concern.

However, as a Democrat, I am not so pessimistic. In fact, I get a little more optimistic the more I think of it. I recall when I first came here eight years ago that the Republican Party enjoyed a registration lead in the State of Pennsylvania of over 1,000,000 voters. Today, that lead has almost vanished to the point where it is about to be wiped out. I cannot help but believe that one of the reasons why the Republicans have lost the advantage of 1,000,000 voters in Pennsylvania in the last eight years is just through the type of irresponsible, petty and childish politics that is being played in the action of the Republican Senate here tonight.

Therefore, as a Democrat, I am convinced that the Democratic Party will continue to go forward in Pennsylvania so long as this type of politics is carried on in Harrisburg. I think that after tonight, the people of Pennsylvania will know that as far as the Republicans are concerned in Harrisburg, it is kindergarten politics, as usual.

Mr. MAHADY. I rise at this time, Mr. President, because I was encouraged by the words of Senator Fleming. I believe them to be true because he is an honorable man. He said that his committee and his Caucus—and his Caucus, in particular, is what I listened to—decided to place this name without prejudice upon the floor. Inasmuch as we are in a committee of the whole, the idea of that committee is for each member to present, as if to a jury, his reasons for not confirming or confirming a man for an office.

I have listened and I have heard nothing against Mr. McGlinchey as an individual. Therefore, it would seem that we have only one conclusion, and that is to vote for his confirmation. Not a single fact detrimental to that gentleman or his inability to hold this office has been presented to this group.

Of course, we have heard one indictment. That I will admit. It is based upon that medieval concept that the bearer of bad tidings is always put to death. I understood that went out even before the pre-Christian era; the idea that when a man brought you tidings that you did not want to hear, you cut him off and killed him. If that superstition is to rule here, and that is to be the basis, we have indeed retrogressed more nineteen centuries.

I say to you that the idea of suspicion of politics has been aired. There was a man from Westmoreland County, my county, on that commission, and yet Westmoreland County fared even worse than Lebanon County fared. If this raises a suspicion of politics, then certainly we have poor politicians on that board.

Let me tell you the story that Goethe tells of suspicion. My father told it to me when I was a wee boy. It is the story of a traveler going towards the Black Forest as it was getting dusk. He was worried about where he would spend the night. Just as night closed in, he saw a small house and he knocked on the door, and the people welcomed him. They invited him to stay the night and to have dinner with them.

The father, the mother and the stranger sat down to dinner, and there was a small stool at the table which was almost too small for a child who could not walk. Halfway through the meal, a small, bonelike figure walked in and sat down on the stool. No one spoke to him and when he tried to speak to them, they stopped him.

That night when the stranger went to bed, he put his wallet under his pillow. He was just about asleep when the door opened and this little figure came into the room. The man grabbed his wallet and his gun, and shouted for help. The people of the house came running up the stairs and said, "Do not hurt him. Do not shoot him." They took him by the arm, and as they did so, he began to grow and grow. In fact by the time they were ready to take him out of the door, they could barely clear the door because he had grown so big. Nothing more was said, and the stranger spent a miserable and restless night.

The next morning when he came down to breakfast, no one said anything, but the small chair was vacant. Finally, the stranger said, "Who is this little fellow who grows so large?"

The man of the house replied, "That is our suspicion. He is always with us, and when we recognize him, he grows so large that we have to take him outside or he is liable to wreck the house."

Suspicion we will always have with us. However, we must ignore him and keep him small or he will grow and grow and destroy us.

I say to you there is not even a jot of evidence of suspicion of political activity here. As I said before, if there was, they were poor politicians. With my county being represented on the board, we fare very badly.

Again I say, and I ask you to remember this, that when the Senator from Lebanon County said he was dissatisfied with things as they were, remember that the return of these figures, in a large part, depends upon the action of your county commissioners and how they run their assessment books. Their returns indicate to this board whether or not there was an increase or decrease, and the Board depends upon it to a large measure.

If there is a suspicion of political activity, look closer to home. Do not come here and say that your county is not run right, so we are going to persecute. We are going back centuries and saying that we will slay the man who brings bad tidings.

Yes, in this Christmas season, we are going to cause heartache not only to those people, but to their families. To Mr. McGlinchey we say that you are not fit because we do not like the results that someone other than yourself created. It is not fair. It is not right. It is not Christian.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, if this was not Caucus action, I am sadly mistaken. I think that the gentleman from Allegheny will readily concede that this was caucus action on behalf of this nominee.

NOMINATION OF RAYMOND E. GARDLOCK TAKEN FROM THE TABLE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now call from the table the nomination of Raymond E. Gardlock, 116 Marlboro Drive, New Kensington, Pennsylvania, for appointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board, and ask that action be taken on his confirmation.

The nomination was read by the Clerk as follows:

MEMBER OF THE STATE TAX EQUALIZATION BOARD

November 16, 1959.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

In conformity with law, I have the honor hereby to nominate for the advice and consent of the Senate Raymond E. Gardlock, 116 Marlboro Drive New Kensington, Westmoreland County, for appointment as a member of the State Tax Equalization Board until November 14, 1963, and until his successor shall be duly appointed and shall have qualified, vice Frank K. Cochran, Greensburg, whose term expired.

DAVID L. LAWRENCE.

On the question,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination?

Mr. MAHADY. Mr. President, Mr. Gardlock is from Westmoreland County. When I approached the microphone, I heard the call of "roll call" from the other side of the aisle. I am sure that if I were to be so mean as to interrogate a number of the Members on the other side, they would know nothing of Mr. Gardlock. I doubt if few of them know him. I would say to them, at least, before they ask for the roll call, that they do not prejudge. This is not the American way of doing things, to say that we heard something from a fellow, who heard something from a fellow, who heard something from someone else. Therefore, we are not going to confirm this man for this position. Or are they saying, when they ask for a roll call, that they have prejudged this man on a political basis? They are saying, "We will have none of the Governor's appointments just because the Governor made them." If either of those conclusions is true, I assume that I am losing my faith in the judgment and fair play of my fellow men.

When the name of Raymond E. Gardlock was brought to my attention, I called four men who are noted for civic activity in his community. They happened to all be Republicans. Two of them were leaders in industry, and two of them were bankers in the two banks in the community. I asked each one the question, "Would he make a good man for this position?" The summation, brought down to the minimum of words, and not quoting, is this: They said he has been head of the city. He has had his own assessment problems. He has fought with the county for equalization in his own city. He knows assessments, if anybody knows them. He has been a businessman in his own right and had his own business, and ran that business. He has been a councilman. He was elected mayor of the city three times.

I asked, "What is there against him?" One gentleman told me there was a man who served in the House for several terms, a Republican, who runs a newspaper in Allegheny County, and in his newspaper he declared Mr. Gardlock to be unfit. He never gave any facts. He just gave a conclusion. He asked the people to write in. He printed a form for them to fill out in his newspaper. He went out of his way to put a big advertisement in his own paper, saying, "Clip this out and send it to Senator Fleming and to Senator Pechan." The people were told to send the forms to the members of this committee in this Senate. People do that. Some people will do it even though they do not know what it is all about.

I chose six cards at random which I had received personally and called the people on the phone. I told them, "I must know, I must have some facts. What do you have against this man?" Those six people said, "Well, the newspaper said so." They said nothing else.

Gentleman, is it fair play, on hearsay evidence, to say that a man is not fit for office? Whether you say that is the reason or not, that is how people are going to interpret it. You are saying to all of the people in Pennsylvania, without examination, without going into the facts and without giving this man a chance to appear and face his accusers, that you will not confirm him. To my mind, that is not fair play. It is playing politics.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, the argument that has been used against Mr. McGlinchey is that he was a member of this Board when these things, which were objectionable to some of the Members, took place.

In the case of Mr. Gardlock, he was not even a member of the Board when these things happened. Therefore, what is the evidence which appears against him that he should not, at least, be given the opportunity to be heard? If there is such evidence, I wish one of the gentlemen on the other side would advise me. I hope there has not been any Caucus action taken on this nominee, but I am afraid this is like all other matters and will be acted upon in the same manner. I think probably the same vote can be recorded as was recorded before.

I think this is a rather dastardly way and a rather cowardly way of hiding behind the action of a group of people who have made up their minds about somebody, without coming to any kind of a conclusion based on any evidence being presented, and without, at least, giving the Members on this side the opportunity to examine the same evidence. Perhaps what has been said about them is true or it may be that what has been said about anyone of us here has been said by people who have reason to be jealous or have reason to feel that they have been in some way put out by some of our actions. However, to not be able to face them is certainly an un-American way of handling the basic problem that is before us.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, as a Senator in this Body, apparently in a few minutes I will be called upon to pass judgment on a Mr. Gardlock. I do not know Mr. Gardlock. It has been stated on the floor of this Senate that this man never served on this particular Board. All of the charges which have been brought, true or false, have been brought against the Board. This man has had no connection with the Board. No man has said a word against Mr. Gardlock on this Senate floor. It seems for me to vote other than for his confirmation would be a form of character assassination.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate advise and consent to the nomination?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I just want to say, as an observation, that I hope none of us here is ever judged in the manner in which we have judged these two men this evening. All of us are in public life and this could happen to any one of us. I certainly hope that all of us will think very carefully about what has been done here this evening.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to make a slight observation, if I may, before I sit down. I really believe that we made a terrible mistake here tonight. I think that when we assassinated the character of Mr. Gardlock, whom no one knows, it was a dastardly act. I believe the Members of the Senate will remember this. I believe the people of Pennsylvania are conscious of what is going on.

This was certainly the wrong thing to do by any thinking body. I always had a wholesome respect for the intellect of every Member of this Senate. However, now I have my doubts.

CONGRATULATING THE PRESIDING OFFICER

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, we have had a long and trying Session. We have had debate which sometimes approached, at least, the point of acrimony. There was one figure in the Senate who at all times, it seemed to me, did not lose his head, but who remained cool and handled his difficulty assignment very well. I refer to the gentleman who, during this long Session, occupied the Chair. I wish to make my personal observation by saying that I think he did a very able and a very fair job.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair wishes to thank Senator Seyler and his colleagues in the Senate. The Chair wishes to express his appreciation to them for the order and decorum which was exercised by all the Members of the Senate during this very trying period. I do want you to know that your conduct here, throughout this long Session, certainly made my task a great deal easier.

BIRTHDAY FELICITATIONS EXTENDED TO SENATOR MARTIN L. MURRAY AND SENATOR MARTIN SILVERT

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, my observation has only to do with the length of this Session. It seems to me that it should be a matter of record that two men here each gained a year in age. I refer to the distinguished gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Silvert, and the distinguished gentleman from Luzerne, Senator Murray. They are each one year older than when they came in here. Congratulations to both of them.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The Chair, on behalf of his colleagues, extends birthday congratulations to the two Senators who were mentioned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, December 15, 1959

The House met at 2:00 p. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend David R. Hoover, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our Father, as the festivities of the Christmas Season fill our hearts with joy and happiness, and the good tidings on the lips of our associates fill our lives with gayety and peace, help us as we join lustily in singing the Christmas Carols not to forget the song of that Angelic Chorus on that First Christmas so long ago: "Peace on earth, goodwill toward men." Use these Thy servants, as Thou dost use each one of us, we humbly pray, to bring that peace and goodwill into the lives of others, so that the song of the angels may become a reality through us and our efforts: in the Name and for the sake of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.
